4,000 TANKS CLASH IN BATTLE

British Attack In France Urged

RUSSIA SAYS NAZI DRIVES ARE HALTED

Germans Say Little; Casualties High

By The Associated Press

A mighty battle between 4,000 German and Russian tanks raged early Sunday in the southern Polish sector. Moscow reported in claiming that Hitler's main drives had been halted along the Nazi-Soviet front.

The Germans themselves said little.

Specifically, this was the picture as Red communiques outlined it:

The heaviest fighting of all at Luck and in the district of Lwow, Poland, to the southwest; many Nazis taken prisoner in the northern Lithuanian sector: German columns still held up along the central Minsk front, the historic Napoleonic way to invasion of Moscow.

Casualties Heavy

The Russian command spoke of "fierce rearguard" actions by the Red army which took heavy casualties, but did not specify where these occurred.

In the Minsk battle area alone, Moscow said 300 German tanks had been destroyed up to Friday night—a far from complete figure.

The conflict threatened hourly to break in full fury on the northern, or Finnish, part of the 2,000-mile front through a German drive on the Soviets' Arctic port of Murmansk, through the onslaught of 1,000,000 Russians massed on Finland's border or, more probably, both at the same time.

The Finnish radio announced suspension today of traffic on the Inkoo-Pernioe section of the railway from Helsinki to Turku.

"Crusade" Lagging

That stretch is near the Hanko naval base which Finland lost to Russia in the 1939-40 war. Its closure indicated the possibility of a battle for possession of strategic Hanko.

FLOOD LEVEL STATIONARY

Mexican Breaks Stop Threat To Farms

BROWNSVILLE—Its flood threat almost spent, the Rio Grande Saturday midnight hung at 19 feet here, 1 foot above floodstage, but no damage to U. S. farm lands from breaks in levees had been reported, and a drop by daylight was anticipated up river.

The river level had remained at 19 feet since 4 p.m., and several breaks on the Mexican side, including the Cilebron flood way area, were thought to have ben holding the water stationary.

Farmers in the lowlands between the river bank and levees were said to have let water onto their farm for irrigation purposes Saturday, and this further halted the rise on the gauge. Reading at 7:30 a.m. here Saturday was 18.9 feet.

The river fell at Rio Grande City and Hidalgo Friday night, and was also stationary at Mercedes, 2.1 feet above flood level. The water was expected to fall slightly during the next 24 hours.

On the Mexican side at Las Ballitas, near Rio Rico, the river was reported out of its banks, but only a small amount of water had left the channel and this had gone into Culebron floodway without damage. A small break in the levee south of Matamoros also caused no damage.

Meanwhile the weather forecast for Sunday was fair to partly cloudy.

Rumanians Say Nazi Drives Successful

BUCHAREST —(AP)— A Rumanian communique said Saturday night that "German units have succeeded everywhere in accomplishing their missions," and that all enemy counter-attacks had been broken.

The Rumanians reported that 130 Soviet airplanes had been downed in the past few days, during which attacks were made on several Rumanian cities, including Bucharest.

One Soviet destroyer was sunk and another "probably damaged" before Constanta, Rumanian Black Sea port, Thursday, the communique said.

Germans Take Prisoner

Widow Of Mate Aboard O-9 Says Submarine Had Leak

Officers And Men Of U. S. Naval Fleet Ready To Man Rest Of O-Class Subs Despite Tragedy

NEW LONDON, Conn. —(AP)— The pretty young widow of the first class machinist's mate aboard the submarine O-9 told a naval board of inquiry Saturday that she overheard her husband say that there was a hole in the vessel "as big as a man's hand."

Mrs. Angeline Tillery, whose husband, Thomas W. Tillery was among the 33 men trapped in the submersible when she failed to come up from a deep dive off Portsmouth, N. H., last week, testified that her husband also had a premonition of impending tragedy just before that boat sailed from here.

Tillery was quoted by his widow as saying that the submarine had been recommissioned before it was ready, that she had trouble submerging and that when she submerged there was vibration.

Rear Admiral Richard S. Edwards, commandant of submarines in the Atlantic fleet, told the board Friday the O-9, like all submarines, had leaks, but that they were of "no significance and they were corrected before she went out for her deep dive."

As far as he knew, he said, "there was nothing the matter" with the hull of the O-9 when she made her final dive.

The officers and ratings of the American submarine fleet are ready to a man to serve aboard the 20-odd year old O-boats despite the O-9 disaster which carried 33 men to their deaths off Portsmouth, N. H., a week ago.

Two officers of O-class submarines said that their crews, although offered transfers following the Portsmouth tragedy, had elected to remain on duty aboard the post-World War "pig boats." Submarine duty is voluntary in the navy.

Mannerheim Appeals To Finns To Follow In War With Russia

HELSINKI, Sunday—(AP)—Field Marshal Baron Carl Gustaf Mannerheim declared Saturday in his first order of the day that the soldiers of Finland must follow him in a holy war against the Russians.

"Follow me this last time—when Karelians rise again and a new day dawns for Finland," he appealed.

Nazis Say British Exaggerate Drives

NEW YORK—(AP)—Hans Fritsche, chief of the German radio propaganda service, in a radio talk possibly designed to reduce expectations for the awaited "victory communique" Sunday, charged Saturday night that the British were exaggerating German advances in order to be able to discount the real successes later. He was heard here by CBS

U.S.O. Drive Reaches $3200 Saturday

BROWNSVILLE—A last minute rush of contributions from Pan-American Airways employes Saturday night swelled Brownsville's United Service Organization drive total to nearly $3,200, passing the originally assigned quoto by more than $500.

Chairman Harry Faulk of the Brownsville U.S.O. committee said Saturday night that contributions were still coming in at 9 p. m. when the down town headquarters of the drive were closed.

Brownsville's total contributions to the U.S.O. will probably pass the $4,000 mark, Mr. Faulk said, when the U.S.O. committee is credited with approximately $750 previously raised for the army Y.M.C.A. here. This previous campaign was conducted by the Junior Service League.

ARMY VOTED BIGGEST FUND IN HISTORY

10 Billions Exceeds World War Sums

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Congress gave final approval Saturday to the biggest cash appropriation bill in the nation's history, a gigantic $10,384,821,624 item for the Army. The total exceeded the largest previous appropriation, a 1919 Army bill, by about a billion dollars.

The Senate sent the measure to the White House as one of many actions taken in the course of a day devoted to clearing the calendars of legislation which had to be disposed of before the fiscal year closes at midnight on Monday.

FD Power Granted

In addition to the Army bill, the Senate passed and also sent to the White House a bill extending operations of the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund and the President's power to devalue the dollar for two years. Without the legislation they would have expired at the Monday midnight deadline.

The Senate also approved a bill promising the life of the Commodity Credit Corporation for two years and increasing its crop loan funds by $1,250,000,000 to a total of $2,650,000,000. This measure went back to the House for action on Senate amendments.

The Senate passed, as a defense measure, a House bill to give the Maritime Commission control over the movements and cargoes of all American ships. It goes to conference for the consideration of Senate amendments.

In the debate which preceded the action, Chairman George (D-Ga) warned against granting too extensive power to the administration and asserted it was not necessary to adopt "totalitarian methods" to provide national defense. Some, he said, feared that important decisions might be made before the people have an opportunity to make their views known.

Relief Bill Delayed

Caught in a jam of disagreement was a $335,905,000 bill to finance federal relief through the next fiscal year. Senate and House conferees met and ended their session at loggerheads over a $50,000,000 item for the disposal of surplus commodities which the Senate had inserted in the bill.

Senator Adams (D-Colo), chairman of the conference committee, said that he did not know when he would call the committee together again, but there seemed little doubt that some compromise would be worked out. Unless the bill is finally enacted by Monday night, the WPA will be left without funds until it is.

Catholics Opposed On Help For Russia

NEW YORK—(AP)—Opposite views on American aid to Russia in her war against Nazi Germany were announced Saturday by two catholic groups.

The Catholic War Veterans, Inc., said it had asked President Roosevelt to reconsider his intention to aid Russia, while 15 prominent Catholic clergymen and laymen said "Hitler's attack upon Russia must not be allowed to confuse us."

Superiority In Air Again Is With Yankees

661 M.P.H. Dive Paves Way For Fastest Ships

By PAUL B. MASON

DAYTON, O. —(AP)— A civilian test-pilot's screaming, verticle dive at a record 661 miles an hour in an army ship over Wright Field was viewed Saturday as accentuating the work of military and civil test fliers and the excellence and performance of America's expanding air force.

The pilot, Bob Fausel of Curtiss-Wright Corporation, Buffalo, N. Y., made the dive April 7, 1940, in a ship since vastly improved in type. Complete details were not disclosed but confirmation came from Curtiss-Wright officials in New York.

Fausel's speed—a mile every 5.44 seconds—was 41 miles faster than the accepted though unofficial record dive last year by Andy McDonough, air line pilot and air corps reservist. McDonough flew a Bell P-39 Airacobra; Fausel, a Curtiss P-40 which he ferried from Buffalo for delivery to Wright Field.

POPE TO AIR VIEW ON WAR

Expected To Attack Atheistic Reds

VATICAN CITY—(AP)—Pope Pius XII prayed at the tomb of St. Peter Saturday night on the eve of a radio address to the world in which he was expected to make known his views on the war the Axis is waging against Soviet Russia.

POPE PIUS XII

Nothing came from official circles to suggest what the Pope would say, but the Vatican's concern over atheistic communism and the danger of its spreading over Europe, if not the world, has been expressed many times.

The Osservatore indicated that the message would come within the Pope's practice of "spreading the light of salutary teaching and pointing out the way of salvation."

The Pope is expected to talk in Italian for 20 minutes at 12:30 p.m. (4:30 a.m. Central Standard Time) in his world broadcast by Vatican radio. Translations in English, Spanish, German, French, Polish, Dutch, Hungarian and Portuguese are to follow.

US Reds Call On FD To Fulfill Promise

NEW YORK —(AP)— William Z. Foster, national chairman of the Communist Party, called upon "the Roosevelt government to make good its promises of aid to the Soviet Union" in a statement issued Saturday after a secret meeting of the National Committee.

PUBLIC ASKS OFFENSIVE TO AID REDS

Hit-And-Run Raids By Tanks Stressed

By The Associated Press

LONDON—Agitation grew in Britain Saturday night for daring attacks by army and navy raiders on the German-held continental coasts, now that the Nazis' backs are turned, and one general suggested that amphibian tanks join them in a general offensive teamed up with the great, continuing RAF aerial assaults.

General J. F. C. Fuller, one of the first British generals to exploit the use of tanks in the World War, called in the "Sunday Pictorial" for "tip and run" raids by the army and navy on "the coasts of countries now occupied by Germany." Strong German forces would have to be diverted to protect these coasts, he declared.

Amphibian Tanks Urged

Long an exponent of amphibian tanks, General Fuller said that in 1931 Vickers-Armstrong put "an efficient amphibian light tank" on the market, and he added that "if we have such a tank our path is easy."

The public is growing restive now that there seems to be a special opportunity to strike at Germany while she is preoccupied with Russia on the east.

They want more than the heavy air raids, already of record proportions, that continued Saturday with a smashing attack on a huge power plant at Comines, near Lille, one of the key plants in heavily-industrialized northern France.

Raiders operating in skies almost cleared of German opposition knocked down five German planes, booting the British figures of German losses for the year to 2,088 in all theaters and bringing the tool of German aircraft claimed since last Saturday to 120.

May Be Last Chance

But the British now are clamoring for more than this.

"This chance may not recur," wrote one military correspondent. "Tens of thousands of raiders smashing up communications, airfields and factories would bring real relief to our Russian allies while doing a vital service to ourselves."

BIDS OPENED ON AIR BASES

Water Tanks First On Valley List

GALVESTON, Tex.—(AP)—Bids for water storage tanks for airports at Harlingen, Midland and Mission were opened Saturday at the office of Lieutenant Col. L. H. Hewett, district Army engineer.

The bids were referred for tabulation and report.

Bidders on the Harlingen water tank were: Chicago Bridge and Steel Co., Houston, $52,800 and Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co., Dallas, $54,000; on the Midland project, Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co., $52,520 and Chicago Bridge and Steel Co., $53,650; on the Mission project, Chicago Steel and Steel $53,800 and Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel, $54,650.

Denison Base Bids Are Opened By Army

DENISON, Tex.—(AP)—U. S. Engineers Saturday opened low bids totaling $5,148,186 for construction of an army air corps basic flying school between Denison and Sherman.

Engineers said contarcts would be awarded by June 30. They expect the work to require 75 days.

Hillbilly Boys Play To Finish

Pappy, In High Good Humor, Entertains Crowd At Election Party

AUSTIN, Tex.—(AP)—The hillbilly boys played with zip and Governor W. Lee O'Daniel read election returns in wisecracking good humor to a big crowd gathered under multicolored lights on grounds of the executive mansion here Saturday night.

In his headquarters at a hotel several blocks from the mansion, Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson, like the governor a major candidate for the U. S. Senate, watched with a throng of friends the unfolding of the special election drama.

When early returns showed the governor trailing Johnson, he commented to the crowd that they were mostly from the cities and that later ones from the rural districts and small towns would be very different.

Not as large as that which attended the mansion party last year when O'Daniel was re-elected, the crowd stood and sat on the grass of the lawn and now and then overflowed into the flower beds along the walks.

Two huge water barrels were placed handily to slake the thirsty.

Inside the mansion members of the governor's official family milled about.

Among the officials were Reuben Williams, member of the state highway commission; Frank Davis, member of the state board of control; William Lawson, secretary of state, and Tom L. Beauchamp, associate justice of the state court of criminal appeals.

The governor's orchestra, just returned from a long campaign tour with him, started the evening's serenade with "Beautiful Texas," O'Daniel's own composition, drawing heavy applause from the crowd in front of the mansion porch.

Returns Uncertain As O'Daniel Gains Fast On Johnson's Lead

Gerald Mann Runs Third, Dies A Lame 4th; Four-Fifths Of Counties Heard From

DALLAS — Still uncertain late Saturday night was the outcome of the hard fought Texas race for the seat of the late Senator Morris Sheppard, Representative Lyndon B. Johnson, who campaigned under the New Deal banner, was in the lead but was closely pressed by the dimpled Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, whose strength increased as late returns poured in from the rural sections.

Late tabulations of the Texas Election Bureau of its copyrighted figures showing incomplete returns from more than four fifths of the counties, showed Gerald C. Mann in third place, while Martin Dies trailed lamely in fourth. Of the other candidates, who received relatively few votes, the lead was taken by Sam Morris of Del Rio, Baptist minister and radio advocate of liquor prohibition.

Johnson and Dies each appeared to have carried his own congressional district. Mann's strength came largely from Northeast Texas. Johnson received a big vote in the larger cities but also ran ahead in many rural counties particularly in central and southwest Texas. O'Daniel was running strong in the high plains.

Returns at 11:30 p.m. from 241 counties with 70 complete, gave Bean 59, Calvin 24, Davis 46, Dies 71612, Fisher 64, Gilliland 33, Harding 29, Hatfield 31, Head 34, Heath 19, Hicks 35, Johnson 150871, King 81, Mann 125140, Morris 820, Newsome 27, ODaniel 14,-7761, Ryan 24, Schulz 37, Somerville 10, Thomason 54, Waller 7, Welch 14, Williams 30, Republican Elvins 113, Independent Jones 28, Communist Brooks 26.

DIES LEADING VALLEY VOTE

Area Gives O'Daniel Second Place

HARLINGEN—Valley voters 10,-531 strong marched to the polls Saturday and backed the wrong horse, giving Martin Dies a majority with Lee O'Daniel second, Lyndon Johnson third and Gerald Mann fourth.

The Valley's own candidate, Pollite Elvins of Pharr, received only twenty votes, all from Hidalgo county. The state's lone Republican, he got his biggest vote in Pharr, his home town. Four ballots were cast for him there.

As expected, Hidalgo county cast the heaviest vote, 5,516. Cameron cast 4,167 votes and Willacy 848.

Lyndon Johnson, leading the state race at midnight, received 2,673 ballots in the Valley's three counties. Martin Dies received 2,971. O'Daniel, trailing Johnson a close second in the state, was leading him by almost as close a margin in this area, his total being 2,776. Mann ran fourth down here with 2,060 votes.

The also-rans were hardly noticed by Valleyites. Leading candidate outside the Big Four was Sam Morris, who received 22 ballots. Cyclone Davis received 2, and Guy B. Fisher, W. E. Gilliland and O. F. Heath, Sr. each received one vote. The Independent candidate, W. R. Jones, received two votes. Morris received the majority of his votes in Hidalgo, while all the other unexpected ballots came from Cameron.

Vote totals for Cameron and Willacy counties are complete, although unofficial; Hidalgo county is complete with the exception of

BETTER DAYS SEEN FOR US COTTON CROP

Researchers Build Hopes At Parley

WACO, Tex.—(AP)—The second world cotton congress—a three-day clinic to probe the Lone Star's ailing king crop—ended Saturday with a prophetic discussion of cotton fibre research and related fields of chemistry and textile manufacturing.

Processors, research men, marketing specialists and retailers heard the promise that cotton may see better days if research, growing and processing methods continue their promising trends.

Dr. Simon Williams, research technologist of the Bureau of Industrial Engineering at the University of Texas, explained expanding cotton research at the university. Dr. E. P. Schoch, university director of industrial chemistry, led a group of nine chemists and textile manufacturers in discussing further research procedure.

Williams, co-worker with Schoch for 20 months in cotton fibre research, said Texas cottons could be made into many things now being made from other cottons.

Research Under Way

"Actual research under way involves a study of chemical treatment to impart to short-staple west Texas cottons the properties of imported Asiatic cottons," he said. "Such research has reached the pilot plant stage and commercial trials are being conducted in mills over the United States.

"It is a fact not to be overlooked," Williams admitted, "that unpredictable climatic influence and questionable harvesting practices in both east and west Texas have yielded so-called inferior grades and qualities of cotton for many years. It is this cotton, which, due to difficulty of handling on mill machinery, has created a widespread prejudice against Texas cottons.

"I would like to emphasize," he said, "that there is a great deal of pessimism concerning prospects of cotton in competition with synthetic fibres. There is no need for pessimism if those interested in cotton's future insure at least as much developmental research as is done on synthetic fibres."

Develop Lint Uses

"Objective of research at the university," he said, "is to develop new uses for cotton lint, help retain and expand present lint uses, stimulate the growth of Texas' cotton textile industry through developing necessary economic and technological information, and to develop an educational program for training cotton leaders and technologists of the future."

Dr. Schoch promised that "some helpful results may be obtained speedily" from the university's research program. He emphasized the need for a research laboratory to develop new manufacturng processes, furnish Texas mills a necessary research service, furnish economic and engineering data to potential investors, and to convince out-of-state mills that Texas cottons may readily be used.

Monday morning and was marked by a series of meetings in practically every store, office and shop in the city, with employes pledging 10 per cent of one week's wages or two and one-half per cent of one month's wages.

"Although we were confident of the outcome," Mr. Faulk said Saturday night, "the results so far were far beyond our most optimistic predictions. "The people of Brownsville have cause to be proud of this splendid showing. To say that we on the committee are elated is putting it mildly."

Pan-American Praised

Mr. Faulk had particular praise for the employes of Pan-American Airways.

"Despite difficulties of reaching the large number of men at the shops, because of the shift arrangements and with labor negotations under way, Pan-American Airways made a fine record and displayed a fine spirit of civic cooperation," Mr. Faulk declared.

The chairman said that up to 8 p. m. a total of 983 contributors had been listed in the drive. When the campaign opened, the committee declared that it would set a goal of at least 1,000 contributors in order to make participation as general as possible.

"I think we'll get more than 1,000 before the final tabulation is made," the chairman declared.

A number of additional contributions are believed to be in the mail. Approximately 35 contributions were received by mail Saturday.

VALLEY STRAW VOTE PICKED WINNER, ANYWAY

BROWNSVILLE—The straw vote taken by Valley newspapers several weeks prior to the election picked the winner, but had the also-rans slightly misplaced. The poll gave Dies the lead, with O'Daniel second, Mann third and Johnson fourth. The actual vote placed Dies first, O'Daniel second, Johnson third and Mann fourth.

4000 Tanks Clash In Battle; Reds Say Nazi Drive Halted

tory's battle lines—there stirred, still feebly, an ideological movement which Adolf Hitler hoped to nurture into a "crusade" by western Europe against the citadel of Communism.

Hitler, who invaded Poland Sept. 1, 1939, with his eastern front secured by non-aggression and economic collaboration pacts with Russia, one week ago today capped futile demands for further concessions with a blitzkrieg invasion and immediately set out to mobilize all Europe, Nazi-captured or influenced, for what he called a "holy war."

Yesterday the six Lutheran bishops of Finland asked churchgoers to rally to the "God-given cause" of defense of the Christian faith against "the barbaric enemy."

Pope To Speak

Saturday night Pope Pius XII prayed to the tomb of St. Peter on the eve of a radio address in which he was expected to make known to the world his views on the war Germany is waging against Russia—a war to which Italy already has offered support, in which Rumania has joined Germany and in which Finland and other German-dominated states stand as ready allies.

L'Osservatore Romano, a Vatican City newspaper, said the pope would "expound his views on the subject of Divine Providence in human events." Nothing came from official circles, but the Vatican concern over atheistic Communism has been oft-expressed.

To Tell All Sunday

On Sunday also, at long last, the German high command has promised that "our successes in the eastern theater of war will be made known in special announcements."

That was the sum of official statement Friday on the course of the seven-day-old campaign. DNB, which is an official news agency but does not speak with the official authority of Hitler headquarters, sought to content the German people in the interim with a declaration that the Red army's "97th Division" had been "broken up and destroyed."

DNB did not say what place the division had held on the 1,000-mile active front—the Baltic to Black Sea line—and the world at large got its only detailed accounts of the war from the more prolific communique writers of the Kremlin.

The Russian reports told of a steadfast resistance to German-Rumanian forces from Przemysl south and on the Prut river, dividing line between Bessarabia and Rumania, and of deadly action covering Russian withdrawal to "prepared positions"—presumably the fortifications of the old Russian frontier—from the Polish sector fronting Minsk in White Russia.

Panbers In Disorder

In the Minsk action, the Red army claimed, a blitzkrieg coalition of planes, tanks and artillery pounded a German panzer column into disordered route, in reverse along the path that Napoleon followed in 1812 en route to Moscow.

An "enemy"—that is German, Rumanian or German-Rumanian—attempt to cross the Prut river into Bessarabia was said to have been shattered with annihilation of an infantry regiment through use of a cavalry division. This illustrated use of one of Russia's trumps, numerical superiority.

South of Minsk, and separated from that battle sector by the labyrinth of the Minsk marshes, in the Luck-Lwow sector of occupied Poland, a great battle surged to and fro during Friday night and early Saturday.

The outcome of this battle was not known, but the Red army claimed that the German attempt to outflank Lwow was repulsed.

Minsk Heaviest Battle

It was in defense of Minsk, 20 miles inside the old Russian border with Poland, and 150 miles from the nearest point of east Prussia that the Russians loosed their own blitzkrieg—literally lightning war.

"In the Minsk direction (area) our troops, by a lightning onslaught of tank units, air force and artillery, routed enemy tank units and the headquarters of the 39th Tank Corps," a Russian communique said.

"In this battle our forces captured trophies, war prisoners and documents relating to operations."

Of the Baltic sector, the Red army reported air force operations "for the extermination of motorized and mechanized enemy units" in the Siauliai area. This town is in Lithuania, on the way to Riga, capital of Latvia.

West Front Active

On the western front, British pilots went on with their greatest aerial offensive. They heavily raided a big power plant at Comines near Lille in industralized northern France—this to cap an overnight assault which was said in Londan to have left incontrollable fires raging in the great German seaport and shipbuilding center of Bremen.

There were indications that the British public wanted even heavier blows struck.

"This chance," wrote a British military correspondent, "may not recur. Tens of thousands of raiders smashing up communications airfields and factories would bring real relief to our Russian allies while doing a vital service to ourselves."

YANKS GET AIR SUPERIORITY

Yankees Ahead Again

Conceding a "great difference" in strains imposed upon a ship in level flight and in a dive, airmen emphasized that Fausel's knifing power-thrust demonstrated Yankee engineering and production excellence to superlative degree.

Others agreed that any squadron able to dive upon an enemy formation, either aerial or ground, at 11 miles a minute would have tremendous advantage even though such lightning descent would subject personnel to considerable physical stress.

If You Were A Problem Child It May Have Been Jealousy Between Mother And Teacher, Psychologist Declares

CHICAGO —(AP)— A problem child is frequently handicapped by jealousy between his mother and his teacher, a child psychologist said Saturday.

"There is often resentment on the part of the mother toward the teacher, to whom she has turned over the child," Dr. Augusta T. Jameson, psychologist at the Institute of Juvenile research in Chicago, reported.

The chief causes of jealousy, she told the fourth annual conference of reading, were:

The teacher sees the child's faults and weaknesses, about which the mother is "sensitive . . . because they threaten her status as good mother."

The mother often feels inferior because of the teacher's good education, short working hours, and three-month vacation.

Up Oil Deadline

Industry To Select Supply Groups

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The deadline for the petroleum industry to file nominations for regional committees, which will help maintain oil supplies during the emergency, was extended Saturday by Secretary Ickes, defense petroleum coordinator, from June 26 to July 2 to allow time for additional filings.

Ickes requested the industry last week to submit nominations for four committees to be sent up in each of five regions.

The regions will be East Coast, South, Mid-Continent, Mountain, and Pacific Coast, with the four committees in each dealing separately with production, refinery, transportation and marketing. Ickes has not yet designated any committee member or indicated regional headquarters locations.

Arizona Freezes

Flagstaff Records 30, Nation's Low

PHOENIX, Ariz. —(AP)— The temperature dropped below freezing at Flagstaff Friday night as Arizona experienced what seemed like a cold wave in comparison with the normal hot weather of late June.

Flagstaff, at an elevation of 6,896 feet, recorded a minimum temperature of 31 degrees and a maximum of 68 in the last 24 hours. The U. S. weather bureau said it was the lowest reading in the nation. Ash Fork reported a minimum temperature of 33 degrees and Prescott 35.

Postmaster Amazed By Power Of Chief

SALT LAKE CITY — (AP) — Postmaster I. A. Smoot is fascinated by the accomplishments of these high ranking executives.

Smoot tried for seven years to get authorization from Washington for repairs for a leaky post office skylight.

Assistant Postmaster General Walter Myers came to town, heard of Smoot's plight and made a brief phone call to the capitol.

The skylight is fixed.

ing a large flotilla of submarines tied up at the submarine base here, the court recessed its inquiry until Saturday.

Personnel Failure Blamed

Opinions that personnel failure or an explosion might have sent the O-9 to the bottom in more than 400 feet of water were expressed by two officers.

Lieutenant Bernard F. McMahon, commander of the P-10 who witnessed the O-9's last test dive from the deck of his craft, said he believed the disaster might have been "caused by some person opening the wrong valve or giving a wrong order or some little thing wrong and some person lost his head."

"I think it was entirely personnel," he asserted.

The explosion theory, however, was advanced by Lieutenant Commander Robert M. Peacher, commander of submarine division 11 to which the O-9 was assigned.

FD To Speak To US July 4th At 3 P.M.

HYDE PARK, N. Y. —(AP)— President Roosevelt is expected to speak to his fellow Americans at 3 p.m. (CST) on July 4, leading them in what he has termed a "grand rededication to liberty."

Mr. Roosevelt is expected to ask every American participating in a nationwide Independence Day celebration to join him in the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

SIX MEN DRAW PRISON TERMS

Thirteen Are Indicted By Hidalgo Jury

EDINBURG—Six defendants drew prison sentences totalling 36 years in criminal district court here Saturday when Judge Bryce Ferguson heard a number of guilty pleas and brought the court's work to a close for the summer recess. It will resume in September.

Several of the sentences were suspended.

Jimmy and Alvin Spaulding, brothers residing near San Juan, received three years each, suspended, for the thef of $100 belonging to their grandfather. The youths said they had intended going to Kansas with the money.

Henry Lloyd Hickman of Houston, who had served previously in the penitentiary, was assessed five years each on two burglary indictments, the sentences to run concurrently. Hickman was charged with stealing two radios, one near Pharr and one near Alamo.

Merced Tobias drew a 12-year sentence for burglary. Arrested while attempting to cross the Rio Grande, the Mexican citizen was held by Constable John Bales of McAllen, who filed charges against him in connection with Sharyland and McAllen burglaries.

Guadalupe Hernandez of Weslaco, received a five-year suspension for theft of $56 from a creamery firm there.

Eugenio Saldana was sentenced to three years, suspended, for breaking into the Spencer-Sauer Lumber company at Mercedes.

The criminal district grand jury, meanwhile, had returned a total of 13 indictments to the court. The list included all of the foregoing cases except that against Saldana, in addition to the following: Howard (Curly) Harrison, McAllen, theft, burglary, and receiving and concealing stolen property, 16 counts; Manuel Cervantes, of Mexico, murder, in connection with the June 5 death of Tomas Magena of near La Villa; Nicolasa Longoria, La Grulla, theft; Alfredo Alvarez, Donna, failure to stop and render aid, in connection with the death at Donna of Tom Dawson several weeks ago; Juan Muro, McAllen, theft from person; and Roy Telford of McAllen, failure to stop and render aid in connection with a recent non-fatal auto accident.

Shipping Control

Maritime Commission Merchantman Boss

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Senate passed Saturday House approved legislation giving the Maritime Commission control over American-flag merchant shipping.

The measure now goes back to the House for consideration of Senate amendments.

Under terms of the measure, the Maritime Commission would issue warrants to all ships documented in this country, owned by its citizens, or foreign ships which owners wished included.

Senator Bailey (D-NC) said the bill would give the Maritime Commission "aboslute control" over cargoes, routes, harbor privileges and maximum rates of ships operating under the warrants.

Cadets Tripled

$900,000 Contract For Cuero OK'd

CUERO, Tex. —(AP)— Clyde E Brayton, president of the Brayton Flying Service, said Saturday a contract totaling $900,000 had been signed tripling the U. S. army air cadet classes receiving elementary training at the Brayton Flying Cervice School at Cuero Municipal Airport.

He made no other statement regarding schools at any other Texas fields.

The new program will be in full swing by December, Brayton said. The program calls for a maximum class of 145 cadets every five weeks, with a total of 290 students to be in training at all times under the maximum operation. The students will receive a 10 weeks course at the school.

Worries Of Refugee Family Now At End

DALLAS—(AP)—Driven from their humble home by the rising Trinity river several days ago, a Dallas family worried principally about a new mattress.

But the family was happy Saturday.

They found their mattress had been left on a feather bed. As the flood rose, the feather bed rose with it and the new mattress was kept high and dry.

Flash Floods Come From Friday Rains

DALLAS — (AP) — Heavy Friday rains in Dallas county swept into flash floods Saturday, washed out bridges, damaged crops and closed highways in north and northwest parts of the county.

County Commissioner Buck Frank said the rain totaled five inches near Garland and flooded bridges never before touched by high water.

ILLNESS HITS 300 AT FETE

Cops To Probe All Foods Served

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa.—(AP)—Perplexed authorities Saturday sought the cause of a mystery ailment which suddenly struck down 300 men and women as it swept through a throng of 5,000 adults at the heighth of a picnic outing.

Commander - in - Chief George Lamade of the Williamsport Masonic Consistory which sponsored the fete, said some medical leaders attributed the wave of illness to food poisoning. Detective Chief Joseph M. Schumucker, however, declared this uncertain and ordered an analysis of food, ice cream and soft drinks served.

The picnickers were sprawled over the lawn of former State Senator Charles W. Sones' nearby 200-acre estate when stricken Friday during the principal address of the occasion. The program halted immediately and the gala scene within a matter of minutes turned into what resembled an emergency hospital.

Doctors and nurses among the crowd volunteered to attend the sick which overflowed the three-story Sones' mansion. Many men sought refuge from 95-degree heat in nearby woods where they collapsed. Ambulances in the area were not sufficient to rush the stricken to medical aid and fire trucks stripped of hose and ladders and hearses were pressed into service.

Congratulations

To Mr. and Mrs. A. Leal, San Benito, on the birth of a son, weighing eight pounds 13 and one-fourth ounces, Saturday at 9 p.m. at Valley Baptist Hospital.

To Mr. and Mrs. Fred Phillips Jr., of Alice on the birth of a son weighing eight pounds, five ounces at the McAllen Municipal hospital Saturday morning.

Interpreting The War News

Goebbels' Hands Full

His Task Is To Make Europe Believe War Is Crusade Against Russian Bear

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

The great task Hitler assigned to Nazi armies launched against Russia a week ago pales into insignificance beside that he simultaneously entrusted to Dr Goebbels and his Nazi propagandist specialists.

Goebbel's experts were commanded to set about proving overnight to a stunned world that the two-year appearance of the Nazi lion and the Communist lamb lying down together was mere camouflage. The lamb, the world is now told, was the real objective of the lion all the time.

That the Russian lamb happened to be a tempting morsel, rich in such vital war juices as oil and grain, is a mere happenstance in the Hitler-Von Ribbentrop-Goebbels white-book. It develops as they state the case that it wasn't a lamb at all with which they had so trustfully consorted, but a wolf in sheep's clothing, sharpening its fangs to eat up the lion in due course.

Seven days of furious Red-Nazi fighting on a front nearly 1,500 miles long have failed to disclose conclusively just what kind of a fighting animal Soviet Russia is. The bear is the favorite symbol for Russia and always has been. It looks from this distance as though Hitler might yet find it was a bear and neither a lamb nor a wolf he had by the tail.

This much certainly is true: Hitler is urgently seeking help now as never before from small continental neighbors as well as big. There are even hints that an actual Nazi proffer of alliance with England against Russia has been transmitted diplomatically.

If so, it was a futile gesture. Nor is there yet warrant from Tokyo for the predictions made in Rome that Japan will strike at the Siberian flank of the Russian bear as an Axis ally and to balk American aid for Russia.

Din Of Capitol Is Stilled As People Choose Senator

Flags Fly At Half Staff For Late Senator; State Employes Worrying About Shake-Up In Jobs

AUSTIN — (AP) — While Texas voted for a new United States Senator, flags on state buildings here floated Saturday at half staff in tribute to one who had died.

The huge statehouse showed plainly that it was a day of unusual importance for many state departments were closed and the din of legislative activity which had endured for six months was stilled.

The Senate and House of Representatives had adjourned until Monday. And many members had gone home to vote. Others, including Speaker Homer Leonard of McAllen, had voted absentee and remained in Austin.

Lieut.-Gov. Coke Stevenson of Junction, who would be the next governor of Texas should Governor W. Lee O'Daniel win the election, also had cast an absentee ballot and was in his office early in the day. Mrs. Stevenson was seriously ill in a hospital.

For the capital the election had the added interest that if either of two men won an important change in the state government which would bear heavily on department policies and employes would result.

If the governor was victor, the governorship would shift, how soon none knew although there was much speculation on the subject. Should Attorney General Gerald C. Mann emerge the election champion, a new head of his important department would be appointed by the governor.

Defeat Aftermath

If either Rep. Lyndon Johnson or Rep. Martin Dies was elected, the effect on the state government would not be felt so strongly, although the political repercussions of defeats for O'Daniel and Mann might be heavy.

Governor O'Daniel and Johnson planned to vote at their homes in Fort Worth and Johnson City during the day and return to Austin to receive the returns Saturday night. Mann was in Dallas and Dies in Orange.

Two former governors of Texas voted early and made no bones as to how they had voted. Former Governors James E. and Miriam A. Ferguson cast their ballots for O'Daniel.

A third former governor, Dan Moody, said he would vote later in the day and also made no secret of his preference in the race. He said he would vote for Mann.

Pappy's 'Party'

The usual election "party" at the governor's mansion Saturday night was announced and one and all were invited. On the two occasions when O'Daniel was elected governor, lights were strung over the lawn and his hillbilly orchestra played for big crowds.

With the election out of the way, the legislature was expected, after reconvening Monday, to move swiftly toward terminating the long session, which began in January and has broken all records for longevity.

Wednesday was the deadline for the governor to act on major appropriation bills sent to his office last week. By that day he had to sign or veto them.

U.S.-Made Planes In Syrian Air Duels

JERUSALEM — (AP) — Australian airmen flying new American made Tomahawk fighter planes Saturday shot down six American-made Glenn Martin bombers piloted by Vichy French fliers in one of the hottest air engagements of the Syrian campaign.

The Australians were escorting RAF bombers in an attack on the French military depot at Palmyra when they sighted two Martin bombers raiding British and Free-French troops.

The Tomahawks (Curtisses) closed in as the Martins dived. Both bombers crashed in flames.

Soon afterward, four more bombers were spotted and shot down despite desperate efforts at escape, the Australians said.

"The heavy guns of these Tomahawks are terrific," said one of the Australians after the squadron landed unscathed.

Meanwhile, the British and Free French pursuing Vichy troops north from Damascus reported they had reached nearly halfway to Homs, important transportation center for north Syria.

A military spokesman said another column, moving toward Homs through the desert 60 miles southwest of Palmyra, had captured Saba Biyar.

Vichy troops stubbornly held Palmyra and subjected the British to heavy mortar and machine gun fire and air bombings. The spokesman said the allies hoped to capture the historic caravan city with minimum damage.

US FURNITURE TO BE PROBED

Price Boosts Lead Henderson To Act

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Price Administrator Leon Henderson said Saturday that the Federal Trade Commisison, at his request, would undertake an immediate investigation of the prices, costs, and profits of furniture makers throughout the country.

The action was prompted, Henderson said, by a five per cent price boost by "certain groups" in the industry. The price increase came shortly after the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply, headed by Henderson, asked that they "make no further changes in their prices without prior consultation" with that office.

At the same time OPACS fixed a ceiling price schedule for six leading types of cotton cloth, known as grey goods, at levels about 15 per cent below current quotations.

The price administration also announced that he was studying the price situation for rayon fabrics "and if necessary will take action in that field."

There is enclosed herewith, a new price list which is now effective on the Foster line of Bed Springs, Metal Beds, Cots, Roller Beds and Day Beds. All prices in effect heretofore are withdrawn and the new list will apply on all future shipments.

How long before additional price changes may be necessary we cannot predict. All orders placed with steel mills carry no price guarantee, and are subject to price in effect at time of shipment. This condition might cause sudden and drastic changes in our costs, making it necessary for us to quickly adjust the prices of our products.

We assure you, however, that we will do everything possible to maintain our usual prompt service, and again wish to express our appreciation for the business you have given us in the past.

Yours very truly,
FOSTER BROS. MFG. COMPANY.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

For months we have been urging our customers to select new furniture before certain price rises came into effect. Although many, many retailers have already made radical price hikes on their stock, due to the tremendous stock we carry in our warehouses, we have been able to thus far absorb all price advances. How long we will continue to operate before we will be forced to raise our prices depends entirely on how long our present stocks last. If you are contemplating the purchase of new furniture of any description we cannot urge you too strongly to BUY NOW!

ELECTION ON CAUSEWAY IS NOT NEEDED

Commission Can Set Bond Issue, Said

BROWNSVILLE — The Cameron County commissioners court itself may determine whether bonds are to be issued for the construction of a toll bridge across Laguna Madre to Padre Island, and an election for this purpose is not necessary, according to an opinion delivered Saturday by County Attorney Jack Wiech.

Wiech advised County Judge Oscar C. Dancy to this effect after making a study of the bill passed recently by the legislature which would permit the county to issue bonds for the project provided it is to be self-liquidating.

It was first believed that the decision on the bonds would have to be made by the people through an election, and toward this end, the Mayors Association of the Valley was granted a hearing for Monday before the commissioners court.

The mayors went on record this week as favoring the project. They are expected to have a delegation representative of the whole Valley at the Monday hearing.

The bill demands that the project be self-liquidating, Wiech said. This means, he continued, that absolutely no county funds could be used to discharge the obligations of the bonds.

Judge Dancy explained that the bond obligations would be discharged by revenue taken in at the bridge. He also said that the highway department has pledged itself to see to the upkeep of the beach in the event the bridge is built.

ANDERSON TO HEAD LEGION

Only One Nominated By McAllen Post

McALLEN—George L. Anderson, present adjutant, was the only nominee for commander when members of Loyal Service post No. 37 of the American Legion nominated officers at Legion hall Friday night.

All except three of the offices had only one nominee each, although nominations may be filed until the election, July 24, Commander C. D. Martin announced.

Also nominated were Leo Mathes, for adjutant; Harley Jackson, service officer; Rev. Fred Hamner, chaplain; Dr. W. H. Duncan, post surgeon; Gus Maurer and Ray Losh, sergeant at arms; T. W. Kelly, mess officer; J. Fred Swanson and C. D. Martin, historian; and Bolton Hyde, George Chapapas, Kelly, Robert Paul, O. C. Emery, Hal Ramsey, and Ray Losh, executive committee, five to be elected.

Delegates to the third division convention at San Antonio July 12 were also chosen. They will be Hyde, chairman; Losh, Emery, Paul, Ramsey, Terry Keifer, and Lee Rowe.

The post's award to the high school's most outstanding girl graduate from McAllen High school was presented to Miss Katherine O'Neall, who was unable to be present at her graduation in May. Knox Kyler, Jr., the post's representative to "Boy's State" at Austin recently, described his experience there.

H. H. Damme turned in three building bonds for the hall to the post, and J. V. Carpenter gave back two.

Board To Register In Court Room

EDINBURG — Selective service registration July 1 will be conducted in the county court room, Phayne Glover, chief clerk of the local draft board, announced Saturday.

Assisting the local board will be Mrs. Celia Meek, Mrs. Camilla Bader, Santos Gorena, and Amado Vela.

Three selectees left last week for induction at Fort Sam Houston. They were Sherman Allen of Edcouch, Manuel Diaz of Linn and Felipe Espino of Pharr. L. D. Pate has been inducted for the local board by the Lynn county board.

Charge Is Filed After Collision

WESLACO — Santiago de Bosque of Weslaco was cited Saturday to appear in court here Monday on charges arising from a collision between his car and one driven by Miss Doris Vines of McAllen Saturday at 10 a.m. between Donna and Weslaco. Neither driver was injured. Hidalgo County Patrolman Walter Lysinger said the crash occurred when de Bosque's car turned left to a side road just as the Vines car war preparing to pass it. The latter was caved in on one side by the impact.

Found: A Benefit From The River Rise

Residents of the Old Point Isabel road north of Brownsville found gar-gigging good in the resaca due to the vast amounts of water coming down the stream. The gars, believed to originate from the Olmito lake, float down the resaca on top of the water and this group, standing on a bridge, gigged them as they came along.

ROTARY MEET TO BE STAGED

Plans Already Under Way In McAllen

McALLEN — Entertainment for the district Rotary assembly here July 13 and 14 was planned at a meeting Saturday afternoon.

Homer W. Rowe, president-elect of the McAllen club, and P. H. Graning, met with McAllen Chamber of Commerce officials to plan the entertainment for an estimated 300 Rotarians and their wives who are expected to come here for the assembly.

Foremost among the preliminary plans is a barbecue to be held at noon July 14. There will be an entertainment program on the opening day of the assembly at the Casa de Palmas Hotel.

Special programs are being arranged for the women visitors here during the assembly.

Go West, Young Lady Go West To College

NORMAN, Okla. —(AP)— More men graduates of western colleges marry than from any other section of the United States. They also marry sooner after graduation.

The statistics are from the Department of the Interior, which are studied as part of the course in home economics at the University of Oklahoma.

Blood And Sand Hold No Delight For 69-Year-Old Valley Native; Manuel Serra Sticks To This Side Of River

MERCEDES—Most Latin-Americans in the Valley enjoy occasional jaunts across the border, but 69-year-old Manuel Serra of Mercedes has stuck to Valley soil for the past 34 years. In fact, he has not been out of the Valley in any direction since then and only a few times prior to that time in Reynosa. He attended a bull fight in Matamoros in 1907 but the "blood and sand" spectacle did not stir up any ancestral enthusiasm for this sport in his veins. Since then he has stayed on this side of the Rio Grande.

This grizzled veteran of the Valley, who was born in Santa Maria, is a walking encyclopedia of historical information of this section. The early border days, when all commercial transactions in the Valley were carried on with Mexican money as the medium of exchange, are still a detailed part of his memory. He knows the names, and also the reputations, of practically all the early settlers. His father was a clerk for L. J. Hynes, pioneer merchant of Santa Maria, and Manuel worked for the same employer for quite a number of years. Then he worked for Dr. G. S. Smith, a pioneer ranchman south of Mercedes. He was the first Mexican placed on the payroll of the American Rio Grande Land and Irrigation Company when this company started its historic development in 1905. Now he is doing odd jobs and looking after his property which he acquired during the days when "going was good." He made good money as a grubbing contractor during the development days.

Economic conditions in the Valley may have given him a headache and bther aches now and then, but never a toothache. After 69 years of chawing hot tamales and tortillas he still has a full set of ivories as sound as the day when he lost his last baby tooth.

19 FINISH CAA COURSES HERE

Licenses Given Many New Fliers

BROWNSVILLE — Nine students have completed secondary CAA training at Mauldin Aircraft here, and 10 have completed primary CAA work in the final spring classes at the local field, according to Les Mauldin, flight instructor.

Completing the secondary course were William Francis McVey of Aransas Pass, David Davila of Edinburg, Burley Davis Richmond of San Benito, and Thomas Hamilton Hughston, Morgan Ross, Luther Scott Curs, Marvin Nathaniel Brown, John Joseph McLaughlin and Robert Rene Martindale, all of Brownsville.

These students went through 40 hours of aerobatics in the secondary classes, and may obtain commercial licenses and instructors' ratings by taking a 120-hour cross-country course.

All have applied for the cross-country course, and so far two have been accepted, according to Mr. Mauldin.

Morgan Irwin will take the course at Fort Worth, and William McVey will train at Big Spring, he said.

One feminine flier completed the primary course recently. She is Miss Elizabeth May Chaudoin of Port Isabel, a technician.

Others receiving private pilots' licenses from the primary class include Glenn Harold Tussing and Herbert Boris Day, both of San Benito; Leonard I. Wilson, Jr., of Harlingen, Henry George Chaffin of Los Fresnos, Vance Carll Wilson of Harlingen, and Ocie Carl Allen, Ben Weir Risinger, Maurice Manning Chastain and Ben Lee Leftwich, all of Brownsville.

McALLEN — Mr. and Mrs. Jack Eiler of St. Louis, Mo., left for their home Sunday after spending their honeymoon here with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Eiler. The St. Louis couple were married there June 15. While in the Valley the group spent several days in Monterrey.

ARMY SERVICE RULING CITED

Defense Need Might Call Men Out

McALLEN—Employers engaged in the production and distribution of national defense items may request release from military service of former civilian employes who hold key positions prior to induction or enlistment. General J. Watt Page, State selective service director, announced in a letter received in McAllen Saturday.

He said: "The civilian employe who held a key spot and whose services are now required by his former employer by reason of the expansion of industrial activities or the shortage of skilled employes in his classification, may be relieved from military service in order that he may return to his civilian position."

General Page stressed that employers' request for the release of key men should be addressed directly to the Undersecretary of War, and that a separate request must be submitted in the case of each soldier. The request must be submited in triplicate in affidavit form, executed before a notary public by the responsible head of the firm or agency by which the soldier was employed at the time of his entry into military service.

Full details on how to make applications for release of employes are filed by the government at the McAllen Chamber of Commerce office and will be furnished on request, officials said Saturday.

USO 'Incident'

Youth's $5 Donation Out Of Proportion

BROWNSVILLE—Mayor Royce Russell told a meeting of the city commissioners Friday night that he believed he knew of the "finest incident" in connection with the current U.S.O. drive here.

George Lova, who works at the Den-Russ Pharmacy, of which Mayor Russell is part owner, voluntarily gave $5.

"I told the boy that amount was all out of proportion to what he made."

"Just the same, I want to give it," the boy said.

CEILING FOR COTTON ACTS AS TOBOGGAN

Avalanche Of Sales Follows US Order

NEW YORK—(AP)—Government-fixed price ceilings 15 per cent below current levels on some cotton goods and an announcement similar control would be put on cottonseed oil brought an avalanche of selling to the cotton market Saturday and sent values down $2.35 to $2.70 a bale.

Stop-loss orders uncovered by the decline added momentum to the fall. There was some hedging against commitments in cottonseed oil, the market for which is closed on Saturday.

Trade buying lent a minimum of support to the market after its opening drop but the cotton goods ceiling knocked out most of those props.

The maximums clip about a cent a yard from current cloth prices, trade circles said, by setting a top of 39 cents a pound on prints.

Worth Street has been relatively inactive awaiting price administrator Leon Henderson's action and the mills were almost completely withdrawn.

No exports Friday. Season so far 1,020,248 bales; port receipts 7,407; port stocks 3,285,296.

OIL COMPANY SEEKS CRUDE

Davis, Continental To Pool Acreage

SAN JUAN — The W. R. Davis Company and the Continental Oil Company, now engaged in widespread oil drilling activity in the Valley, have pooled several pieces of acreage for a 40-acre crude oil drilling block and a 363-acre gas and distillate block south of San Juan.

The agreement was filed Saturday in the Hidalgo county clerk's office at Edinburg.

The oil drilling block will include 21.61 acres leased from the C. W. Dawley estate and 18.4 acres of the A. C. Jefferson property, directly south of the city.

The gas-distillate acreage includes leases obtained from W. U. Coughran, Mrs. Dora Van Nordstrand, the Dawley estate and Jefferson.

The Davis and Continental firms are operating in the big Rincon field of Starr county and Davis is drilling a wildcat test southeast of McAllen on the Texas-Arizona Citrus company tract.

Location for the Davis No. 1 Dawley estate has already been made south of San Juan, the second test to be drilled by the firm in southeastern Hidalgo county. Spudding of the new test is scheduled during the week-end.

Grass-Green Rookie Learns About Army From Base Colonel

ORLANDO, Fla. — He was a grass-green recruit and fresh off the farm. He sauntered up to Col. Thomas S. Voss, commandant of the Orlando air base, as the colonel stepped out of his car.

"Mister," he began, "you look to me like you might be an officer or somehting, and I reckon there's something I'm supposed to do, but I'll be doggoned if I know what it is. I've been in this here man's army exactly one day. Just got my uniform this morning. How do you like it?"

The colonel assured him it looked fine, then asked, "Has anybody told you what you are supposed to do when you meet an officer?"

"Nope."

The colonel spent the next 20 minutes telling him how to salute, how he should stand at attention until dismissed, and how to salute, about face and march away when he left.

"Mister," the recruit said, "I'm sure much obliged."

Then he stuck out his hand. Before he realized what he was doing, the colonel shook it. The recruit shambled away.

Not-So-Shocking Stockings Of 1926 Vintage May Give Way To Darker Shades This Fall, And Men Get A Break

By AMY PORTER
AP Fashion Editor

LEGS will be good for an argument this autumn.

For the first time since 1926, we are due for a return to dark stockings.

Will men like them? Will sheer black flatter legs more than our current pinky beiges? Will dark green and wine-colored legs look enchanting or revolting? To get back to the crux of the matter, will men like them?

You'll Like Them, Or Else

We'll have a chance to find out, for important designers will sponsor the new colored hose for fall, and you'll find yourself following their lead, willy nilly. You'll buy dark hosiery, whether you like it or not.

Fashion is suposed to make a complete cycle every seven years, but it has taken 15 years to make a dent in the popularity of "nude" hosiery, the shocker fashion of the post-war era.

When nude stockings were launched, reformers raged. They blamed flaming youth, the flapper and post-war hysteria for a break-down in moral fiber which seemed to be epitomized in naked-appearing legs.

So Tiresome, Really

Now, nobody is shocked by naked-looking or even naked legs. Only bored.

Vera Scott, hosiery stylist, decided boredom wouldn't do. She and other stylists evolved the colored hosiery idea. For summer, they sent out fashion feelers in the form of brilliant red, green and yellow hose, suggesting these for wear with sports and play clothes. The colors caught on.

Now Miss Scott is staking her reputation on the fate of the dozen or more new dusky hosiery colors she has worked out for fall.

Remember Gunmetal?

Dress designers welcome the novelty of black, gunmetal, wine, green, amythest, and amber hose. Some of them are matching dresses to stockings. Others prefer linking up stockings to other assessories—brown dress with green hat, bag, gloves and hose, for instance.

Gunmetal, fashion leader in the Twenties, will be even more popular this fall, Miss Scott believes, especially in nylon, which takes to black and off-black dye better than silk

The new dark hosiery fashion should please Marlene Dietrich, she of the famous legs, who never has given up wearing sheer blacks. Or, when all the rest of us switch to black, will she perversely choose old-fashioned "nudes"?

Grab A Grapefruit If You Feel The Flu Coming On: Letter From School Head In Ozarks Praises The Effect Of Citrus

MERCEDES — "Flu epidemics could be materially lessened if the people of this nation would eat more grapefruit and oranges, particularly those grown in the Rio Grande Valley."

This testimonial concerning the value of Texas grapefruit was received by W. E. Tillery, Mercedes shipper, from President R. M. Good of the School of the Ozarks at Point Lookout, Missouri. President Good is sincere in this statement because health conditions among the boys and girls at his school have been much better when his proteges ate grapefruit than during the winters when they were without this citrus diet.

"Our experience has been that when we have an abundance of grapefruit from down there (the Valley), we have very little sickness," the Missouri educator declares. "Year before last, when we had this fruit constantly from Christmas until early in April, we were practically devoid of sickness in spite of the fact that influenza raged around us. Last year, due to the freeze, we had no grapefruit at all and our youngsters . . . had a very severe epidemic of the flu, which we believe was partly due to the lack of fruit," he relates in pointing out that eating grapefruit keeps the body toned up and assists in preventing illness.

He prefaced his declaration with the suggestion that "there should be a national campaign on the subject of the value of grapefruit, grapefruit juice and oranges in assisting materiallly to prevent flu epidemics."

The School of the Ozarks, headed by Good, provides hundreds of poor boys and girls, without means for attending another school, with the opportunity to train themselves for a useful occupation. The carload of grapefruit, which evoked this voluntary testimonial from the educator of the Ozarks, was shipped to the school by Lee Kidder of Mercedes who has assisted this school with shipments of citrus fruits on a number of previous occasions.

Bill Tillery points out that "Valley people should appreciate what we have and eat more grapefruit ourselves. Maybe there should not be any flu epidemics in the Valley.

SOLON SEEKS SENATE POST

J. E. Taylor To Run For Cotten's Job

AUSTIN —(AP)— Lieutenant James E. Taylor of Kerens, officer in the national guard and member of the House of Representatives, announced Saturday he would be a candidate for the state Senate from the sixth district, a post now held by Senator Clay Cotten of Palestine.

Thirty-five year old Taylor, publisher of the Corsicana Democrat and former editor of the Kerens Tribune, was chairman of the sub-committee which drafted the $22,000,000 omnibus tax bill to finance expanded old age pensions, aid to the blind, aid to dependent children and teachers retirement.

The soldier-lawmaker sponsored bills creating the Texas defense guard and the anti-violence in labor disputes statutes.

U.S.O. DRIVE PASSES $1,000

McAllen Employes Join '100 Per Cent'

McALLEN — McAllen's United Service Organizations fund campaign has passed the $1,000 mark, and the remainder of the $1,600 quota will be raised next week, Chairman Lee D. Rowe announced Saturday.

A total of $1,030 has been collected.

Rowe said a large portion of the McAllen fund was made possible by the contributions of employes of several business firms, who joined "100 per cent" by making donations of $1 or more each.

He proposed that employes of other firms follow the example, for 'by doing so the remaining $570 can be raised without trouble."

A meeting of all campaign workers will be held at 10 a. m. Monday at the chamber of commerce building to outline plans for the drive's wind-up, Rowe said. Efforts will be made to complete the work in two or three days.

The Saturday report lacked figures on two or three committees which have been working for the past week, the chairman declared.

$12,000 Is Paid For Mercedes Property

EDINBURG — The sale of several pieces of property in and near Mercedes to the Del Tex Investment Company of that city by the Hidalgo County Bank and Trust Company, also of Mercedes, was disclosed Saturday when papers on the sale were filed here.

Included in the purchase at a price of about $12,000 were block No. 1 of the Mercedes townsite; the east half of lot 13, block 1, of the townsite; several lots in the La Villa townsite; 18.24 acres in the Campacuas addition to Mercedes and 30 acres in the Llano Grande grant near here.

The transfer was effective June 26. O. E. VanBerg signed the documents as president of the bank.

Actor To Landlord Via The Racetrack

NEW YORK— (AP) —Actor Victor Moore had this explanation for turning up in Jackson Heights at the controls of a steam shovel:

"Some years ago a former actor turned real estate broker and tried to sell me a piece of land. I wasn't much interested, but he told me he had a real tip on a race horse. He said he'd let me in if I'd promise that if I won I'd use the money for a down payment on the lot. I did. He did. The horse did. So I did, and now we're building a bus terminal on it."

Moore kept his gloves on just long enough to move one shovelful of dirt.

New Mexico's State Travel Office Puts Texas Tourism In The Shade

McALLEN—Making no effort to deny that Texas is envious of the attraction of New Mexico as a tourist attraction, the McAllen Chamber of Commerce looked at the records Saturday.

The chamber found that New Mexico's active state travel promotion bureau attracted nearly 15 times more out-of-state visitors than the total permanent population of the state. Texas paled in comparison on that basis. Texas has fewer visitors than the total population of the state. But our population is much greater than that of New Mexico.

The chamber will point out that fact to the State Highway Commission in suggesting that an effort be made to bring in a group of editors of travel pages of some of the nation's largest newspapers.

The McAllen chamber is suggesting that the publicity men be taken to the piny woods of East Texas, to the plains of West Texas, to the Alamo, the San Jacinto Battle field, and the Lower Rio Grande Valley, besides other points of interest. While on the tour they would be free, of course, to gather whatever data they wished for travel articles. The suggestion also points out that travelers spent more than $300,000,000 in Texas during 1940.

Chamber officials stated that while New Mexico's travelers outnumbered local residents by 1,500 per cent, travelers to the Valley totaled only about 25 per cent of the section's population.

FARM BUREAU WORK GROWS

Fifteen Mission Men Join Chapter

MISSION—Fifteen members were added to the Hidalgo county chapter of the Texas Farm Bureau federation at a meeting of about 30 farmers of the Mission community Friday night at the chamber of commerce building.

J. C. Looney of Edinburg and Jack Drake, Loren V. Williams, Ray D. Goodwin, Arnold Shary and Harry Thompson of Mission addressed the meeting, pointing out advantages of the organized farm program.

Judge Looney, chairman of the county-wide farm bureau membership drive, said Saturday that indications now point to a heavy enlistment of members in the group within the next few months.

"Bit by bit we are adding more members," he declared. "The Mission meeting was highly successful, in my opinion."

Another local meeting will be held July 11 at Edinburg, if present plans are completed. The date is still tentative.

TEXAS READY TO REGISTER MEN TUESDAY

21-Year-Olds To Be Taken By Draft

AUSTIN — (AP) — Local boards throughout Texas are ready for the selective service registration on July 1, 1941, General J. Watt Page, state director, announced Saturday

To be registered were citizens and aliens who reached their 21st birthday on or before July 1, 1941, and subsequent to October 16, 1940, provided they had not previously registered.

The men were required to regitser with the local board at their place of residence or wherever they happened to be on July 1 between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m.

Answer All Questions

"The registrant must answer all questions asked by the registrar for notation on the registration card," the announcement said. It added:

"He must give his full name, include middle name, if any, and should have with him papers of identification showing it to be his true name.

"It is particularly important that the registrant describe his place of residence in detail as well as to give full particulars as to the address at which he would most readily receive mail sent to him."

Major Requirements

Pointing out that these major requirements applied to registrants who were physically able to present themselves to proper registration places, General Page said that special provisions had been made to register the sick in hospitals, persons confined to asylums, jails and similar institutions and persons sick but not in hospitals.

Persons in the latter group should have a competent person get authority from the proper local board to register them, General Page said

If any young man was in doubt as to whether he should register, he should consult the proper registration officials and follow their advice, the director declared.

POLICE CLAIM PROBE MEAGER

No Search Made For Joss Assailant?

BATH, Me.—(AP)—A Richmond constable testified Saturday under cross examination at Dr. Merrill E. Joss' wife-murder trial that state police made no real search for the assailant the physician claims fatally beat Dr. Luverne Harris Joss last March 27.

Frank C. Bishop, 49, police officer in the little town of Richmond, said state police had been ordered to patrol the vicinity of the Joss office-home but that a "dozen or 15" were gathered around the house.

"I made the remark that it was funny that the state of Maine would send cops out and not have them stay wherever they were supposed to stay," he said under questioning by Defense Counsel Ernest L. Goodspeed.

He replied "No," when asked by Goodspeed if "in your opinion was any real search made by the state police?"

"In your opinion, would it have been possible for an assailant of Mrs. Joss to escape as far as the state police search was concerned," he was asked.

"Knowing the place as I do—it would," he answered.

The state claims the physician, a Portland, Ore., native, killed his Alabama-born wife by beating her head against the floor, walls and stairs in the cellar of their home because of his love for Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman Mayo, 32, attractive tea-room proprietor.

New Classes

Red Cross Instructors Due At McAllen

McALLEN—Misses Edna Herbert and Ruth Evans of Austin will arrive in McAllen Monday, July 7, to conduct Red Cross classes in home hygiene and care of the sick.

The first class will open a week from Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the junior high auditorium in McAllen. The two women who will conduct the classes are from Austin.

No tuition charge will be made for sessions. Until fall they will be held at night, according to Mrs. Frank Suttle, county organizer. She said women who wished to register for day classes, which will start in the fall, would be free to attend the night sessions. Those who have not registered may do so at the opening session.

McALLEN TRAFFIC FINES

McALLEN—Traffic fines levied in McAllen courts Saturday morning included: Justice of the Peace T. J. Powell's Domingo Martinez, $10 and costs ($25.40), violation of the law of the road, and remanded to county jail in lieu of payment; Justice of the Peace Kent Manning's, Alberto Hernandez, $1 and costs ($14), simple assault.

MRS. YOUNG ILL

McALLEN—Mrs. S. J. Young is confined to her home seriously ill.

ALL DRUGGISTS

Leon Henderson—America's Professional 'No Man'

By SIGRID ARNE
AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON — Leon Henderson, the new "price czar," is stocky, 45-ish, looks more like an amateur golf champion than a brilliant economist. He's been in and out of New Deal agencies for more than eight years, has a sense of humor along with a casual vocabulary of slang. He's thought by many to be the liveliest idea man in the whole Roosevelt entourage.

Henderson established himself as an idea man back in the winter of 36-37 when he predicted the slump in the market that came the following autumn. But he grins about prophecies now. He says, "I'm the guy who made a hole-in-one the first time out. So I'm retiring from the prophecy field."

An Old Hand

He's Tackled the subject of prices from many angles in the past 20 years. The President's recent order gave him the job of Director of the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply but already it's shortened to "OPACS."

The title covers a great many duties but they all boil down to this: Henderson is supposed to keep prices down. It's a ticklish business.

There's talk now of a new law to give him the precise power that's needed. But while the talk goes on Henderson has announced maximum prices for a few materials necessary to the defense program. Like steel, aluminum, zinc scrap, second hand machine tools and coal.

So far, no producer has contested the prices set. If they do, Henderson is thinking of asking them to come to Washington to defend higher prices in an open hearing.

He insists that keeping prices down is not just freezing them. It's much more important to be sure that we have enough of everything—both for the defense program and for civilian needs.

Henderson explains, "You don't build ships out of frozen prices."

Recently copper prices began to spiral upward. He talked with other defense chiefs, and the government began to buy South American copper. That brought the prices down.

Zinc is beginning to look scarce. That could send prices sky-rocketing. So Henderson talked around until now a new, big smelter is under construction.

Started Early

Henderson began in the first World War to study prices. In the war department's ordinance accounting department then, he still shivers when he thinks of that period's inflation, and says with irritation that the prices cost this government 15 billion dollars more than necessary.

After the war, he went to teach economics at the University of Pennsylvania but kept right on worrying about those World War prices. He went on to Carnegie Institute to work on consumer credit problems, and then to Russell Sage for more work on prices. When the NRA came along he became research director (more about prices). Now he's the price czar of these United States.

BURIAL GROUP IS CHARTERED

Martin-Nelson Firm Active In Valley

McALLEN — The Martin-Nelson Burial association was granted a permanent charter by the state Saturday, Scott Martin, manager, announced.

The charter was secured three weeks and two days after the firm began its operation in the Upper Valley.

Fifteen salesmen are operating for the association in McAllen, Pharr, San Juan, Alamo and Weslaco, Martin said. Anyone living within 75 miles of McAllen is eligible for membership in the company.

A minimum of 500 policies are necessary before a permanent charter for operation is granted by the state.

BACK FROM MEXICO

MISSION — Mrs. W. A. Wolverton has returned from a two-weeks motor trip to Mexico City and scenic points in that section. She was one of a party of six Upper Valley women to make the trip.

TO MONTERREY

RIO GRANDE CITY — Amado Gutierrez, Jr., left Monday for Monterrey to join Mrs. Gutierrez and their daughters. He was accompanied by Rogerio Lopez. The party will return early next week.

Pioneer Family Of Valley Raffles Off One Of Largest And Oldest Ranches On Border; Guerra Heirs Split Land

McALLEN—A family "raffle" Saturday had disposed of the vast holdings of one of the oldest and largest ranch organizations along the lower border between seven heirs of the late Deodoro Guerra, pioneer border business man, cattleman and rancher, who died in 1932

The division separated for the first time in more than 100 years the properties that had been accumulated by the Guerra family, whose early forbears came to Texas while the present state was still a part of Mexico. Origin of the family is lost in the lusty century before Texas became a republic, but Felipe Guerra, grandfather of the present businessmen-ranchers, was known to have been a rancher in what is now Starr county, as was his father before him. Dedoro was one of his sons and was one of the few members of the family ever to move away from Starr county, where another branch of the family has long been the leading family of that portion of the border.

Deodoro moved to McAllen in 1906 with his wife, Mrs. Matilde G. de Guerra, who died in 1939, and six sons and two daughters were born to that union. Three of the sons have died within the past few years. Modesto and E. S. (Henry) Guerra, both of McAllen, had served as McAllen city commissioners, and the third, Joe, died in Edinburg, his home. Three other sons, Ramon, Guillermo (Billy) and Dario, and the two sisters, Mrs. Virginia Garza of San Antonio and Mrs. Aurora Solis of McAllen, survive.

Partitioning of the vast properties—including D. Guerra and Sons, a general merchandise and wholesale goods firm in McAllen, the 28,000-acre Nogales Ranch in northern Hidalgo county, the Nogales Ranch store and farm, about 3,000 head of livestock and city property in McAllen—has been under way for the past nine months. Its details were revealed by Ramon Guerra of McAllen.

The five surviving sons and daughters of Deodoro Guerra, the children of the late E. E. (Henry) Guerra and the children of the late Joe Guerra, are the beneficiaries of the partitioning. "We took all of the properties," Ramon Guerra explained, "and placed a value on each. Then we divided the total into seven different parts. The seven heirs or their representatives gathered for the drawing, and each accepted the portion drawn by him or her."

In the drawing, the D. Guerra estate represented two-thirds of all the properties and the E. E. (Henry) Guerra estate one-third. D. Guerra and Sons, Inc., one of the oldest McAllen business firms still in existence, was dissolved as a corporation on January 1, 1941, and Ramon and Dario Guerra, with their two sisters, Mrs. Garza and Mrs. Solis, formed a partnership to continue its operation. They are operating the store, the Nogales Ranch stores and farm and the mercantile business. The D. Guerra and Sons farm is the second largest in the county, its 3,500 acres being exceeded only by that of Arcadio Guerra, which covers 5,000 acres. Modesto Guerra left no children, and the late Deodoro Guerra purchased his widow's interests in D. Guerra and Sons before the latter's death. Mrs. Modesto Guerra still lives in McAllen and operates a furniture store.

Operations of the great properties are already under way by the respective groups under terms of the family "raffle," according to Ramon Guerra. "I am sure that's how my father would have wanted it," he concluded, "and in that way, everything was shared equally and all the heirs are satisfied."

As far as the family is concerned, everything is settled. But the law firm of Strickland, Ewers and Wilkins of Mission, the auditing firm of Harper and Hays of Houston and the surveying firm of E. M. Card of McAllen, are still trying to complete myriad details so that the novel family settlement can be put into words and be made duly legal.

INCOMES FOR FARMS HIKED

$3,544,000,000 Total First Five Months

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Farmers received a total cash income, including government benefit payments, of $3,544,000,000 during the first five months of 1941, or $307,000,000, more than in the corresponding period last year, the agricultural department reported Saturday.

Income from farm marketings was placed at $3,240,000,000, or $388,000,000 more than a year ago. Government payments totalled $304,000,000 compared with $385,000,000 for the period last year.

The department predicted that the farm cash income for the full year would amount to about $10,700,000,000 compared with $9,123,000,000 last year if the present favorable production, price and market prospects continue. Such an income would be the largest since 1929.

The sharpest income gains were reported for cotton and cottonseed and livestock and livestock products.

The department said that farm income by major classes of products for the five-month period of 1940 and 1941, respectively, was as follows:

Grains $376,000,000 and $253,000,000, cotton and cotton seed $64,000,000 and $118,000,000, fruits $98,000,000 and $119,000,000, vegetables $223,000,000 and $230,000,000, tobacco $76,000,000 and $63,000,000, meat animals $907,000,000 and $1,168,000,000, dairy products $615,000,000 and $711,000,000, and poultry and eggs $255,000,000 and $311,000,000.

Edinburg Men To Greet Group

EDINBURG—Business men of Edinburg will turn out Wednesday to greet a group of good-will trippers from McAllen advertising that city's Fourth of July celebration.

Chamber of commerce officials were completing plans Saturday for the event, which will take place in the downtown district. The McAllen group will be accompanied by a hill-billy band.

Meeting Planned For School Band

McALLEN—All members of the McAllen High school band should meet at the junior high school auditorium at 7:30 Monday night, Fletcher Glendenning, acting as director in the absence of Hermann Wren, announced.

The band will march in the parade for the Fourth of July celebration and will present a concert in Archer Park at noon July 4.

Ratings Of 32 Texas Post Offices Readjusted By U.S.

Changes Involve Advancement And Reduction For Four Classes Of Offices; Names Are Listed

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Postoffice Department has announced that in the annual readjustment of postmasters' salaries effective July 1, several changes in the ratings of postoffices were being made in Texas.

The changes involve advancement of second class offices to first class, of third class offices to second class, and fourth class to third, as well as reductions in classification in some instances.

The first-class office must have annual receipts of at least $50,000. The minimum salary for the postmaster is $3,200, with higher salaries for higher-receipt offices.

A second-class office must have receipts of at least $8,000 annually. The minimum salary for the postmaster is $2,400 for offices with $8,000 to $10,000 receipts, and the maximum is $3,000 for receipts of $33,000 to $40,000.

A third-class office must have receipts of $1,500 annually. The postmaster's salary starts at $1,100 and goes as high as $1,600.

Fourth class offices have receipts of less than $1,500. Postmasters receive no salary. Their compensation is based entirely on receipts.

Readjustments in Texas are as follows:

Second to first class—Alice, Borger, Brenham, Yoakum.

First to second class—none.

Third to second class—La Porte, Sanatorium, Santa Anna, Seminole, Sonora, South San Antonio, Burnet, Dayton, Denver City.

Second to third class—Talco.

Fourth to third class—Azle, Bellmead, Bessmay, Desdemona, Joshua, Keller, Matagorda, Medina, Portland, Selman City, Springtown, Thompsons, Warren, Weinert.

Third to fourth class—Caddo, Idalou, Valentine, De Berry.

Farmers, Too

They'll Join McAllen Celebration

McALLEN — As many farmers will be in McAllen July 3 as there will be for the annual July Fourth celebration.

As a pre-fiesta event, a special program has been arranged to stress McAllen's agricultural prominence in the Valley's greatest enterprise

There will be a free implement show all day. Merchants will feature wares calculated as of particular interest to farmers.

The day's program will be climaxed with the bathing beauty style show and revue at Cascade Swimming pool that night.

ARMY RECRUIT DRIVE SLATED

Mobile Unit Will Be At McAllen Soon

McALLEN—The army's mobile recruiting unit will arrive in McAllen July 2 to stay here during the duration of the annual July Fourth patriotic celebration.

The large auto trailer which forms the unit's headquarters will be centrall, located so that visitors here for the celebration may inspect it, Sergeant Edward J. Volkmann, in charge of the recruiting unit here, has especially invited all young men between the ages of 18 and 35 years who are interested in joining the army air corps to visit the station. Enlistment forms will be on hand there for those desiring to enter the air corps service. The unit is also qualified to receive enlistments for flying cadets.

Requirements for enlistment into the air corps are men between the ages of 18 and 35 years, single, with no dependents and an eighth grade or better education.

The unit is coming to McAllen from San Antonio. Sergeant Jack Wilkinson and Sergeant L. N. Gunn will accompany the trailer here.

Sometime during the middle of July, Serg. Volkmann said, a flying cadet examining board will come to McAllen to accept applications from young men seeking service in the flying corps.

F. D. SPENDS DAY PUTTING OK ON BILLS

Keeps Eye On Texas' Special Election

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

HYDE PARK, N. Y. —(AP)— President Roosevelt spent a quiet, diversified Saturday at his country home disposing of business that always stacks up near the end of the government's fiscal year, consulting Washington officials by telephone on the international situation, and keeping an interested eye on the special senatorial election in Texas.

Several bills which had to be signed before the end of the fiscal year at midnight Monday were approved by the President. More were expected to arrive by airplane from Washington, including a $10,384,821,624 war department appropriation, as soon as Congress finished action on them.

Signed Saturday were measures which:

Measures Signed

Extend the life of the Federal Housing Administration from July 1, 1941, to July 1, 1944 and increase the limits of its insured loans from $4,000,000,000 to $5,000,000,000 for new construction and from $100,000,000 to $165,000,000 for modernization and repair.

Appropriate, for expenses in the year beginning Tuesday, $21,822,467 for the state department, $179,009,100 for the commerce department, $66,307,500 for the justice department and federal judiciary and $188,325,923 for the interior department. In addition, interior received authority to make contracts up to $16,675,000.

Presidential secretary William D. Hassett did say that he had asked Mr. Roosevelt about reports that Frank Murphy, associate justice of the supreme court, would replace Henry L. Stimson as secretary of war. He said the President told him stories like that were "solely to be attributed to the heat wave."

Employes Not Excused

Deeming it inadvisable to close down the government plant because of the urgency of the defense program, Mr. Roosevelt declined to excuse federal employes from working their regular four hours next Saturday, the day after the Fourth of July.

In the field of domestic affairs, the race for the Senate seat of the late Morris Sheppard of Texas caught the President's attention because of his desire that Representative Lyndon Johnson be elected. Johnson, a staunch New Dealer, is one of 25 candidates.

Mr. Roosevelt sent Johnson a telegram Friday in which he termed preposterous a proposal of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, another candidate, that Texas set up her own defense force.

VALLEY CAFE GROUP FORMS

Akin And Harrison Address Meeting

WESLACO—Harry Akin, president of the Texas Restaurant Association, spoke on "What Is An Association" at the organization meeting of the Lower Rio Grande Valley Restaurant Association here Friday night.

Akin, who operates food shops at Austin and San Antonio, described the history of associations and their advantages.

V. A. Harrison, first president of the state organization, operator of cafeterias at San Antonio, Austin and Fort Worth, conducted a question and answer program on the operation of restaurants.

Officers elected for the Valley group included Dan Heslop of Harlingen, president; J. D. McDonald, Mercedes, vice president; Gaston Wiley, McAllen, secretary-treasurer, and W. C. Anderson and Bob McBride, Harlingen; W. W. Simons, McAllen, and Mark Bailey, Weslaco, directors.

O. G. Halliburton of Mercedes was named chairman of the membership committee. About 45 Valley operators were present at the meeting held at the Cortez Hotel.

Main objective of the organization, said Wiley, recently elected a state director, who acted as temporary chairman, is to raise the standard of restaurant operation. Immediate goal will be to see that every restaurant will carry citrus foods and drinks during season.

Chuck Wagon, magazine of the state organization, will devote an entire issue to the Valley this year, it was announced.

Aircraft Industry Gets Sharpest Rise

NEW YORK—(AP)—Aircraft industry backlogs had the sharpest rise in June since the defense program started, Aviation Magazine reported Saturday, estimating the total at $4,630,000,000, an all-time record.

The magazine credited the monthly increase of nearly $700,000,000, chiefly to enlarge demand for costly four-engined bombers.

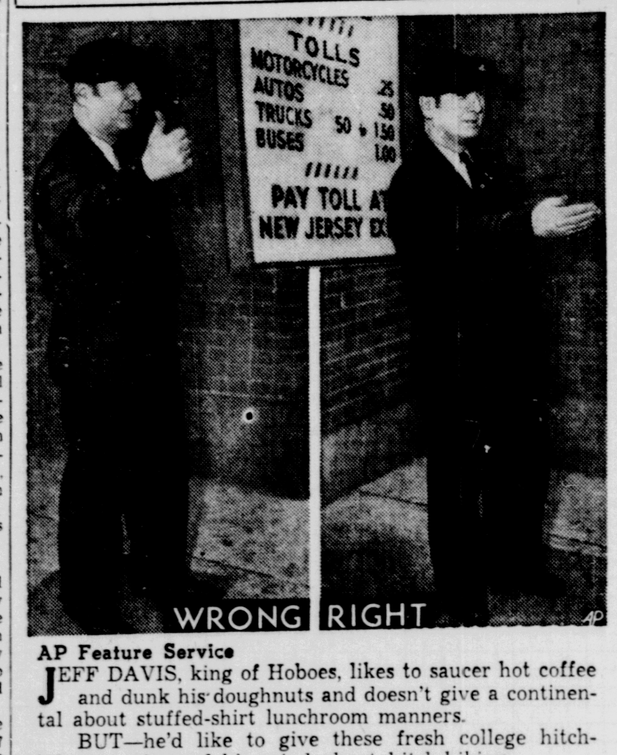

Nazis Sink 6 Ships

BERLIN—(AP)— Six merchantmen—21,500 tons—fell victim to German night bombers off the English southeast coast Friday night, informed sources said Saturday, and a 3,000-ton craft, was reported damaged badly.

Dow Strike Settled?

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Dr. John R. Steelman, head of the labor department's conciliation service, said Saturday night that a tentative agreement had been reached to settle the work stoppage at the Midland, Mich., plant of the Dow Chemical Company.

Thumbs Down On Thumbing Decree Of King Jeff Davis Of U.S. Hoboes

AP Feature Service

JEFF DAVIS, king of Hoboes, likes to saucer hot coffee and dunk his doughnuts and doesn't give a continental about stuffed-shirt lunchroom manners.

BUT—he'd like to give these fresh college hitchhikers a piece of his mind about hitch-hiking.

"Gimme a ride. Nya-a-a-ah. Nya-a-a-h! Stingy—stingy—stingy!"

That makes Jeff sick. Makes him spit. He don't like thumbin'. It's crude. If these college boys hitchin' rides home from college could spend a couple of days with King Jeff, professor of the College of Hard Knocks, they'd learn (Jeff says) that the best way to get a ride is a simple, appealing gesture of the hand and a frank, honest look right in the eyes of a motorist—same executed at the right location to catch rides.

Colorful Adoption Ceremonies For Matamoros Masonic Order To Take Place Sunday In Public Services

MATAMOROS—Adoption ceremonies for several sons and daughters of Masonic members of the Matamoros "Aurora Boreal No. 14" lodge will take place Sunday morning at ten o'clock at the lodge hall. Herrera and 8th Sts. Mariano B. Marin, Worshipful Master, will preside at the public ceremonies.

The imposing and colorful ceremony consists in the placing of a silver medal with a chosen name, usually that of a mythological deity inscribed on it, as well as the date and the name of the recipient and the mother lodge, on the neck of the adoptee. The medal is tied with a blue ribbon. A special committee, presided by the Worshipful Master will have charge of the ceremony.

The recipient of the medal is accompanied by his chosen godfather, a Master Mason.

The lodge band will play several selections and will have charge of the accompaniments.

Carmen A. Gutierrez, the lodge orator, will make a talk on the subject.

Refreshments will be served after the ceremony.

Brownsville and Valley Masons have been invited to attend.

The adoption ceremony is usually held yearly, although in some cases it is scheduled twice during a year.

COPPER KING PASSES AWAY

William Guggenheim Youngest Of 7

WILLIAM GUGGENHEIM

NEW YORK—(AP)—William Guggenheim, 72, youngest of seven brothers who pyramided a supposedly worthless mine into an industrial empire, died Friday night after an illness of several weeks.

Although he retired from the family firm 40 years ago to devote himself to philanthropic and patriottic enterprises, and wrote many booklets with patriotism his theme, Guggenheim remained best known as one of America's copper kings.

Of the seven sons of Meyer Guggenheim, who made the name famous as founder of the vast mining dynasty, William was the best known with the possible exception of Simon, once a United States senator, and Daniel, donor of the fund for promotion of aeronautics.

VICHY TO GET MORE US OIL

3-Way Agreement Is Said Reached

WASHINGTON —(AP)— American shipments of oil and other vitally needed supplies to French North African colonies—interrupted by Vichy's "collaboration" with Germany in Syria—are to be resumed as a result of a new understanding between the United States, Great Britain and France.

After prolonged diplomatic discussions revolving around the future status of the colonies—strategically located on Africa's Mediterranean shores and possessing several naval bases—the British naval authorities at Bermuda Friday permitted the French oil tanker Scheherazade to resume its voyage from the United States to Casablanca.

A British warship seized the tanker at sea, despite an American-British-French agreement designed to restore normal trade between the United States and Morocco, Tunisia and Algiers, when German warplanes were discovered to be utilizing airbases in French mandated Syria for attacks on the British forces in Iraq.

While no official statement was issued in Washington or London it was said in informed quarters here that the shipments would not have been resumed unless Great Britain and the United States had received adequate assurances that General Maxime Weygand's army would not become involved in major military action against the British, and that the North African colonies would not be turned over to the Nazis for military uses.

Nazis Put British Plane Losses At 36 For Past 24 Hours

BERLIN—(AP)— Informed German sources Saturday placed total British air losses in the preceding 24 hours at 36 planes, against one German, and reported the sinking of six merchantmen totaling 21,500 tons off the English southeast coast by Nazi airmen overnight.

British raids on both western Germany and occupied territory were acknowledged. Day and night chaser planes were credited with downing 24 British craft, anti-aircraft bateries six, naval artillery five and infantrymen one.

Plant Quarantine's Replacement Is Due

BROWNSVILLE—E. C. Harrison of Calexico is expected here soon as a replacement in the Bureau of Plant Quarantine. Two members of the service here who were reserve officers, First Lieutenant Charles Purnell and Captain Garland Furr, have been called into service. Purnell went to Fort Sam Houston and Furr will go to Tucson, Ariz.

RETURNS WEDNESDAY

SAN JUAN—Mrs. B. L. Miller, Banks, Jr., Mrs. S. L. Miller, Barbara Lynn and Jane Ellen Mellenbruch, returned Wednesday night after spending three weeks in Iowa and other points. Jane Ellen visited in San Antonio and also with her uncle, Glenn Mellenbruch and family in New Braunfels.

FATE'S AGAINST BOY WHO TRIED TO GET IN ARMY

RICHMOND, Va.—(AP)—A Negro volunteer for selective service, rejected for flat feet, carried his case to the medical advisory board and was passed.

The order to report for service found him ill of pneumonia. A second order came but he was laid up with a broken arm.

Out at last, he reported to the induction station but was rejected—for defective vision.

VISITING MOTHER

EDINBURG—R. H. Klossner of San Antonio is visiting his mother, Mrs. Henry Klossner.

Car Dealers Return From State Meeting

BROWNSVILLE — John Pipkin of Pipkin-Manske, Brownsville, and Lewis Boggus, of Boggus Motor Company, Harlingen, returned to the Valley by plane late this week after attending the Texas Auto Dealers convention at Fort Worth. Approximately ten Valley dealers were present at the convention Thursday and Friday, they stated.

CALLED BY ILLNESS

COMBES—Mr. and Mrs. J. I. McCormick and two children, Billy Ray and Evelyn, left Thursday morning for Bonham where they were called by the serious illness of Mrs. McCormick's father, Mr. Gravelly. Mr. Gravelly has spent several winters here with his daughter and has many friends in this community.

TO TEACH COURSE

MISSION—Rev. E. R. McWilliams, pastor of the First Christian Church of Mission, will leave Saturday night for Center Point, Texas, where he will teach two courses at the Adult Conference to be sponsored by the Southwest Texas Christian Churches from June 29 to July 4. His subjects will be "Christian Opportunities for Parent Education" and "Messages of the Prophets." After the conference, Rev. McWilliams will go to Lufkin to attend a traditional re-union of his family, held at the same time each year.

HOUSE GUESTS

PHARR — Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Evans have had as their house guests their children, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Evans and small daughter Ann Cathryne of Robstown, and Mrs. James Barry and baby son of Brownsville. All returned to their respective homes this week.

New Relief Slogan 'Bundle For Bomb'

BROWNSVILLE — "A Bundle for Every Bomb," is the slogan adopted by the Brownsville branch of Bundles for Britain, according to Mrs. George Walker, chairman of the group.

Warm clothing for the British is arriving at the headquarters daily and interest in the work is mounting, Mrs. Walker states.

In regard to tinfoil, she states that the unit would rather have it in sheet form. It can be handled better this way than it can in balls, she says.

RIO GRANDE CITY—Mrs. Matilde Izaguirre and daughter, Miss Tilly Izaguirre left Tuesday for San Antonio where they were to be the guests until Saturday of Miss Helen Froboese.

McAllen Ready For Gala Two-Day Fourth Of July Celebration

ANNUAL SHOW DUE TO DRAW LARGE CROWD

Contests To Highlight Patriotic Event

McALLEN—All details for the annual July Fourth celebration here Friday when McAllen will become the mecca of Valley funseekers, will be completed Monday night at a committeemen's meeting at 8 p. m. at Legion hall.

Declaring everything is in fine shape for the huge patriotic festival, General Chairman George Chapapas said "loose ends will be gathered up at the committeemen's session."

A floor show of Valley talent has been secured for the two official celebration dances, Dance Chairman O. P. Martin said. There will be several acts, he said. The dances are at 10 p. m. the nights of July 3 and 4, with music by Lee Kohlenberg and his orchestra.

Air Show Planned

There will be a sky parade as well as an air show the morning of the Fourth, according to Walter Fullwood, chairman of the air committee. Fliers from numerous Valley cities will participate. In addition, 10 U. S. Army officers in five army planes will be present.

The army fliers will act as judges of the bathing beauty revue, to be held at 8:30 p. m. at Cascade Swimming pool. Thirteen Valley organizations and firms have entered contestants. They are:

Valley Mercantile (Jeannette Rucker); Palace Theatre, McAllen Lions Club (Sue Peavey); Mission Chamber of Commerce, Anthony's, Advance Shop (Betty Lohr); Steak House (Margaret Ostrander); McAllen American Legion, Hidalgo 40 and 8 (Gwendolyn Crawford); Weslaco Lions club, Clark Mellenbruck Lumber Company, Edinburg American Legion (Annette Closner); Edinburg Kiwanis club, Harlingen Chamber of Commerce (Flo Wilson); Edinburg Lions club (Dorothy Eaves).

Some 200 Valley beauties have entered the slacks and shorts parade to be held at the McAllen Junior High school athletic field at 8 p. m. July 2.

Eleven Firms Assist

Eleven Valley firms have entered several models each. They are Rosales Sports Wear, the Advance shop, Bo-Peep, Penny's, Eggum's, Anthony's, the Fair store, Rio Grande Children's shop, the Valley Mercantile, and Ladies' Supply, all of McAllen, and Penney's of Weslaco.

There will be a vaudeville show in connection with the sports wear parade, which will be under direction of Jimmie Miller.

Arrangements have been made to have President Roosevelt's Fourth broadcast over the public address system in Archer park at 3 p. m., immediately following the speech by Congressman Martin Dies.

Congressman Dies, chairman of the House committee investigating un-American activities, will be principal speaker of the celebration. His address will begin at 2 p. m. at the bandstand in Archer park.

McAllen will assume a gala appearance Monday, when bunting will go on all streets and stores, rain or no rain. Decorations were supposed to have gone up last Monday, but weather conditions prevented it.

Trippers Out Tuesday

A goodwill tour of McAllen business men will leave there Tuesday at 8 a. m. for a Valley-wide sweep, according to Paul Vickers, chairman of the event. The trippers will travel in a Missouri Pacific bus, and make a 20-minute stop at each city between Mission and Brownsville. At each halt, trippers will hand out official programs of the celebration and a hill-billy band under direction of A. D. Dean will give a brief performance.

Some 20 Indians from the Alabama-Coushatta reservation near Livingston, will arrive in McAllen early next week preparatory to giving nightly performances of tribal dances here the nights of July 3 and 4, and the afternoon of the Fourth. These 20 are part of the unassimilated Indians remaining in Texas.

Prizes to be awarded in the old fiddlers' and dance callers' contest to be held during the McAllen July 4 celebration were announced Saturday by Mrs. Paul Vickers.

In the fiddlers' contest, first prize will be $8; second prize, $6; third, $4; fourth, $2; fifth, $1, and sixth, 50 cents. In the callers' contest, first, $7.50; second, $5; third, $3; fourth, 1, and fifth, 50 cents.

Mrs. Vickers said Steve Green of McAllen was the first to enter the fiddlers' contest. He will be costumed as a cowhand, and his wife will accompany him on the guitar.

DEPENDENT TO FREE DRAFTEE

Order To Apply To All Registrants

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Selective service headquarters instructed local boards Saturday to exempt from the draft men with dependents to whose support they make "any substantial contribution."

The order applies to men already in Class 1-A as well as to those not yet classified.

Men who married after registering will be required to show that they were married "in the ordinary course of human affairs" and not to evade army training.

In a memorandum to state directors, Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, deputy selective service director, said that the administrative machinery was being "unduly burdened" by the growing number of married men seeking discharge from the army on dependency grounds.

The memorandum added:

"Local boards should remember that every husband is under legal obligation to support his wife and children and that obligation is not removed because his wife has chosen to aid in the family maintenance. . . . The newly married registrant has the same general right to deferment as any other married registrant."

Sweden's iron and steel industry is now concentrating on commercial iron, according to the Department of Commerce.

East Texas Field Conference Called

TYLER, Tex.—(AP)—East Texas Oil Association officials said Saturday that East Texas independent oil operators will meet at the district court room here at 10 a.m. Monday in one of a series of regional conferences called at the request of Harold L. Ickes, petroleum coordinator for national defense.

Producers, royalty owners, refiners, distributors and other oil men will attend.

Laredo WPA District Aids In Bond Sales

WORKERS FLY TO PANAMA

Third Flight Leaves Brownsville

BROWNSVILLE—A special Pan American Airways plane, carrying 19 government employes, left Brownsville airport Saturday morning for the Panama Canal Zone.

This is the third special PAA flight to leave here during the past week in an effort to rush workers to United States defense projects at the Canal.

Sixty workers have been flown to the Zone in this manner, and approximately 250 more are expected to leave Brownsville for Panama on other "specials" during the next few months.

AIRPORT FUND DRIVE PUSHED

Mexican C-C Helps Edinburg Effort

EDINBURG—Mexican Chamber of Commerce members in Edinburg will join in the campaign to clean up the community's drive for $8,000 to be used in acquiring property for a proposed government air base near Edinburg, Mission and McAllen.

A meeting at which A. Trevino, Edinburg business man, will preside has been called at the chamber of commerce building here Wednesday night, at which plans for the fund-raising work will be discussed.

Harry Cook, manager of the chamber, said the Mexican organization was volunteered to aid in the campaign. Cook and several directors of the chamber will attend the Wednesday night session with Latin American business men.

The $8,000 goal is now in sight, but additonal pledges are needed to make it a certainty, Cook commented. Those who have made pledges to the fund were again asked to make payments on them so the cash could be on hand in time for use when the government calls for the land.

British And Dutch Expect To Battle Japan For Control Of South Pacific

By EDWIN E. HARTRICK

MANILA, P. I.—(NANA)—The British and Dutch expect to face a fight in the next few months for their rich colonial possessions in the South Pacific.

This painful prospect has become more of a reality in the last few weeks. Allied intelligence services have learned that Japan is preparing to move southward. Singapore and the Dutch Indies are working night and day on defenses to meet this threat.

I have just completed a tour of Netherlands East Indies, Singapore, Malaya and Indo-China. There is ample evidence to be found of Japanese plans both for military and economic exploitation of the rich oil, rubber and mineral reserves of the South Pacific.

While censorship now hides many aspects of this crisis, these allied colonies have been placed on a virtual war footing. The Japanese army and navy are completing final phases of their plan to smash the British at Singapore. The British and Dutch realize that Japan is not an isolated Axis power operating independently of Berlin. Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka is expected to push the button at the proper moment, translating the South Pacific program into action shortly.

Meanwhile, Japanese nationals are evacuating Singapore, Hongkong and the Dutch Indies. Those remaining behind are acting as agents, working with native nationalist groups in the Indies, the Malaya States and Indo-China to build up a fifth column. The Japanese fleet is maintaining a coastal patrol of Indo-China in the Gulf of Siam and the South China sea.

A suspiciously large number of young Japanese have been sent to Nipponese-owned iron and tin mines in the Malaya peninsula. The Japanese navy is working with German raiders, numbering 12 ships, based in the Caroline and Marshall islands northeast of the Dutch Indies.

However, most serious bit of information picked up by the British is the fact that the Japanese have been concentrating large numbers of troops, probably over 10,000, on Hainan and Spratly island in the South China sea. Tokyo has also been sending planes and munitions to the Thailand air force. These are ostensibly "loaned" or "sold."

Secret Bases Built

In Indo-China, Japanese military and aviation experts have been building new secret air bases designed for use only in one direction —southward. With co-operation from Thailand and with the power to take over all of Indo-China, the Japanese soon will be in a position to launch air, naval or land attacks against the Malay peninsula and Singapore in their planned conquest of the oil, tin and rubber reserves.

I have visited both the RAF and Australian air force bases in Malaya. Every day, the personnel is engaged in practicing tropical air warfare. They are equipped with modern Brewster Buffalos, Lockheed-Hudson and Bristol-Blenheim bombers, and other new fighting types.

In the Malaya jungles thousands of Australians are digging out fortifications to meet any land attack of the Japanese from Siam or Indo-China. The Australians have established a record of advancing a mile a day through the densest jungle underbrush.

Neutral military observers estimate that British defenses of the Singapore area are now adequate against any Pacific blitzkrieg. However, because of the battle of the Atlantic and tremendous demands on the British navy in the Mediterranean, Singapore suffers from a noticeable and disturbing lack of warships, cruisers and destroyers.

South of Singapore, the defense situation in the Indies is the grimmest picture for the Allies. The Dutch are clamoring for more American light bombers and fighter planes, which they can't get because of the priority demanded by Washington and London. The Dutch navy is rushing construction of a fleet of "mosquito boats" as a defense against Japanese troop convoys. The straits of Makashar and the approaches to Java through Banda are partially mined and can be easily shut tight by the Dutch naval force.

At strategic points along the coast, secret and heavy fortifications have been built in the dense jungle. Key bridges and roads in Java are mined. The colonial government has made its preparations to move to Bandoeing, a mountain resort, if and when an invasion occurs.

An oversize secret police force is watching all aliens, particularly the Japanese, to nip any fifth column movement in the bud.

Poker is the most popular game with 22 per cent of American card-playing men.

2 TRANSPORT STRIKES ARE SETTLED NOW

Teamsters, Transit Men Are On Job

By The Associated Press

Peaceful settlements of labor disputes involving transportation workers in the great defense production areas of New York and Pittsburgh were reached Saturday.

Mayor F. H. LaGuardia announced an agreement averting a threatened strike in Gotham's city-owned transit system on which thousands travel daily to scores of factories and shipping centers concerned with defense goods.

Cancel Walkout

The Transport Workers Union (CIO) and the city agreed, LaGuardia said, to continue an existing contract until the courts could decide whether the city can legally contract with the union in the future. That meant cancellation of a union order for a walkout of 32,000 workers at midnight Monday the time at which the present contract expires.

The union demands a $1 a day increase for all employes. Rates now range from the minimum of $24.96 a week for car cleaners to the maximum figure for motormen of $53.

Teamsters Back

At Pittsburgh, AFL teamsters agreed to return to work, ending a walkout of about 1,200 men which began 28 days ago and which interfered with the shipment and handling of defense materials in Pittsburgh's munitions mills.

The strikers agreed to go back to their jobs under a proposal of the Defense Mediation Board for increases of six cents an hour for some classifications and 10 cents for others. The union originally demanded a flat 10-cent boost over the basis rate of 85 cents an hour. Final determination on the dispute will be made by the board at a series of meetings to begin Monday.

SOLONS SLAP LATIN MEATS

Hull, Wickard Notes Read In Senate

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Correspondence between Secretary of State Hull and Secretary of Agriculture Wickard was presented to the Senate Saturday by Senator O'Mahoney pointed out that Hull with his protest against imports of Argentine meats.

O'Mahoney and other senators from western livestock producing areas joined Friday in criticizing an announcement by the Argentine minister of agriculture that the United States had agreed to permit meat imports from Tierra del Fuego, southernmost tip of South America and under control of Argentina.

O'Mahoney charged this agreement was arranged without knowledge of Congress and in violation of an understanding among officials and livestock interests here that no fresh, chilled or frozen meats would be imported if United States military forces were allowed to purchase up to 20,000,000 of canned meats from South American countries.

No Hoof And Mouth?

O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) in connection had written the Agriculture Department April 10 requesting it to obtain an interpretation of the present law, banning imports of fresh meats from countries where the hoof and mouth disease existed, that might allow imports from Tierra del Fuego.

The Hull letter included a memorandum from the Argentine ambassador which pointed out that Tierra del Fuego was separated by water from both Argentina and Chile and so might be considered as a separate "country" under the prohibitory law and so allowed to export meat and livestock to the United States.

Finns In Aalands

Demilitarized Zone Is Re-Occupied

STOCKHOLM, Sweden—(AP)—Dagens Nsheter, People's Party newspaper, reported Saturday that Finnish forces have landed on the Aaland Islands off the southern tip of Finland, which were demilitarized last year by agreement with Soviet Russia.

The newspaper said eight Soviet consuls and 30 staff members stationed on the islands probably have left.

(Finnish authorities denied Friday night that German activities in Finland menace the Soviet Union and officially branded as "a malicious lie" a Moscow declaration that Russian attacks in Finland were aimed against German objectives. The Finns charged devastating raids were made against civilian centers, vessels and coastal bases.)

Pat Harrison Rites Are Slated Sunday

CRYSTAL SPRINGS, Miss.—(AP)—Memorial services for the late Senator Pat Harrison are scheduled at 6 p.m. Sunday at the old Methodist camp meeting and Chataque grounds here, where Harrison lived as a boy and where he first became a member of the Methodist Church.

Tributes to the distinguished solon include a telegram from President Roosevelt suggesting that the meeting grounds, now a 30-acre park on which the WPA recently erected a latticed pavilion, be named for Harrison "as a lasting tribute to his memory."

Government Girls Pray For A Prince Charming But There Just Aren't Enough To Go Around

By SIGRID ARNE
AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON — This town definitely is not the answer to a maiden's prayer. That is, if maidens still are praying for a Prince Charming.

Washington has too few Prince Charmings to go around. The last census reports that there are only 91.1 men here for every 100 women. That's the greatest disproportion registered anywhere in the country.

So the stories of lonesomeness are legion.

Here's one from a 35-year-old secretary who's earning $3,200. She's a trim brunette frim the Mississippi valley.

"Dates? Sure, I have plenty. But you know why? They figure I'll put in a good word to the boss. They're galiant. We eat at good places. They send me flowers. And they wouldn't recognize me on the street, if they met me a second time.

"I LIVE in a one-room apartment. Gave up living with other girls. You know what happened when four of us lived together? We had a big apartment and a housekeeper. We made an agreement we wouldn't ever fight. We agreed that if we felt ourselves getting angry we'd go to our rooms and close the door. Do you know, there was always at least one door closed. So I live alone.

"I don't think I've been out with a man in a year who took me out because he thought I was attractive. It doesn't mean a thing. Why don't I go back home? Huh! I can't. I'm supporting part of the family. The future? I'll get pensioned at 65."

The disproportion has a subtle, creeping influence that adds insult to injury. The Prince Charmings soon find there is a premium on their company, so they lose their right to the title of "charming."

THIS was told me by a pretty redhead from upper New York state. She's so hungry for a home of her own (she's 32) that last year she took $1,000 from her savings and furnished her apartment as she would have were she a bride. She has a date, usually, on Saturday night. After all, red hair is red hair. But it always winds up in disillusion.

Her last man was a divorcee manager of an auto compnay. He talked marriage. The last two Saturday nights he arrived at 11 p. m. for dates set at 7 p. m. The second time the red-head asked why. He blew up, went to the phone, called another girl for a date, and left.

THE end of the road was described to me by a charming gray-haired woman of 55 who lives next to me. Night after night, around 9:30, I hear her piano begin to roll out Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata." Then she works on through Chopin. She plays superbly. She has a tired stoop, a gentle smile, and she wears feminine, frilly things, mostly in soft blue. I wondered.

She finally told me she had meant to be a concert pianist. But her father died, and she grabbed a $1,440 stenographer's job in the Department of Agriculture, leaving her home in Dallas, and all her friends. That was 25 years ago.

Now she lives alone in a good apartment. She makes $4,200. She never entertains. She goes to occasional concerts with another gray-haired woman. Once a month an elderly beau takes her to dinner. He's been doing it for 10 years. But he's never talked of marriage.

She says: "I get so hungry for men's talk—it's different—that I just go on seeing him. Of course, we're too old to marry. A woman is old at 27 here, you know. The young ones—18 and 20—get dates. But you marry before 27, or else."

SO I talked to an 18-year-old. She's from Wyoming, and she's a handsome, brisk person. She has one beau. At home she had six, usually. So she's sensitive. The other night she turned down a date. She's afraid he'll find out he's the only one. Then she flung herself on her bed for a good cry. At 9 she went down to the corner drug-store for a chocolate soda. Then she came home, washed her stockings, pressed her dress, and read a love story.

SIGNS of social maladjustment here astound out-of-towners. They're in the restaurants, on the streets, at movies, in the parks. Everywhere are groups of women —from four to twelve of them—out seeking diversion.

Five o'clock on Saturday is the girls' witching hour. They save their pennies all week for a good dinner "with the gang." They reserve a table some place where they can get a cocktail for 25 cents and dinner for 75 cents. The tip is a dime.

They dress up to impress each other. The older ones often take two or three cocktails. Their voices get a little shrill. They get up and dance together. Then they trot off to a movie and that's a big evening.

OF COURSE plenty Washington women marry. But "guv'ment clerks" marry "guv'ment clerks." Even the combined salaries don't make for too-good living here. The wife goes on working. They can't afford a comfortable eight-room house like Dad and Mother have back home. They live in a little apartment. Their friends live in little apartments. It's different.

It's different like this: I dropped in to get the other side of the story from a good-looking bachelor with a good salary. Sure, he could date every night in the week if he wanted to. How long ahead does he make appointment? What did I mean? He just phones at the end of the day, if he feels like going out.

"Marry any of them?" he chuckled. "I should say not. I'm marrying the girl from back home.

When? When I get around to it. There's no hurry."

You Can't Even Depend On Words; They Also Become Corrupt And Dishonest; They've Changed A Lot

By FRANK COLBY

Words, like persons, sometimes become degenerated, corrupted, and, accordingly, completely dishonest.

The English language (which actually is not "English," but is a polyglot of Teutonic and Romance dialects spiced with borrowings from almost every other known tongue), contains hundreds of turncoat words that, by centuries of misuse, have completely lost or entirely reversed their original meanings.

Call a man an IDIOT and you have insulted him. But the word has not always meant a dullard, a simpleton, an imbecile. The original Greek word, IDIOTES, merely designated a private citizen not engaged in any public office, as contrasted with priests and public officials.

A PAGAN, to begin with, was not one that worshipped false gods or was an irreligious person. The word derives from the Latin pagus, village, and meant simply a villager, a peasant.

Likewise, HEATHEN once was a most respectable term. It was an honest, bucolic word from the Anglo-Saxon haeth (heath), and meant a dweller in the country, or "on the heath."

If you had lived in the Middle Ages, you would not have resented being spoken of as SILLY. The word did not mean foolish, simple, fatuous. No: A silly person was good, kind, cheerful, fortunate, happy. The original word was spelled SEELY. Its correct meaning survives today in the German SELIG, blessed, happy, blissful.

Are you a BLACKGUARD? Not today, fortunately. But, in the time of the Tudors when the word was coined, you, as a member of the royal GUARD, would have worn your BLACK uniform with pride.

Shakespeare wrote: "What a brazenfaced VARLET art thou!" And there is no mistaking his meaning: knave; low fellow; scoundrel. But, during the Crusades, varlets were young noblemen apprenticed to knights for instruction in chivalry and the bearing of arms.

When Junior's naughtiness has given us an especially trying day, we threaten to spank the little IMP; and we thus use a quite proper word, for its literal meaning is a bud or shoot of a tree, hence, by extension, an offspring, a child. In the Beauchamp Chapel at Warwick, England, is an epitaph, dated 1584, that reads: "Here resteth the body of the noble Impe Robert of Dudley, sonne of Robert Erle of Lycester."

Our highest title of respect for a woman is the word LADY. But the word has a very humble, indeed menial, origin. It has evolved from the Anglo-Saxon HLAEFDIGE, which meant "loaf maid," or the kneader and baker of bread.

A LORD originally was not a nobleman nor a deity. Lord is the modern form of the Anglo-Saxon HLAFWEARD, the keeper of the loaf, hence, the guardian of the household food supply.

In Methodism, a STEWARD is one of the officers that are in charge of the finances and temporal interests of the church. Imagine the shocked surprise of a dignified steward who learns that the word has grown out of the Middle English STIWARD: The warden of the sty, or the keeper of the pigs!

The modern term for one that seeks office is CANDIDATE. But the Latin word from which it sprang, candidus, means "glittering white." What possible connection can there be? An aspirant to office in ancient Rome went about in public with his robes made spotlessly white with chalk. The glittering whiteness of his garments symbolized the purity of his purpose in seeking election to public office. CANDID and CANDOR have the same origin.

CHURCH ASKS DEFENSE AID

Special Offering To Be Taken Sunday

MISSION — Valley Presbyterian churches have been called upon to cooperate in a national plan outlined by the Southern Presbyterian Assembly as a defense measure which is a part of the Defense Service Council organized by the denomination. Special offerings will be taken Sunday to raise a goal of $100,000 set by the assembly to carry on a planned program of ministering to the men in service and their families.

Funds received in the offering will be used for securing spiritual literature to be distributed to men of the denomination who are in service, aiding Presbyterian chaplains, carrying on service programs in the camps and cooperating with other denominations and agencies. Churches within reach of army camps and naval bases will carry on an activity program to provide worship, religious activities, recreation and social life and personal help to the men in training, according to the plan developed. The funds received in the special offering will enable the church to meet the challenge and provide for giving spiritual ministry without delegating it to other agencies, according to the plan developed by the church assembly.

Since it is certain that one army camp will be located at Harlingen and strong possibility that a second one will be located near Mission, Valley Presbyterian ministers have pointed out the need for development of a local program as outlined by the assembly. Services at the Valley churches of the denomination Sunday will stress the objectives of the fund.

Dallas Cops Probing Imitation Nazi Flag

DALLAS — (AP) — Highland Park police Saturday were investigating the finding of a crudely-made imitation Nazi flag at the Armstrong School, site of an election box in Saturday's special senatorial election.

The flag was found by the school janitor waving on the school's flag staff. It had apparently been cut from a white bed sheet. On it a blue circle had been drawn with an orange Swastika in the center in colored crayon. At the lower right corner, "Heil Hitler," had been lettered.

Russia Goes Calmly About Celebrating Memory Of Writer

MOSCOW —(AP)— While furious, large-scale warfare rages on a wide front to the west, Russia's millions of civilians go calmly about their daily life far behind the lines.

Elaborate plans were announced Friday for the celebration of the 10th anniversary, July 27, of the death of the Russian poet Mikhail Lermontov. New editions of his works are being published and daily radio programs are devoted to acquainting the public with his life and literary significance.

Arkansas Now Faces Motor Coach Strike

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—(AP)—More than a score of drivers and mechanics of the Arkansas Motor Coaches walked out Saturday, tying up the company's operations between Memphis and Texarkana.

Otto DeBate of Detroit, organizer of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Eelectric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America (AFL), charged that the company had violated a recent contract fixing a salary schedule for the drivers and mechanics.

There are 35 summer open air theaters operating in Germany this summer, the German Press service reports.

MICA EXPORT BAN ORDERED

Get License Form Now, Appeal

BROWNSVILLE — All products containing mica, a mineral, will require a license for their export from this country, beginning July 2, according to a recent ruling of the State Department in Washington, copies of which have been received at the Brownsville custom office.

Also, on or after July 1, there are new forms required for consumption entry, and according to custom house officials, all importers should obtain these new forms, as the forms in their possession now are no longer valid and will not be accepted.

Effective June 20 past, a license was required for the export of all petroleum products, including crude oil, gasoline, naptha, kerosene (which includes all burning oils), lubricating greases, parafin wax, liquified petroleum gases, petroleum asphalt and petroleum coke, customs officers said.

Among the products containing mica are radios and primarily all electrical equipment.

One out of every 20 trucks operating on United States highways is owned by federal, state, or local governments.

Recipe for getting Extra Action out of thin air

PAYS YOUR GAS TAX FOR YOU
At present Federal tax rates, the savings on gasoline effected by Compound Carburetion are usually more than enough to pay Federal taxes on the gas you buy.

IT'S a cinch to build an automobile engine that's either one thing or another.

You can go in for power – if you don't mind the gas consumption – or you can shoot for economy if stirring action doesn't matter.

What's tough is building a car with two good ideas under its bonnet – like this Buick FIREBALL eight with Compound Carburetion.†

One idea is that it doesn't make sense to use a big, gas-gulping carburetor for easy going when you need only a little one.

The other is that you might as well have plenty-power on call when you can get it out of thin air!

So this Buick has two smaller carburetors instead of a single middling-size to big one.

One of them frugally handles all your low-power, easy-going travel.

The other swings in any time you press down the gas treadle – and gives more lift and wallop – by increasing the supply of air!

Results include: More horsepower – and gas economy running as high as 10% to 15% above previous Buicks, according to owners.

Interesting? Then better get prices and see how little it costs to get this extra action – plus extra room, extra size, extra comfort and extra style.

for the Business Coupe (illustrated above) including Compound Carburetion, delivered at Flint, Mich. State tax, optional equipment and accessories – extra. Prices and specifications subject to change without notice.

†Available at slight extra cost on Buick SPECIAL models, standard on all other Series.

ARMY WOULD DECLARE US EMERGENCY?

Want To Keep Troops In Service, Said

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Word circulated at the capitol Saturday that the War Department wanted a congressional declaration of a national emergency and brought out immediate manifestations of opposition.

Such a declaration would permit national guardsmen and selective service trainees to be kept in active service indefinitely, and would also lift the present restriction on the president's powers to send troops out of the western hemisphere.

'Storm of Protest'

Representative Woodrum (D-Va) expressed his views in the House by declaring that such a proposal would bring a "little storm of protest by one member of Congress who has gone 100 per cent with the administration's foreign policy."

And Representative Starnes (D-Ala) said Congress and the people were ready to spend any amount and exert whatever effort was required to safeguard the western hemisphere, but that there was no plan or intention of this country's going to war.

In executive departments, meantime, the defense program itself was pushed ahead and there were new moves to ease its impact on civilians.

Radio Detector

The War Department disclosed development of a radio device capable of detecting approach of enemy aircraft miles away and announced a recruiting program for technicians to man a series of listening posts along the coasts and at island outposts.

The Office of Production Management announced the defense housing projects would be given first call over civilian housing on available supplies of building materials.

The federal power commission formally declared an emergency to exist in southeastern states where there is a power shortage and asked for reduced consumption for non-defense purposes.

Buy Coal Early

From the bituminous coal division came an official acknowledgement that the nation may face a coal shortage this winter due, in part, to over-taxed transportation facilities. The government already is urging householders to buy coal this summer.

The maritime commission reported that work was 60 to 90 days ahead of schedule on most of the 312 "Ugly Duckling" cargo ships ordered in its emergency program. Although the original schedule called for completion of only one ship this year, the commission said 10 might be placed in operation.

PLANE OUTPUT IN DOLDRUMS?

Materials Shortage Is Termed Cause

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Production of military aircraft for the United States and Britain was described authoritatively Saturday as "In the doldrums" and destined to stay there through July and August primarily because of shortages of essential materials.

The low level of output of all types of combat craft, a defense official said, will be reflected in production figures for June which should be made public in about two weeks. A report issued early this month showed the May output was down to 1,334 planes of all types, including trainers, as compared with April production of 1,389.

Several contributing causes were given by an authority in close touch with the program. Among them was the fact that various new models recently were turned out and these had to undergo tests and have various weaknesses remedied before quantity production could be started.

But the principal cause of the slump, it was said, was a shortage of aluminum, magnesium and, to some extent, machine tools. New facilities for increasing the supply of these materials are scheduled to go into production in September and a substantial increase in plane output is due soon thereafter, probably in October.

Month's Mock War Reveals Weak 'Chain Of Command'

General Ben Lear Hits Hard At Army Officers Responsible For Training U. S. Soldiers

By RICE YAHNER

WITH THE ARMY IN TENNESSEE —(AP)— Summing up a month of simulated warfare by 77,000 soldiers under his command, Lieutenant General Ben Lear declared Saturday "our chain of command (from the officers down to the ranks) is weak—weak to the extent that if this condition is allowed to continue, the chain, at its weak links, will break whenever an emergency imposes a heavy load."

A soldier of 43 65-4 years experience, General Lear, commander of the second field army, struck out at a meeting of about 300 staff and field officers assembled to hear his opinion of the maneuvering of the 5th, 27th, and 30th infantry divisions and the second armored division in the field in Tennessee since June 2.

Of the first field test of one of America's new armored divisions, General Lear said "offensive action by armored forces can be restricted and denied freedom of movement by trained and adequately armed troops."

He added:

"The lack of sufficient anti-tank weapons had handicapped all units in providing an effective defense against the armored division. In view of the present importance of the development of an anti-tank defense and as a stimulus to training, this deficiency needs prompt correction."

Much of the General's remarks concerning the month's training were pointedly directed to faults in command which, he said, he had observed personally.

"Cases were found where sergeants, corporals and privates in great numbers did not know the nature and details of the exercises being conducted," the tall, hard-hitting general declared.

"This state of affairs is not the fault of the soldier. It is the fault of the officers above him and it must be corrected. . .

"Dissemination of information, regulations and orders from the division commander to the private should and must be immediate, automatic and of second-nature."

Case Solves Itself For Racket Buster

NEW YORK—(AP)—A thief nicked radio actor Jay Jostyn for: his hat, while he was lunching; his briefcase, from his parked car, and his wallet, from his hip pocket.

Then he returned them all with a note explaining he was a great admirer of Jostyn's acting as "Mr. District Attorney," the racket buster.

LIFE SAVING COURSE SET

Roger Plaisted Will Conduct Classes

ROGER PLAISTED

BROWNSVILLE — The Valley schedule for the American Red Cross school for instructors in life saving and water safety was announced Saturday by V. Lee Mitchell, chairman of the Brownsville chapter's life saving service. The schedule follows:

June 30, Brownsville Country club pool; July 1, San Benito Rotary club pool; July 2, Harlingen, pool to be selected; July 3, 4, and 5, Brownsville Country club pool. All classes will be from 7 to 10 p.m.

Roger Plaisted, representative for the life saving service of the National unit, will be in charge and conduct the instruction. The school will be only for instructors in life saving and water safety work. It is open to both men and women.

Applicants must be at least 19 years of age and in good physical condition. Graduates will be given Red Cross instructors certificates and be expected to teach the work.

Plaisted has been associated with the Red Cross since 1927, and later was director of the Red Cross national aquatic school at Camp Mystic Hunt, Texas.

Additional details of the course can be had by calling Mr. Mitchell at telephone 100 or Mr. Stegman at 737.

US LAUNCHES WELDED SHIP

Land Asks 'Loyalty' Of Shipbuilders

PASCAGOULA, Miss. —(AP)— An appeal to all American shipbuilding workers "to do your jobs and build ships as fast as you can" was made here Saturday by Emory S. Land, chairman of the United States Maritime Commission, on the occasion of launching the "African Comet," first all-welded passenger carrying ship ever built.

In his address called "loyalty," to which he had asked shipbuilding workers everywhere to pause and listen by radio, Land said "this is an appeal for loyalty, for loyalty of the greatest kind, loyalty to the British shipyard workers, loyalty which will preserve their freedom as well as their lives; loyalty to the United States."

The African Comet, of 17,000 tons, is the first of three such ships to be launched this month, in August and September for the American South African Line's service to South and East Africa. They are being built by the Ingalls shipbuilding corporation, in whose yards Land spoke today.

Gen. Hugh A. Drum is the only general now in active service in the U. S. Army who served in the World War as such.

Crime's 15 Billion Cost, If Eliminated, Would Pay For U. S. Defense Program Without Tax, Babson Says

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass. — This week I am writing on probably the most important subject I have ever covered in my column during its 21 years of continuous publication. After a thorough statistical study of the cost of crime, carefully checked with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other government authorities, I make this statement. If crime committed in this country could be eliminated and government peace-time appropriations cut to what they were ten years ago, we could pay for our entire defense program with no increase in taxes and without the issuance of any additional government bonds. Naturally, this terrific annual crime expense of over $15,000,000,000 could not be cut immediately; but enough of it could now be eliminated to go a long way in accomplishing the desired purpose.

Billions Spent For Insurance

Crime places a tremendous economic burden upon every community in which it strikes. There are both direct and indirect losses incurred from crime committed which must be considered in estimating any cost of crime.

The most tangible cost is the private losses in income due to annual burglary, robbery, forgeries, auto thefts, and all other types of theft insurance. There would also be fidelity insurance which would include premiums paid on fidelity policies insuring banks, commercial firms, and private individuals against embezzlements, forgeries, and other defalcations by employees. Riot insurance would also come under this heading.

In the case of losses not covered by insurance, we must consider the direct losses suffered by private citizens from crimes against property which would include arson, malicious mischief, theft and robberies from railroads, express, and similar companies, which carry their own insurance.

Loss In Human Values

Losses due to crimes against the person, such as homicides and wounding and sex offenses, form a large item in any tabulated cost of crime. In homicides, there is a direct loss to the community of the victim's family there is a loss of income. In wounding and maihem, there is a resultant economic loss to the victim and cost of hospitalization, together with the loss of earning power to his family and to the community at large.

Under sex offenses would come prostitutes. Although it is quite possible to estimate the actual loss that might be incurred, still there is bound to be an economic loss to the family of the prostitute as the earning power of the family is decreased thereby. Commercialized fraud, organized extortion, and racketeering losses due to the use of mails to defraud cover a tremendous amount of the tribute paid by society annually in these phases of criminal activity.

35 Per Cent Of Administration Taxes

The cost of administration of criminal justice is a large item in the cost of crime. This, of course, would include Federal, State, county, and city courts. The salaries of officials, guards, and other employees of penal institutions, plus the upkeep of the prisons, correctional institutions, reformatories certain auditors, bookkeepers, and overhead.

Private citizens suffer heavy losses as victims of gambling or other illegal enterprises, through the bribery of public officials and police officers. These crimes cause alliances to grow up between crooked politicians and organized racketeers and it is the citizen who must pay through taxes for any graft practiced by unethical officeholders and public servants. Another large loss is suffered by honest commercial firms when they are forced to pay tribute to one racketeering organization for "protection" from other racketeering organizations.

and asylums must also be taken course, would include Federal, State, county, city and private. All of these costs are paid by citizens and amounts to about 35 per cent of our state taxes.

Private expenditures for protection against crime, such as most commercial companies have found necessary, must be considered in the cost of crime. This would include their own investigators, detectives and guards, armored car service for the transportation of money and valuables to and from banks and commercial houses, also

Also in the category of indirect losses must be considered the earning power of criminals at large and the earning power of prisoners who are already incarcerated in the penal institutions. When we consider that all these have, to some degree, an earning power which has been diverted from the potential productive class to the "burden" class to be taken care of through taxation, the cost of crime becomes stupendous.

On June 24, 1931, a report prepared under the direction of the National Commission on Law Observance and Enforcement entitled, "Report on the Cost of Crime" was published and copies of this report can be obtained from the United States Government Printing Office. The footnote contained on page 70 of this report reflects an estimated cost of crime and mention is made of an article which appeared in the New York Herald-Tribune of March 21, 1931, which estimated the cost of crime at $18,000,000,000 per year.

This is my solution for the tax problem, the government debt problem, and many other problems.

Hollywood Dog Travels Road From Rags To Riches In One Day, Just Because He Can Bay In Key Of A

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Saturday's version of Hollywood's rags to riches story:

Friday, he was just a sad-eyed brown beagle in an S.C.P.A. shelter.

Saturday, christened Caruso, he's a person of note in the world of dogdom—all because he can bay in the key of A.

None of pictures' high priced poodles, it seems, could bay in the key of A. Some of them couldn't even bay. Most of the others were definitely in the key of G.

So Caruso was plucked from the pound to the set of Warner Bros. "Sergeant York."

GIANT BOMBER TO TEST HOP

Strato-Plane May Be First Of Fleet

MARCH FIELD, Calif.—(AP)—Its maiden flight completed, the Douglas B-19, described by the Army Air Corps as the world's biggest bomber, was groomed Saturday for a long series of test hops which probably will determine whether this country will build a fleet of super-dreadnoughts of the air.

Such a fleet, based on the experimental work which went into the $3,500,000 monster, with a fully loaded weight of 82 tons, is more than a mere possibility.

Responsible military opinion has held ever since the start of the European war that with air power's coming of age, larger, faster and more heavily armed battleplanes inevitably will follow.

For comparison with the big bomber which Friday was flown from the factory at Santa Monica to March field, a distance of 75 miles, the standard American "heavy" bomber in production Saturday weighs about 22 tons.

Stewart Posts Sub-Par Round To Beat Brownell In College Golf Finals

COLUMBUS, O.—(AP)—Earl Stewart, Louisiana State's red-haired 150-pound junior, climbed to the National Intercollegiate golf throne Saturday, firmly grasping as a scepter the magic putter with which he won the right to rule.

Ripping two strokes off par, the straight-shooting kid from Dallas turned in a 3 and 1 victory over Ray Brownell, six-foot three-inch Stanford sophomore, in the 36-hole championship match to succeed F. Dixon Brooke of Virginia, eliminated Friday.

Saturday's finals developed into a ding-dong battle after Stewart had taken a three-up edge at the end of nine holes. The Stanford ace cracked through for three birdies on the back nine, holing putts of 10, 12 and 35 feet, to draw even at the end of 16. They halved 17, and then came the match's big break.

On the 18th, Stewart hooked into a grove of trees while Brownell was in the middle of the dog-leg fairway. Stewart's caddy dropped his bag hitting and moving the L.S.U. youth's ball about two feet.

Referee Ted Payseur of Northwestern University immediately awarded the hole to Brownell, who said "I don't want it that way. Let's play it out."

They played and Stewart won with a par four, going on up at the halfway mark instead of being one down but for Brownell's top-flight sportsmanship.

Odd Figures

We ran across some figures on commercial fishing in the tide waters of Texas in Friday's Corpus Christi Callier and found them quite puzzling to say the least.

According to story in connection with the figures on the commercial catch for May, 1941, the figures were released by J. B. Arnold, coastal division director and were reports that were filed with the coastal division of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission by commercial fish dealers.

It seems that the gist of the story and figures would indicate that commercial fishing in the above mentioned Texas waters showed there was a decided drop in the catch from that of May a year ago.

Yet we added the list of figures that appeared under the May, 1941 column and got a total of 1,800,468 pounds. Then we added the May, 1940 column and reached a total of 1,004,512 pounds. Unless there is a mistake somewhere along the line, this would indicate that the May, 1941 catch was much greater than during May, 1940. And according to the article, the total pounds for May, 1941 were 1,006,570 and for May, 1940, it was 1,810,379. At least these were the figures we are looking at as this is being written.

You must admit that the figures are a bit confusing to say the least.

And to make this more difficult, one paragraph of the story in connection with the figures states "The largest single increase for May of 1941, was in the taking of shrimp. A total of 1,516,373 pounds of shrimp was taken last month as compared to 329,181 pounds in April. In May, 1940, only 774,748 pounds were taken."

All the while we were reading this most interesting article concerning commercial fishing in Texas tide waters, we could not help but wonder what proportion of this catch was made in the vicinity of Corpus Christi. And what proportion of the catch came from the coastal waters near Port Isabel. For one, we would like to see some figures on this. And we do not know whether the coastal division of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission has such a breakdown of figures. Yet it might be obtained from the reports as turned in by each individual commercial fish dealer.

Maybe all this is just because we are not so good at figures or had some idle time on our hands. But it did leave us all confused.

If someone will straighten us out, we will appreciate it very much. And if there were any errors in the story and the figures, we will be glad to help correct them. Or if we are all wrong we will apologize and admit the fact.

An Invitation

The other day we mentioned the fact that when it rained, there was always a bunch of disgruntled golfers standing around Harlingen.

They wanted to play golf but it seemed the Valley courses were closed—or at least they thought so.

The mail brings a note from S. E. Tilton of the Edinburg Country Club containing the information that the Edinburg course is never closed on account of wet weather. All of which should be good news to the shotmakers who want to play regardless of the weatherman's bad moods.

The Edinburg course is in excellent condition according to all reports. In fact the greens and fairways are near perfect and will be kept that way.

Manager Tilton issues an invitation to all Valley golfers to play the course before, during and after a rain.

Hard Luck Hurler

There is much more behind the pitching record of Bucky Walters this season than is disclosed on the surface. Bucky has done about as well this year as he did in 1939 and 1940, during which two years he won a total of 49 games for the Reds. The breaks have been against him this spring, whereas in the other two seasons he received a normal amount of good fortune.

Only once this season has Bucky allowed more than four runs in a single game. That one occasion was against Brooklyn. One off day certainly was due this great pitcher, who has done such a magnificent job since he came to the Reds from the Phillies in June of 1938.

There is no greater competitor in baseball than Bucky Walters. He's a fellow who is at his best when the going is toughest. He's a fellow who takes the breaks, good or bad, in stride ,and he is not one to get "down" over things over which he has no control.

Greatest example of Bucky's perfect temperament came in New York, on the Reds' first trip there, when Bucky was winning a brilliant hurling duel from Hal Schumacher. Came the ninth inning, with the score 1 to 0 for the Reds. Mel Ott, the league's leading home run hitter, was the batter. It was a dangerous position, particularly at the Polo Grounds, where the right field fence is made to order for a hitter of Ott's type. Bucky fooled the slugger and forced him to lift a puny foul fly, between third and home, that dropped to the ground without being caught. Many pitchers would have shown great emotion at such a bad break, but not Bucky. He didn't even change his expression out there on the mound, but went right back at the business of retiring Ott again, which he did on the next pitch. That was a true example of great sportsmanship, temperament and competitive spirit.

Brower Returns To Texas Loop

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — Lou Brower came back home to the Texas League Saturday.

Recently released as manager of the Waterloo, Ia., Three-Eve team, the 35-year-old veteran was signed as a player by Owner John Holland of the Oklahoma City Indians.

"We're going to use him in one of the Dallas games here Sunday," said Holland, after he watched old "Lou-Lu" in a one-man workout on an off-day here which found the Indians in Fort Worth.

So Brower, regular shortstop with the Tribe for four years, bounces home again along the comeback trail, trying to make the grade again at a new position. His old short-stop post is being handled adeptly by Herman "Flea" Clifton, newcomer from Syracuse, N. Y., so he'll probably try for second base.

Lou was a bench manager at Waterloo and hasn't done any consistent playing since 1939, when he played 76 games with Tulsa. He divided time in 1938 between here and Tulsa, hitting .257 in 126 games and batting in 50 runs.

RACING

NEW YORK —(AP)— William Woodward's Fenelon won the 53rd running of the historic Brooklyn Handicap at Aqueduct Saturday, finishing nearly three lengths in front of his nearest rival.

Arnold Hanger's Dit was second and Mrs. George D. Widener's Your Chance was third in the field of six.

The four-year old son of Sir Galahad III, just rounding into the form which made him one of the leading three-year olds of last year, ran the mile and a quarter in 2:03-3-5, just three-fifths of a second off the track record. Jimmy Stout was the jockey.

He returned $6.40 for each $2 win ticket.

The victory was worth $19,250 to the winner.

In the secondary feature on the card, B. . Whitaker's Requested won the Great American Stakes, six-furlong dash for two year olds, in 1:12-2-5. Under Eddie Arcaro's riding, he finished a length and a half in front of Jock Whitney's Buster, with R. B. Strassburger's Louisville II third.

Two Records Fall In AAU Meet

Stars Seek Senior Titles Today

By BILL BONI

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— The 53rd National A.A.U. Track and Field Championships opened Saturday at Franklin Field with two records broken, one tied—and veteran Joe McCluskey the center of attention because for once in his long running career he was unable to finish a race.

McCluskey was leading the field in the 10,000 meter run, which is 376 yards and 4 inches longer than six miles, and looked to be in good shape as he finished the 20th of his 24 laps. But as he passed the checking station the next time he was tying up badly.

McCluskey struggled on, gamely in quest of his 24th National championship in 12 years of running, but he was almost out on his feet when Paul Pilgrim, New York A. C. athletic director, finally pulled him off the track. He collapsed and had to be carried to the center of the field, where he finally recovered sufficiently to be taken to a hospital.

Dr. Joseph Levy, who attended McCluskey, diagnosed his condition as cardiac and heat collapse and stiffening of the muscles. And it definitely ruled him out of Sunday's 5,000 meter steeplechase, in which he was the favorite.

Don Lash, winner of the 10,000 a year ago, dropped out after only six laps.

The race was run for both senior and junior titles and Lou Gregory of New York's Millrose A.A., picked up where McCluskey left off to take the senior championship in 33 minutes 11 seconds. Ted Volmer of the San Francisco Olympic Club, the runner-up, became junior champion and was caught in 33:23.7.

With the exception of this race and the 3,000 meter walk, also run for both, Saturday's competition was for the junior champions, open to athletes who never have won National, N.C.A.A., of I.C. 4-A. titles in their specialties.

The record breakers were Edward Culp of Xavier College in New Orleans, a slim Negro lad who clipped a full second off the meet mark for 1,500 meters, and Bill Stewart, University of Southern California freshman who pushed the meet's high jump "ceiling" to 6 feet 8 3-8 inches.

Culp won by 15 yards over Theodore Nebrich of Buffalo. His time was 3:55.1, compared to the 3:56.1 turned in two years ago at Lincoln, Neb., by John Munski of Missouri.

The one record equalled was in the 100 meter dash, in which Peyton Jordan of the Southern California A.A. streaked into the tape a good 10 feet in front in 10.4 seconds.

Two men were double winners. Bill Cummins of Houston, a Rice Institute hurdler, scored decisively both at 110 and 200 meters. Clarence Lewis of the Rankin C.C. in Pittsburgh, first won the broad jump and then added to it the hop, step and jump.

The crowd hit a peak of 15,000. At least double that number are expected Sunday, when the senior titles will bring into action runners like Les MacMitchell, Walter Mehh, Greg Rice, Harold Davis and Grover Klemmer; hurlers like Joe Batiste and Fred Wolcott, and field event men such as Al Blozis, Les Steers, Cornelius Warmerdam and Earle Meadows.

Final team standings:

University of Southern California A.A. 53 points; Penn A.C., Philadelphia, 39; University of New Hampshire, 33; Michigan Normal 31; Xavier, New Orleans, 26; Asbury Park, N. J. A.C. and New York A.C. tied at 21; Olympic Club, San Francisco, and Rankin C.C., Pittsburgh, tied at 20.

Pee Wee Reese Gets Hit By Ball

Harold Pee Wee Reese (1), Brooklyn Dodger shortstop, cuts capes at the plate in an effort to evade a ball hurled by Alva Javery, Boston Braves' hurler, at the start of a game in Brooklyn. But the ball (lower left) hit Reese in the ribs and bounded toward the Boston dugout. Catcher Ray Berres of the Braves looks to his bench in alarm.

Bullfight

Is Set At Matamoros This Afternoon

MATAMOROS—All is set for the big bullfight scheduled to start promptly at 4 p.m. Sunday at the local bullring with Jose Gonzalez "Carnicerito" and Carlos Arruza fighting to death six Zacatepec fighting stock bulls in a fight that will probably be a memorable one in the annals of bullfighting in the Valley.

"Carnicerito," who is rated as a "master" of the art of sticking the darts in the bull's back, is also an elegant cape artist and has been known to perform such daring tricks as the one pictured above. Another of his specialties is breaking the long (24 inch banderillas) darts in half or less and going to the very edge of the ring, incites the bull to charge and with a deft and swift motion sticks the darts in the enraged animal's back and eludes death by inches. "Carnicerito" has been gored several times while performing this feat, but he is said to consider a thrill for the public that sees him fight of more importance than getting gored. He is also a good cape artist and a past hand at the rapier with which he kills the bulls.

Carlos Arruza is an up-and-coming bullfighter who is young and daring. He performed in the Matamoros ring while still in the early stages of his career and is said to be developing into a first class fighter. He was very good at cape work during the early stages of his rise to an enviable position among the younger bullfighters of Mexico.

Tickets were selling fast Saturday and a large crowd is expected. The street to the ring has been graded and fans will have no difficulty in getting to the bullring.

The fight starts promptly at 4 p.m.

Hughes Making Bid For Rookie-Of-Year Honors

By BILL BRANDT

A 3-hit shutout of the Cincinnati Reds, followed by a one-hitter against the Chicago Cubs, makes Tommy Hughes, 21-year-old freshman pitcher of the Phillies, a red-hot candidate for the 1941 major league Rookie-of-the-Year laurel wreath.

Young Toom's budding big league fireworks bid fair to make him THE Tom Hughes before he's finished. It's a great pitching name, Tom Hughes, and there were no less than TWO oldtime pitchers whose hill heroics gilded the name with glamour. Yet today Tom Hughes, 3rd (no relation to the first two) mayy turn out to be most famous of all.

Tom, 1st, known as "Long Tom," pitched a no-hitter for the New York Highlanders over Cleveland in the American League in 1910. In 1916 he no-hitted the Pittsburgh Pirates while working for the Boston Braves.

Tom, 3rd, is just starting out. Only five years ago he was a high school first-baseman who made the team on the strength of his hitting. Hanover Township High, on the outskirts of Wilkesbarre, Pa., made the Lehigh Valley finals. The pitching staff cracked in the crisis. The coach in desperation lined up all the strong arms on the squad. After trying two other fellows, it came Tommy's turn. Our hero proceeded to unfurl a 2-hit victory. P. S.—He got the job.

It's Horatio Alger from then on Having previously been content just to sock spheres instead of spending his time trying to foil sphere-sockers, life had been rather free and easy for young Tom. But when the coach appointed him pitcher, he decided to buckle down and get to be a real ace of the mound.

He hung up an old tire on the back fence and practiced control. The tire became too big a target, so he switched to a peach basket. He really felt he was getting some place when a 6-inch hole in the garage door clicked as his daily warm-up partner.

College beckoned. Duke was too far. Tommy decided on Washington College, Chestertown, Md., alma mater of Bill (Cubs) Nicholson, in the fall of '38. But before spring, he was signed by the Baltimore Orioles and by summer he was pitching for Dover, Del., on option.

Tom, 3rd's pitching success in his brief professional career has been nothing less than super-sensational. At Dover he never did get beat, winning 9 Eastern Shore League decisions. His ERA was 1.83. He had 85 strikeouts in 80 innings pitched. His eighth win was a 2-1 10-inning job. He fanned 13, three of them in the seventh after Pocomoke City loaded the bases.

At the tender age of 20 last year he won 14 International League games for the Orioles against 9 defeats. He was real hot in August. On the 11th, relieving in the seventh inning, he pitched 9 1-3 shutout innings against Newark, allowing 2 hits, winning out in the 16th. On August 26 he had a 2-hitter against Syracuse.

Even when they get to first base on Tom, 3rd, he's not through with them. At 21 he's master of an art a lot of pretty fair pitchers never learn their whole life long, namely, picking the runner off the bag. Tom's a terror at that trick, especially at second base. The next best thing to seeing the second base pickoff portrayed in Ethan Allen's National League movie, "Winning Baseball," is to watch Tom, 3rd, perform it some day when the Phils are playing and some opponent gets as far as second.

Boxers Prep For Golden Gloves

McALLEN—Practicing for their Golden Gloves matches to be held this summer, 12 Weslaco amateur mittmen worked out at George Chapapas' arena here Friday night.

Trained by Ben Hoepfner and E. Harruon, the boxers include Donald Anderson, Dick Carpenter, Jack Sloan, Bob Curbo, Carson Hoge, Red O'Leary, Charles Lackey, Joe Loredo, Manuel Cirilo, Ruben Harmon, Jesus Hernandez, and John Singleton.

They are sponsored by the Weslaco Lions Club. They are to meet a similar group from McAllen at Weslaco July 9.

Players Take Over As Major Cmpires

BOSTON—(AP)—Freddy Fitzsimmons, Brooklyn pitcher, and Johnny Cooney, Boston outfielder, were pressed into service as umpires in the Dodgers-Braves game Saturday when the assigned officials were delayed in arriving.

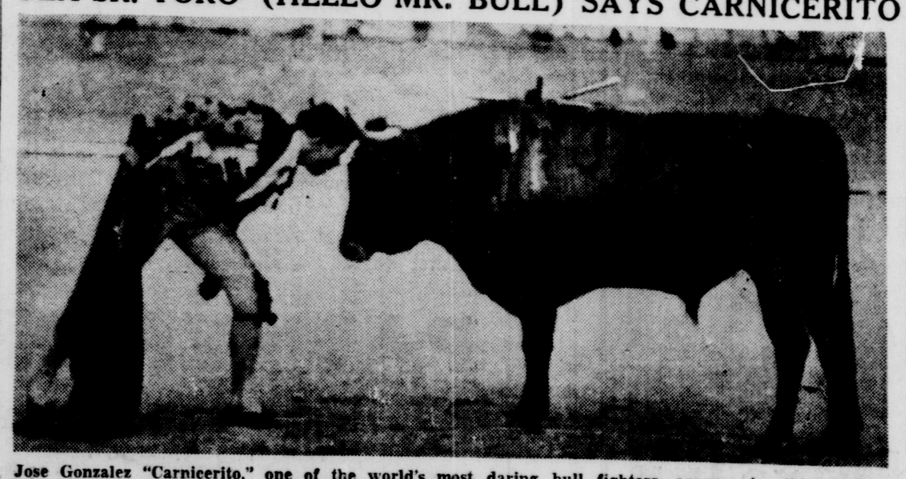

The three umpires made the trip from New York via boat, which was delayed by a heavy fog.

Fitzsimmons consented to umpire after a moment's hesitation. Cooney was called in after Coach George Keelly of the Braves turned down the job.

"The umpires don't like me and I don't want to give any of them the chance to say I'm looking for one of their jobs," wise-cracked Kelly.

'OLA SR. TORO' (HELLO MR. BULL) SAYS CARNICERITO

Jose Gonzalez "Carnicerito," one of the world's most daring bull fighters, appears in this picture almost touching the bull's head with his, after fighting the animal with the "muleta" (red cloth) and prior to killing him. The bull fighter has gained so much control over the bull's charges that he takes this, one of the greatest chances of the ring. A sudden jerk of the bull's head and "Carnicerito" would probably be gored. He fights today at 4 p. m. at the Matamoros Bienvenida ring.

Joe Hunt In Rare Form As He Gives Navy First College Tennis Trophy

HAVERFORD, Pa. — (AP) — Joe Hunt, of the Naval Academy, took less than an hour—54 minutes to be exact—to defeat Ted Olewine 6-3, 6-0, 6-1 Saturday to win the National Intercollegiate tennis championship at Merion Cricket Club Saturday.

The Annapolis star gave a perfect demonstration of how the nation's No. 4 ranked men's player hits them in defeating the University of Southern California sophomore. In one streak Hunt won ten straight games.

Hunt, seeded favorite, lost the championship last year on the same courts to Don McNeill, of Kenyon College. But Saturday it was a different story. The Navy player took an early 3-0 lead in the first set and continued to pile up placements and deadly chop shots to carry him to an easy victory.

The University of Southern California player, second seeded in the tourney, came back to team with Charlie Mattmann and win the doubles championship from Bill Canning and Bob Hippenstiel, of the University of Califarnia, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4.

The 22?year-old midshipman's victory gave the Navy its first championship in the 57-year history of the tournament and the East its fourth champ since Julius Seligson, of Lehigh, won in 1928.

McAllen Cards 'Top' Softball Games For Fete

Contests Scheduled July 3 And 4

McALLEN — Headlined by four choice games during the Fourth of July celebration, this week's softball schedule here offers fans their best menu of the season.

Houston's well-known Southern Pacific team, who travel in their own special coach, will be seen the night of July 4 in a doubleheader, tangling with Sharyland T. C. X. and McAllen. They appeared here two months ago, trimming two teams picked from the county's outstanding players, 7-4 and 4-3.

Ronald Romo is scheduled to bring down his unedefated Grand Rapids girls of San Antonio for a night game July 3 and a 5 p. m. encounter July 4. Romo rates his present squad much stronger than the one that split a pair of games with local teams last year.

Delayed by rain, an outside tournament, and schedule misunderstandings, the McAllen City League will resume its regular play Monday night, when Pharr and Sharyland play. The winner will be in first place, since the Pharr Garagemen, current leaders, are only a half-game ahead of Sharyland. A loss for the T. C. X. ten would put them in a tie for second with McAllen's Lions, who are a half-game behind them at present.

McAllen's girls finally swing into action again by tangling with the Center Grocery ten of Brownsville here at 8 p. m. Monday.

In Tuesday night's games, Pharr plays McAllen and Sharyland meets Mission.

Long-heralded, the church league will get under way Wednesday night. The Pharr Baptists are to meet the McAllen Christian team. Other league members are the McAllen Baptist and Methodist churches. League officials pointed out there was still time for another team to enter.

The recently completed fence was baptized under fire Friday night in two practice games. Although Elmer Nelson, McAllen first baseman, bounced one over, no balls were knocked over the fly. The fence, eight feet high, ranges from 260 feet distant in left field to 230 in right field from home plate. Nelson's blow went over the right center.

After allowing Sharylaand seven runs the first inning, Clyde Salter gave up only two more hits, but the damage was done and T. C. X. took a practice encounter 7 to 1 Friday night. In the second game, McAllen took a nip-and-tuck affair from Mission, 7 to 6.

WHAT PRACTICE CAN DO

Ellsworth Vines' triumph in the Bobby Jones Trophy tournament in which he scored a 67-61 for two rounds over a par 66 course, affords an object lesson to the average player of just what determination and a lot of practice will do. Perhaps it was Vines' great spirit of competition which led him to take up golf seriously. A tennis champion, one of the greatest of all, used to consistency in play he was intrigued and challenged by the inconsistency of his play in golf. Schooled in achieving perfection in tennis strokes he could be satisfied with no less a degree of perfection in golf.

Naturally every player does not possess Vine's competitive temperament nor do they have the time to practice the game in the same measure he devoted to it. Yet even in fewer and briefer practice sessions there lies a chance for potential improvement. It only remains for the player to make up his mind to develop a better game.

Valley Semi-Pro League Teams In Three Double-Headers Today

30-30 Rifles Play Selects At Mission

Edelsteins Battle McAllen Nine

MISSION—With the McAllen Merchants going down to Mexico to play the Comales nine, the Mission-Harlingen doubleheader at Mission will be the only semi-pro baseball played in the Upper Valley Sunday.

Only place in the Valley Semi-Pro League at stake is second. A pair of wins for Harlingen coupled with two losses for McAllen would send the Selectmen ahead of the Merchants, with whom they are currently tied for the runner-up spot.

Two Harlingen victories would narrow Mission's first place margin to one game. On the other hand, a sweep by Mission would just about sew up the flag for the 30-30 Rifles.

In the 3 p. m. game at Mission, Bill Miles of Harlingen is expected to face Ed Tonn, Mission hurler, on the mound. In the second game, the veteran George Strohmeyer, undefeated this season, will go into the box for Mission against Guerrarro.

An interesting sidelight of the games will be the presence of Ernesto and Erasmo Flores in the Harlingen lineup against their former teammates.

Salvador Califa, McAllen manager, has scheduled the All-Stars of Monterrey to meet his team here July 3 and 4. The All-Stars will be composed of the best players of the nine Monterrey teams, Jesus M. Garza, Monterrey, manager, has informed Califa.

The third-place Brownsville Edelsteins and the cellar - dwelling Brownsville Merchants will tangle in a double bill at Charro Park at Brownsville Sunday, beginning at 3:30 p. m.

EXPORTERS 6; MISSIONS 0

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—(AP)—The San Antonio Missions dropped the third and final game of a three game series with the Beaumont Exporters here Saturday night 6 to 0. Friday night the Missions copped both ends of a twin bill with the Shippers.

Bob Uhle held the Padres in check throughout the game, allowing only two hits, one being a triple by Bobby Neighbors, Missions shortstop, in the eighth inning.

SPOKANE, Wash.—(AP)—Betty Jameson of San Antonio, won the Pacific Northwest Women's golf championship Saturday with a 6 and 5 victory over Sissy Green, 16, of Portland.

Miss Jameson, National Amateur champion, broke the Spokane Country Club course women's record by one stroke with a sparkling 75 on the morning round.

AMERICAN

YANKS 7; ATHLETICS 4

PHILADELPHIA— (AP) —As has been their habit recently, the New York Yankees won a ball game Saturday, and this is what happened:

Joe DiMaggio clouted a double and a single, marking the 40th straight game in which he has hit safely and leaving him just one away from the modern major league mark George Sisler set back in 1922.

The Yankees climbed into first place in the American League by a margin of six percentage points as the Cleveland Indians lost to the Chicago White Sox.

Charley Keller hit his 15th homer of the year, boosting to 23 games in a row the major league record in which one and, or, another Yank has walloped at least one four bagger.

BRAVES 3; DODGERS 2

BOSTON — (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers and their high-priced pitching specialist, Kirby Higbe, ran out of gas at the same time Saturday, dropped a ball game to the Braves and sank a full game out of the National League lead.

'Bama Rowell caught hold of one of Higbe's slants with a mate on base in the sixth inning, knocked it out of the park and enabled the Braves to come from behind to take a 3-2 decision, ending both Brooklyn's six-game winning streak and Higbe's four-game victory run.

Since the league leading Cardinals' tussle with the Reds was rained out, the Dodgers lost half a game in the standings. After Friday night's proceedings they had been half a game back.

Zivic To Face Davis Tuesday

NEW YORK — (AP) — The chief drum-beaters for Tuesday night's Fritzie Zivic-Bummy Davis brawl in the Polo Grounds must be trying to prove that the average fan's imagination really is a two-way stretch.

That is the apparent No. 1 object for the way they've been telling you in a few thousand well chosen words that seven months' suspension from ring work and a few months in Uncle Sam's army have changed Bummy from that endearing little character from Brooklyn to a perfect gentleman.

The last time the folks looked upon Bummy in action around these parts, he was tossed out of the ring in the second round of a non-title go with welterweight boss Zivic in November. This was because he happened to bounce a punch off a portion of Fritzie's hide, considerably south of the belt-line. To prove it wasn't an accident, Bummy repeated the stunt half a dozen times or so, before the referee disqualified him.

At that time, the State Athletic Commission suspended him indefinitely and said he would never be reinstated "as long as this commission is in office." Time, however, has a habit of marching on, even at the commission headquarters. So General John J. Phelan, Col. D. Walker Wear and Private Plain Bill Brown, the same three commisisoners, lifted the suspension a few weeks ago to permit Tuesday's 12-round over-weight return go for the benefit of the United Service Organizations.

Both fighters wound up their strenuous boxing training sessions Saturday. Bummy had the benefit of some expert tutelage from a choice sparring partner named Lew Jenkins. Lew is only the lightweight champion of the world. He fought a draw with Fritzie last December, and he admits he doesn't like the welterweight boss.

In spite of this, however, the betting marts regard Fritzie as a cinch to take care of Davis. The commissioners have installed him a 1 to 3 favorite to do that thing.

RAINED OUT

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—The game between the Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds was called off because of wet grounds Saturday after a hard rain had forced suspension of play in the last half of the first inning.

Lake trout are captured commercially by means of gill nets, pound or trap nets, hook and line, and, in winter, by spearing through ice. In sport fishing they are usually taken by trolling either with the spoon or a live minnow.

Mrs. Ball Wins

WICHITA FALLS—(AP)—Mrs. J. H. Ball of Wichita Falls retained her West Texas Women's golf championship Saturday when she defeated Mrs. F. C. Rochon of Fort Worth, 8 and 6, in the 36-hole finals at the Wichita Falls Country Club.

The challenger's usual iron and putter wizardry virtually deserted her throughout the match.

Mrs. Ball, tournament medalist with a seven-over-par 84, was 8-up for the morning round.

Other flight finals: First flight championship—Mrs. Harry Stallcup, Big Spring, defeated Mrs. Ted Huestes, Abilene, 1 up, in 19 holes.

Second flight championship—Mrs. K. N. Greer, Cisco, defeated Mrs. C. C. Dillon, Odessa.

First flight consolation—Mrs. Cliff Widener, Lubbock, defeated Mrs. H. P. Ledford, Wichita Falls, 1-up in 24 holes.

Second flight consolation — Mrs. Dean Culp, Stamford, defeated Mrs. O. C. Dickson, Wichita Falls, 4 and 2.

Minor Notes

Catcher Herman Franks, who started the season with Montreal of the International League, but has since been called up to the Brooklyn Dodgers, believes in getting off to a smashing start.

Franks was with Columbus, O. of the American Association only a short while in 1939, but he banged out a home run on his first trip to the plate for the Red Birds.

Last year, with Brooklyn, Herman socked one for the round trip the first time he got to the plate for the Dodgers.

This year, with Montreal, made the third successive year in which Catcher Franks has bowed into new company with a homer. He socked one for the Royals at the start of the current season.

There is nothing like a home run to put yourself in solid with a new set of fans. Ask Mr. Franks. He knows.

The Cotton States League was having a bit of trouble the early part of this season with top-heavy scores. The boys were smashing the balls all over various counties, resulting in 24 to 20 games and slugfests that were breaking the hearts of pitchers.

The league president placed an order for some deader baseballs. You'll recall that two official scorers resigned at Hot Springs because of the overtime in trying to keep records of the games. Fans were fed up on them, too.

An experiment was cooked up in a double-header the other day. One of the livlier balls was used in the game. The score was 5 to 4. The new deader pellets were employed in the nightcap. The score ? ? ? It was 5 to 4. Proving what?

PESSIMIST OR OPTIMIST

Most people are one or the other. Some may be perfect enough to be in between. We doubt it. So which one are you? Which one do you want to be? We all know there are lots of pessimists, but you can't organize a pessimist club to compete with the optimists. Why? Cause it can't be did. You can't find the j'iners. Did you read in the Star the other day that fresh string beans were selling at 90c per pound, and tomatoes at $1.10 per pound in England? Two years ago the pessimists would have said that it couldn't be done. Watch farm prices climb.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE
OF INTENTION TO AMEND SECTION 3 OF ARTICLE 1 OF THE CHARTER OF THE CITY OF HARLINGEN, TEXAS.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City Commission of the City of Harlingen, Texas, intends on the 28 day of July, 1941, to pass an ordinance amending Section 3 of Article I of the Charter of the City of Harlingen, Texas, by repealing said Section 3 of Article I of the Charter of the City of Harlingen, Texas, and enacting an ordinance by the City of Harlingen, Texas, in lieu thereof as follows: "THE BOUNDARIES AND LIMITS OF THE CITY OF HARLINGEN, AS NOW OR HEREAFTER EXISTING MAY BE EXTENDED, SO AS TO INCLUDE WITHIN THE CORPORATE LIMITS OF SAID CITY ANY TERRITORY OR SEVERAL AREAS ADJOINING SUCH LIMITS AS THEN EXISTING. BY ORDINANCE PASSED BY THE CITY COMMISSION, SPECIFICALLY DEFINING THE LIMITS OF THE CITY AFTER SUCH INCLUSION." Said election to be in accordance with the provisions of the City Charter of the City of Harlingen, Texas, and in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 13, Title 28, Revised Statutes of 1925 of the State of Texas and Acts Amendatory thereof.

This notice is given in accordance with an ordinance duly adopted by the City Commission of the City of Harlingen, Texas, on the 26th day of June, 1941 calling an election to be held on the 28th day of July, 1941, for the purpose of voting on said amendment.

HUGH RAMSEY
Mayor, City Of Harlingen, Texas

C. F. STOVALL
City Secretary, City Of Harlingen, Texas
Dated this 26th day of June, 1941.

OKLAHOMA LIVESTOCK

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Cattle 50, calves 25; for the week, better kinds fed steers little changed; lower grades strong 25 higher; yearling steers and heifers steady to 25 higher; beef cows steady to easier; canners, cutters strong to 25 higher; bulls weak to 25 lower; vealers and calves steady; stockers firm; week's prices: odd head choice fed yearling steers 11.50-12.00; good yearling steers and heifers 10.00-10.75; few steers 8.25-10.35; cows upward 8.00; canners and cutters 4.50-6.50; bulls 6.50-8.00; stockers largely 7.50-11.00; light yearlings and calves to 12.00.

Hogs, salable 200, total 330; steady clean up trade by packers; top 10.55; no shippers or city butchers in; most good and hog choice 180-250 lbs 10.50-10.55; odd sows upward 9.75; for the week, butcher hogs 5 to 25 higher, closing 5 to 10 higher than a week ago; extreme top 10.85; late top 10.70; packing sows 9.25-9.75; stock pigs mostly 10.00.

Sheep 450 including 400 on through billing; for the week, spring lambs uneven; early advance lost; early top 11.25; closing top 11.00; few shorn ewes 2.00-3.50.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO—(AP)—(U.S.D.A.)—Salable hogs 300; total 5,300; supply good and choice hogs too small to make a market; undertone steady, however, with quotable top around 11.00; shippers took none; estimated holdover 1,000; compared week ago: barrows, gilts and packing sows generally 35-50 higher.

Salable cattle 100; no calves; compared Friday last week: most medium weight and weighty steers 50 lower; general market closed very dull, with yearlings and light steers 15-40 off, kinds scaling 1050 lb downward showing least decline; strictly choice light heifers steady, but all others 25 lower; cows fully 25 off lightweight sausage bulls 25 down, but heavy shipper kinds only weak; vealers 50-75 higher; predominantly fed steer run with excessive crop scaling 1200 lbs upward, sizable supply averaging 1350-1600 lbs; shipper demand narrowed by approaching fourth of July holiday, and sluggish dressed markets further weakened by heat wave; extreme top 12.75 for prime 1135 lb yearlings, practical top yearlings 12.60; best 1324 lb steers 12.35, very little selling above 11.75; very sizable supply heavy, long fed steers late at 10.25-11.00, medium grade 1520 lb averages 9.75; both 740 and 1023 lb strictly choice fed heifers reached 11.75; cutter cows closed at 7.00 down, heavy sausage bulls at 8.90 down, and vealers 12.50 down.

Salable sheep 100; total 2,700; compared Friday last week: supplies largely native stock, spring lambs 50-75 lower, fat sheep and shorn lambs scarce, steady; small supply choice native springers mildly in the decline at 10.00 downward; best shorn lambs 9.75, most small lots 8.50-9.50; few lightweight fat ewes 4.75, most medium to good grades and heavy weights 3.75-4.50, with common and cull grades downward from 2.75.

CHICAGO GRAINS

CHICAGO—(AP)—Heavy profit taking and liquidation battered grain, soybeans, lard and other commodities prices down sharply Saturday from the one to 15 year peak levels reached Friday.

Wheat lost almost 4 cents, corn more than a cent, soybeans as much as 8 cents and lard a cent a pound. The losses in soybeans and lard were the maximum permitted in one session.

Market traders attributed the liquidation partly to Friday's stern warning issued by Leon Henderson, price administrator, concerning "speculation in essential food commodities."

Although wheat rallied slightly at the end, the close was 3⅛-3½ cents lower than Friday, July 1.03⅜-1.03, September 1.04⅜-⅝. Corn finished 1⅛-1½ down, July 73⅛, September 75⅞-76; oats ¾-1 off; soybeans 8 lower; rye 2½-5 down and lard 1.00 lower.

MIDDLING COTTON

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—The average price of middling 15-16 inch cotton at 10 designated southern spot markets Saturday was 50 points lower at 14.32 cents a pound; 50 points lower for the past 30 market days was average for the past 30 market days was 13.54. Middling ⅞ inch average was 14.10

By BERNARD S. O'HARA

NEW YORK—(AP)—The stock market finished a fairly successful week with considerable hesitancy Saturday as war worries combined with a slump in recently buoyant commodities to put brakes on buying sentiment.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 41.7 but up .3 of a point on the week. Transfers of 139,550 shares compared with 125,200 a week ago.

Business developments aided individual issues but most favorites were unable to get far out in front.

Emerging with moderate advances were Canada Dry, which edged into new high ground for the year; American Can, Pennsylvania, Douglas Aircraft, Sperry, Goodyear, General Motors, Bethlehem Steel, American Telephone and Johns Manville.

On the losing side fractionally were U. S. Steel, Western Union, Montgomery Ward, Glenn Martin, Phelps Dodge, Standard Oil (NJ), Texas Corp., Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Du Pont and Eastman Kodak.

U.S. Aid For Russia Would Mean Hiking Lease-Lend Funds, Solons Say

FD MAY SEEK MORE MONEY FOR BRITISH

Chiefs Lukewarm On Aiding Red Army

By WILLIAM B. ARDERY

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Several senators differing on general foreign policy agreed Saturday that any substantial American aid for Russia would necessitate a multi-billion-dollar increase in the present $7,000,000,000 lend-lease program and appropriation of large new sums for armament plants.

At the same time, there was speculation in congressional quarters that the administration might soon ask additional money for the lease-lend program. President Roosevelt has promised all possible aid for Russia in fighting Germany.

Ask More Money?

Senator Byrd (D-Va) told reporters he had heard rumors that more lease-lend money would be asked, but that he did not see how much aid could be given Russia. This country, he declared, "is not producing enough military equipment for its own needs and those of Great Britain."

Senator Pepper (D-Fla) said "Congress will give the president any reasonable sum" and added:

"If we don't spend $5,000,000,000 or so to stop Hitler in Europe now then it will cost us five to 20 times $5,000,000,000 to stop him later."

Expressions of other senators interviewed varied.

The veteran Senator Glass (D-Va) asked, "where would we get the money from?" if further appropriations were granted for aid to Russia.

No Russian Help?

Senator Adams (D-Colo), declared that the $7,000,000,000 outlay under the original lend-lease program was based on British estimates of that country's needs for American products. The total figure, he added, was considerably less than that suggested by Great Britain.

Senator Mead (D-Ny), saying that this country would always have to realize a fundamental conflict between American and Russian political philosophies, declared he saw nothing that could be done for Russia under the existing lend-lease program. While approving administration steps to give Russia help, Mead added that "there will have to be a new lend-lease bill" before the Soviet could be placed in the same category as Great Britain.

FUNERAL HELD FOR HOUSTON

Solon's Body To Lie In Capital Now

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A brief, simple funeral service was conducted Saturday for Senator Andrew Jackson Houston of Texas at Hysong's undertaking establishment.

Prayers for the dead were read by the Rev. T. B. Dade of St. Patrick's Church, Washington. Then the body was taken to Abbey Mausoleum in Arlington, Va., for placement in a receiving vault. It will be sent later to Houston's native Texas.

Earlier, it had been planned to have a requiem mass today for Senator Houston, with a special Senate committee and Texas House members attending.

These plans were cancelled, however, and a strictly private service arranged.

Because of the strain, the Senator's daughters, Misses Ariadne and Marguerite Houston, did not attend Saturday's services but planned for a requiem mass for the aged son of General Sam Houston, later at Laporte, Texas. They planned to leave Washington Monday for Texas, stopping enroute to rest for a few days.

20-30 CLUB TO SEEK MEETING

Edinburg Group Files Bid At Corpus

EDINBURG—Edinburg will file a major bid for the 1942 convention of the Lone Star district of 20-30 clubs at this year's conclave at Corpus Christi, which will close Sunday.

George Brown, president of the Edinburg club, carried the invitation to the Corpus Christi meeting along with several other delegates. The chamber of commerce joined in the project by sending the convention a formal invitation.

Brown, Miller Hammonds, Dave Smith, Jimmy Smith, Arthur Hatfield and Billy Crist were local delegates to the week-end meeting.

The Edinburg club elected Shelton Enochs its new president to succeed Brown at the last meeting. Other officers are Hatfield, first vice president; Bill Skinner, second vice president; Hammonds, sergeant-at-arms, and David Smith, Scott Toothaker, Jimmy Smith, Brown and Crist, directors.

U. S. DOUBLES RUBBER PLANS

Synthetic Plants To Get Federal Aid

NEW YORK—(AP)—Financial circles understood Saturday the government has doubled its plans for synthetic rubber production to around 80,000 tons annually but said such an output was several years away.

Some sources said synthetic plants would be making about 40,000 tons annually by the end of 1942 and would pass 30,000 tons late in 1942. Others expected a 30,000-ton rate by the end of this year but they were labeled "very optimistic."

Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce and federal loan administrator, has announced four major rubber companies would construct plants each capable of housing equipment for 10,000 tons annually, starting at 2,500 tons a year.

U. S. MARINES SENT BRITISH

Detachment To Aid Communications

WASHINGTON— (AP) —The Navy Department announced Saturday that a small detachment of marines had been sent to London "to facilitate communications between the various United States offices located there."

The navy said the detachment consisted of three officers and 60 men. It added that "due to the great expansion of work of the embassy and establishment of separate offices there this service has been greatly needed for some time."

The marines, it was said, also would assist as fire watchers, and thus "serve to relieve the already overburdened embassy staff."

MEXICO FINDS NAZI RADIOS

Propaganda Sent Out From Chiapas

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Nazi radio stations so powerful they "black out" local stations when on the air are broadcasting "fifth column propaganda" and messages from coffee and banana plantations in the state of Chiapas on the Guatemalan frontier, says Fidel Velazquez, secretary-general of the Confederation of Mexican Workers.

Velazquez, just returned from a trip through Chiapas, said Germans owned most of the plantations and were treating Mexican and imported Guatemalan employes like slaves.

The confederation will ask President Avila Camacho to nationalize Mexico's coffee and banana industry, thereby eliminating the Chiapas situation, Velazquez said.

The world supply of sugar for the 1941 season is estmated at 42,300,000 tons, the largest on record.

VALLEY SUNDAY

Star - MONITOR - Herald

Judging from the sunny smiles on the faces of the two Valley visitors shown above, the visit in Brownsville and other Valley points of Miss Martha Ann Gordon, standing, and Miss Eleanor Leonard, seated, both of Jefferson City, Missouri, was a particularly enjoyable one. The two were guests of Miss Gordon's uncle, Martin Price, and Mrs. Price in Brownsville, and planned stays in other Valley cities and other Texas points before they returned to Missouri. Miss Gordon's mother is the former Miss Lil Price of Mission. (Photo by Garcia.)

Mission Graduates Are Prominent

Miss Wilma Thiele (center) graduated with the spring class of Mission high school with high honors. Class valedictorian, she received the Service Award presented by the Lions Club and was named to permanent membership in the National Honor Society. A talented musician, she composed the arrangement for one of the school songs used in the commencement program and received outstanding recognition for work in both vocal and instrumental music. She is the first student ever to receive at the same time the awards for being the most valuable member of both the high school band and chorus units. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Thiele of Mission. She plans to major in music when she enrolls in college next fall, probably at North Texas State Teachers College, Denton. (Kerr Studio.)

Miss Hattie Jean Sturgeon (left) was a popular member of the 1941 graduating class of the Mission high school. Elected to membership in Who's Who in Mission High School, she also represented the class as sweetheart at the Queen Vallevanna dance in McAllen and the Sweetheart dance in Edinburg. Next fall, Miss Sturgeon will enroll for college classes at the University of Texas. (Kerr Photo.)

Miss Doris Pearson (right) graduated with high scholastic honors from Mission high school this spring and was elected to membership in the National Honor Society. At present visiting in Birmingham, Ala., Miss Pearson will return to the Valley in late summer. Next fall, she will enroll at Mary Hardin-Baylor, Belton. (Photo by Kerr.)

Showers Fail To Hamper Girls Camp

Total Of 31 Girls Is Enrolled

RIO HONDO—The Y.W.C.A. summer camp at Rio Hondo had another successful week in spite of the bad weather, Miss Essie Roots, director, has reported. Swimming, rowing, and badminton were chief sports in which the girls received training.

Each day was highlighted by some special activity.

Monday night the campers enjoyed a game party in the auditorium.

Tuesday evening was amateur night, an event that was especially enjoyable for everyone.

The costume dance on Wednesday night proved to be a hilarious occasion.

Thursday afternoon the campers searched for a treasure which allegedly had been hidden on the arroyo banks by pirates of long ago. The girls found fun in a fishing party on Friday.

Open house climaxed and ended the weekend Saturday afternoon when parents and friends observed the girls taking part in the various activities.

There were 31 enrolled in the camp for the week and a larger number is expected during the coming week. Those that attended last week were:

Hilda Jean Davies, Ann Stiernberg, Carol Fox, Jean Head, Sally Colvin, Julie Gallaher, Peggy Jean Place, Paula Marie Carter, Eustacia Caul, Ann Brittain, Susie Phillips, and Bobbie Lee Vanderfoot of Harlingen; Betty Jean Russell, Dora Beth Stephens, Marjorie Fields, Mary Shear, and Camilla Shear of Alice; Charlene Goolsby, Emma Beth Hudson, Lucy Beth Hough, Dorothy Ann DeGuerrin, Nona Foster, and Mary Alice Bohner of San Benito; Mollie Gattling, Corinne Thomas, Mary Ann Starr, Judy Garcia, Trudie Elmore, and Irene Elmore of McAllen.

Leaders For Valley Women's Groups

Mrs. L. A. Barrier (shown left) has been prominent in musical circles in San Benito for several years and has often been presented as vocalist for programs in different towns in the Valley. Mrs. Barrier is the immediate past president of the Athenian Club, pioneer San Benito study group, and is a past president of the San Benito Music Club. (Holbrook Studio.) Mrs. E. E. Van Zandt, Pharr, (pictured right), recently assumed the post of president for the Pharr Garden Club, which is due much credit for Pharr's attractive appearance. Other officers who are serving with Mrs. Van Zandt are Mrs. Warren Baden, vice president; Mrs. Burton Benson, treasurer; Miss Evelyn Price, secretary; Mrs. Roy Barnes, parliamentarian; and Mrs. C. B. Vinsant, historian. (Kerr Studio.)

Day Nursery Is Benefited By Cash Gift

HARLINGEN—Through a gift of $100 to the Harlingen Day Nursery, much needed equipment has been purchased and much better ventilation for the sleeping porch under construction has been assured, Mrs. Julia Knowles, matron in charge of the nursery, has expressed appreciation in behalf of the nursery and the executive board to the American Legion Community Service club for the money gift.

Purchases have included six windows which will afford much needed ventilation in the sleeping porch now under construction; two new children's beds; silver and glassware for table service for children receiving noonday lunches at the nursery; and medical and other supplies.

There is a sum remaining that will be used to meet other major needs at the nursery which is receiving steadily increasing requests for assistance in caring for children. Members of the committee delegated to transfer the gift to the nursery were W. J. Collver, Tom Vines, and Dr. D. C. Rose.

Izard Family Has Reunion

HARLINGEN—A family reunion that has brought together members of the S. B. Izard family for the first time in 36 years is to be climaxed Sunday with a large family dinner at the Izard home. Guests, who have been in Harlingen about a week, include:

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Izard and Roy Myers of Lead, So. Dakota; Mrs. W. C. Creecy and two children of Milburn, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Izard, Duncan, Okla., and Mrs. J. T. Mayo, Ada, Okla.

Mrs. Crecy and Mrs. Mayo are sisters, and J. C. Izard is a brother of S. B. Izard of Harlingen, and W. R. Izard is a son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Izard.

Activities during the week have included motor trips and outings to many points of interest.

Others participating in the family reunion are Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Izard and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Izard, and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brierley of Harlingen.

ATTENDS MEETING

MERCEDES — Dr. A. D. Caldeira, Mercedes physician, is attending the meeting of the Dallas Southern Clinical Society and will return to Mercedes on August 1. He left for Dallas, accompanied by his family, on June 21.

MISSION — Construction was started this week on a five-room frame house in the 1300 block on Dunlap Avenue. A. J. Ehlers of Pharr and Mission, is the contractor of the building. To be completed within 60 days, the home will be offered for sale.

Visitor In Pharr Luncheon Hostess

PHARR — Little Shirley Irene Pryer of Joplin, Mo., who is the summer guest here of her aunt, Mrs. E. M. Whitaker, entertained with a picnic luncheon Wednesday, on the lawn of the Whitaker home.

The luncheon table was arranged under a large tree which provided a beautiful setting. Pink rosebuds formed the centerpiece.

The small guests included Joan and Jackie VanDresar, Libbie Ann and Lile Linn. The small hostess, Shirley Irene Pryer who was assisted by her aunt.

Combs-Hachenberg Nuptials Are Read

WESLACO — Of interest to a large number of Valley friends was the marriage of Mrs. Mabel Hachenberg of Weslaco and Rollie D. Combs of Edinburg.

The nuptial vows were read at five o'clock Thursday, June 26, at the home of the groom, by the Reverend R. E. Porterfield, Presbyterian minister.

The living room was attractive with summer flowers. The bride chose a pretty navy costume with white accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Combs are at home at 324 W. Kruttschnitt St. Edinbudg.

Attend Luncheon

PHARR — Mrs. Jack Golightly, Mrs. O. E. Avery, Mrs. Joe Bowen, and Misses Maryann Golightly and Mary Kay Caton, attended the executive meeting and luncheon of the Ladies Missionary Society of the First Christian Church in McAllen Thursday.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Craig of Brownsville have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Ruth Craig, formerly of Brownsville, now of San Antonio, to James B. Cotrell of San Antonio, son of Mrs. L. J. Meyer, also of San Antonio. The ceremony will take place Friday, July 4, at Christ Episcopal Church in San Antonio. (Stauffer Photo.)

Miss Mary Ruth Craig, James B. Cotrell To Wed In San Antonio July 4

BROWNSVILLE—Mr. and Mrs. William C. Craig announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their eldest daughter, Miss Mary Ruth Craig, formerly of Brownsville, now of San Antonio, to James B. Cotrell, of San Antonio.

The rites will be solemnized in a simple, small ceremony at Christ Episcopal church in San Antonio Friday, July 4. Attending the service will be Mr. and Mrs. Craig, their daughters, Joanna and Margaret, and another daughter, Aline, who is at Camp Arrowhead for the summer. Also attending will be the groom's mother, Mrs. L. J. Meyer, and Mr. Meyer, and other relatives and a few friends.

The bride-elect has been making her home in San Antonio for the past two years. She was graduated from the Draughon's Business college there. She attended Brownsville schools, and was graduated from the Brownsville high school and junior college.

Mr. Cotrell received his early education in St. Louis, Missouri, and for the past three years has resided in San Antonio where he holds a civil service position at Duncan Field.

LEAVE VALLEY

Pretty Church Wedding Performed In Mission Claims Wide Interest

MISSION — Friday evening Miss Edna Sandra Newbrough, daughter of Mrs. Mary Newbrough and Melvin George Rote, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rote of Houston, pledged marriage vows, the ceremony having taken place at the First Presbyterian Church of Mission. Rev. Dr. J. W. Newbrough of Harlingen, great-uncle of the bride, officiated.

White American beauty roses and pink gladioli filled the tall floor baskets to form the background for the altar space and to flank the tall eight-branched candelabra set at either side. Tall white tapers burning in the candelabra and soft blue lights in three white wedding bells suspended above the altar provided the only illumination for the scene.

Prior to the entrance of the wedding party, Mrs. R. R. Sheeler was at the organ to play a prelude of wedding music, choosing the selections, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "O Promise Me," and "Ave Maria." She played the accompaniment for the vocal trio, Misses Opal and Irene Bridges and Evelyn Eppright who sang "Because" and "I Love You Trully." For the processional, Mrs. Sheeler played from Lohengrin and gave Mendelssohn's wedding march for processional.

The bride was married in a street length dress of white point d'esprit with a high neckline outlined in scallops of self-material. The long, full sleeves were trimmed with scalloped cuffs and the skirt was pleated. She wore a white leghorn picture hat. Her only ornament was a gold locket which was the gift of the groom. Her shower bouquet of white daisies cascaded from a white satin wedding ring looped over her wrist. She entered with her brother, Edward Newbrough of Mission.

Miss Ada Newbrough was her sister's maid of honor. Her white street length frock was worn with a turban of matching material and accessories of blue. On her shoulder was pinned a corsage fashioned of blue lily of the Nile flowerets. James Wood, Mission, served the groom as best man.

A reception for members of the families and additional friends of the couple was given at the Casa de Palmas Hotel in McAllen after the ceremony by Mrs. Newbrough and Mrs. Ray S. Slay, sister of the bride. The guests were received by the bridal party, Mrs. Newbrough, Mrs. Slay and Mrs. J. E. Rote, mother of the groom. Mrs. Newbrough wore navy blue sheer, trimmed with rose organdy while Mrs. Slay's frock was of black panorama net with a bolero of yellow. Mrs. Rote was gowned in blue printed sheer. Her corsage of pink asters and sweetheart roses matched that worn by Mrs. Newbrough. Mrs. Slay wore a corsage of white carnations.

The bride's cake, made in tiers, was embossed with spun sugar flowers and topped with a miniature bridal couple. White tulle fell in graceful folds from the center arrangement of white daisies on a mirror plaque to continue the bridal accent. Mrs. E. V. Sprowl, who served the wedding cake, was assisted by Mrs. James Wood.

Later in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Rote departed for a wedding trip to Monterrey and Saltillo, Mexico. For traveling, the bride wore a navy blue crepe ensemble. Upon their return July 1, they will be at home in Mission at 1319 St. Marie Avenue.

Mrs. Rote is a popular member of Upper Valley society. She is a graduate of Mission high school and attended business college in McAllen. Mr. Rote was educated in Houston and has lived in the Valley the past two years.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rote, Houston, parents of the groom; Miss Mary Lynn Rote, Houston, and Mrs. A. C. Ray, Lufkin, sister of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Ray S. Slay, Kingsville, sister and brother-in-law of the bride.

LA FERIA—Miss Ben Nally of Waco is a guest in the home of Miss Oliven Hamner and Charles Hamner.

This 'n That

By MINNIE GILBERT

MESQUITE TREES are having their second blooming period so it's reasonable to estimate that summer's half gone.

Somehow, July 1 is getting here a little quicker this summer than most; probably an impression due to the rainy season which has lessened hot weather.

The gentleman down the hall, who last week pointed out that heavy rains have been received for seven months in the period gerneraly from the 20th to 25th, has stuck his neck out again.

July's regular rainy season will occur during the period of July 23-27.

Anything resembling weather predictions in this column are purely accidental and do not reflect the sentiments of the columtator.

VIRTUALLY THE entire personnel for the Star—and a whole lot of other folks—were saddened Thursday by the passing of three old friends—extra large mesquite trees and a beautiful retama loaded with bloom which were cut down from the property behind the Madison Hotel to make way for a de luxe service station.

Why gigantic trees on the very corner and near the sidewalk wouldn't be an asset to any filling station is more than an uninformed looker-on can figure out but probably the blueprints make it clear.

At any rate a passel of folks are going to miss the shade furnished by the big old tree older than Harlingen, that vanished after about two hours of chopping by thick muscled arms.

ABOUT MONDAY ought to be an ideal time to pull weeds, if another rainy spell doesn't make the ground too wet.

There are folks who really enjoy weed pulling when the soil is just damp enough and not too damp. And an added incentive is that they don't crop up again right away, as when chopped or mowed to the ground.

If chiggers make working in the yard a venture to be avoided or if they're the catch to successful picnics or fishing trips, perhaps a few wafers of sulphur will furnish immunity.

Apparently, a small quantity of sulphur eaten for three or four days will do the trick, but after a little the protection they've built up disappears and without additional dosage the energetic little pests are again busy with itching torment.

No one seems to know why there's been a letup in attacks by mosquitoes, unless the reprieve is due to renewal of mosquito control programs.

In any case, Valleyites are thankful for peaceful nights.

QUITE A LOT of health-minded citizens are taking typhoid shots.

Record rains, flood conditions in the river, prospective trips into the interior of Mexico or other out of the way places, all are good reasons for taking out a little health insurance by getting typhoid toxin.

As a matter of fact, folks are thinking more of health nowadays than for some time—a result of national defense programs.

Adding vitamins to breads, as a commercial project, methods of increasing important vitamin foods in the family's diet available to housewives, and vigilance on the part of every adult to achieve and maintain the maximum of health—all these are highly important units in the setup for national safety.

Everyone's going to hear a lot more about this, and almost everyone needs to learn and to do more.

Tips On Entertaining Soldiers Emphasize Good Food, Pretty Girls

By ADELAIDE KERR
Ap Feature Service Writer

WONDERING how to entertain that soldier in your life? Base his fun on talk, food, and a pretty girl.

So advised an Army sergeant I consulted in the Second Corps Army Headquarters in New York. And he had a lot of interesting things to say, though he insisted on remaining nameless, the sergeant told me. "So let him talk—about his organization and his post and his feats in camp baseball or softball. Ask him about his medals, too.

Remember, There Are Secrets

"But don't talk to him about camp details—how many troops there are and where they are going and what kind of guns there are, and so on. He's supposed to keep still about things like that.

Don't ask him how he gets along with his captain, either. There is a distinction between officers and enlisted men which has to be maintained for sake of discipline. And don't talk to him about his family or home, or ask him what he's going to do when he leaves the army. If he gets to talking about how he was the only man in his neighborhood who was drafted, his gaiety is apt to switch to moodiness.

"If you're entertaining an officer, introduce him as Lieutenant or Captain or whatever he is. If he is a trainee, introduce him as 'Private Jones,' not 'Mr. Jones.' But don't insist on referring to his title all the time. Call him by his first name as soon as you can. It's more friendly."

Week-ends Are Long

Selectees have more leisure time than you might think. The sergeant told me that unless they have duties to perform, the selectees are generally free from five in the afternoon until reveille next morning, and they often have week-ends, after Saturday noon, to themselves.

Whether your soldier is a week-end or a dinner guest, it seems that you had better remember Napoleon's creed: An army travels on its stomach.

"Soldiers like hearty food," the sergeant said. "Steaks. Baked potatoes. Apple pie. Ice cream. Sure, I know they get those things in camp, but a soldier has a sweet tooth. He'll enjoy candies, cookies and cakes a lot more than cheese sandwiches, which he can buy himself. And it's a good idea to have plenty of soft drinks in the house. Lots of soldiers don't drink hard liquor.

"If a soldier is your guest for the week-end, he'll love a Saturday night dinner party or a dance—with a pretty girl as his partner. Sunday you had better ask him if he wants to go to church. In camp the chaplain can get as good a turnout as Ed Wynn. Some time during the week-end, you had better give your soldier a couple of hours of grace to read the magazines and loaf around. If there's writing paper handy, he may want to write a letter. You'll put a happy finish to the weekend, if you can drive him back to camp, or to the station."

Since most of the towns near camps lack adequate entertainment facilities for soldiers on leave, the United Service Organizations for National Defense is urging private families to invite soldiers and sailors into their homes occasionally. If you plan to entertain one of them, you had better keep in mind the kinds of amusement he has in camp, so that you can furnish movies, weekly camp dances, athletics and sports such as baseball and softball.

If you have invited a soldier whom you don't know well, it's a good idea to add two or three other people to the party, to give it zing. After that choose bridge, rummy, pinochle, dancing, roller skating or swimming for fun.

Bride-Elect And Visitor Share Honors

HARLINGEN—Young girls home from college for the summer vacation formed the guest personnel for the smartly appointed dessert bridge given Thursday afternoon by Misses Freddie Jackson and Betty Burdette at the home of the former to honor Miss Barbara Ruth Green, bride-elect, and Miss Helen Hale, Greenville Ky.

Miss Green's marriage to Lieut. Joe Williamson of Barksdale, La. is to take place the latter part of the summer. Miss Hale is the house guest of Miss Burdette, a classmate at Agnes Scott College in Georgia.

Summer garden blossoms in harmonizing tones made a pleasing setting for tables appointed for bridge.

The hostesses presented a gift of crystal to the bride-to-be in her chosen pattern and an attractive guest gift to Miss Hale. Mrs. J. M. Green received the trophy for high score at bridge.

Present were Misses LaDonna Polhemus, Billie Fae Trammell, Jane Bowman, Peggy Amidon, Charlene Amidon, Ferne Willingham, Jamie Lee Green, Rozanne Pile, Margie Harwood, Clementine Baker, Frances Huffman, Beatrice Johnston, Dorothy Lloyd, Dorothy Carlisle, Ann Collins, Mrs. Green, Mrs. G. I. Burdette, and the honor guests.

McAllen Club Women Will Provide Food At Annual July Fourth Celebration

McALLEN— McAllen clubwomen this week are devoting their time to preparing for their participation in the annual July Fourth Celebration here.

Mainly their part will be providing concession stands serving refreshments for the hundreds of fun seekers who will throng the city for the 1941 patriotic fiesta. Brightly colored booths are being built over the city and they will be stacked with tasty morsels.

Eminent among plans for the day is the continuous cakewalk the City Federation of Women's Clubs will stage. Their first venture into an organized benefit, proceeds from this event will go toward the proposed Women's Building—the federation's foremost objective during the present two-year administration of Mrs. W. E. Crawford.

Arrangements for the benefit, to be staged across the street from the McAllen post office, are in charge of Mrs. John Beckenholdt.

Each member of a federated club is asked to donate a cake for the cakewalk to be managed by Mrs. John H. Gregory. Cakes are to be turned in at the Central Power and Light Company office either Thursday or early Friday morning. In addition to the cakewalk, the federation will stage a bingo game with Mrs. Joe LeBow, chairman of the committee.

Members of the Altar Society will operate two concession booths during the celebration. One will be located at the Anthony store, the other at the rear of the McAllen Chamber of Commerce building where benches will be installed. Soda pop, ice cream, home made apple pie, and chicken sandwiches will be available at the booths. The Altar Society will meet at 2:30 p. m. Monday to complete plans for the concession.

Members of the Valley Navy Mother's Club are sponsoring a stand at Archer Park where they will serve cold drinks and light refreshments.

Young Pianist Is Presented

LA FERIA—An event of much interest to musical groups and friends of the young pianist was the recital arranged by Mrs. L. M. Vigness this week to present Miss Frances Evelyn Hennessee. Her numbers were:

Rodeo by Mozart; Whims, Schumann; Scherzo, Mendelssohn

Intermezzo, Brahms; Polonaise in A, Chopin.

May Night, Palmgren; Chanson, Friml; Minuet, Pederewski

Assisting with a vocal duet, Kerry Dance, were Miss Mildred Tuma and Miss Frances Pennington with Miss Hennessee playing the accompaniment.

Miss Hennessee played with considerable poise and showed remarkable technique. Her interpretation of the second group of selections, which were difficult compositions, was nicely done.

She wore a formal dress of white chiffon and lace with a corsage of pink and blue flowers.

The church was attractively decorated with pink roses placed against a background of greenery.

Miss Virginia Clark, David Smith Married In Edinburg Ceremony

EDINBURG—Miss Virginia Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Clark, became the bride of David Smith, son of Mrs. Ed R. Smith, at an impressive ceremony at the First Presbyterian church Thursday evening.

Rev. E. P. Day read the single ring ceremony while Miss Marjorie Bonner played "Always."

Throughout the church huge bouquets of white daisies and pink gladioli were attractively arranged.

The bridal party entered the church to the "Wedding March" from Lohengrin. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a beautiful white organza gown fashioned on princess lines with a large ruffle from the neckline to the hem and long full sleeves tapering to a point at her wrist. She wore a finger-tip veil and white organza flowers in her hair. She carried a white Bible with tiny white streamers.

Miss Tiny Christianson, the maid of honor, wore a dainty yellow organdie gown with a ruffled yoke and a ruffled hat. The junior bridesmaid, Miss Shirley Barnum, wore a pink organdie dress fashioned on the same lines as the maid of honor's. Misses Ruthie Stephens, Harriette Hagedorn and Dorothy Eaves, the other bridesmaids, carried out the pastel note in their dresses of aqua blue, lavender, and green. All the bride's attendants carried colonial bouquets.

The groom was attended by Jimmie Smith and the other groomsman were Billy Crist and Billy Joe Clark, of Alpine, the twin brothers of the bride.

The bride's mother was lovely in a blue and white bemberg sheer street dress with blue and white accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Smith, for her son's wedding, chose a blue street dress with blue and white accessories. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Belrose Hotel. The guests were greeted by the bride's parents, the maid of honor, the best man, and the newly wedded couple.

The three-tiered wedding cake was presided over by Miss Sonora Bryan and Miss Bernice Douglass, and the punch bowl was presided over by Miss Helen Frances Ramsour, Miss Billie Kyle, and Mrs. Mickey Barnum. The centerpiece was a large bouquet of white daisies and pink gladioli.

After a short wedding trip the couple will be home Monday at 306 West Champion.

NEWS OF LATEST MOTION PICTURES

Current Films

Bob Hope, Dorothy Lamour, Eddie Bracken and Lynn Overman in the riotous comedy hit, "Caught in the Draft," booked for showing Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Palace Theatre in McAllen.

Fred MacMurray and Madeleine Carroll in "One Night In Lisbon," showing today and Monday at the Palace Theatre in McAllen.

Constance Moore, Ray Milland, Veronica Lake and William Holden in "I Wanted Wings," showing today and Monday at the Rivoli Theatre in San Benito.

Vivien Leigh and Laurence Olivier in the romantic-drama "That Hamilton Woman," showing today and Monday at both the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville and the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen.

Wallace Beery And Marjorie Main Are Seen Together In "Barnacle Bill"

Leo Carrillo Plays Supporting Role

Wallace Beery's new starring picture, "Barnacle Bill," is his first waterfront adventure since "Min and Bill," and plunges him into the most hilarious romance of his screen career with Marjorie Main.

Beery plays a waterfront roustabout who suddenly finds himself in love with a domineering sweetheart who makes him go to work, and at the same time is faced with the care of a small daughter he hasn't seen since she was a baby.

Getting a job on a fishing boat, he gets into a dispute with the combine controlling the refrigerator boats, figures in a sensational fight and becomes a waterfront hero.

Marjorie Main, who appeared with him in "Wyoming," plays the sweetheart in the story. She and Beery figure in many hilarious episodes, such as their comical duet, and Miss Main and Connie Gilchrist stage a hair-pulling battle over him. There are tender moments with little Virginia Weidler, playing the daughter, and Beery and Leo Carillo figure in numerous comical scrapes and adventures along the waterfront.

"Barnacle Bill" is booked for showing Thursday, Friday and Saturday at both the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen and the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville.

'So Ends Our Night' Is Thrilling Drama

Frederic March, Margaret Sullavan, Glenn Ford and Frances Dee, are co-starred in the thrilling, romantic-drama, "So Ends Our Night," which is booked for showing Tuesday and Wednesday at both the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen and the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville.

Briefly, the action of "So Ends Our Night" is concerned with the moving and poignant love story between Ruth Holland, portrayed by Margaret Sullavan, and Ludwig Kern, played by Glenn Ford. The story is unfolded in several European capitals.

Bob Hope Stars In 'Caught In Draft'

Not since Charlie Chaplan's "Shoulder Arms," have the experiences of a rookie in military service equalled that of Bob Hope's comedy antics in "Caught In the Draft," in which Dorothy Lamour, Lynne Overman and Eddie Bracken are seen in supporting roles.

"Caught In the Draft" is booked for showing Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Palace Theatre in McAllen.

Current Films

THE PARALLEL between England's battle with the dictatorial ambitions of Napoleon and the present British war against the Nazi and Fascist dictators of Germany and Italy are revealed in the sceen presentation of "That Hamilton Woman," starring Vivien Leigh and Laurence Olivier.

However the story is primarily a romance, one of the great romances of all time, the love story of Lady Hamilton and Lord Nelson, the British naval hero of Trafalgar. As portrayed by Miss Leigh and Olivier, these two exciting characters come to life on the screen and reach a new high in dramatic interpretation.

Equally outstanding in the supporting cast are Alan Mowbray as Lord Hamilton, Gladys Cooper as Lady Nelson and Henry Wilcoxson as Captain Hardy. "That Hamilton Woman," is booked for current showing today and Monday at both the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville and the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen.

"ONE NIGHT IN LISBON" AT PALACE

THOSE popular screen lovers of "Honeymoon in Bali" and "Virginia," Fred MacMurray and Madeleine Carroll, meet again for a new and thrilling romantic adventure in "One Night in Lisbon," which is booked for current showing today and Monday at the Palace Theatre in McAllen.

MacMurray plays the role of a Yankee pilot who ferries bombers across the Atlantic to the R.A.F. In London he meets Miss Carroll and it's love at first sight. The two finally wind up in Lisbon where Miss Carroll is kidnaped by German agents. Through a series of melodramatic episodes, highlighted by gay comedy, MacMurray with the aid of a British Navy Officer, crashes an underground spy chamber to rescue Miss Carroll.

RIVOLI TO SHOW "I WANTED WINGS"

THE THRILLING romantic-drama of America's flying youth "I Wanted Wings," starring Ray Milland, William Holden, Brian Donlevy, Constance Moore and Veronica Lake, is to be seen today and Monday at the Rivoli Theatre in San Benito.

The story is that of the men who battle their way to graduation from the Army Air Corps' training schools, the picture shows them not only as future war birds for Uncle Sam but as flesh-and-blood young men who can get into more than their shares of perplexities. The aviation scenes, filmed at Randolph and Kelly Fields, in San Antonio, are some of the greatest action pictures ever screened.

NEW CAPRA HIT BOOKED AT STATE

FRANK CAPRA'S new film hit "Meet John Doe," starring Gary Cooper and Barbara Stanwyck is booked for current showing today and Monday at the State Theatre in Mercedes.

In the typical Capra style, "Meet John Doe" is the story of Americans doing everyday American things and being big about them. Barbara, a newspaper girl about to lose her job, fakes a story about a man, and then has to go out and hire Cooper to pose as the man. She works up a movement behind him that gets so big that her political-minded boss tries to use it to suit himself and gets told off by Doe and Company.

Edward Arnold is the boss, Walter Brennan the tramp friend in the cast with Spring Byington, James Gleason, Gene Lockhart, Rod La Rocque, Irving Bacon and Regis Toomey.

"BILLY THE KID" FILMED IN COLOR

FIMED in color "Billy the Kid," which is showing today and Monday at the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco, offers Robert Taylor in first Western role. Brian Donlevy, Ian Hunter, Mary Howard and Gene Lockhart are seen in featured supporting roles.

The story concerns the exploits and fate of a terror of the range during the cattle wars of the 1870's. Taylor enters the picture with a reputation as a "killer," but after first joining up with the Dan Hickey gang, he swings over to the more lawful forces of Eric Keating, an English rancher.

4,000 TANKS CLASH IN BATTLE

British Attack In France Urged

RUSSIA SAYS NAZI DRIVES ARE HALTED

Germans Say Little; Casualties High

By The Associated Press

A mighty battle between 4,000 German and Russian tanks raged early Sunday in the southern Polish sector, Moscow reported in claiming that Hitler's main drives had been halted along the Nazi-Soviet front.

The Germans themselves said little.

Specifically, this was the picture as Red communiques outlined it:

The heaviest fighting of all at Luck and in the district of Lwow, Poland, to the southwest; many Nazis taken prisoner in the northern Lithuanian sector; German columns still held up along the central Minsk front, the historic Napoleonic way to invasion of Moscow.

Casualties Heavy

The Russian command spoke of "fierce rearguard" actions by the Red army which took heavy casualties, but did not specify where these occurred.

In the Minsk battle area alone, Moscow said 300 German tanks had been destroyed up to Friday night—a far from complete figure.

The conflict threatened hourly to break in full fury on the northern, or Finnish, part of the 2,000-mile front through a German drive on the Soviets' Arctic port of Murmansk, through the onslaught of 1,000,000 Russians massed on Finland's border or, more probably, both at the same time.

The Finnish radio announced suspension today of traffic on the Inkoo-Pernioe section of the railway from Helsinki to Turku.

"Crusade" Lagging

That stretch is near the Hanko naval base which Finland lost to Russia in the 1939-40 war. Its closure indicated the possibility of a battle for possession of strategic Hanko.

FLOOD LEVEL STATIONARY

Mexican Breaks Stop Threat To Farms

BROWNSVILLE—Its flood threat almost spent, the Rio Grande Saturday midnight hung at 19 feet here, a foot above floodstage, but no damage to U. S. farm lands from breaks in levees had been reported, and a drop by daylight was anticipated up river.

The river level had remained at 19 feet since 4 p.m., and several breaks on the Mexican side, including the Cilebron flood way area, were thought to have ben holding the water stationary.

Farmers in the lowlands between the river bank and levees were said to have let water onto their farm for irrigation purposes Saturday, and this further halted the rise on the gauge. Reading at 7:30 a.m. here Saturday was 18.9 feet.

The river fell at Rio Grande City and Hidalgo Friday night, and was also stationary at Mercedes, 2.1 feet above flood level. The water was expected to fall slightly during the next 24 hours.

On the Mexican side at Las Ballitas, near Rio Rico, the river was reported out of its banks, but only a small amount of water had left the channel and this had gone into Culebron floodway without damage. A small break in the levee south of Matamoros also caused no damage.

Meanwhile the weather forecast for Sunday was fair to partly cloudy.

Rumanians Say Nazi Drives Successful

BUCHAREST —(AP)— A Rumanian communique said Saturday night that "German units have succeeded everywhere in accomplishing their missions," and that all enemy counter-attacks had been broken.

The Rumanians reported that 130 Soviet airplanes had been downed in the past few days, during which attacks were made on several Rumanian cities, including Bucharest.

One Soviet destroyer was sunk and another "probably damaged" before Constanta, Rumanian Black Sea port, Thursday, the communique said.

Germans Take Prisoner

Widow Of Mate Aboard O-9 Says Submarine Had Leak

Officers And Men Of U. S. Naval Fleet Ready To Man Rest Of O-Class Subs Despite Tragedy

NEW LONDON, Conn. —(AP)— The pretty young widow of the first class machinist's mate aboard the submarine O-9 told a naval board of inquiry Saturday that she overheard her husband say that there was a hole in the vessel "as big as a man's hand."

Mrs. Angeline Tillery, whose husband, Thomas W. Tillery was among the 33 men trapped in the submersible when she failed to come up from a deep dive off Portsmouth, N. H., last week, testified that her husband also had a premonition of impending tragedy just before that boat sailed from here.

Tillery was quoted by his widow as saying that the submarine had been recommissioned before it was ready, that she had trouble submerging and that when she submerged there was vibration.

Rear Admiral Richard S. Edwards, commandant of submarines in the Atlantic fleet, told the board Friday the O-9, like all submarines, had leaks, but that they were of "no significance and they were corrected before she went out for her deep dive."

As far as he knew, he said, "there was nothing the matter" with the hull of the O-9 when she made her final dive.

The officers and ratings of the American submarine fleet are ready to a man to serve aboard the 20-odd year old O-boats despite the O-9 disaster which carried 33 men to their deaths off Portsmouth, N. H., a week ago.

Two officers of O-class submarines said that their crews, although offered transfers following the Portsmouth tragedy, had elected to remain on duty aboard the post-World War "pig boats." Submarine duty is voluntary in the navy.

Mannerheim Appeals To Finns To Follow In War With Russia

HELSINKI, Sunday—(AP)—Field Marshal Baron Carl Gustaf Mannerheim declared Saturday in his first order of the day that the soldiers of Finland must follow him in a holy war against the Russians.

"Follow me this last time—when Karelians rise again and a new day dawns for Finland," he appealed.

Nazis Say British Exaggerate Drives

NEW YORK—(AP)—Hans Fritsche, chief of the German radio propaganda service, in a radio talk possibly designed to reduce expectations for the awaited "victory communique" Sunday, charged Saturday night that the British were exaggerating German advances in order to be able to discount the real successes later. He was heard here by CBS.

U.S.O. Drive Reaches $3200 Saturday

BROWNSVILLE—A last minute rush of contributions from Pan-American Airways employes Saturday night swelled Brownsville's United Service Organization drive total to nearly $3,200, passing the originally assigned quoto by more than $500.

Chairman Harry Faulk of the Brownsville U.S.O. committee said Saturday night that contributions were still coming in at 9 p. m. when the down town headquarters of the drive were closed.

Brownsville's total contributions to the U.S.O. will probably pass the $4,000 mark, Mr. Faulk said, when the U.S.O. committee is credited with approximately $750 previously raised for the army Y.M.C.A. here. This previous campaign was conducted by the Junior Service League.

ARMY VOTED BIGGEST FUND IN HISTORY

10 Billions Exceeds World War Sums

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Congress gave final approval Saturday to the biggest cash appropriation bill in the nation's history, a gigantic $10,384,821,624 item for the Army. The total exceeded the largest previous appropriation, a 1919 Army bill, by about a billion dollars.

The Senate sent the measure to the White House as one of many actions taken in the course of a day devoted to clearing the calendars of legislation which had to be disposed of before the fiscal year closes at midnight on Monday.

FD Power Granted

In addition to the Army bill, the Senate passed and also sent to the White House a bill extending operations of the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund and the President's power to devalue the dollar for two years. Without the legislation they would have expired at the Monday midnight deadline.

The Senate, also approved a bill promising the life of the Commodity Credit Corporation for two years and increasing its crop loan funds by $1,250,000,000 to a total of $2,650,000,000. This measure went back to the House for action on Senate amendments.

The Senate passed, as a defense measure, a House bill to give the Maritime Commission control over the movements and cargoes of all American ships. It goes to conference for the consideration of Senate amendments.

In the debate which preceded the action, Chairman George (D-Ga) warned against granting too extensive power to the administration and asserted it was not necessary to adopt "totalitarian methods" to provide national defense. Some, he said, feared that important decisions might be made before the people have an opportunity to make their views known.

Relief Bill Delayed

Caught in a jam of disagreement was a $935,905,000 bill to finance federal relief through the next fiscal year. Senate and House conferees met and ended their session at loggerheads over a $50,000,000 item for the disposal of surplus commodities which the Senate had inserted in the bill.

Senator Adams (D-Colo), chairman of the conference committee, said that he did not know when he would call the committee together again, but there seemed little doubt that some compromise would be worked out. Unless the bill is finally enacted by Monday night, the WPA will be left without funds until it is.

Catholics Opposed On Help For Russia

NEW YORK—(AP)—Opposite views on American aid to Russia in her war against Nazi Germany were announced Saturday by two catholic groups.

The Catholic War Veterans, Inc., said it had asked President Roosevelt to reconsider his intention to aid Russia, while 15 prominent Catholic clergymen and laymen said "Hitler's attack upon Russia must not be allowed to confuse us."

Superiority In Air Again Is With Yankees

661 M.P.H. Dive Paves Way For Fastest Ships

By PAUL B. MASON

DAYTON, O. —(AP)— A civilian test-pilot's screaming, verticle dive at a record 661 miles an hour in an army ship over Wright Field was viewed Saturday as accentuating the work of military and civil test fliers and the excellence and performance of America's expanding air force.

The pilot, Bob Fausel of Curtiss-Wright Corporation, Buffalo, N. Y., made the dive April 7, 1940, in a ship since vastly improved in type. Complete details were not disclosed but confirmation came from Curtiss-Wright officials in New York.

Fausel's speed—a mile every 5.44 seconds—was 41 miles faster than the accepted though unofficial record dive last year by Andy McDonough, air line pilot and air corps reservist. McDonough flew a Bell P-39 Airacobra; Fausel, a Curtiss P-40 which he ferried from Buffalo for delivery to Wright Field,

POPE TO AIR VIEW ON WAR

Expected To Attack Atheistic Reds

VATICAN CITY—(AP)—Pope Pius XII prayed at the tomb of St. Peter Saturday night on the eve of a radio address to the world in which he was expected to make known his views on the war the Axis is waging against Soviet Russia.

POPE PIUS XII

Nothing came from official circles to suggest what the Pope would say, but the Vatican's concern over atheistic communism and the danger of its spreading over Europe, if not the world, has been expressed many times.

The Osservatore indicated that the message would come within the Pope's practice of "spreading the light of salutary teaching and pointing out the way of salvation."

The Pope is expected to talk in Italian for 20 minutes at 12:30 p.m. (4:30 a.m. Central Standard Time) in his world broadcast by Vatican radio. Translations in English, Spanish, German, French, Polish, Dutch, Hungarian and Portuguese are to follow.

US Reds Call On FD To Fulfill Promise

NEW YORK —(AP)— William Z. Foster, national chairman of the Communist Party, called upon "the Roosevelt government to make good its promises of aid to the Soviet Union" in a statement issued Saturday after a secret meeting of the National Committee.

PUBLIC ASKS OFFENSIVE TO AID REDS

Hit-And-Run Raids By Tanks Stressed

By The Associated Press

LONDON—Agitation grew in Britain Saturday night for daring attacks by army and navy raiders on the German-held continental coasts, now that the Nazis' backs are turned, and one general suggested that amphibian tanks join them in a general offensive teamed up with the great, continuing RAF aerial assaults.

General J. F. C. Fuller, one of the first British generals to exploit the use of tanks in the World War, called in the "Sunday Pictorial" for "tip and run" raids by the army and navy on "the coasts of countries now occupied by Germany." Strong German forces would have to be diverted to protect these coasts, he declared.

Amphibian Tanks Urged

Long an exponent of amphibian tanks, General Fuller said that in 1931 Vickers-Armstrong put "an efficient amphibian light tank" on the market, and he added that "if we have such a tank our path is easy."

The public is growing restive now that there seems to be a special opportunity to strike at Germany while she is preoccupied with Russia on the east.

They want more than the heavy air raids, already of record proportions, that continued Saturday with a smashing attack on a huge power plant at Comines, near Lille, one of the key plants in heavily-industrialized northern France.

Raiders operating in skies almost cleared of German opposition knocked down five German planes, booting the British figures of German losses for the year to 2,088 in all theaters and bringing the tool of German aircraft claimed since last Saturday to 120.

May Be Last Chance

But the British now are clamoring for more than this.

"This chance may not recur," wrote one military correspondent. "Tens of thousands of raiders smashing up communications, airfields and factories would bring real relief to our Russian allies while doing a vital service to ourselves."

BIDS OPENED ON AIR BASES

Water Tanks First On Valley List

GALVESTON, Tex.—(AP)—Bids for water storage tanks for airports at Harlingen, Midland and Mission were opened Saturday at the office of Lieutenant Col. L. H. Hewett, district Army engineer.

The bids were referred for tabulation and report.

Bidders on the Harlingen water tank were: Chicago Bridge and Steel Co., Houston, $52,800 and Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co., Dallas, $54,000; on the Midland project, Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co., $52,520 and Chicago Bridge and Steel Co., $53,650; on the Mission project, Chicago Steel and Steel $53,800 and Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel, $54,650.

Denison Base Bids Are Opened By Army

DENISON, Tex.—(AP)—U. S. Engineers Saturday opened low bids totaling $5,148,186 for construction of an army air corps basic flying school between Denison and Sherman.

Engineers said contarcts would be awarded by June 30. They expect the work to require 75 days.

Returns Uncertain As O'Daniel Gains Fast On Johnson's Lead

Gerald Mann Runs Third, Dies A Lame 4th; Four-Fifths Of Counties Heard From

DALLAS — Still uncertain late Saturday night was the outcome of the hard fought Texas race for the seat of the late Senator Morris Sheppard, Representative Lyndon B. Johnson, who campaigned under the New Deal banner, was in the lead but was closely pressed by the dimpled Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, whose strength increased as late returns poured in from the rural sections.

Late tabulations of the Texas Election Bureau of its copyrighted figures showing incomplete returns from more than four fifths of the counties, showed Gerald C. Mann in third place, while Martin Dies trailed lamely in fourth. Of the other candidates, who received relatively few votes, the lead was taken by Sam Morris of Del Rio, Baptist minister and radio advocate of liquor prohibition.

Johnson and Dies each appeared to have carried his own congressional district. Mann's strength came largely from Northeast Texas. Johnson received a big vote in the larger cities but also ran ahead in many rural counties particularly in central and southwest Texas. O'Daniel was running strong in the high plains.

Returns at 11:30 p.m. from 241 counties with 70 complete, gave Bean 59, Calvin 24, Davis 46, Dies 71612, Fisher 64, Gilliland 33, Harding 29, Hatfield 31, Head 34, Heath 19, Hicks 35, Johnson 150871, King 81, Mann 125140, Morris 820, Newsome 27, ODaniel 14,-7761, Ryan 24, Schulz 37, Somerville 10, Thomason 54, Waller 7, Welch 14, Williams 30, Republican Elvins 113, Independent Jones 28, Communist Brooks 26.

DIES LEADING VALLEY VOTE

Area Gives O'Daniel Second Place

HARLINGEN—Valley voters 10,531 strong marched to the polls Saturday and backed the wrong horse, giving Martin Dies a majority with Lee O'Daniel second, Lyndon Johnson third and Gerald Mann fourth.

The Valley's own candidate, Pollite Elvins of Pharr, received only twenty votes, all from Hidalgo county. The state's lone Republican,

he got his biggest vote in Pharr, his home town. Four ballots were cast for him there.

As expected, Hidalgo county cast the heaviest vote, 5,516. Cameron cast 4,167 votes and Willacy 848.

Lyndon Johnson, leading the state race at midnight, received 2,673 ballots in the Valley's three counties. Martin Dies received 2,971. O'Daniel, trailing Johnson a close second in the state, was leading him by almost as close a margin in this area, his total being 2,776. Mann ran fourth down here with 2,060 votes.

The also-rans were hardly noticed by Valleyites. Leading candidate outside the Big Four was Sam Morris, who received 22 ballots. Cyclone Davis received 2, and Guy B. Fisher, W. E. Gilliland and O. F. Heath, Sr. each received one vote. The Independent candidate, W. R. Jones, received two votes. Morris received the majority of his votes in Hidalgo, while all the other unexpected ballots came from Cameron.

Vote totals for Cameron and Willacy counties are complete, although unofficial; Hidalgo county is complete with the exception of

Hillbilly Boys Play To Finish

Pappy, In High Good Humor, Entertains Crowd At Election Party

AUSTIN, Tex.—(AP)—The hillbilly boys played with zip and Governor W. Lee O'Daniel read election returns in wisecracking good humor to a big crowd gathered under multicolored lights on grounds of the executive mansion here Saturday night.

In his headquarters at a hotel several blocks from the mansion, Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson, like the governor a major candidate for the U. S. Senate, watched with a throng of friends the unfolding of the special election drama.

When early returns showed the governor trailing Johnson, he commented to the crowd that they were mostly from the cities and that later ones from the rural districts and small towns would be very different.

Not as large as that which attended the mansion party last year when O'Daniel was re-elected, the crowd stood and sat on the grass of the lawn and now and then overflowed into the flower beds along the walks.

Two huge water barrels were placed handily to slake the thirsty.

Inside the mansion members of the governor's official family milled about.

Among the officials were Reuben Williams, member of the state highway commission; Frank Davis, member of the state board of control; William Lawson, secretary of state, and Tom L. Beauchamp, associate justice of the state court of criminal appeals.

The governor's orchestra, just returned from a long campaign tour with him, started the evening's serenade with "Beautiful Texas." O'Daniel's own composition, drawing heavy applause from the crowd in front of the mansion porch.

BETTER DAYS SEEN FOR US COTTON CROP

Researchers Build Hopes At Parley

WACO, Tex.—(AP)—The second world cotton congress—a three-day clinic to probe the Lone Star's ailing king crop—ended Saturday with a prophetic discussion of cotton fibre research and related fields of chemistry and textile manufacturing.

Processors, research men, marketing specialists and retailers heard the promise that cotton may see better days if research, growing and processing methods continue their promising trends.

Dr. Simon Williams, research technologist of the Bureau of Industrial Engineering at the University of Texas, explained expanding cotton research at the university. Dr. E. P. Schoch, university director of industrial chemistry, led a group of nine chemists and textile manufacturers in discussing further research procedure.

Williams, co-worker with Schoch for 20 months in cotton fibre research, said Texas cottons could be made into many things now being made from other cottons.

Research Under Way

"Actual research under way involves a study of chemical treatment to impart to short-staple west Texas cottons the properties of imported Asiatic cottons," he said. "Such research has reached the pilot plant stage and commercial trials are being conducted in mills over the United States.

"It is a fact not to be overlooked," Williams admitted, "that unpredictable climatic influence and questionable harvesting practices in both east and west Texas have yielded so-called inferior grades and qualities of cotton for many years. It is this cotton, which, due to difficulty of handling on mill machinery, has created a widespread prejudice against Texas cottons.

"I would like to emphasize," he said, "that there is a great deal of pessimism concerning prospects of cotton in competition with synthetic fibres. There is no need for pessimism if those interested in cotton's future insure at least as much developmental research as is done on synthetic fibres."

Develop Lint Uses

"Objective of research at the university," he said, "is to develop new uses for cotton lint, help retain and expand present lint uses, stimulate the growth of Texas' cotton textile industry through developing necessary economic and technological information, and to develop an educational program for training cotton leaders and technologists of the future."

Dr. Schoch promised that "some helpful results may be obtained speedily" from the university's research program. He emphasized the need for a research laboratory to develop new manufacturng processes, furnish Texas mills a necessary research service, furnish economic and engineering data to potential investors, and to convince out-of-state mills that Texas cottons may readily be used.

BROWNSVILLE WAY OVER TOP

Monday morning and was marked by a series of meetings in practically every store, office and shop in the city, with employes pledging 10 per cent of one week's wages or two and one-half per cent of one month's wages.

"Although we were confident of the outcome," Mr. Faulk said Saturday night, "the results so far were far beyond our most optimistic predictions. The people of Brownsville have cause to be proud of this splendid showing. To say that we on the committee are elated is putting it mildly."

Pan-American Praised

Mr. Faulk had particular praise for the employes of Pan-American Airways.

"Despite difficulties of reaching the large number of men at the shops, because of the shift arrangements and with labor negotations under way, Pan-American Airways made a fine record and displayed a fine spirit of civic cooperation," Mr. Faulk declared.

The chairman said that up to 8 p. m. a total of 983 contributors had been listed in the drive. When the campaign opened, the committee declared that it would set a goal of at least 1,000 contributors in order to make participation as general as possible.

"I think we'll get more than 1,000 before the final tabulation is made," the chairman declared.

A number of additional contributions are believed to be in the mail. Approximately 35 contributions were received by mail Saturday.

VALLEY STRAW VOTE PICKED WINNER, ANYWAY

BROWNSVILLE—The straw vote taken by Valley newspapers several weeks prior to the election picked the winner, but had the also-rans slightly misplaced. The poll gave Dies the lead, with O'Daniel second, Mann third and Johnson fourth. The actual vote placed Dies first, O'Daniel second, Johnson third and Mann fourth.

4000 Tanks Clash In Battle; Reds Say Nazi Drive Halted

tory's battle lines—there stirred, still feebly, an idelogical movement which Adolf Hitler hoped to nurture into a "crusade" by western Europe against the citadel of Communism.

Hitler, who invaded Poland Sept. 1, 1939, with his eastern front secured by non-aggression and economic collaboration pacts with Russia, one week ago today capped futile demands for further concessions with a blitzkrieg invasion and immediately set out to mobilize all Europe, Nazi-captured or influenced, for what he called a "holy war."

Yesterday the six Lutheran bishops of Finland asked churchgoers to rally to the "God-given cause" of defense of the Christian faith against "the barbaric enemy."

Pope To Speak

Saturday night Pope Pius XII prayed to the tomb of St. Peter on the eve of a radio address in which he was expected to make known to the world his views on the war Germany is waging against Russia—a war to which Italy already has offered support, in which Rumania has joined Germany and in which Finland and other German-dominated states stand as ready allies.

L'Osservatore Romano, a Vatican City newspaper, said the pope would "expound his views on the subject of Divine Providence in human events." Nothing came from official circles, but the Vatican concern over atheistic Communism has been oft-expressed.

To Tell All Sunday

On Sunday also, at long last, the German high command has promised that "our successes in the eastern theater of war will be made known in special announcements."

That was the sum of official statement Friday on the course of the seven-day-old campaign. DNB, which is an official news agency but does not speak with the official authority of Hitler headquarters, sought to content the German people in the interim with a declaration that the Red army's "97th Division" had been "broken up and destroyed."

DNB did not say what place the division had held on the 1,000-mile active front—the Baltic to Black Sea line—and the world at large got its only detailed accounts of the war from the more prolific communique writers of the Kremlin.

The Russian reports told of a steadfast resistance to German-Rumanian forces from Przemysl south and on the Prut river, dividing line between Bessarabia and Rumania, and of deadly action covering Russian withdrawal to "prepared positions"—presumably the fortifications of the old Russian frontier—from the Polish sector fronting Minsk in White Russia.

Panbers In Disorder

In the Minsk action, the Red army claimed, a blitzkrieg coalition of planes, tanks and artillery pounded a German panzer column into disordered route, in reverse along the path that Napoleon followed in 1812 en route to Moscow.

An "enemy"—that is German, Rumanian or German-Rumanian—attempt to cross the Prut river into Bessarabia was said to have been shattered with annihilation of an infantry regiment through use of a cavalry division. This illustrated use of one of Russia's trumps, numerical superiority.

South of Minsk, and separated from that battle sector by the labyrinth of the Minsk marshes, in the Luck-Lwow sector of occupied Poland, a great battle surged to and fro during Friday night and early Saturday.

The outcome of this battle was not known, but the Red army claimed that the German attempt to outflank Lwow was repulsed.

Minsk Heaviest Battle

It was in defense of Minsk, 20 miles inside the old Russian border with Poland, and 150 miles from the nearest point of east Prussia that the Russians loosed their own blitzkrieg—literally lightning war.

"In the Minsk direction (area) our troops, by a lightning onslaught of tank units, air force and artillery, routed enemy tank units and the headquarters of the 39th Tank Corps," a Russian communique said.

"In this battle our forces captured trophies, war prisoners and documents relating to operations."

Of the Baltic sector, the Red army reported air force operations "for the extermination of motorized and mechanized enemy units" in the Siauliai area. This town is in Lithuania, on the way to Riga, capital of Latvia.

West Front Active

On the western front, British pilots went on with their greatest aerial offensive. They heavily raided a big power plant at Comines near Lille in industralized northern France—this to cap an overnight assault which was said in Londan to have left incontrollable fires raging in the great German seaport and shipbuilding center of Bremen.

There were indications that the British public wanted even heavier blows struck.

"This chance," wrote a British military correspondent, "may not recur. Tens of thousands of raiders smashing up communications airfields and factories would bring real relief to our Russian allies while doing a vital service to ourselves."

YANKS GET AIR SUPERIORITY

the air corps' huge testing and experimental laboratory at this cradle-city of aviation.

Yankees Ahead Again

Conceding a "great difference" in strains imposed upon a ship in level flight and in a dive, airmen emphasized that Fausel's knifing power-thrust demonstrated Yankee engineering and production excellence to superlative degree.

Others agreed that any squadron able to dive upon an enemy formation, either aerial or ground, at 11 miles a minute would have tremendous advantage even though such lightning descent would subject personnel to considerable physical stress.

If You Were A Problem Child It May Have Been Jealousy Between Mother And Teacher, Psychologist Declares

CHICAGO —(AP)— A problem child is frequently handicapped by jealousy between his mother and his teacher, a child psychologist said Saturday.

"There is often resentment on the part of the mother toward the teacher, to whom she has turned over the child," Dr. Augusta T. Jameson, psychologist at the Institute of Juvenile research in Chicago, reported.

The chief causes of jealousy, she told the fourth annual conference of reading, were:

The teacher sees the child's faults and weaknesses, about which the mother is "sensitive . . . because they threaten her status as good mother."

The mother often feels inferior because of the teacher's good education, short working hours, and three-month vacation.

Up Oil Deadline

Industry To Select Supply Groups

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The deadline for the petroleum industry to file nominations for regional committees, which will help maintain oil supplies during the emergency, was extended Saturday by Secretary Ickes, defense petroleum coordinator, from June 26 to July 2, to allow time for additional filings.

Ickes requested the industry last week to submit nominations for four committees to be sent up in each of five regions.

The regions will be East Coast, South, Mid-Continent, Mountain, and Pacific Coast, with the four committees in each dealing separately with production, refinery, transportation and marketing. Ickes has not yet designated any committee member or indicated regional headquarters locations.

Arizona Freezes

Flagstaff Records 30, Nation's Low

PHOENIX, Ariz. —(AP)— The temperature dropped below freezing at Flagstaff Friday night as Arizona experienced what seemed like a cold wave in comparison with the normal hot weather of late June.

Flagstaff, at an elevation of 6,896 feet, recorded a minimum temperature of 31 degrees and a maximum of 68 in the last 24 hours. The U. S. weather bureau said it was the lowest reading in the nation. Ash Fork reported a minimum temperature of 33 degrees and Prescott 35.

Postmaster Amazed By Power Of Chief

SALT LAKE CITY — (AP) — Postmaster I. A. Smoot is fascinated by the accomplishments of these high ranking executives.

Smoot tried for seven years to get authorization from Washington for repairs for a leaky post office skylight.

Assistant Postmaster General Walter Myers came to town, heard of Smoot's plight and made a brief phone call to the capitol.

The skylight is fixed.

ing a large flotilla of submarines tied up at the submarine base here, the court recessed its inquiry until Saturday.

Personnel Failure Blamed

Opinions that personnel failure or an explosion might have sent the O-9 to the bottom in more than 400 feet of water were expressed by two officers.

Lieutenant Bernard F. McMahon, commander of the P-10 who witnessed the O-9's last test dive from the deck of his craft, said he believed the disaster might have been "caused by some person opening the wrong valve or giving a wrong order or some little thing wrong and some person lost his head."

"I think it was entirely personnel," he asserted.

The explosion theory, however, was advanced by Lieutenant Commander Robert M. Peacher, commander of submarine division 11 to which the O-9 was assigned.

FD To Speak To US July 4th At 3 P.M.

HYDE PARK, N. Y. —(AP)— President Roosevelt is expected to speak to his fellow Americans at 3 p.m. (CST) on July 4, leading them in what he has termed a "grand rededication to liberty."

Mr. Roosevelt is expected to ask every American participating in a nationwide Independence Day celebration to join him in the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

SIX MEN DRAW PRISON TERMS

Thirteen Are Indicted By Hidalgo Jury

EDINBURG—Six defendants drew prison sentences totalling 36 years in criminal district court here Saturday when Judge Bryce Ferguson heard a number of guilty pleas and brought the court's work to a close for the summer recess. It will resume in September.

Several of the sentences were suspended.

Jimmy and Alvin Spaulding, brothers residing near San Juan, received three years each, suspended, for the thef of $100 belonging to their grandfather. The youths said they had intended going to Kansas with the money.

Henry Lloyd Hickman of Houston, who had served previously in the penitentiary, was assessed five years each on two burglary indictments, the sentences to run concurrently. Hickman was charged with stealing two radios, one near Pharr and one near Alamo.

Merced Tobias drew a 12-year sentence for burglary. Arrested while attempting to cross the Rio Grande, the Mexican citizen was held by Constable John Bales of McAllen, who filed charges against him in connection with Sharyland and McAllen burglaries.

Guadalupe Hernandez of Weslaco, received a five-year suspension for theft of $56 from a creamery firm there.

Eugenio Saldana was sentenced to three years, suspended, for breaking into the Spencer-Sauer Lumber company at Mercedes.

The criminal district grand jury, meanwhile, had returned a total of 13 indictments to the court. The list included all of the foregoing cases except that against Saldana, in addition to the following: Howard (Curly) Harrison, McAllen, theft, burglary, and receiving and concealing stolen property, 16 counts; Manuel Cervantes, of Mexico, murder, in connection with the June 5 death of Tomas Magena of near La Villa; Nicolasa Longoria, La Grulla, theft; Alfredo Alvarez, Donna, failure to stop and render aid, in connection with the death at Donna of Tom Dawson several weeks ago; Juan Muro, McAllen, theft from person; and Roy Telford of McAllen, failure to stop and render aid in connection with a recent non-fatal auto accident.

Shipping Control

Maritime Commission Merchantman Boss

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Senate passed Saturday House approved legislation giving the Maritime Commission control over American-flag merchant shipping.

The measure now goes back to the House for consideration of Senate amendments.

Under terms of the measure, the Maritime Commission would issue warrants to all ships documented in this country, owned by its citizens, or foreign ships which owners wished included.

Senator Bailey (D-NC) said the bill would give the Maritime Commission "absolute control" over cargoes, routes, harbor privileges and maximum rates of ships operating under the warrants.

Cadets Tripled

$900,000 Contract For Cuero OK'd

CUERO, Tex. —(AP)— Clyde E Brayton, president of the Brayton Flying Service, said Saturday a contract totaling $900,000 had been signed tripling the U. S. army air cadet classes receiving elementary training at the Brayton Flying Cervice School at Cuero Municipal Airport.

He made no other statement regarding schools at any other Texas fields.

The new program will be in full swing by December, Brayton said. The program calls for a maximum class of 145 cadets every five weeks, with a total of 290 students to be in training at all times under the maximum operation. The students will receive a 10 weeks course at the school.

Worries Of Refugee Family Now At End

DALLAS—(AP)—Driven from their humble home by the rising Trinity river several days ago, a Dallas family worried principally about a new mattress.

But the family was happy Saturday.

They found their mattress had been left on a feather bed. As the flood rose, the feather bed rose with it and the new mattress was kept high and dry.

Flash Floods Come From Friday Rains

DALLAS — (AP) — Heavy Friday rains in Dallas county swept into flash floods Saturday, washed out bridges, damaged crops and closed highways in north and northwest parts of the county.

County Commissioner Buck Frank said the rain totaled five inches near Garland and flooded bridges never before touched by high water.

ILLNESS HITS 300 AT FETE

Cops To Probe All Foods Served

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa.—(AP)—Perplexed authorities Saturday sought the cause of a mystery ailment which suddenly struck down 300 men and women as it swept through a throng of 5,000 adults at the heighth of a picnic outing.

Commander-in-Chief George Lamade of the Williamsport Masonic Consistory which sponsored the fete, said some medical leaders attributed the wave of illness to food poisoning. Detective Chief Joseph M. Schumucker, however, declared this uncertain and ordered an analysis of food, ice cream and soft drinks served.

The picnickers were sprawled over the lawn of former State Senator Charles W. Sones' nearby 200-acre estate when stricken Friday during the principal address of the occasion. The program halted immediately and the gala scene within a matter of minutes turned into what resembled an emergency hospital.

Doctors and nurses among the crowd volunteered to attend the sick which overflowed the three-story Sones' mansion. Many men sought refuge from 95-degree heat in nearby woods where they collapsed. Ambulances in the area were not sufficient to rush the stricken to medical aid and fire trucks stripped of hose and ladders and hearses were pressed into service.

Congratulations

To Mr. and Mrs. A. Leal, San Benito, on the birth of a son, weighing eight pounds 13 and one-fourth ounces, Saturday at 9 p.m. at Valley Baptist Hospital.

To Mr. and Mrs. Fred Phillips Jr., of Alice on the birth of a son weighing eight pounds, five ounces at the McAllen Municipal hospital Saturday morning.

Interpreting The War News

Goebbels' Hands Full

His Task Is To Make Europe Believe War Is Crusade Against Russian Bear

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

The great task Hitler assigned to Nazi armies launched against Russia a week ago pales into insignificance beside that he simultaneously entrusted to Dr Goebbels and his Nazi propagandist specialists.

Goebbel's experts were commanded to set about proving overnight to a stunned world that the two-year appearance of the Nazi lion and the Communist lamb lying down together was mere camouflage. The lamb, the world is now told, was the real objective of the lion all the time.

That the Russian lamb happened to be a tempting morsel, rich in such vital war juices as oil and grain, is a mere happenstance in the Hitler-Von Ribbentrop-Goebbels white-book. It develops as they state the case that it wasn't a lamb at all with which they had so trustfully consorted, but a wolf in sheep's clothing, sharpening its fangs to eat up the lion in due course.

Seven days of furious Red-Nazi fighting on a front nearly 1,500 miles long have failed to disclose conclusively just what kind of a fighting animal Soviet Russia is. The bear is the favorite symbol for Russia and always has been. It looks from this distance as though Hitler might yet find it was a bear and neither a lamb nor a wolf he had by the tail.

This much certainly is true: Hitler is urgently seeking help now as never before from small continental neighbors as well as big. There are even hints that an actual Nazi proffer of alliance with England against Russia has been transmitted diplomatically.

If so, it was a futile gesture. Nor is there yet warrant from Tokyo for the predictions made in Rome that Japan will strike at the Siberian flank of the Russian bear as an Axis ally and to balk American aid for Russia.

AUSSIES BEST VICHY FLIERS

U.S.-Made Planes In Syrian Air Duels

JERUSALEM —(AP)— Australian airmen flying new American made Tomahawk fighter planes Saturday shot down six American-made Glenn Martin bombers piloted by Vichy French fliers in one of the hottest air engagements of the Syrian campaign.

The Australians were escorting RAF bombers in an attack on the French military depot at Palmyra when they sighted two Martin bombers raiding British and Free-French troops.

The Tomahawks (Curtisses) closed in as the Martins dived. Both bombers crashed in flames.

Soon afterward, four more bombers were spotted and shot down despite desperate efforts at escape, the Australians said.

"The heavy guns of these Tomahawks are terrific," said one of the Australians after the squadron landed unscathed.

Meanwhile, the British and Free French pursuing Vichy troops north from Damascus reported they had reached nearly halfway to Homs, important transportation center for north Syria.

A military spokesman said another column, moving toward Homs through the desert 60 miles southwest of Palmyra, had captured Saba Biyar.

Vichy troops stubbornly held Palmyra and subjected the British to heavy mortar and machine gun fire and air bombings. The spokesman said the allies hoped to capture the historic caravan city with minimum damage.

US FURNITURE TO BE PROBED

Price Boosts Lead Henderson To Act

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Price Administrator Leon Henderson said Saturday that the Federal Trade Commisison, at his request, would undertake an immediate investigation of the prices, costs, and profits of furniture makers throughout the country.

The action was prompted, Henderson said, by a five per cent price boost by "certain groups" in the industry. The price increase came shortly after the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply, headed by Henderson, asked that they "make no further changes in their prices without prior consultation" with that office.

At the same time OPACS fixed a ceiling price schedule for six leading types of cotton cloth, known as grey goods, at levels about 15 per cent below current quotations.

The price administration also announced that he was studying the price situation for rayon fabrics "and if necessary will take action in that field."

Flags Fly At Half Staff For Late Senator; State Employes Worrying About Shake-Up In Jobs

AUSTIN —(AP)— While Texas voted for a new United States Senator, flags on state buildings here floated Saturday at half staff in tribute to one who had died.

The huge statehouse showed plainly that it was a day of unusual importance for many state departments were closed and the din of legislative activity which had endured for six months was stilled.

The Senate and House of Representatives had adjourned until Monday. And many members had gone home to vote. Others, including Speaker Homer Leonard of McAllen, had voted absentee and remained in Austin.

Lieut.-Gov. Coke Stevenson of Junction, who would be the next governor of Texas should Governor W. Lee O'Daniel win the election, also had cast an absentee ballot and was in his office early in the day. Mrs. Stevenson was seriously ill in a hospital.

For the capital the election had the added interest that if either of two men won an important change in the state government which would bear heavily on department policies and employes would result.

If the governor was victor, the governorship would shift, how soon none knew although there was much speculation on the subject. Should Attorney General Gerald C. Mann emerge the election champion, a new head of his important department would be appointed by the governor.

Defeat Aftermath

If either Rep. Lyndon Johnson or Rep. Martin Dies was elected, the effect on the state government would not be felt so strongly, although the political repercussions of defeats for O'Daniel and Mann might be heavy.

Governor O'Daniel and Johnson planned to vote at their homes in Fort Worth and Johnson City during the day and return to Austin to receive the returns Saturday night. Mann was in Dallas and Dies in Orange.

Two former governors of Texas voted early and made no bones as to how they had voted. Former Governors James E. and Miriam A. Ferguson cast their ballots for O'Daniel.

A third former governor, Dan Moody, said he would vote later in the day and also made no secret of his preference in the race. He said he would vote for Mann.

Pappy's 'Party'

The usual election "party" at the governor's mansion Saturday night was announced and one and all were invited. On the two occasions when O'Daniel was elected governor, lights were strung over the lawn and his hillbilly orchestra played for big crowds.

With the election out of the way, the legislature was expected, after reconvening Monday, to move swiftly toward terminating the long session, which began in January and has broken all records for longevity.

Wednesday was the deadline for the governor to act on major appropriation bills sent to his office last week. By that day he had to sign or veto them.

Rapidly Rising Prices!!

FOSTER BROS. MFG. COMPANY
3240 NO. BROADWAY SAINT LOUIS MO

Junkin Furniture Co.,
Harlingen, Texas.

There is enclosed herewith, a new price list which is now effective on the Foster line of Bed Springs, Metal Beds, Cots, Roller Beds and Day Beds. All prices in effect heretofore are withdrawn and the new list will apply on all future shipments.

How long before additional price changes may be necessary we cannot predict. All orders placed with steel mills carry no price guarantee, and are subject to price in effect at time of shipment. This condition might cause sudden and drastic changes in our costs, making it necessary for us to quickly adjust the prices of our products.

We assure you, however, that we will do everything possible to maintain our usual prompt service, and again wish to express our appreciation for the business you have given us in the past.

Yours very truly,
FOSTER BROS. MFG. COMPANY.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

For months we have been urging our customers to select new furniture before certain price rises came into effect. Although many, many retailers have already made radical price hikes on their stock, due to the tremendous stock we carry in our warehouses, we have been able to thus far absorb all price advances. How long we will continue to operate before we will be forced to raise our prices depends entirely on how long our present stocks last. If you are contemplating the purchase of new furniture of any description we cannot urge you too strongly to BUY NOW!

Signed,
JOS. K. JUNKIN.

ELECTION ON CAUSEWAY IS NOT NEEDED

Commission Can Set Bond Issue, Said

BROWNSVILLE—The Cameron County commissioners court itself may determine whether bonds are to be issued for the construction of a toll bridge across Laguna Madre to Padre Island, and an election for this purpose is not necessary, according to an opinion delivered Saturday by County Attorney Jack Wiech.

Wiech advised County Judge Oscar C. Dancy to this effect after making a study of the bill passed recently by the legislature which would permit the county to issue bonds for the project provided it is to be self-liquidating.

It was first believed that the decision on the bonds would have to be made by the people through an election, and toward this end, the Mayors Association of the Valley was granted a hearing for Monday before the commissioners court.

The mayors went on record this week as favoring the project. They are expected to have a delegation representative of the whole Valley at the Monday hearing.

The bill demands that the project be self-liquidating, Wiech said. This means, he continued, that absolutely no county funds could be used to discharge the obligations of the bonds.

Judge Dancy explained that the bond obligations would be discharged by revenue taken in at the bridge. He also said that the highway department has pledged itself to see to the upkeep of the beach in the event the bridge is built.

ANDERSON TO HEAD LEGION

Only One Nominated By McAllen Post

McALLEN—George L. Anderson, present adjutant, was the only nominee for commander when members of Loyal Service post No. 37 of the American Legion nominated officers at Legion hall Friday night.

All except three of the offices had only one nominee each, although nominations may be filed until the election, July 24, Commander C. D. Martin announced.

Also nominated were Leo Mathes, for adjutant; Harley Jackson, service officer; Rev. Fred Hamner, chaplain; Dr. W. H. Duncan, post surgeon; Gus Maurer and Ray Losh, sergeant at arms; T. W. Kelly, mess officer; J. Fred Swanson and C. D. Martin, historian; and Bolton Hyde, George Chapapas, Kelly, Robert Paul, O. C. Emery, Hal Ramsey, and Ray Losh, executive committee, five to be elected.

Delegates to the third division convention at San Antonio July 12 were also chosen. They will be Hyde, chairman; Losh, Emery, Paul, Ramsey, Terry Keifer, and Lee Rowe.

The post's award to the high school's most outstanding girl graduate from McAllen High school was presented to Miss Katherine O'Neall, who was unable to be present at her graduation in May. Knox Kyler, Jr., the post's representative to "Boy's State" at Austin recently, described his experience there.

H. H. Damme turned in three building bonds for the hall to the post, and J. V. Carpenter gave back two.

Board To Register In Court Room

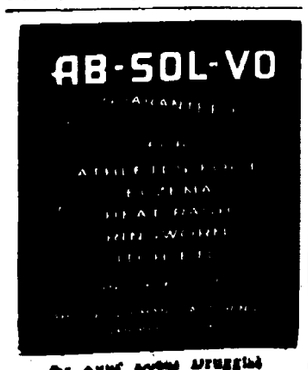

EDINBURG — Selective service registration July 1 will be conducted in the county court room, Phayne Glover, chief clerk of the local draft board, announced Saturday.

Assisting the local board will be Mrs. Celia Meek, Mrs. Camilla Bader, Santos Gorena, and Amado Vela.

Three selectees left last week for induction at Fort Sam Houston. They were Sherman Allen of Edcouch, Manuel Diaz of Linn and Felipe Espino of Pharr. L. D. Pate has been inducted for the local board by the Lynn county board.

Charge Is Filed After Collision

WESLACO — Santiago de Bosque of Weslaco was cited Saturday to appear in court here Monday on charges arising from a collision between his car and one driven by Miss Doris Vines of McAllen Saturday at 10 a.m. between Donna and Weslaco. Neither driver was injured. Hidalgo County Patrolman Walter Lysinger said the crash occurred when de Bosque's car turned left to a side road just as the Vines car war preparing to pass it. The latter was caved in on one side by the impact.

Found: A Benefit From The River Rise

Residents of the Old Point Isabel road north of Brownsville found gar-gigging good in the resaca due to the vast amounts of water coming down the stream. The gars, believed to originate from the Olmito lake, float down the resaca on top of the water and this group, standing on a bridge, gigged them as they came along.

ROTARY MEET TO BE STAGED

Plans Already Under Way In McAllen

McALLEN — Entertainment for the district Rotary assembly here July 13 and 14 was planned at a meeting Saturday afternoon.

Homer W. Rowe, president-elect of the McAllen club, and P. H. Graning, met with McAllen Chamber of Commerce officials to plan the entertainment for an estimated 300 Rotarians and their wives who are expected to come here for the assembly.

Foremost among the preliminary plans is a barbecue to be held at noon July 14. There will be an entertainment program on the opening day of the assembly at the Casa de Palmas Hotel.

Special programs are being arranged for the women visitors here during the assembly.

Blood And Sand Hold No Delight For 69-Year-Old Valley Native; Manuel Serra Sticks To This Side Of River

MERCEDES—Most Latin-Americans in the Valley enjoy occasional jaunts across the border, but 69-year-old Manuel Serra of Mercedes has stuck to Valley soil for the past 34 years. In fact, he has not been out of the Valley in any direction since then and only a few times prior to that time in Reynosa. He attended a bull fight in Matamoros in 1907 but the "blood and sand" spectacle did not stir up any ancestral enthusiasm for this sport in his veins. Since then he has stayed on this side of the Rio Grande.

This grizzled veteran of the Valley, who was born in Santa Maria, is a walking encyclopedia of historical information of this section. The early border days, when all commercial transactions in the Valley were carried on with Mexican money as the medium of exchange, are still a detailed part of his memory. He knows the names, and also the reputations, of practically all the early settlers. His father was a clerk for L. J. Hynes, pioneer merchant of Santa Maria, and Manuel worked for the same employer for quite a number of years. Then he worked for Dr. G. S. Smith, a pioneer ranchman south of Mercedes. He was the first Mexican placed on the payroll of the American Rio Grande Land and Irrigation Company when this company started its historic development in 1905. Now he is doing odd jobs and looking after his property which he acquired during the days when "going was good." He made good money as a grubbing contractor during the development days.

Economic conditions in the Valley may have given him a headache and other aches now and then, but never a toothache. After 69 years of chawing hot tamales and tortillas he still has a full set of ivories as sound as the day when he lost his last baby tooth.

19 FINISH CAA COURSES HERE

Licenses Given Many New Fliers

BROWNSVILLE — Nine students have completed secondary CAA training at Mauldin Aircraft here, and 10 have completed primary CAA work in the final spring classes at the local field, according to Les Mauldin, flight instructor.

Completing the secondary course were William Francis McVey of Aransas Pass, David Davila of Edinburg, Burley Davis Richmond of San Benito, and Thomas Hamilton Hughston, Morgan Ross, Luther Scott Curs, Marvin Nathaniel Brown, John Joseph McLaughlin and Robert Rene Martindale, all of Brownsville.

These students went through 40 hours of aerobatics in the secondary classes, and may obtain commercial licenses and instructors' ratings by taking a 120-hour cross-country course.

All have applied for the cross-country course, and so far two have been accepted, according to Mr. Mauldin.

Morgan Irwin will take the course at Fort Worth, and William McVey will train at Big Spring, he said.

One feminine flier completed the primary course recently. She is Miss Elizabeth May Chaudoin of Port Isabel, a technician.

Others receiving private pilots' licenses from the primary class include Glenn Harold Tussing and Herbert Boris Day, both of San Benito; Leonard I. Wilson, Jr., of Harlingen, Henry George Chaffin of Los Fresnos, Vance Carll Wilson of Harlingen, and Ocie Carl Allen, Ben Weir Risinger, Maurice Manning Chastain and Ben Lee Leftwich, all of Brownsville.

ARMY SERVICE RULING CITED

Defense Need Might Call Men Out

McALLEN—Employers engaged in the production and distribution of national defense items may request release from military service of former civilian employes who hold key positions prior to induction or enlistment. General J. Watt Page, State selective service director, announced in a letter received in McAllen Saturday.

He said: "The civilian employe who held a key spot and whose services are now required by his former employer by reason of the expansion of industrial activities or the shortage of skilled employes in his classification, may be relieved from military service in order that he may return to his civilian position."

General Page stressed that employers' request for the release of key men should be addressed directly to the Undersecretary of War, and that a separate request must be submitted in the case of each soldier. The request must be submited in triplicate in affidavit form, executed before a notary public by the responsible head of the firm or agency by which the soldier was employed at the time of his entry into military service.

Full details on how to make applications for release of employes are filed by the government at the McAllen Chamber of Commerce office and will be furnished on request, officials said Saturday.

CEILING FOR COTTON ACTS AS TOBOGGAN

Avalanche Of Sales Follows US Order

NEW YORK—(AP)—Government-fixed price ceilings 15 per cent below current levels on some cotton goods and an announcement similar control would be put on cottonseed oil brought an avalanche of selling to the cotton market Saturday and sent values down $2.35 to $2.70 a bale.

Stop-loss orders uncovered by the decline added momentum to the fall. There was some hedging against commitments in cottonseed oil, the market for which is closed on Saturday.

Trade buying lent a minimum of support to the market after its opening drop but the cotton goods ceiling knocked out most of those props.

The maximums clip about a cent a yard from current cloth prices, trade circles said, by setting a top of 39 cents a pound on prints.

Worth Street has been relatively inactive awaiting price administrator Leon Henderson's action and the mills were almost completely withdrawn.

No exports Friday. Season so far 1,020,248 bales: port receipts 7,407; port stocks 3,285,296.

OIL COMPANY SEEKS CRUDE

Davis, Continental To Pool Acreage

SAN JUAN — The W. R. Davis Company and the Continental Oil Company, now engaged in widespread oil drilling activity in the Valley, have pooled several pieces of acreage for a 40-acre crude oil drilling block and a 363-acre gas and distillate block south of San Juan.

The agreement was filed Saturday in the Hidalgo county clerk's office at Edinburg.

The oil drilling block will include 21.61 acres leased from the C. W. Dawley estate and 18.4 acres of the A. C. Jefferson property, directly south of the city.

The gas-distillate acreage includes leases obtained from W. U. Coughran, Mrs. Dora Van Nordstrand, the Dawley estate and Jefferson.

The Davis and Continental firms are operating in the big Rincon field of Starr county and Davis is drilling a wildcat test southeast of McAllen on the Texas-Arizona Citrus company tract.

Location for the Davis No. 1 Dawley estate has already been made south of San Juan, the second test to be drilled by the firm in southeastern Hidalgo county. Spudding of the new test is scheduled during the week-end.

Grass-Green Rookie Learns About Army From Base Colonel

ORLANDO, Fla. — He was a grass-green recruit and fresh off the farm. He sauntered up to Col. Thomas S. Voss, commandant of the Orlando air base, as the colonel stepped out of his car.

"Mister," he began, "you look to me like you might be an officer or something, and I reckon there's something I'm supposed to do, but I'll be doggoned if I know what it is. I've been in this here man's army exactly one day. Just got my uniform this morning. How do you like it?"

The colonel assured him it looked fine, then asked, "Has anybody told you what you are supposed to do when you meet an officer?"

"Nope."

The colonel spent the next 20 minutes telling him how to salute, how he should stand at attention until dismissed, and how to salute, about face and march away when he left.

"Mister," the recruit said, "I'm sure much obliged."

Then he stuck out his hand. Before he realized what he was doing, the colonel shook it. The recruit shambled away.

Not-So-Shocking Stockings Of 1926 Vintage May Give Way To Darker Shades This Fall, And Men Get A Break

By AMY PORTER
AP Fashion Editor

LEGS will be good for an argument this autumn.

For the first time since 1926, we are due for a return to dark stockings.

Will men like them? Will sheer black flatter legs more than our current pinky beiges? Will dark green and wine-colored legs look enchanting or revolting? To get back to the crux of the matter, will men like them?

You'll Like Them, Or Else

We'll have a chance to find out, for important designers will sponsor the new colored hose for fall, and you'll find yourself following their lead, willy nilly. You'll buy dark hosiery, whether you like it or not.

Fashion is suposed to make a complete cycle every seven years, but it has taken 15 years to make a dent in the popularity of "nude" hosiery, the shocker fashion of the post-war era.

When nude stockings were launched, reformers raged. They blamed flaming youth, the flapper and post-war hysteria for a break-down in moral fiber which seemed to be epitomized in naked-appearing legs.

So Tiresome, Really

Now, nobody is shocked by naked-looking or even naked legs. Only bored.

Vera Scott, hosiery stylist, decided boredom wouldn't do. She and other stylists evolved the colored hosiery idea. For summer, they sent out fashion feelers in the form of brilliant red, green and yellow hose, suggesting these for wear with sports and play clothes. The colors caught on.

Now Miss Scott is staking her reputation on the fate of the dozen or more new dusky hosiery colors she has worked out for fall.

Remember Gunmetal?

Dress designers welcome the novelty of black, gunmetal, wine, green, amythest, and amber hose. Some of them are matching dresses to stockings. Others prefer linking up stockings to other assessories—brown dress with green hat, bag, gloves and hose, for instance.

Gunmetal, fashion leader in the Twenties, will be even more popular this fall, Miss Scott believes, especially in nylon, which takes to black and off-black dye better than silk.

The new dark hosiery fashion should please Marlene Dietrich, she of the famous legs, who never has given up wearing sheer blacks. Or, when all the rest of us switch to black, will she perversely choose old-fashioned "nudes"?

Grab A Grapefruit If You Feel The Flu Coming On: Letter From School Head In Ozarks Praises The Effect Of Citrus

MERCEDES — "Flu epidemics could be materially lessened if the people of this nation would eat more grapefruit and oranges, particularly those grown in the Rio Grande Valley."

This testimonial concerning the value of Texas grapefruit was received by W. E. Tillery, Mercedes shipper, from President R. M. Good of the School of the Ozarks at Point Lookout, Missouri. President Good is sincere in this statement because health conditions among the boys and girls at his school have been much better when his proteges ate grapefruit than during the winters when they were without this citrus diet.

"Our experience has been that when we have an abundance of grapefruit from down there (the Valley), we have very little sickness," the Missouri educator declares. "Year before last, when we had this fruit constantly from Christmas until early in April, we were practically devoid of sickness in spite of the fact that influenza raged around us. Last year, due to the freeze, we had no grapefruit at all and our youngsters . . . had a very severe epidemic of the flu, which we believe was partly due to the lack of fruit," he relates in pointing out that eating grapefruit keeps the body toned up and assists in preventing illness.

He prefaced his declaration with the suggestion that "there should be a national campaign on the subject of the value of grapefruit, grapefruit juice and oranges in assisting materiallly to prevent flu epidemics."

The School of the Ozarks, headed by Good, provides hundreds of poor boys and girls, without means for attending another school, with the opportunity to train themselves for a useful occupation. The carload of grapefruit, which evoked this voluntary testimonial from the educator of the Ozarks, was shipped to the school by Lee Kidder of Mercedes who has assisted this school with shipments of citrus fruits on a number of previous occasions.

Bill Tillery points out that "Valley people should appreciate what we have and eat more grapefruit ourselves. Maybe there should not be any flu epidemics in the Valley.

J. E. Taylor To Run For Cotten's Job

AUSTIN —(AP)— Lieutenant James E. Taylor of Kerens, officer in the national guard and member of the House of Representatives, announced Saturday he would be a candidate for the state Senate from the sixth district, a post now held by Senator Clay Cotten of Palestine.

Thirty-five year old Taylor, publisher of the Corsicana Democrat and former editor of the Kerens Tribune, was chairman of the sub-committee which drafted the $22,000,000 omnibus tax bill to finance expanded old age pensions, aid to the blind, aid to dependent children and teachers retirement.

The soldier-lawmaker sponsored bills creating the Texas defense guard and the anti-violence in labor disputes statutes.

U.S.O. DRIVE PASSES $1,000

McAllen Employes Join '100 Per Cent'

McALLEN — McAllen's United Service Organizations fund campaign has passed the $1,000 mark, and the remainder of the $1,600 quota will be raised next week, Chairman Lee D. Rowe announced Saturday.

A total of $1,030 has been collected.

Rowe said a large portion of the McAllen fund was made possible by the contributions of employes of several business firms, who joined "100 per cent" by making donations of $1 or more each.

He proposed that employes of other firms follow the example, for "by doing so the remaining $570 can be raised without trouble."

A meeting of all campaign workers will be held at 10 a. m. Monday at the chamber of commerce building to outline plans for the drive's wind-up, Rowe said. Efforts will be made to complete the work in two or three days.

The Saturday report lacked figures on two or three committees which have been working for the past week, the chairman declared.

Land Is Sold

$12,000 Is Paid For Mercedes Property

EDINBURG — The sale of several pieces of property in and near Mercedes to the Del Tex Investment Company of that city by the Hidalgo County Bank and Trust Company, also of Mercedes, was disclosed Saturday when papers on the sale were filed here.

Included in the purchase at a price of about $12,000 were block No. 1 of the Mercedes townsite; the east half of lot 13, block 1, of the townsite; several lots in the La Villa townsite; 18.24 acres in the Campacuas addition to Mercedes and 30 acres in the Llano Grande grant near here.

The transfer was effective June 26. O. E. VanBerg signed the documents as president of the bank.

Actor To Landlord Via The Racetrack

NEW YORK— (AP) —Actor Victor Moore had this explanation for turning up in Jackson Heights at the controls of a steam shovel:

"Some years ago a former actor turned real estate broker and tried to sell me a piece of land. I wasn't much interested, but he told me he had a real tip on a race horse. He said he'd let me in if I'd promise that if I won I'd use the money for a down payment on the lot. I did. He did. The horse did. So I did, and now we're building a bus terminal on it."

Moore kept his gloves on just long enough to move one shovelful of dirt.

VISIT AT KERRVILLE

McALLEN—Mrs. C. C. Eckhoff and sons, with Gerald Baltis, will leave Monday for Kerrville, where the boys will attend a Methodist encampment. Mrs. Eckhoff will visit in Kerrville for several weeks.

New Mexico's State Travel Office Puts Texas Tourism In The Shade

McALLEN—Making no effort to deny that Texas is envious of the attraction of New Mexico as a tourist attraction, the McAllen Chamber of Commerce looked at the records Saturday.

The chamber found that New Mexico's active state travel promotion bureau attracted nearly 15 times more out-of-state visitors than the total permanent population of the state. Texas paled in comparison on that basis. Texas has fewer visitors than the total population of the state. But our population is much greater than that of New Mexico.

The chamber will point out that fact to the State Highway Commission in suggesting that an effort be made to bring in a group of editors of travel pages of some of the nation's largest newspapers.

The McAllen chamber is suggesting that the publicity men be taken to the piny woods of East Texas, to the plains of West Texas, to the Alamo, the San Jacinto Battle field, and the Lower Rio Grande Valley, besides other points of interest. While on the tour they would be free, of course, to gather whatever data they wished for travel articles. The suggestion also points out that travelers spent more than $300,000,000 in Texas during 1940.

Chamber officials stated that while New Mexico's travelers outnumbered local residents by 1,500 per cent, travelers to the Valley totaled only about 25 per cent of the section's population.

FARM BUREAU WORK GROWS

Fifteen Mission Men Join Chapter

MISSION—Fifteen members were added to the Hidalgo county chapter of the Texas Farm Bureau federation at a meeting of about 30 farmers of the Mission community Friday night at the chamber of commerce building.

J. C. Looney of Edinburg and Jack Drake, Loren V. Williams, Ray D. Goodwin, Arnold Shary and Harry Thompson of Mission addressed the meeting, pointing out advantages of the organized farm program.

Judge Looney, chairman of the county-wide farm bureau membership drive, said Saturday that indications now point to a heavy enlistment of members in the group within the next few months.

"Bit by bit we are adding more members," he declared. "The Mission meeting was highly successful, in my opinion."

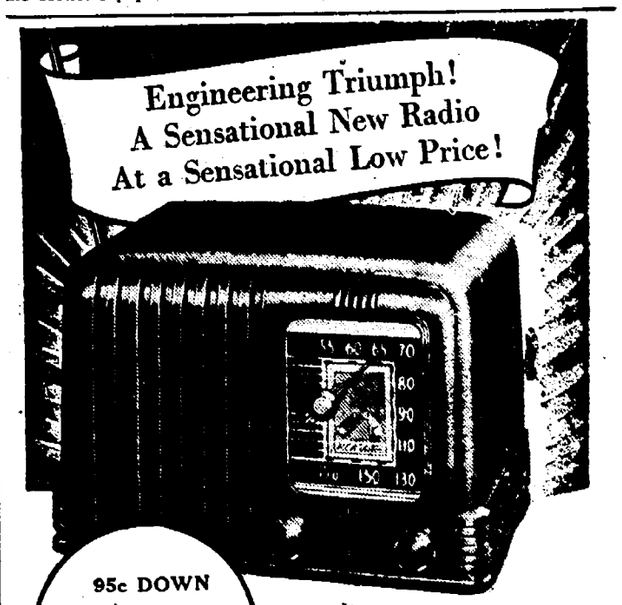

Another local meeting will be held July 11 at Edinburg, if present plans are completed. The date is still tentative.

Plows Under Lawn

GRANDFIELD, Okla.—(AP)—John Lawson had a fine Bermuda grass lawn but in the midst of one of the wettest spells this region has experienced he found the grass was growing too fast for him. So he plowed it all under and sowed blackeyed peas. Now he leans back in an easy chair watching his crop mature while the neighbors struggle with lawn mowers.

TEXAS READY TO REGISTER MEN TUESDAY

21-Year-Olds To Be Taken By Draft

AUSTIN — (AP) — Local boards throughout Texas are ready for the selective service registration on July 1, 1941, General J. Watt Page, state director, announced Saturday.

To be registered were citizens and aliens who reached their 21st birthday on or before July 1, 1941, and subsequent to October 16, 1940, provided they had not previously registered.

The men were required to regitser with the local board at their place of residence or wherever they happened to be on July 1 between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m.

Answer All Questions

"The registrant must answer all questions asked by the registrar for notation on the registration card," the announcement said. It added:

"He must give his full name, include middle name, if any, and should have with him papers of identification showing it to be his true name.

"It is particularly important that the registrant describe his place of residence in detail as well as to give full particulars as to the address at which he would most readily receive mail sent to him."

Major Requirements

Pointing out that these major requirements applied to registrants who were physically able to present themselves to proper registration places, General Page said that special provisions had been made to register the sick in hospitals, persons confined to asylums, jails and similar institutions and persons sick but not in hospitals.

Persons in the latter group should have a competent person get authority from the proper local board to register them, General Page said.

If any young man was in doubt as to whether he should register, he should consult the proper registration officials and follow their advice, the director declared.

POLICE CLAIM PROBE MEAGER

No Search Made For Joss Assailant?

BATH, Me.—(AP)—A Richmond constable testified Saturday under cross examination at Dr. Merrill E. Joss' wife-murder trial that state police made no real search for the assailant the physician claims fatally beat Dr. Luverne Harris Joss last March 27.

Frank C. Bishop, 49, police officer in the little town of Richmond, said state police had been ordered to patrol the vicinity of the Joss office-home but that a "dozen or 15" were gathered around the house.

"I made the remark that it was funny that the state of Maine would send cops out and not have them stay wherever they were supposed to stay," he said under questioning by Defense Counsel Ernest L. Goodspeed.

He replied "No," when asked by Goodspeed if "in your opinion was any real search made by the state police?"

"In your opinion, would it have been possible for an assailant of Mrs. Joss to escape as far as the state police search was concerned," he was asked.

"Knowing the place as I do—it would," he answered.

The state claims the physician, a Portland, Ore., native, killed his Alabama-born wife by beating her head against the floor, walls and stairs in the cellar of their home because of his love for Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman Mayo, 32, attractive tea-room proprietor.

New Classes

Red Cross Instructors Due At McAllen

McALLEN—Misses Edna Herbert and Ruth Evans of Austin will arrive in McAllen Monday, July 7, to conduct Red Cross classes in home hygiene and care of the sick.

The first class will open a week from Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the junior high auditorium in McAllen. The two women who will conduct the classes are from Austin.

No tuition charge will be made for sessions. Until fall they will be held at night, according to Mrs. Frank Suttle, county organizer. She said women who wished to register for day classes, which will start in the fall, would be free to attend the night sessions. Those who have not registered may do so at the opening session.

ALL DRUGGISTS

Leon Henderson—America's Professional 'No Man'

By SIGRID ARNE
AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON — Leon Henderson, the new "price czar," is stocky, 45-ish, looks more like an amateur golf champion than a brilliant economist. He's been in and out of New Deal agencies for more than eight years, has a sense of humor along with a casual vocabulary of slang. He's thought by many to be the liveliest idea man in the whole Roosevelt entourage.

Henderson established himself as an idea man back in the winter of 36-37 when he predicted the slump in the market that came the following autumn. But he grins about prophecies now. He says, "I'm the guy who made a hole-in-one the first time out. So I'm retiring from the prophecy field."

An Old Hand

He's Tackled the subject of prices from many angles in the past 20 years. The President's recent order gave him the job of Director of the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply but already it's shortened to "OPACS."

The title covers a great many duties but they all boil down to this: Henderson is supposed to keep prices down. It's a ticklish business.

There's talk now of a new law to give him the precise power that's needed. But while the talk goes on Henderson has announced maximum prices for a few materials necessary to the defense program. Like steel, aluminum, zinc scrap, second hand machine tools, and coal.

So far, no producer has contested the prices set. If they do, Henderson is thinking of asking them to come to Washington to defend higher prices in an open hearing.

He insists that keeping prices down is not just freezing them. It's much more important to be sure that we have enough of everything—both for the defense program and for civilian needs.

Henderson explains, "You don't build ships out of frozen prices."

Recently copper prices began to spiral upward. He talked with other defense chiefs, and the government began to buy South American copper. That brought the prices down.

Zinc is beginning to look scarce. That could send prices sky-rocketing. So Henderson talked around until now a new, big smelter is under construction.

Started Early

Henderson began in the first World War to study prices. In the war department's ordinance accounting department then, he still shivers when he thinks of that period's inflation, and says with irritation that the prices cost this government 15 billion dollars more than necessary.

After the war, he went to teach economics at the University of Pennsylvania but kept right on worrying about those World War prices. He went on to Carnegie Institute to work on consumer credit problems, and then to Russell Sage for more work on prices. When the NRA came along he became research director (more about prices). Now he's the price czar of these United States.

INCOMES FOR FARMS HIKED

$3,544,000,000 Total First Five Months

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Farmers received a total cash income, including government benefit payments, of $3,544,000,000 during the first five months of 1941, or $307,000,000, more than in the corresponding period last year, the agricultural department reported Saturday.

Income from farm marketings was placed at $3,240,000,000, or $388,000,000 more than a year ago. Government payments totalled $304,000,000 compared with $385,000,000 for the period last year.

The department predicted that the farm cash income for the full year would amount to about $10,700,000,000 compared with $9,123,000,000 last year if, the present favorable production, price and market prospects continue. Such an income would be the largest since 1929.

The sharpest income gains were reported for cotton and cottonseed and livestock and livestock products.

The department said that farm income by major classes of products for the five-month period of 1940 and 1941, respectively, was as follows:

Grains $376,000,000 and $253,000,000, cotton and cotton seed $64,000,000 and $118,000,000, fruits $98,000,000 and $119,000,000, vegetables $223,000,000 and $230,000,000, tobacco $76,000,000 and $63,000,000, meat apimals $907,000,000 and $1,168,000,000, dairy products $615,000,000 and $711,000,000, and poultry and eggs $255,000,000 and $311,000,000.

Edinburg Men To Greet Group

EDINBURG—Business men of Edinburg will turn out Wednesday to greet a group of good-will trippers from McAllen advertising that city's Fourth of July celebration.

Chamber of commerce officials were completing plans Saturday for the event, which will take place in the downtown district. The McAllen group will be accompanied by a hill-billy band.

Meeting Planned For School Band

McALLEN—All members of the McAllen High school band should meet at the junior high school auditorium at 7:30 Monday night, Fletcher Glendenning, acting as director in the absence of Hermann Wren, announced.

The band will march in the parade for the Fourth of July celebration and will present a concert in Archer Park at noon July 4.

McALLEN—Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cook are leaving Monday for a vacation visit in South Bend, Ind.

Ratings Of 32 Texas Post Offices Readjusted By U.S.

Changes Involve Advancement And Reduction For Four Classes Of Offices; Names Are Listed

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Postoffice Department has announced that in the annual readjustment of postmasters' salaries effective July 1, several changes in the ratings of postoffices were being made in Texas.

The changes involve advancement of second class offices to first class, of third class offices to second class, and fourth class to third, as well as reductions in classification in some instances.

The first-class office must have annual receipts of at least $50,000. The minimum salary for the postmaster is $3,200, with higher salaries for higher-receipt offices.

A second-class office must have receipts of at least $8,000 annually. The minimum salary for the postmaster is $2,400 for offices with $8,000 to $10,000 receipts, and the maximum is $3,000 for receipts of $33,000 to $40,000.

A third-class office must have receipts of $1,500 annually. The postmaster's salary starts at $1,100 and goes as high as $1,600.

Fourth class offices have receipts of less than $1,500. Postmasters receive no salary. Their compensation is based entirely on receipts.

Readjustments in Texas are as follows:

Second to first class—Alice, Borger, Brenham, Yoakum.

First to second class—none.

Third to second class—La Porte, Sanatorium, Santa Anna, Seminole, Sonora, South San Antonio, Burnet, Dayton, Denver City.

Second to third class—Azle, Bellmead, Bessmay, Desdemona, Joshua, Keller, Matagorda, Medina, Portland, Selman City, Springtown, Thompsons, Warren, Weinert.

Third to fourth class—Caddo, Idalou, Valentine, De Berry.

Farmers, Too

They'll Join McAllen Celebration

McALLEN — As many farmers will be in McAllen July 3 as there will be for the annual July Fourth celebration.

As a pre-fiesta event, a special program has been arranged to stress McAllen's agricultural prominence in the Valley's greatest enterprise.

There will be a free implement show all day. Merchants will feature wares calculated as of particular interest to farmers.

The day's program will be climaxed with the bathing beauty style show and revue at Cascade Swimming pool that night.

ARMY RECRUIT DRIVE SLATED

Mobile Unit Will Be At McAllen Soon

McALLEN—The army's mobile recruiting unit will arrive in McAllen July 2 to stay here during the duration of the annual July Fourth patriotic celebration.

The large auto trailer which forms the unit's headquarters will be centrall located so that visitors here for the celebration may inspect it, Sergeant Edward J. Volkmann, in charge of the recruiting unit here, has especially invited all young men between the ages of 18 and 35 years who are interested in joining the army air corps to visit the station. Enlistment forms will be on hand there for those desiring to enter the air corps service. The unit is also qualified to receive enlistments for flying cadets.

Requirements for enlistment into the air corps are men between the ages of 18 and 35 years, single, with no dependents and an eighth grade or better education.

The unit is coming to McAllen from San Antonio. Sergeant Jack Wilkinson and Sergeant L. N. Gunn will accompany the trailer here.

Sometime during the middle of July, Serg. Volkmann said, a flying cadet examining board will come to McAllen to accept applications from young men seeking service in the flying corps.

ARRIVES FOR VISIT

SAN JUAN—Mrs. Luke Thornton arrived Monday morning from a visit with relatives and friends at her home town at Mt. Pleasant.

BURIAL GROUP IS CHARTERED

Martin-Nelson Firm Active In Valley

McALLEN — The Martin-Nelson Burial association was granted a permanent charter by the state Saturday, Scott Martin, manager, announced.

The charter was secured three weeks and two days after the firm began its operation in the Upper Valley.

Fifteen salesmen are operating for the association in McAllen, Pharr, San Juan, Alamo and Weslaco, Martin said. Anyone living within 75 miles of McAllen is eligible for membership in the company.

A minimum of 500 policies are necessary before a permanent charter for operation is granted by the state.

BACK FROM MEXICO

MISSION — Mrs. W. A. Wolverton has returned from a two-weeks motor trip to Mexico City and scenic points in that section. She was one of a party of six Upper Valley women to make the trip.

TO MONTERREY

RIO GRANDE CITY — Amado Gutierrez, Jr., left Monday for Monterrey to join Mrs. Gutierrez and their daughters. He was accompanied by Rogerio Lopez. The party will return early next week.

Pioneer Family Of Valley Raffles Off One Of Largest And Oldest Ranches On Border; Guerra Heirs Split Land

McALLEN—A family "raffle" Saturday had disposed of the vast holdings of one of the oldest and largest ranch organizations along the lower border between seven heirs of the late Deodoro Guerra, pioneer border business man, cattleman and rancher, who died in 1932.

The division separated for the first time in more than 100 years the properties that had been accumulated by the Guerra family, whose early forbears came to Texas while the present state was still a part of Mexico. Origin of the family is lost in the lusty century before Texas became a republic, but Felipe Guerra, grandfather of the present businessmen-ranchers, was known to have been a rancher in what is now Starr county, as was his father before him. Dedoro was one of his sons and was one of the few members of the family ever to move away from Starr county, where another branch of the family has long been the leading family of that portion of the border.

Deodoro moved to McAllen in 1906 with his wife, Mrs. Matilde G. de Guerra, who died in 1939, and six sons and two daughters were born to that union. Three of the sons have died within the past few years. Modesto and E. S. (Henry) Guerra, both of McAllen, had served as McAllen city commissioners, and the third, Joe, died in Edinburg, his home. Three other sons, Ramon, Guillermo (Billy) and Dario, and the two sisters, Mrs. Virginia Garza of San Antonio and Mrs. Aurora Solis of McAllen, survive.

Partitioning of the vast properties—including D. Guerra and Sons, a general merchandise and wholesale goods firm in McAllen, the 28,000-acre Nogales Ranch in northern Hidalgo county, the Nogales Ranch store and farm, about 3,000 head of livestock and city property in McAllen—has been under way for the past nine months. Its details were revealed by Ramon Guerra of McAllen.

The five surviving sons and daughters of Deodoro Guerra, the children of the late E. E. (Henry) Guerra and the children of the late Joe Guerra, are the beneficiaries of the partitioning. "We took all of the properties," Ramon Guerra explained, "and placed a value on each. Then we divided the total into seven different parts. The seven heirs or their representatives gathered for the drawing, and each accepted the portion drawn by him or her."

In the drawing, the D. Guerra estate represented two-thirds of all the properties and the E. E. (Henry) Guerra estate one-third. D. Guerra and Sons, Inc., one of the oldest McAllen business firms still in existence, was dissolved as a corporation on January 1, 1941, and Ramon and Dario Guerra, with their two sisters, Mrs. Garza and Mrs. Solis, formed a partnership to continue its operation. They are operating the store, the Nogales Ranch stores and farm and the mercantile business. The D. Guerra and Sons farm is the second largest in the county, its 3,500 acres being exceeded only by that of Arcadio Guerra, which covers 5,000 acres. Modesto Guerra left no children, and the late Deodoro Guerra purchased his widow's interests in D. Guerra and Sons before the latter's death. Mrs. Modesto Guerra still lives in McAllen and operates a furniture store.

Operations of the great properties are already under way by the respective groups under terms of the family "raffle," according to Ramon Guerra. "I am sure that's how my father would have wanted it," he concluded, "and in that way, everything was shared equally and all the heirs are satisfied."

As far as the family is concerned, everything is settled. But the law firm of Strickland, Ewers and Wilkins of Mission, the auditing firm of Harper and Hays of Houston and the surveying firm of E. M. Card of McAllen, are still trying to complete myriad details so that the novel family settlement can be put into words and be made duly legal.

DEPENDABILITY

DEPENDABLE IS A WORD that we always connect with continuous ability and personal achievement throughout a number of years.

DEPENDABLE mortuary service in the Rio Grande Valley begins at Brownsville, where the Hinkley Mortuary has been in existence for over - - 40 years and where the name Darling has been over an establishment for - - - - - - 20 years. At San Benito we have Clay Hull who has served there for over - - - - - - 10 years while at Harlingen the Stotler-Burdette Mortuary existed for - - - - - - 10 years Then at Raymondville we have the Karl Duddleston Funeral Home - - - - 18 years and the Howard Mortuary - - - 10 years Coming up the Valley to Mercedes we find the reliable Stotler Mortuary giving continuous attention for over - - 30 years with the same fine service extended to nearby Donna. At Edinburg we have the well established Skinner family operating the Skinner Mortuary - - - - - - - 18 years and at Mission, Edinburg and McAllen the Kreidler's have given - - - - - - 29 years of Thotfulness, which is a by-word in the Rio Grande Valley.

THEREFORE it is reasonable to believe, that with these experienced firms behind the VALLEYWIDE BURIAL ASSOCIATION you can purchase this policy and secure your share of DEPENDABLE PROTECTION. And further—it will operate directly under the supervision of the State Insurance Department.

A few dependable ladies and gentlemen may apply for positions to sell these policies. See any funeral home mentioned in the margin.

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

HYDE PARK, N. Y. —(AP)— President Roosevelt spent a quiet, diversified Saturday at his country home disposing of business that always stacks up near the end of the government's fiscal year, consulting Washington officials by telephone on the international situation, and keeping an interested eye on the special senatorial election in Texas.

Several bills which had to be signed before the end of the fiscal year at midnight Monday were approved by the President. More were expected to arrive by airplane from Washington, including a $10,384,821,624 war department appropriation, as soon as Congress finished action on them.

Signed Saturday were measures which:

Measures Signed

Extend the life of the Federal Housing Administration from July 1, 1941, to July 1, 1944 and increase the limits of its insured loans from $4,000,000,000 to $5,000,000,000 for new construction and from $100,000,000 to $165,000,000 for modernization and repair.

Appropriate, for expenses in the year beginning Tuesday, $21,822,467 for the state department, $179,009,100 for the commerce department, $66,307,500 for the justice department and federal judiciary and $188,325,923 for the interior department. In addition, interior received authority to make contracts up to $16,675,000.

Presidential secretary William D. Hassett did say that he had asked Mr. Roosevelt about reports that Frank Murphy, associate justice of the supreme court, would replace Henry L. Stimson as secretary of war. He said the President told him stories like that were "solely to be attributed to the heat wave."

Employes Not Excused

Deeming it inadvisable to close down the government plant because of the urgency of the defense program, Mr. Roosevelt declined to excuse federal employes from working their regular four hours next Saturday, the day after the Fourth of July.

In the field of domestic affairs, the race for the Senate seat of the late Morris Sheppard of Texas caught the President's attention because of his desire that Representative Lyndon Johnson be elected. Johnson, a staunch New Dealer, is one of 25 candidates.

Mr. Roosevelt sent Johnson a telegram Friday in which he termed preposterous a proposal of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, another candidate, that Texas set up her own defense force.

VALLEY CAFE GROUP FORMS

Akin And Harrison Address Meeting

WESLACO—Harry Akin, president of the Texas Restaurant Association, spoke on "What Is An Association" at the organization meeting of the Lower Rio Grande Valley Restaurant Association here Friday night.

Akin, who operates food shops at Austin and San Antonio, described the history of associations and their advantages.

V. A. Harrison, first president of the state organization, operator of cafeterias at San Antonio, Austin and Fort Worth, conducted a question and answer program on the operation of restaurants.

Officers elected for the Valley group included Dan Heslop of Harlingen, president; J. D. McDonald, Mercedes, vice president; Gaston Wiley, McAllen, secretary-treasurer, and W. C. Anderson and Bob McBride, Harlingen; W. W. Simons, McAllen, and Mark Bailey, Weslaco, directors.

O. G. Halliburton of Mercedes was named chairman of the membership committee. About 45 Valley operators were present at the meeting held at the Cortez Hotel.

Main objective of the organization, said Wiley, recently elected a state director, who acted as temporary chairman, is to raise the standard of restaurant operation. Immediate goal will be to see that every restaurant will carry citrus foods and drinks during season.

Chuck Wagon, magazine of the state organization, will devote an entire issue to the Valley this year, it was announced.

Aircraft Industry Gets Sharpest Rise

NEW YORK—(AP)—Aircraft industry backlogs had the sharpest rise in June since the defense program started, Aviation Magazine reported Saturday, estimating the total at $4,630,000,000, an all-time record.

The magazine credited the monthly increase of nearly $700,000,000, chiefly to enlarge demand for costly four-engined bombers.

Nazis Sink 6 Ships

BERLIN—(AP)— Six merchantmen —21,500 tons—fell victim to German night bombers off the English southeast coast Friday night, informed sources said Saturday, and a 3,000-ton craft, was reported damaged badly.

Dow Strike Settled?

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Dr. John R. Steelman, head of the labor department's conciliation service, said Saturday night that a tentative agreement had been reached to settle the work stoppage at the Midland, Mich., plant of the Dow Chemical Company.

Thumbs Down On Thumbing Decree Of King Jeff Davis Of U.S. Hoboes

AP Feature Service

JEFF DAVIS, king of Hoboes, likes to saucer hot coffee and dunk his doughnuts and doesn't give a continental about stuffed-shirt lunchroom manners.

BUT—he'd like to give these fresh college hitchhikers a piece of his mind about hitch-hiking.

"Gimme a ride. Nya-a-a-ah. Nya-a-a-h! Stingy—stingy—stingy!"

That makes Jeff sick. Makes him spit. He don't like thumbin'. It's crude. If these college boys hitchin' rides home from college could spend a couple of days with King Jeff, professor of the College of Hard Knocks, they'd learn (Jeff says) that the best way to get a ride is a simple, appealing gesture of the hand and a frank, honest look right in the eyes of a motorist—same executed at the right location to catch rides.

Colorful Adoption Ceremonies For Matamoros Masonic Order To Take Place Sunday In Public Services

MATAMOROS—Adoption ceremonies for several sons and daughters of Masonic members of the Matamoros "Aurora Boreal No. 14" lodge will take place Sunday morning at ten o'clock at the lodge hall, Herrera and 8th Sts. Mariano B. Marin, Worshipful Master, will preside at the public ceremonies.

The imposing and colorful ceremony consists in the placing of a silver medal with a chosen name, usually that of a mythological deity inscribed on it, as well as the date and the name of the recipient and the mother lodge, on the neck of the adoptee. The medal is tied with a blue ribbon. A special committee, presided by the Worshipful Master will have charge of the ceremony.

The recipient of the medal is accompanied by his chosen godfather, a Master Mason.

The lodge band will play several selections and will have charge of the accompaniments.

Carmen A. Gutierrez, the lodge orator, will make a talk on the subject.

Refreshments will be served after the ceremony.

Brownsville and Valley Masons have been invited to attend.

The adoption ceremony is usually held yearly, although in some cases it is scheduled twice during a year.

COPPER KING PASSES AWAY

William Guggenheim Youngest Of 7

© BLANK & STOLLER

WILLIAM GUGGENHEIM

NEW YORK—(AP)—William Guggenheim, 72, youngest of seven brothers who pyramided a supposedly worthless mine into an industrial empire, died Friday night after an illness of several weeks.

Although he retired from the family firm 40 years ago to devote himself to philanthropic and patriottic enterprises, and wrote many booklets with patriotism his theme, Guggenheim remained best known as one of America's copper kings.

Of the seven sons of Meyer Guggenheim, who made the name famous as founder of the vast mining dynasty, William was the best known with the possible exception of Simon, once a United States senator, and Daniel, donor of the fund for promotion of aeronautics.

CAIRO, Egypt, Sunday—(AP)—The British Middle East air command announced today that six Italian warplanes approaching the British fortified island of Malta were shot down Saturday and others were badly damaged

VICHY TO GET MORE US OIL

3-Way Agreement Is Said Reached

WASHINGTON —(AP)— American shipments of oil and other vitally needed supplies to French North African colonies—interrupted by Vichy's "collaboration" with Germany in Syria—are to be resumed as a result of a new understanding between the United States, Great Britain and France.

After prolonged diplomatic discussions revolving around the future status of the colonies—strategically located on Africa's Mediterranean shores and possessing several naval bases—the British naval authorities at Bermuda Friday permitted the French oil tanker Scheherazade to resume its voyage from the United States to Casablanca.

A British warship seized the tanker at sea, despite an American-British-French agreement designed to restore normal trade between the United States and Morocco, Tunisia and Algiers, when German warplanes were discovered to be utilizing airbases in French mandated Syria for attacks on the British forces in Iraq.

While no official statement was issued in Washington or London it was said in informed quarters here that the shipments would not have been resumed unless Great Britain and the United States had received adequate assurances that General Maxime Weygand's army would not become involved in major military action against the British, and that the North African colonies would not be turned over to the Nazis for military uses.

Nazis Put British Plane Losses At 36 For Past 24 Hours

BERLIN—(AP)— Informed German sources Saturday placed total British air losses in the preceding 24 hours at 36 planes, against one German, and reported the sinking of six merchantmen totaling 21,500 tons off the English southeast coast by Nazi airmen overnight.

British raids on both western Germany and occupied territory were acknowledged. Day and night chaser planes were credited with downing 24 British craft, anti-aircraft bateries six, naval artillery five and infantrymen one.

Plant Quarantine's Replacement Is Due

BROWNSVILLE—E. C. Harrison of Calexico is expected here soon as a replacement in the Bureau of Plant Quarantine. Two members of the service here who were reserve officers, First Lieutenant Charles Purnell and Captain Garland Furr, have been called into service. Purnell went to Fort Sam Houston and Furr will go to Tucson, Ariz.

RETURNS WEDNESDAY

SAN JUAN—Mrs. B. L. Miller, Banks, Jr., Mrs. S. L. Miller, Barbara Lynn and Jane Ellen Mellenbruch, returned Wednesday night after spending three weeks in Iowa and other points. Jane Ellen visited in San Antonio and also with her uncle, Glenn Mellenbruch and family in New Braunfels.

FATE'S AGAINST BOY WHO TRIED TO GET IN ARMY

RICHMOND, Va.—(AP)—A Negro volunteer for selective service, rejected for flat feet, carried his case to the medical advisory board and was passed.

The order to report for service found him ill of pneumonia. A second order came but he was laid up with a broken arm.

Out at last, he reported to the induction station but was rejected—for defective vision.

EDINBURG—R. H. Klossner of San Antonio is visiting his mother, Mrs. Henry Klossner.

Car Dealers Return From State Meeting

BROWNSVILLE — John Pipkin of Pipkin-Manske, Brownsville, and Lewis Boggus, of Boggus Motor Company, Harlingen, returned to the Valley by plane late this week after attending the Texas Auto Dealers convention at Fort Worth. Approximately ten Valley dealers were present at the convention Thursday and Friday, they stated.

CALLED BY ILLNESS

COMBES—Mr. and Mrs. J. I. McCormick and two children, Billy Ray and Evelyn, left Thursday morning for Bonham where they were called by the serious illness of Mrs. McCormick's father, Mr. Gravelly. Mr. Gravelly has spent several winters here with his daughter and has many friends in this community.

TO TEACH COURSE

MISSION—Rev. E. R. McWilliams, pastor of the First Christian Church of Mission, will leave Saturday night for Center Point, Texas, where he will teach two courses at the Adult Conference to be sponsored by the Southwest Texas Christian Churches from June 29 to July 4. His subjects will be "Christian Opportunities for Parent Education" and "Messages of the Prophets." After the conference, Rev. McWilliams will go to Lufkin to attend a traditional re-union of his family, held at the same time each year.

HOUSE GUESTS

PHARR — Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Evans have had as their house guests their children, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Evans and small daughter Ann Cathryne of Robstown, and Mrs. James Barry and baby son of Brownsville. All returned to their respective homes this week.

New Relief Slogan 'Bundle For Bomb'

BROWNSVILLE — "A Bundle for Every Bomb," is the slogan adopted by the Brownsville branch of Bundles for Britain, according to Mrs. George Walker, chairman of the group.

Warm clothing for the British is arriving at the headquarters daily and interest in the work is mounting, Mrs. Walker states.

In regard to tinfoil, she states that the unit would rather have it in sheet form. It can be handled better this way than it can in balls, she says.

RIO GRANDE CITY—Mrs. Matilde Izaguirre and daughter, Miss Tilly Izaguirre left Tuesday for San Antonio where they were to be the guests until Saturday of Miss Helen Froboese.

McAllen Ready For Gala Two-Day Fourth Of July Celebration

ANNUAL SHOW DUE TO DRAW LARGE CROWD

Contests To Highlight Patriotic Event

McALLEN—All details for the annual July Fourth celebration here Friday when McAllen will become the mecca of Valley funseekers, will be completed Monday night at a committeemen's meeting at 8 p. m. at Legion hall.

Declaring everything is in fine shape for the huge patriotic festival, General Chairman George Chapapas said "loose ends will be gathered up at the committeemen's session."

A floor show of Valley talent has been secured for the two official celebration dances, Dance Chairman O. P. Martin said. There will be several acts, he said. The dances are at 10 p. m. the nights of July 3 and 4, with music by Lee Kohlenberg and his orchestra.

Air Show Planned

There will be a sky parade as well as an air show the morning of the Fourth, according to Walter Fullwood, chairman of the air committee. Fliers from numerous Valley cities will participate. In addition, 10 U. S. Army officers in five army planes will be present.

The army fliers will act as judges of the bathing beauty revue, to be held at 8:30 p. m. at Cascade Swimming pool. Thirteen Valley organizations and firms have entered contestants. They are:

Valley Mercantile (Jeannette Rucker); Palace Theatre, McAllen Lions Club (Sue Peavey); Mission Chamber of Commerce, Anthony's, Advance Shop (Betty Lohr); Steak House (Margaret Ostrander); McAllen American Legion, Hidalgo 40 and 8 (Gwendolyn Crawford); Weslaco Lions club, Clark Mellenbruck Lumber Company, Edinburg American Legion (Annette Closner); Edinburg Kiwanis club, Harlingen Chamber of Commerce (Flo Wilson); Edinburg Lions club (Dorothy Eaves).

Some 200 Valley beauties have entered the slacks and shorts parade to be held at the McAllen Junior High school athletic field at 8 p. m. July 2.

Eleven Firms Assist

Eleven Valley firms have entered several models each. They are Rosales Sports Wear, the Advance shop, Bo-Peep, Penny's, Eggum's, Anthony's, the Fair store, Rio Grande Children's shop, the Valley Mercantile, and Ladies' Supply, all of McAllen, and Penney's of Weslaco.

There will be a vaudeville show in connection with the sports wear parade, which will be under direction of Jimmie Miller.

Arrangements have been made to have President Roosevelt's Fourth broadcast over the public address system in Archer park at 3 p. m., immediately following the speech by Congressman Martin Dies.

Congressman Dies, chairman of the House committee investigating un-American activities, will be principal speaker of the celebration. His address will begin at 2 p. m. at the bandstand in Archer park.

McAllen will assume a gala appearance Monday, when bunting will go on all streets and stores, rain or no rain. Decorations were supposed to have gone up last Monday, but weather conditions prevented it.

Trippers Out Tuesday

A goodwill tour of McAllen business men will leave there Tuesday at 8 a. m. for a Valley-wide sweep, according to Paul Vickers, chairman of the event. The trippers will travel in a Missouri Pacific bus, and make a 20-minute stop at each city between Mission and Brownsville. At each halt, trippers will hand out official programs of the celebration and a hill-billy band under direction of A. D. Dean will give a brief performance.

Some 20 Indians from the Alabama-Coushatta reservation near Livingston, will arrive in McAllen early next week preparatory to giving nightly performances of tribal dances here the nights of July 3 and 4, and the afternoon of the Fourth. These 20 are part of the unassimilated Indians remaining in Texas.

Prizes to be awarded in the old fiddlers' and dance callers' contest to be held during the McAllen July 4 celebration were announced Saturday by Mrs. Paul Vickers.

In the fiddlers' contest, first prize will be $8; second prize, $6; third, $4; fourth, $2; fifth, $1, and sixth, 50 cents. In the callers' contest, first, $7.50; second, $5; third, $3; fourth, 1, and fifth, 50 cents.

Mrs. Vickers said Steve Green of McAllen was the first to enter the fiddlers' contest. He will be costumed as a cowhand, and his wife will accompany him on the guitar.

DEPENDENT TO FREE DRAFTEE

Order To Apply To All Registrants

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Selective service headquarters instructed local boards Saturday to exempt from the draft men with dependents to whose support they make "any substantial contribution."

The order applies to men already in Class 1-A as well as to those not yet classified.

Men who married after registering will be required to show that they were married "in the ordinary course of human affairs" and not to evade army training.

In a memorandum to state directors, Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, deputy selective service director, said that the administrative machinery was being "unduly burdened" by the growing number of married men seeking discharge from the army on dependency grounds.

The memorandum added:

"Local boards should remember that every husband is under legal obligation to support his wife and children and that obligation is not removed because his wife has chosen to aid in the family maintenance. . . . The newly married registrant has the same general right to deferment as any other married registrant."

Sweden's iron and steel industry is now concentrating on commercial iron, according to the Department of Commerce.

East Texas Field Conference Called

TYLER, Tex.—(AP)—East Texas Oil Association officials said Saturday that East Texas independent oil operators will meet at the district court room here at 10 a.m. Monday in one of a series of regional conferences called at the request of Harold L. Ickes, petroleum coordinator for national defense.

Producers, royalty owners, refiners, distributors and other oil men will attend.

Laredo WPA District Aids In Bond Sales

LAREDO—WPA District Manager B. H. Tate stated Saturday that the 174 administrative and supervisory employees in the seventeen counties comprising WPA District No. 11, had cooperated one hundred per cent in the National Defense Program by purchasing defense bonds or stamps.

WORKERS FLY TO PANAMA

Third Flight Leaves Brownsville

BROWNSVILLE—A special Pan American Airways plane, carrying 19 government employes, left Brownsville airport Saturday morning for the Panama Canal Zone.

This is the third special PAA flight to leave here during the past week in an effort to rush workers to United States defense projects at the Canal.

Sixty workers have been flown to the Zone in this manner, and approximately 250 more are expected to leave Brownsville for Panama on other "specials" during the next few months.

AIRPORT FUND DRIVE PUSHED

Mexican C-C Helps Edinburg Effort

EDINBURG—Mexican Chamber of Commerce members in Edinburg will join in the campaign to clean up the community's drive for $8,000 to be used in acquiring property for a proposed government air base near Edinburg, Mission and McAllen.

A meeting at which A. Trevino, Edinburg business man, will preside has been called at the chamber of commerce building here Wednesday night, at which plans for the fund-raising work will be discussed.

Harry Cook, manager of the chamber, said the Mexican organization was volunteered to aid in the campaign. Cook and several directors of the chamber will attend the Wednesday night session with Latin American business men.

The $8,000 goal is now in sight, but additonal pledges are needed to make it a certainty, Cook commented. Those who have made pledges to the fund were again asked to make payments on them so the cash could be on hand in time for use when the government calls for the land.

British And Dutch Expect To Battle Japan For Control Of South Pacific

By EDWIN E. HARTRICK

MANILA, P. I.—(NANA)—The British and Dutch expect to face a fight in the next few months for their rich colonial possessions in the South Pacific.

This painful prospect has become more of a reality in the last few weeks. Allied intelligence services have learned that Japan is preparing to move southward. Singapore and the Dutch Indies are working night and day on defenses to meet this threat.

I have just completed a tour of Netherlands East Indies, Singapore, Malaya and Indo-China. There is ample evidence to be found of Japanese plans both for military and economic exploitation of the rich oil, rubber and mineral reserves of the South Pacific.

While censorship now hides many aspects of this crisis, these allied colonics have been placed on a virtual war footing. The Japanese army and navy are completing final phases of their plan to smash the British at Singapore. The British and Dutch realize that Japan is not an isolated Axis power operating independently of Berlin. Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka is expected to push the button at the proper moment, translating the South Pacific program into action shortly.

Meanwhile, Japanese nationals are evacuating Singapore, Hongkong and the Dutch Indies. Those remaining behind are acting as agents, working with native nationalist groups in the Indies, the Malaya States and Indo-China to build up a fifth column. The Japanese fleet is maintaining a coastal patrol of Indo-China in the Gulf of Siam and the South China sea.

A suspiciously large number of young Japanese have been sent to Nipponese-owned iron and tin mines in the Malaya peninsula. The Japanese navy is working with German raiders, numbering 12 ships, based in the Caroline and Marshall islands northeast of the Dutch Indies.

However, most serious bit of information picked up by the British is the fact that the Japanese have been concentrating large numbers of troops, probably over 10,000, on Hainan and Spratly island in the South China sea. Tokyo has also been sending planes and munitions to the Thailand air force. These are ostensibly "loaned" or "sold."

Secret Bases Built

In Indo-China, Japanese military and aviation experts have been building new secret air bases designed for use only in one direction —southward. With co-operation from Thailand and with the power to take over all of Indo-China, the Japanese soon will be in a position to launch air, naval or land attacks against the Malay peninsula and Singapore in their planned conquest of the oil, tin and rubber reserves.

I have visited both the RAF and Australian air force bases in Malaya. Every day, the personnel is engaged in practicing tropical air warfare. They are equipped with modern Brewster Buffalos, Lockheed-Hudson and Bristol-Blenheim bombers, and other new fighting types.

In the Malaya jungles thousands of Australians are digging out fortifications to meet any land attack of the Japanese from Siam or Indo-China. The Australians have established a record of advancing a mile a day through the densest jungle underbrush.

Neutral military observers estimate that British defenses of the Singapore area are now adequate against any Pacific blitzkrieg. However, because of the battle of the Atlantic and tremendous demands on the British navy in the Mediterranean, Singapore suffers from a noticeable and disturbing lack of warships, cruisers and destroyers.

South of Singapore, the defense situation in the Indies is the grimmest picture for the Allies. The Dutch are clamoring for more American light bombers and fighter planes, which they can't get because of the priority demanded by Washington and London. The Dutch navy is rushing construction of a fleet of "mosquito boats" as a defense against Japanese troop convoys. The straits of Makashar and the approaches to Java through Banda are partially mined and can be easily shut tight by the Dutch naval force.

At strategic points along the coast, secret and heavy fortifications have been built in the dense jungle. Key bridges and roads in Java are mined. The colonial government has made its preparations to move to Bandoeing, a mountain resort, if and when an invasion occurs.

An oversize secret police force is watching all aliens, particularly the Japanese, to nip any fifth column movement in the bud.

Poker is the most popular game with 22 per cent of American card-playing men.

2 TRANSPORT STRIKES ARE SETTLED NOW

Teamsters, Transit Men Are On Job

By The Associated Press

Peaceful settlements of labor disputes involving transportation workers in the great defense production areas of New York and Pittsburgh were reached Saturday.

Mayor F. H. LaGuardia announced an agreement averting a threatened strike in Gotham's city-owned transit system on which thousands travel daily to scores of factories and shipping centers concerned with defense goods.

Cancel Walkout

The Transport Workers Union (CIO) and the city agreed, LaGuardia said, to continue an existing contract until the courts could decide whether the city can legally contract with the union in the future. That meant cancellation of a union order for a walkout of 32,000 workers at midnight Monday the time at which the present contract expires.

The union demands a $1 a day increase for all employes. Rates now range from the minimum of $24.96 a week for car cleaners to the maximum figure for motormen of $53.

Teamsters Back

At Pittsburgh, AFL teamsters agreed to return to work, ending a walkout of about 1,200 men which began 28 days ago and which interfered with the shipment and handling of defense materials in Pittsburgh's munitions mills.

The strikers agreed to go back to their jobs under a proposal of the Defense Mediation Board for increases of six cents an hour for some classifications and 10 cents for others. The union originally demanded a flat 10-cent boost over the basis rate of 85 cents an hour. Final determination on the dispute will be made by the board at a series of meetings to begin Monday.

SOLONS SLAP LATIN MEATS

Hull, Wickard Notes Read In Senate

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Correspondence between Secretary of State Hull and Secretary of Agriculture Wickard was presented to the Senate Saturday by Senator O'Mahoney pointed out that Hull with his protest against imports of Argentine meats.

O'Mahoney and other senators from western livestock producing areas joined Friday in criticizing an announcement by the Argentine minister of agriculture that the United States had agreed to permit meat imports from Tierra del Fuego, southernmost tip of South America and under control of Argentina.

O'Mahoney charged this agreement was arranged without knowledge of Congress and in violation of an understanding among officials and livestock interests here that no fresh, chilled or frozen meats would be imported if United States military forces were allowed to purchase up to 20,000,000 of canned meats from South American countries.

No Hoof And Mouth?

O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) in connection had written the Agriculture Department April 10 requesting it to obtain an interpretation of the present law, banning imports of fresh meats from countries where the hoof and mouth disease existed, that might allow imports from Tierra del Fuego.

The Hull letter included a memorandum from the Argentine ambassador which pointed out that Tierra del Fuego was separated by water from both Argentina and Chile and so might be considered as a separate "country" under the prohibitory law and so allowed to export meat and livestock to the United States.

Finns In Aalands

Demilitarized Zone Is Re-Occupied

STOCKHOLM, Sweden—(AP)—Dagens Nsheter, People's Party newspaper, reported Saturday that Finnish forces have landed on the Aaland Islands off the southern tip of Finland, which were demilitarized last year by agreement with Soviet Russia.

The newspaper said eight Soviet consuls and 30 staff members stationed on the islands probably have left.

(Finnish authorities denied Friday night that German activities in Finland menace the Soviet Union and officially branded as "a malicious lie" a Moscow declaration that Russian attacks in Finland were aimed against German objectives. The Finns charged devastating raids were made against civilian centers, vessels and coastal bases.)

Pat Harrison Rites Are Slated Sunday

CRYSTAL SPRINGS, Miss.—(AP)—Memorial services for the late Senator Pat Harrison are scheduled at 6 p.m. Sunday at the old Methodist camp meeting and Chataque grounds here, where Harrison lived as a boy and where he first became a member of the Methodist Church.

Tributes to the distinguished solon include a telegram from President Roosevelt suggesting that the meeting grounds, now a 30-acre park on which the WPA recently erected a latticed pavilion, be named for Harrison "as a lasting tribute to his memory."

Government Girls Pray For A Prince Charming But There Just Aren't Enough To Go Around

By SIGRID ARNE
AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON — This town definitely is not the answer to a maiden's prayer. That is, if maidens still are praying for a Prince Charming.

Washington has too few Prince Charmings to go around. The last census reports that there are only 91.1 men here for every 100 women. That's the greatest disproportion registered anywhere in the country.

So the stories of lonesomeness are legion.

Here's one from a 35-year-old secretary who's earning $3,200. She's a trim brunette frim the Mississippi valley.

"Dates? Sure, I have plenty. But you know why? They figure I'll put in a good word to the boss. They're gallant. We eat at good places. They send me flowers. And they wouldn't recognize me on the street, if they met me a second time.

"I LIVE in a one-room apartment. Gave up living with other girls. You know what happened when four of us lived together? We had a big apartment and a housekeeper. We made an agreement we wouldn't ever fight. We agreed that if we felt ourselves getting angry we'd go to our rooms and close the door. Do you know, there was always at least one door closed. So I live alone.

"I don't think I've been out with a man in a year who took me out because he thought I was attractive. It doesn't mean a thing. Why don't I go back home? Huh! I can't. I'm supporting part of the family. The future? I'll get pensioned at 65."

The disproportion has a subtle, creeping influence that adds insult to injury. The Prince Charmings soon find there is a premium on their company, so they lose their right to the title of "charming."

THIS was told me by a pretty redhead from upper New York state. She's so hungry for a home of her own (she's 32) that last year she took $1,000 from her savings and furnished her apartment as she would have were she a bride. She has a date, usually, on Saturday night. After all, red hair is red hair. But it always winds up in disillusion.

Her last man was a divorcee, manager of an auto compnay. He talked marriage. The last two Saturday nights he arrived at 11 p. m. for dates set at 7 p. m. The second time the red-head asked why. He blew up, went to the phone, called another girl for a date, and left.

THE end of the road was described to me by a charming gray-haired woman of 55 who lives next to me. Night after night, around 9:30, I hear her piano begin to roll out Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata." Then she works on through Chopin. She plays superbly. She has a tired stoop, a gentle smile, and she wears feminine, frilly things, mostly in soft blue, I wondered.

She finally told me she had meant to be a concert pianist. But her father died, and she grabbed a $1,440 stenographer's job in the Department of Agriculture, leaving her home in Dallas, and all her friends. That was 25 years ago.

Now she lives alone in a good apartment. She makes $4,200. She never entertains. She goes to occasional concerts with another gray-haired woman. Once a month an elderly beau takes her to dinner. He's been doing it for 10 years. But he's never talked of marriage.

She says: "I get so hungry for men's talk—it's different—that I just go on seeing him. Of course, we're too old to marry. A woman is old at 27 here, you know. The young ones—18 and 20—get dates. But you marry before 27, or else."

* * *

SO I talked to an 18-year-old. She's from Wyoming, and she's a handsome, brisk person. She has one beau. At home she had six, usually. So she's sensitive. The other night she turned down a date. She's afraid he'll find out he's the only one. Then she flung herself on her bed for a good cry. At 9 she went down to the corner drug-store for a chocolate soda. Then she came home, washed her stockings, pressed her dress, and read a love story.

SIGNS of social maladjustment here astound out-of-towners. They're in the restaurants, on the streets, at movies, in the parks. Everywhere are groups of women —from four to twelve of them—out seeking diversion.

Five o'clock on Saturday is the girls' witching hour. They save their pennies all week for a good dinner "with the gang." They reserve a table some place where they can get a cocktail for 25 cents and dinner for 75 cents. The tip is a dime.

They dress up to impress each other. The older ones often take two or three cocktails. Their voices get a little shrill. They get up and dance together. Then they trot off to a movie and that's a big evening.

OF COURSE plenty Washington women marry. But "guv'ment clerks" marry "guv'ment clerks." Even the combined salaries don't make for too-good living here. The wife goes on working. They can't afford a comfortable eight-room house like Dad and Mother have back home. They live in a little apartment. Their friends live in little apartments. It's different.

It's different like this: I dropped in to get the other side of the story from a good-looking bachelor with a good salary. Sure, he could date every night in the week if he wanted to. How long ahead does he make appointment? What did I mean? He just phones at the end of the day, if he feels like going out.

"Marry any of them?" he chuckled. "I should say not. I'm marrying the girl from back home.

When? When I get around to it. There's no hurry."

You Can't Even Depend On Words; They Also Become Corrupt And Dishonest; They've Changed A Lot

By FRANK COLBY

Words, like persons, sometimes become degenerated, corrupted, and, accordingly, completely dishonest.

The English language (which actually is not "English," but is a polyglot of Teutonic and Romance dialects spiced with borrowings from almost every other known tongue), contains hundreds of turncoat words that, by centuries of misuse, have completely lost or entirely reversed their original meanings.

Call a man an IDIOT and you have insulted him. But the word has not always meant a dullard, a simpleton, an imbecile. The original Greek word, IDIOTES, merely designated a private citizen not engaged in any public office, as contrasted with priests and public officials.

A PAGAN, to begin with, was not one that worshipped false gods or was an irreligious person. The word derives from the Latin pagus, village, and meant simply a villager, a peasant.

Likewise, HEATHEN once was a most respectable term. It was an honest, bucolic word from the Anglo-Saxon haeth (heath), and meant a dweller in the country, or "on the heath."

If you had lived in the Middle Ages, you would not have resented being spoken of as SILLY. The word did not mean foolish, simple, fatuous. No: A silly person was good, kind, cheerful, fortunate, happy. The original word was spelled SEELY. Its correct meaning survives today in the German SELIG, blessed, happy, blissful.

Are you a BLACKGUARD? Not today, fortunately. But, in the time of the Tudors when the word was coined, you, as a member of the royal GUARD, would have worn your BLACK uniform with pride.

Shakespeare wrote: "What a brazenfaced VARLET art thou!" And there is no mistaking his meaning: knave; low fellow; scoundrel. But, during the Crusades, varlets were young noblemen apprenticed to knights for instruction in chivalry and the bearing of arms.

When Junior's naughtiness has given us an especially trying day, we threaten to spank the little IMP; and we thus use a quite proper word, for its literal meaning is a bud or shoot of a tree, hence, by extension, an offspring, a child. In the Beauchamp Chapel at Warwick, England, is an epitaph, dated 1584, that reads: "Here resteth the body of the noble Impe Robert of Dudley, sonne of Robert Erle of Lycester."

Our highest title of respect for a woman is the word LADY. But the word has a very humble, indeed menial, origin. It has evolved from the Anglo-Saxon HLAEFDIGE, which meant "loaf maid," or the kneader and baker of bread.

A LORD originally was not a nobleman nor a deity. Lord is the modern form of the Anglo-Saxon HLAFWEARD, the keeper of the loaf, hence, the guardian of the household food supply.

In Methodism, a STEWARD is one of the officers that are in charge of the finances and temporal interests of the church. Imagine the shocked surprise of a dignified steward who learns that the word has grown out of the Middle English STIWARD: The warden of the sty, or the keeper of the pigs!

The modern term for one that seeks office is CANDIDATE. But the Latin word from which it sprang, candidus, means "glittering white." What possible connection can there be? An aspirant to office in ancient Rome went about in public with his robes made spotlessly white with chalk. The glittering whiteness of his garments symbolized the purity of his purpose in seeking election to public office. CANDID and CANDOR have the same origin.

CHURCH ASKS DEFENSE AID

Special Offering To Be Taken Sunday

MISSION — Valley Presbyterian churches have been called upon to cooperate in a national plan outlined by the Southern Presbyterian Assembly as a defense measure which is a part of the Defense Service Council organized by the denomination. Special offerings will be taken Sunday to raise a goal of $100,000 set by the assembly to carry on a planned program of ministering to the men in service and their families.

Funds received in the offering will be used for securing spiritual literature to be distributed to men of the denomination who are in service, aiding Presbyterian chaplains, carrying on service programs in the camps and cooperating with other denominations and agencies. Churches within reach of army camps and naval bases will carry on an activity program to provide worship, religious activities, recreation and social life and personal help to the men in training, according to the plan developed. The funds received in the special offering will enable the church to meet the challenge and provide for giving spiritual ministry without delegating it to other agencies, according to the plan developed by the church assembly.

Since it is certain that one army camp will be located at Harlingen and strong possibility that a second one will be located near Mission, Valley Presbyterian ministers have pointed out the need for development of a local program as outlined by the assembly. Services at the Valley churches of the denomination Sunday will stress the objectives of the fund.

Dallas Cops Probing Imitation Nazi Flag

DALLAS — (AP) — Highland Park police Saturday were investigating the finding of a crudely-made imitation Nazi flag at the Armstrong School, site of an election box in Saturday's special senatorial election.

The flag was found by the school janitor waving on the school's flag staff. It had apparently been cut from a white bed sheet. On it a blue circle had been drawn with an orange Swastika in the center in colored crayon. At the lower right corner, "Heil Hitler," had been lettered.

Russia Goes Calmly About Celebrating Memory Of Writer

MOSCOW —(AP)— While furious, large-scale warfare rages on a wide front to the west, Russia's millions of civilians go calmly about their daily life far behind the lines.

Elaborate plans were announced Friday for the celebration of the 10th anniversary, July 27, of the death of the Russian poet Mikhail Lermontov. New editions of his works are being published and daily radio programs are devoted to acquainting the public with his life and literary significance.

Arkansas Now Faces Motor Coach Strike

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—(AP)—More than a score of drivers and mechanics of the Arkansas Motor Coaches walked out Saturday, tying up the company's operations between Memphis and Texarkana.

Otto DeBate of Detroit, organizer of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Eelectric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America (AFL), charged that the company had violated a recent contract fixing a salary schedule for the drivers and mechanics.

There are 35 summer open air theaters operating in Germany this summer, the German Press service reports.

MICA EXPORT BAN ORDERED

Get License Form Now, Appeal

BROWNSVILLE — All products containing mica, a mineral, will require a license for their export from this country, beginning July 2, according to a recent ruling of the State Department in Washington, copies of which have been received at the Brownsville custom office.

Also, on or after July 1, there are new forms required for consumption entry, and according to custom house officials, all importers should obtain these new forms, as the forms in their possession now are no longer valid and will not be accepted.

Effective June 20 past, a license was required for the export of all petroleum products, including crude oil, gasoline, naptha, kerosene (which includes all burning oils), lubricating greases, parafin wax, liquified petroleum gases, petroleum asphalt and petroleum coke, customs officers said.

Among the products containing mica are radios and primarily all electrical equipment.

One out of every 20 trucks operating on United States highways is owned by federal, state, or local governments.

Recipe for getting Extra Action out of thin air

IT'S a cinch to build an automobile engine that's either one thing or another.

You can go in for power – if you don't mind the gas consumption – or you can shoot for economy if stirring action doesn't matter.

What's tough is building a car with two good ideas under its bonnet – like this Buick FIREBALL eight with Compound Carburetion.†

One idea is that it doesn't make sense to use a big, gas-gulping carburetor for easy going when you need only a little one.

The other is that you might as well have plenty-power on call when you can get it out of thin air!

So this Buick has two smaller carburetors instead of a single middling-size to big one.

One of them frugally handles all your low-power, easy-going travel.

The other swings in any time you press down the gas treadle – and gives more lift and wallop – by increasing the supply of air!

Results include: More horsepower – and gas economy running as high as 10% to 15% above previous Buicks, according to owners.

Interesting? Then better get prices and see how little it costs to get this extra action – plus extra room, extra size, extra comfort and extra style.

$930 for the Business Coupe (illustrated above) including Compound Carburetion, delivered at Flint, Mich. State tax, optional equipment and accessories – extra. Prices and specifications subject to change without notice.

†Available at slight extra cost on Buick SPECIAL models, standard on all other Series.

ARMY WOULD DECLARE US EMERGENCY?

Want To Keep Troops In Service, Said

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Word circulated at the capitol Saturday that the War Department wanted a congressional declaration of a national emergency and brought out immediate manifestations of opposition.

Such a declaration would permit national guardsmen and selective service trainees to be kept in active service indefinitely, and would also lift the present restriction on the president's powers to send troops out of the western hemisphere.

'Storm of Protest'

Representative Woodrum (D-Va) expressed his views in the House by declaring that such a proposal would bring a "little storm of protest by one member of Congress who has gone 100 per cent with the administration's foreign policy."

And Representative Starnes (D-Ala) said Congress and the people were ready to spend any amount and exert whatever effort was required to safeguard the western hemisphere, but that there was no plan or intention of this country's going to war.

In executive departments, meantime, the defense program itself was pushed ahead and there were new moves to ease its impact on civilians.

Radio Detector

The War Department disclosed development of a radio device capable of detecting approach of enemy aircraft miles away and announced a recruiting program for technicians to man a series of listening posts along the coasts and at island outposts.

The Office of Production Management announced the defense housing projects would be given first call over civilian housing on available supplies of building materials.

The federal power commission formally declared an emergency to exist in southeastern states where there is a power shortage and asked for reduced consumption for non-defense purposes.

Buy Coal Early

From the bituminous coal division came an official acknowledgement that the nation may face a coal shortage this winter due, in part, to over-taxed transportation facilities. The government already is urging householders to buy coal this summer.

The maritime commission reported that work was 60 to 90 days ahead of schedule on most of the 312 "Ugly Duckling" cargo ships ordered in its emergency program. Although the original schedule called for completion of only one ship this year, the commission said 10 might be placed in operation.

PLANE OUTPUT IN DOLDRUMS?

Materials Shortage Is Termed Cause

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Production of military aircraft for the United States and Britain was described authoritatively Saturday as "in the doldrums" and destined to stay there through July and August primarily because of shortages of essential materials.

The low level of output of all types of combat craft, a defense official said, will be reflected in production figures for June which should be made public in about two weeks. A report issued early this month showed the May output was down to 1,334 planes of all types, including trainers, as compared with April production of 1,389.

Several contributing causes were given by an authority in close touch with the program. Among them was the fact that various new models recently were turned out and these had to undergo tests and have various weaknesses remedied before quantity production could be started.

But the principal cause of the slump, it was said, was a shortage of aluminum, magnesium and, to some extent, machine tools. New facilities for increasing the supply of these materials are scheduled to go into production in September and a substantial increase in plane output is due soon thereafter, probably in October.

Month's Mock War Reveals Weak 'Chain Of Command'

General Ben Lear Hits Hard At Army Officers Responsible For Training U. S. Soldiers

By RICE YAHNER

WITH THE ARMY IN TENNESSEE —(AP)— Summing up a month of simulated warfare by 77,000 soldiers under his command, Lieutenant General Ben Lear declared Saturday "our chain of command (from the officers down to the ranks) is weak—weak to the extent that if this condition is allowed to continue, the chain, at its weak links, will break whenever an emergency imposes a heavy load."

A soldier of 43 65-4' years experience, General Lear, commander of the second field army, struck out at a meeting of about 300 staff and field officers assembled to hear his opinion of the maneuvering of the 5th, 27th, and 30th infantry divisions and the second armored division in the field in Tennessee since June 2.

Of the first field test of one of America's new armored divisions, General Lear said "offensive action by armored forces can be restricted and denied freedom of movement by trained and adequately armed troops."

He added:

"The lack of sufficient anti-tank weapons had handicapped all units in providing an effective defense against the armored division. In view of the present importance of the development of an anti-tank defense and as a stimulus to training, this deficiency needs prompt correction."

Much of the General's remarks concerning the month's training were pointedly directed to faults in command which, he said, he had observed personally.

"Cases were found where sergeants, corporals and privates in great numbers did not know the nature and details of the exercises being conducted," the tall, hard-hitting general declared.

"This state of affairs is not the fault of the soldier. It is the fault of the officers above him and it must be corrected. . .

"Dissemination of information, regulations and orders from the division commander to the private should and must be immediate, automatic and of second-nature."

Case Solves Itself For Racket Buster

Then he returned them all with a note explaining he was a great admirer of Jostyn's acting as "Mr. District Attorney," the racket buster.

BROWNSVILLE — The Valley schedule for the American Red Cross school for instructors in life saving and water safety was announced Saturday by V. Lee Mitchell, chairman of the Brownsville chapter's life saving service. The schedule follows:

June 30, Brownsville Country club pool; July 1, San Benito Rotary club pool; July 2, Harlingen, pool to be selected; July 3, 4, and 5, Brownsville Country club pool. All classes will be from 7 to 10 p.m.

Roger Plaisted, representative for the life saving service of the National unit, will be in charge and conduct the instruction. The school will be only for instructors in life saving and water safety work. It is open to both men and women.

Applicants must be at least 19 years of age and in good physical condition. Graduates will be given Red Cross instructors certificates and be expected to teach the work.

Plaisted has been associated with the Red Cross since 1927, and later was director of the Red Cross national aquatic school at Camp Mystic Hunt, Texas.

Additional details of the course can be had by calling Mr. Mitchell at telephone 100 or Mr. Stegman at 737.

US LAUNCHES WELDED SHIP

Land Asks 'Loyalty' Of Shipbuilders

PASCAGOULA, Miss. —(AP)— An appeal to all American shipbuilding workers "to do your jobs and build ships as fast as you can" was made here Saturday by Emory S. Land, chairman of the United States Maritime Commission, on the occasion of launching the "African Comet," first all-welded passenger carrying ship ever built.

In his address called "loyalty," to which he had asked shipbuilding workers everywhere to pause and listen by radio, Land said "this is an appeal for loyalty, for loyalty of the greatest kind, loyalty to the British shipyard workers, loyalty which will preserve their freedom as well as their lives; loyalty to the United States."

The African Comet, of 17,000 tons, is the first of three such ships to be launched this month, in August and September for the American South African Line's service to South and East Africa. They are being built by the Ingalls shipbuilding corporation, in whose yards Land spoke today.

Gen. Hugh A. Drum is the only general now in active service in the U. S. Army who served in the World War as such.

Crime's 15 Billion Cost, If Eliminated, Would Pay For U. S. Defense Program Without Tax, Babson Says

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass. — This week I am writing on probably the most important subject I have ever covered in my column during its 21 years of continuous publication. After a thorough statistical study of the cost of crime, carefully checked with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other government authorities, I make this statement. If crime committed in this country could be eliminated and government peace-time appropriations cut to what they were ten years ago, we could pay for our entire defense program with no increase in taxes and without the issuance of any additional government bonds. Naturally, this terrific annual crime expense of over $15,000,000,000 could not be cut immediately; but enough of it could now be eliminated to go a long way in accomplishing the desired purpose.

Billions Spent For Insurance

Crime places a tremendous economic burden upon every community in which it strikes. There are both direct and indirect losses incurred from crime committed which must be considered in estimating any cost of crime.

The most tangible cost is the private losses in income due to annual burglary, robbery, forgeries, auto thefts, and all other types of theft insurance. There would also be fidelity insurance which would include premiums paid on fidelity policies insuring banks, commercial firms, and private individuals against embezzlements, forgeries, and other defalcations by employees. Riot insurance would also come under this heading.

In the case of losses not covered by insurance, we must consider the direct losses suffered by private citizens from crimes against property which would include arson, malicious mischief, theft and robberies from railroads, express, and similar companies, which carry their own insurance.

Loss In Human Values

Losses due to crimes against the person, such as homicides and wounding and sex offenses, form a large item in any tabulated cost of crime. In homicides, there is a direct loss to the community of the victim's family there is a loss of income. In wounding and maihem, there is a resultant economic loss to the victim and cost of hospitalization, together with the loss of earning power to his family and to the community at large.

Under sex offenses would come prostitutes. Although it is quite possible to estimate the actual loss that might be incurred, still there is bound to be an economic loss to the family of the prostitute as the earning power of the family is decreased thereby. Commercialized fraud, organized extortion, and racketeering losses due to the use of mails to defraud cover a tremendous amount of the tribute paid by society annually in these phases of criminal activity.

35 Per Cent Of Administration Taxes

The cost of administration of criminal justice is a large item in the cost of crime. This, of course, would include Federal, State, county, and city courts. The salaries of officials, guards, and other employees of penal institutions, plus the upkeep of the prisons, correctional institutions, reformatories, certain auditors, bookkeepers, and overhead.

Private citizens suffer heavy losses as victims of gambling or other illegal enterprises, through the bribery of public officials and police officers. These crimes cause alliances to grow up between crooked politicians and organized racketeers and it is the citizen who must pay through taxes for any graft practiced by unethical officeholders and public servants. Another large loss is suffered by honest commercial firms when they are forced to pay tribute to one racketeering organization for "protection" from other racketeering organizations.

and asylums must also be taken course, would include Federal, State, county, city and private. All of these costs are paid by citizens and amounts to about 35 per cent of our state taxes.

Private expenditures for protection against crime, such as most commercial companies have found necessary, must be considered in the cost of crime. This would include their own investigators, detectives and guards, armored car service for the transportation of money and valuables to and from banks and commercial houses, also

Also in the category of indirect losses must be considered the earning power of criminals at large and the earning power of prisoners who are already incarcerated in the penal institutions. When we consider that all these have, to some degree, an earning power which has been diverted from the potential productive class to the "burden" class to be taken care of through taxation, the cost of crime becomes stupendous.

On June 24, 1931, a report prepared under the direction of the National Commission on Law Observance and Enforcement entitled, "Report on the Cost of Crime" was published and copies of this report can be obtained from the United States Government Printing Office. The footnote contained on page 70 of this report reflects an estimated cost of crime and mention is made of an article which appeared in the New York Herald-Tribune of March 21, 1931, which estimated the cost of crime at $18,000,000,000 per year.

This is my solution for the tax problem, the government debt problem, and many other problems.

Hollywood Dog Travels Road From Rags To Riches In One Day, Just Because He Can Bay In Key Of A

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Saturday's version of Hollywood's rags to riches story:

Friday, he was just a sad-eyed brown beagle in an S.C.P.A. shelter.

Saturday, christened Caruso, he's a person of note in the world of dogdom—all because he can bay in the key of A.

None of pictures' high priced poodles, it seems, could bay in the key of A. Some of them couldn't even bay. Most of the others were definitely in the key of G.

So Caruso was plucked from the pound to the set of Warner Bros. "Sergeant York."

G-Men Find Time To Nab Song Salesmen

NEW YORK—(AP)—G-men aren't too busy with spies to take care of other little matters.

For one thing, they swooped down on 11 men selling song sheets on Times Square. It was alleged the sheets contained copyrighted songs.

TO NEW MEXICO

SAN JUAN—Mr. and Mrs. Carl Motley and children, Margaret and J. C., left Tuesday for Albuquerque, New Mexico, where they will visit in the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Fleck. They plan to be gone about two weeks, with the exception of their little son, J. C., who will remain for a longer time for the benefit of his health. Mrs. Fleck is a sister of Mrs. Motley.

GIANT BOMBER TO TEST HOP

Strato-Plane May Be First Of Fleet

MARCH FIELD, Calif.—(AP)—Its maiden flight completed, the Douglas B-19, described by the Army Air Corps as the world's biggest bomber, was groomed Saturday for a long series of test hops which probably will determine whether this country will build a fleet of super-dreadnoughts of the air.

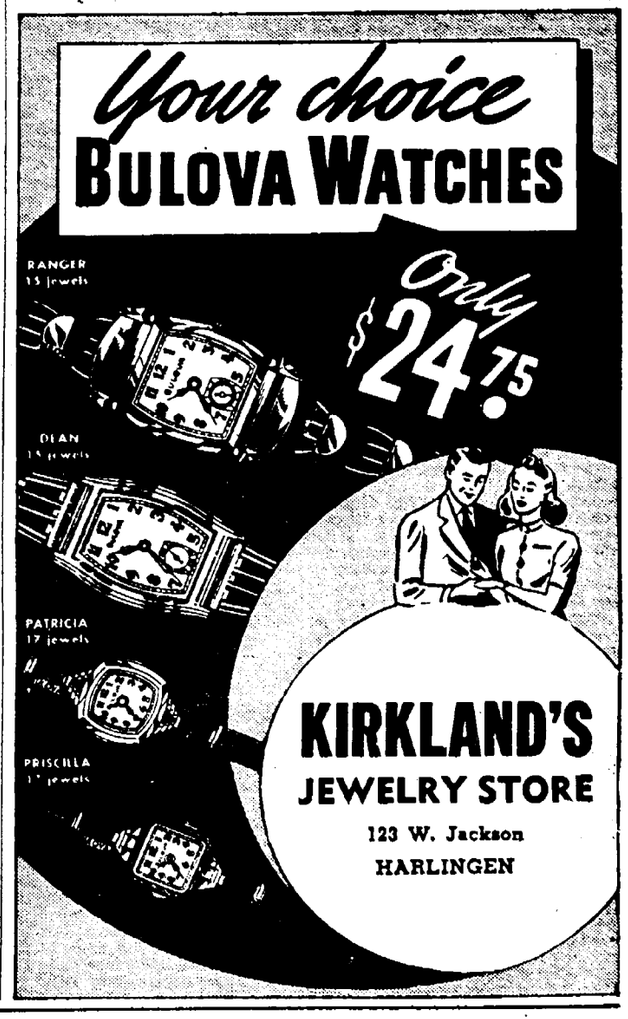

Such a fleet, based on the experimental work which went into the $3,500,000 monster, with a fully loaded weight of 82 tons, is more than a mere possibility.

Responsible military opinion has held ever since the start of the European war that with air power's coming of age, larger, faster and more heavily armed battleplanes inevitably will follow.

For comparison with the big bomber which Friday was flown from the factory at Santa Monica to March field, a distance of 75 miles, the standard American "heavy" bomber in production Saturday weighs about 22 tons.

Stewart Posts Sub-Par Round To Beat Brownell In College Golf Finals

COLUMBUS, O.—(AP)—Earl Stewart, Louisiana State's red-haired 150-pound junior, climbed to the National Intercollegiate golf throne Saturday, firmly grasping as a scepter the magic putter with which he won the right to rule.

Ripping two strokes off par, the straight-shooting kid from Dallas turned in a 3 and 1 victory over Ray Brownell, six-foot three-inch Stanford sophomore, in the 36-hole championship match to succeed F. Dixon Brooke of Virginia, eliminated Friday.

Saturday's finals developed into a ding-dong battle after Stewart had taken a three-up edge at the end of nine holes. The Stanford ace cracked through for three birdies on the back nine, holing putts of 10, 12 and 35 feet, to draw even at the end of 16. They halved 17, and then came the match's big break.

On the 18th, Stewart hooked into a grove of trees while Brownell was in the middle of the dog-leg fairway. Stewart's caddy dropped his bag hitting and moving the L.S.U. youth's ball about two feet.

Referee Ted Payseur of Northwestern University immediately awarded the hole to Brownell, who said "I don't want it that way. Let's play it out."

They played and Stewart won with a par four, going on up at the halfway mark instead of being one down but for Brownell's top-flight sportsmanship.

Odd Figures

We ran across some figures on commercial fishing in the tide waters of Texas in Friday's Corpus Christi Caller and found them quite puzzling to say the least.

According to story in connection with the figures on the commercial catch for May, 1941, the figures were released by J. B. Arnold, coastal division director and were reports that were filed with the coastal division of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission by commercial fish dealers.

It seems that the gist of the story and figures would indicate that commercial fishing in the above mentioned Texas waters showed there was a decided drop in the catch from that of May a year ago.

Yet we added the list of figures that appeared under the May, 1941 column and got a total of 1,800,468 pounds. Then we added the May, 1940 column and reached a total of 1,004,512 pounds. Unless there is a mistake somewhere along the line, this would indicate that the May, 1941 catch was much greater than during May, 1940. And according to the article, the total pounds for May, 1941 were 1,006,370 and for May, 1940, it was 1,810,379. At least these were the figures we are looking at as this is being written.

You must admit that the figures are a bit confusing to say the least.

And to make this more difficult, one paragraph of the story in connection with the figures states "The largest single increase for May of 1941, was in the taking of shrimp. A total of 1,516,373 pounds of shrimp was taken last month as compared to 329,181 pounds in April. In May, 1940, only 774,748 pounds were taken."

All the while we were reading this most interesting article concerning commercial fishing in Texas tide waters, we could not help but wonder what proportion of this catch was made in the vicinity of Corpus Christi. And what proportion of the catch came from the coastal waters near Port Isabel. For one, we would like to see some figures on this. And we do not know whether the coastal division of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission has such a breakdown of figures. Yet it might be obtained from the reports as turned in by each individual commercial fish dealer.

Maybe all this is just because we are not so good at figures or had some idle time on our hands. But it did leave us all confused.

If someone will straighten us out, we will appreciate it very much. And if there were any errors in the story and the figures, we will be glad to help correct them. Or if we are all wrong we will apologize and admit the fact.

An Invitation

The other day we mentioned the fact that when it rained, there was always a bunch of disgruntled golfers standing around Harlingen.

They wanted to play golf but it seemed the Valley courses were closed—or at least they thought so.

The mail brings a note from S. E. Tilton of the Edinburg Country Club containing the information that the Edinburg course is never closed on account of wet weather. All of which should be good news to the shotmakers who want to play regardless of the weatherman's bad moods.

The Edinburg course is in excellent condition according to all reports. In fact the greens and fairways are near perfect and will be kept that way.

Manager Tilton issues an invitation to all Valley golfers to play the course before, during and after a rain.

Hard Luck Hurler

There is much more behind the pitching record of Bucky Walters this season than is disclosed on the surface. Bucky has done about as well this year as he did in 1939 and 1940, during which two years he won a total of 49 games for the Reds. The breaks have been against him this spring, whereas in the other two seasons he received a normal amount of good fortune.

Only once this season has Bucky allowed more than four runs in a single game. That one occasion was against Brooklyn. One off day certainly was due this great pitcher, who has done such a magnificent job since he came to the Reds from the Phillies in June of 1938.

There is no greater competitor in baseball than Bucky Walters. He's a fellow who is at his best when the going is toughest. He's a fellow who takes the breaks, good or bad, in stride ,and he is not one to get "down" over things over which he has no control.

Greatest example of Bucky's perfect temperament came in New York, on the Reds' first trip there, when Bucky was winning a brilliant hurling duel from Hal Schumacher. Came the ninth inning, with the score 1 to 0 for the Reds. Mel Ott, the league's leading home run hitter, was the batter. It was a dangerous position, particularly at the Polo Grounds, where the right field fence is made to order for a hitter of Ott's type. Bucky fooled the slugger and forced him to lift a puny foul fly, between third and home, that dropped to the ground without being caught. Many pitchers would have shown great emotion at such a bad break, but not Bucky. He didn't even change his expression but there on the mound, but went right back at the business of retiring Ott again, which he did on the next pitch. That was a true example of great sportsmanship, temperament and competitive spirit.

Brower Returns To Texas Loop

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — Lou Brower came back home to the Texas League Saturday.

Recently released as manager of the Waterloo, Ia., Three-Eve team, the 35-year-old veteran was signed as a player by Owner John Holland of the Oklahoma City Indians.

"We're going to use him in one of the Dallas games here Sunday," said Holland, after he watched old "Lou-Lu" in a one-man workout on an off-day here which found the Indians in Fort Worth.

So Brower, regular shortstop with the Tribe for four years, bounces home again along the comeback trail, trying to make the grade again at a new position. His old short-stop post is being handled adeptly by Herman "Flea" Clifton, newcomer from Syracuse, N. Y., so he'll probably try for second base.

Lou was a bench manager at Waterloo and hasn't done any consistent playing since 1939, when he played 76 games with Tulsa. He divided time in 1938 between here and Tulsa, hitting .237 in 126 games and batting in 50 runs.

RACING

NEW YORK —(AP)— William Woodward's Fenelon won the 53rd running of the historic Brooklyn Handicap at Aqueduct Saturday, finishing nearly three lengths in front of his nearest rival.

Arnold Hanger's Dit was second and Mrs. George D. Widener's Your Chance was third in the field of six.

The four-year old son of Sir Galahad III, just rounding into the form which made him one of the leading three-year olds of last year, ran the mile and a quarter in 2:03-3-5, just three-fifths of a second off the track record. Jimmy Stout was the jockey.

He returned $6.40 for each $2 win ticket.

The victory was worth $19,250 to the winner.

In the secondary feature on the card, B. , Whitaker's Requested won the Great American Stakes, six-furlong dash for two year olds, in 1:12-2-3. Under Eddie Arcaro's riding, he finished a length and a half in front of Jock Whitney's Buster, with R. B. Strassburger's Louisville II third.

Two Records Fall In AAU Meet

Stars Seek Senior Titles Today

By BILL BONI

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— The 53rd National A.A.U. Track and Field Championships opened Saturday at Franklin Field with two records broken, one tied—and veteran Joe McCluskey the center of attention because for once in his long running career he was unable to finish a race.

McCluskey was leading the field in the 10,000 meter run, which is 376 yards and 4 inches longer than six miles, and looked to be in good shape as he finished the 20th of his 24 laps. But as he passed the checking station the next time he was tying up badly.

McCluskey struggled on, gamely in quest of his 24th National championship in 12 years of running, but he was almost out on his feet when Paul Pilgrim, New York A. C. athletic director, finally pulled him off the track. He collapsed and had to be carried to the center of the field, where he finally recovered sufficiently to be taken to a hospital.

Dr. Joseph Levy, who attended McCluskey, diagnosed his condition as cardiac and heat collapse and stiffening of the muscles. And it definitely ruled him out of Sunday's 3,000 meter steeplechase, in which he was the favorite.

Don Lash, winner of the 10,000 a year ago, dropped out after only six laps.

The race was run for both senior and junior titles and Lou Gregory of New York's Millrose A.A., picked up where McCluskey left off to take the senior championship in 33 minutes 11 seconds. Ted Volmer of the San Francisco Olympic Club, the runner-up, became junior champion and was caught in 33:23.7.

With the exception of this race and the 3,000 meter walk, also run for both, Saturday's competition was for the junior champions, open to athletes who never have won National, N.C.A.A., of I.C. 4-A. titles in their specialties.

The record breakers were Edward Culp of Xavier College in New Orleans, a slim Negro lad who clipped a full second off the meet mark for 1,500 meters, and Bill Stewart, University of Southern California freshman who pushed the meet's high jump "ceiling" to 6 feet 8 3-8 inches.

Culp won by 15 yards over Theodore Nebrich of Buffalo. His time was 3:55.1, compared to the 3:56.1 turned in two years ago at Lincoln, Neb., by John Munski of Missouri.

The one record equalled was in the 100 meter dash, in which Peyton Jordan of the Southern California A.A. streaked into the tape a good 10 feet in front in 10.4 seconds.

Two men were double winners. Bill Cummins of Houston, a Rice Institute hurdler, scored decisively both at 110 and 200 meters. Clarence Lewis of the Rankin C.C. in Pittsburgh, first won the broad jump and then added to it the hop, step and jump.

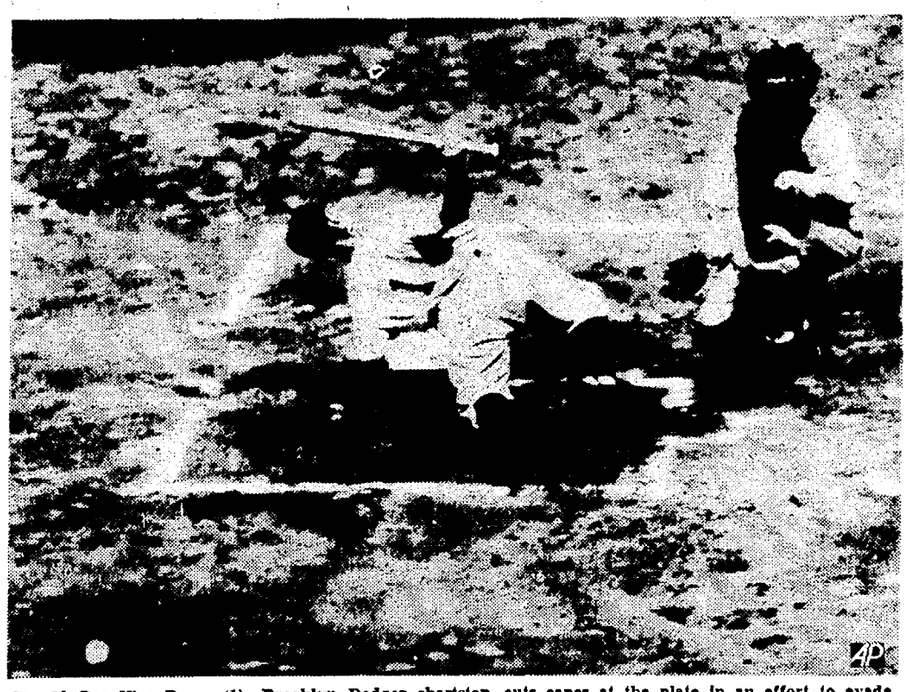

The crowd hit a peak of 15,000. At least double that number are expected Sunday, when the senior titles will bring into action runners like Les MacMitchell, Walter Mehh, Greg Rice., Harold Davis and Grover Klemmer; hurlers like Joe Batiste and Fred Wolcott, and field event men such as Al Blozis, Les Steers, Cornelius Warmerdam and Earle Meadows.

Final team standings:

University of Southern California A.A. 53 points; Penn A.C., Philadelphia, 39; University of New Hampshire, 33; Michigan Normal 31; Xavier, New Orleans, 26; Asbury Park, N. J. A.C. and New York A.C. tied at 21; Olympic Club, San Francisco, and Rankin C.C., Pittsburgh, tied at 20.

Bullfight

Is Set At Matamoros This Afternoon

MATAMOROS—All is set for the big bullfight scheduled to start promptly at 4 p.m. Sunday at the local bullring with Jose Gonzalez "Carnicerito" and Carlos Arruza fighting to death six Zacatepec fighting stock bulls in a fight that will probably be a memorable one in the annals of bullfighting in the Valley.

"Carnicerito," who is rated as a "master" of the art of sticking the darts in the bull's back, is also an elegant cape artist and has been known to perform such daring tricks as the one pictured above. Another of his specialties is breaking the long (24 inch banderillas) darts in half or less and going to the very edge of the ring, incites the bull to charge and with a deft and swift motion sticks the darts in the enraged animal's back and eludes death by inches. "Carniceri-to" has been gored several times while performing this feat, but he is said to consider a thrill for the public that sees him fight of more importance than getting gored. He is also a good cape artist and a past hand at the rapier with which he kills the bulls.

Carlos Arruza is an up-and-coming bullfighter who is young and daring. He performed in the Matamoros ring while still in the early stages of his career and is said to be developing into a first class fighter. He was very good at cape work during the early stages of his rise to an enviable position among the younger bullfighters of Mexico.

Tickets were selling fast Saturday and a large crowd is expected.

The street to the ring has been graded and fans will have no difficulty in getting to the bullring.

The fight starts promptly at 4 p.m.

Hughes Making Bid For Rookie-Of-Year Honors

By BILL BRANDT

A 3-hit shutout of the Cincinnati Reds, followed by a one-hitter against the Chicago Cubs, makes Tommy Hughes, 21-year-old freshman pitcher of the Phillies, a red-hot candidate for the 1941 major league Rookie-of-the-Year laurel wreath.

Young Toom's budding big league fireworks bid fair to make him THE Tom Hughes before he's finished. It's a great pitching name, Tom Hughes, and there were no less than TWO oldtime pitchers whose hill heroics gilded the name with glamour. Yet today Tom Hughes, 3rd (no relation to the first two) mayy turn out to be most famous of all.

Tom, 1st, known as "Long Tom," pitched a no-hitter for the New York Highlanders over Cleveland in the American League in 1910. In 1916 he no-hitted the Pittsburgh Pirates while working for the Boston Braves.

Tom, 3rd, is just starting out. Only five years ago he was a high school first-baseman who made the team on the strength of his hitting. Hanover Township High, on the outskirts of Wilkesbarre, Pa., made the Lehigh Valley finals. The pitching staff cracked in the crisis. The coach in desperation lined up all the strong arms on the squad. After trying two other fellows, it came Tommy's turn. Our hero proceeded to unfurl a 2-hit victory. P. S.—He got the job.

It's Horatio Alger from then on Having previously been content just to sock spheres instead of spending his time trying to foil sphere-socksers, life had been rather free and easy for young Tom. But when the coach appointed him pitcher, he decided to buckle down and get to be a real ace of the mound.

He hung up an old tire on the back fence and practiced control. The tire became too big a target, so he switched to a peach basket. He really felt he was getting some place when a 6-inch hole in the garage door clicked as his daily warm-up partner.

College beckoned. Duke was too far. Tommy decided on Washington College, Chestertown, Md., alma mater of Bill (Cubs) Nicholson, in the fall of '38. But before spring, he was signed by the Baltimore Orioles and by summer he was pitching for Dover, Del., on option.

Tom, 3rd's pitching success in his brief professional career has been nothing less than super-sensational. At Dover he never did get beat, winning 9 Eastern Shore League decisions. His ERA was 1.83. He had 85 strikeouts in 80 innings pitched. His eighth win was a 2-1 10-inning job. He fanned 13, three of them in the seventh after Pocomoke City loaded the bases.

At the tender age of 20 last year he won 14 International League games for the Orioles against 9 defeats. He was real hot in August. On the 11th, relieving in the seventh inning, he pitched 9 1-3 shutout innings against Newark, allowing 2 hits, winning out in the 16th. On August 26 he had a 2-hitter against Syracuse.

Even when they get to first base on Tom, 3rd, he's not through with them. At 21 he's master of an art a lot of pretty fair pitchers never learn their whole life long, namely, picking the runner off the bag. Tom's a terror at that trick, especially at second base. The next best thing to seeing the second base pickoff portrayed in Ethan Allen's National League movie, "Winning Baseball," is to watch Tom, 3rd, perform it some day when the Phils are playing and some opponent gets as far as second.

Boxers Prep For Golden Gloves

McALLEN—Practicing for their Golden Gloves matches to be held this summer, 12 Weslaco amateur mittmen worked out at George Chapapas' arena here Friday night.

Trained by Ben Hoepfner and E. Harruon, the boxers include Donald Anderson, Dick Carpenter, Jack Sloan, Bob Curbo, Carson Hoge, Red O'Leary, Charles Lackey, Joe Loredo, Manuel Cirilo, Ruben Harmon, Jesus Hernandez, and John Singleton.

They are sponsored by the Weslaco Lions Club. They are to meet a similar group from McAllen at Weslaco July 9.

Players Take Over As Major Cmpires

BOSTON—(AP)—Freddy Fitzsimmons, Brooklyn pitcher, and Johnny Cooney, Boston outfielder, were pressed into service as umpires in the Dodgers-Braves game Saturday when the assigned officials were delayed in arriving.

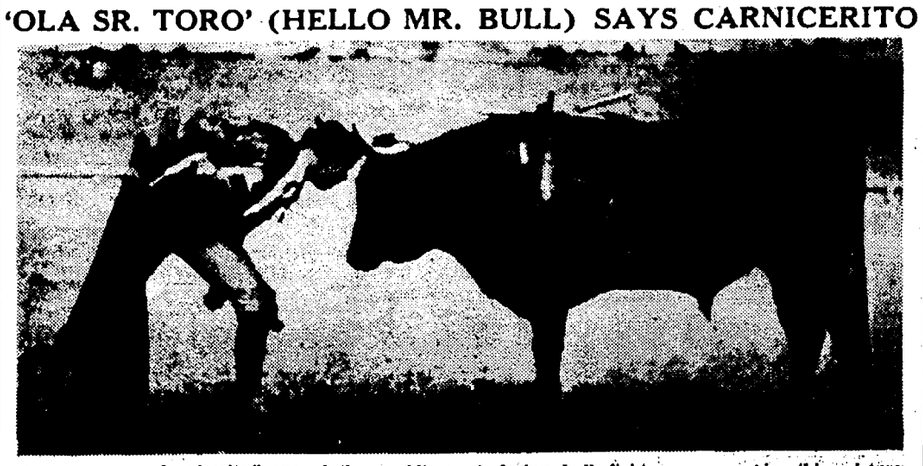

The three umpires made the trip from New York via boat, which was delayed by a heavy fog.

Fitzsimmons consented to umpire after a moment's hesitation. Cooney was called in after Coach George Keelly of the Braves turned down the job.

"The umpires don't like me and I don't want to give any of them the chance to say I'm looking for one of their jobs," wise-cracked Kelly.

'OLA SR. TORO' (HELLO MR. BULL) SAYS CARNICERITO

Joe Hunt In Rare Form As He Gives Navy First College Tennis Trophy

HAVERFORD Pa. — (AP) — Joe Hunt, of the Naval Academy, took less than an hour—54 minutes to be exact—to defeat Ted Olewine 6-3, 6-0, 6-1 Saturday to win the National Intercollegiate tennis championship at Merion Cricket Club Saturday.

The Annapolis star gave a perfect demonstration of how the nation's No. 4 ranked men's player hits them in defeating the University of Southern California sophomore. In one streak Hunt won ten straight games.

Hunt, seeded favorite, lost the championship last year on the same courts to Don McNeill, of Kenyon College. But Saturday it was a different story. The Navy player took an early 3-0 lead in the first set and continued to pile up placements and deadly chop shots to carry him to an easy victory.

The University of Southern California player, second seeded in the tourney, came back to team with Charlie Mattmann and win the doubles championship from Bill Canning and Bob Hippenstiel, of the University of California, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4.

The 22?year-old midshipman's victory gave the Navy its first championship in the 57-year history of the tournament and the East its fourth champ since Julius Seligson, of Lehigh, won in 1928.

McAllen Cards 'Top' Softball Games For Fete

Contests Scheduled July 3 And 4

McALLEN — Headlined by four choice games during the Fourth of July celebration, this week's softball schedule here offers fans their best menu of the season.

Houston's well-known Southern Pacific team, who travel in their own special coach, will be seen the night of July 4 in a doubleheader, tangling with Sharyland T. C. X. and McAllen. They appeared here two months ago, trimming two teams nicked from the county's outstanding players, 7-4 and 4-3.

Ronald Romo is scheduled to bring down his unedefated Grand Ranids girls of San Antonio for a night game July 3 and a 5 p. m. encounter July 4. Romo rates his present squad much stronger than the one that split a pair of games with local teams last year.

Delayed by rain, an outside tournament, and schedule misunderstandings, the McAllen City League will resume its regular play Monday night, when Pharr and Sharyland play. The winner will be in first place, since the Pharr Garagemen, current leaders, are only a half-game ahead of Sharyland. A loss for the T. C. X. ten would put them in a tie for second with McAllen's Lions, who are a half-game behind them at present.

McAllen's girls finally swing into action again by tangling with the Center Grocery ten of Brownsville here at 8 p. m. Monday.

In Tuesday night's games, Pharr plays McAllen and Sharyland meets Mission.

Long-heralded, the church league will get under way Wednesday night. The Pharr Baptists are to meet the McAllen Christian team. Other league members are the McAllen Baptist and Methodist churches. League officials pointed out there was still time for another team to enter.

The recently completed fence was baptized under fire Friday night in two practice games. Although Elmer Nelson, McAllen first baseman, bounced one over, no balls were knocked over on the fly. The fence, eight feet high, ranges from 260 feet distant in left field to 230 in right field from home plate. Nelson's blow went over the right center.

After allowing Sharylaand seven runs the first inning, Clyde Salter gave up only two more hits, but the damage was done and T. C. X. took a practice encounter 7 to 1 Friday night. In the second game, McAllen took a nip-and-tuck affair from Mission, 7 to 6.

Left-Hand Golfers Select Fort Worth

MINERAL WELLS, Tex.—(AP)—The Glen Garden Country Club of Fort Worth Saturday was selected as the site for the 1942 tourney of the Texas Left-Handers Golf Association.

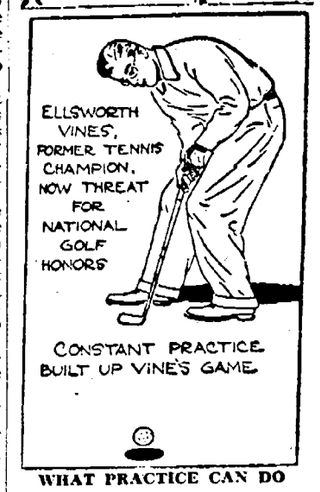

Logan Creager of Mineral Wells was named president of the association. Other officials named included P. S. Presley, of Tyler, vice president and Judge William H. Gillmartin, Fort Worth, secretary-treasurer.

In Scotland it is still considered bad luck if a haddock fisherman sees a red-headed woman, a minister, a lawyer, a cat or a pig, when he is going out to sea.

Eight Tons Of Coal Don't Faze Terrier

DES MOINES—(AP)—After digging Peggy, brown and white fox terrier, from under eight tons of coal, members of the Ralph Pugh family don't care to hear more about putting in coal early on account of defense program. But a pet doctor found the dog unharmed—excepting dirty, tired, bruised.

GRAPHIC GOLF

WHAT PRACTICE CAN DO

Ellsworth Vines' triumph in the Bobby Jones Trophy tournament in which he scored a 67-61 for two rounds over a par 66 course, affords an object lesson to the average player of just what determination and a lot of practice will do. Perhaps it was Vines' great spirit of competition which led him to take up golf seriously. A tennis champion, one of the greatest of all, used to consistency in play he was intrigued and challenged by the inconsistency of his play in golf. Schooled in achieving perfection in tennis strokes he could be satisfied with no less a degree of perfection in golf.

Naturally every player does not possess Vine's competitive temperament nor do they have the time to practice the game in the same measure he devoted to it. Yet even in fewer and briefer practice sessions there lies a chance for potential improvement. It only remains for the player to make up his mind to develop a better game.

Valley Semi-Pro League Teams In Three Double-Headers Today

30-30 Rifles Play Selects At Mission

Edelsteins Battle McAllen Nine

MISSION—With the McAllen Merchants going down to Mexico to play the Comales nine, the Mission-Harlingen doubleheader at Mission will be the only semi-pro baseball played in the Upper Valley Sunday.

Only place in the Valley Semi-Pro League at stake is second. A pair of wins for Harlingen coupled with two losses for McAllen would send the Selectmen ahead of the Merchants, with whom they are currently tied for the runner-up spot.

Two Harlingen victories would narrow Mission's first place margin to one game. On the other hand, a sweep by Mission would just about sew up the flag for the 30-30 Rifles.

In the 3 p. m. game at Mission, Bill Miles of Harlingen is expected to face Ed Tonn, Mission hurler, on the mound. In the second game, the veteran George Strohmeyer, undefeated this season, will go into the box for Mission against Guerrarro.

An interesting sidelight of the games will be the presence of Ernesto and Erasmo Flores in the Harlingen lineup against their former teammates.

Salvador Califa, McAllen manager, has scheduled the All-Stars of Monterrey to meet his team here July 3 and 4. The All-Stars will be composed of the best players of the nine Monterrey teams, Jesus M. Garza, Monterrey, manager, has informed Califa.

The third-place Brownsville Edelsteins and the cellar - dwelling Brownsville Merchants will tangle in a double bill at Charro Park at Brownsville Sunday, beginning at 3:30 p. m.

Betty Chalks Up Another Tourney

SPOKANE, Wash.—(AP)—Betty Jameson of San Antonio, won the Pacific Northwest Women's golf championship Saturday with a 6 and 5 victory over Sissy Green, 16, of Portland.

Miss Jameson, National Amateur champion, broke the Spokane Country Club course women's record by one stroke with a sparkling 75 on the morning round.

AMERICAN

YANKS 7; ATHLETICS 4

PHILADELPHIA— (AP) —As has been their habit recently, the New York Yankees won a ball game Saturday, and this is what happened:

Joe DiMaggio clouted a double and a single, marking the 40th straight game in which he has hit safely and leaving him just one away from the modern major league mark George Sisler set back in 1922.

The Yankees climbed into first place in the American League by a margin of six percentage points as the Cleveland Indians lost to the Chicago White Sox.

Charley Keller hit his 15th homer of the year, boosting to 23 games in a row the major league record in which one and, or, another Yank has walloped at least one four bagger.

BRAVES 3; DODGERS 2

BOSTON — (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers and their high-priced pitching specialist, Kirby Higbe, ran out of gas at the same time Saturday, dropped a ball game to the Braves and sank a full game out of the National League lead.

'Bama Rowell caught hold of one of Higbe's slants with a mate on base in the sixth inning, knocked it out of the park and enabled the Braves to come from behind to take a 3-2 decision, ending both Brooklyn's six-game winning streak and Higbe's four-game victory run.

Since the league leading Cardinals' tussle with the Reds was rained out, the Dodgers lost half a game in the standings. After Friday night's proceedings they had been half a game back.

Zivic To Face Davis Tuesday

NEW YORK — (AP) — The chief drum-beaters for Tuesday night's Fritzie Zivic-Bummy Davis brawl in the Polo Grounds must be trying to prove that the average fan's imagination really is a two-way stretch.

That is the apparent No. 1 object for the way they've been telling you in a few thousand well chosen words that seven months' suspension from ring work and a few months in Uncle Sam's army have changed Bummy from that endearing little character from Brooklyn to a perfect gentleman.

The last time the folks looked upon Bummy in action around these parts, he was tossed out of the ring in the second round of a non-title go with welterweight boss Zivic in November. This was because he happened to bounce a punch off a portion of Fritzie's hide, considerably south of the belt-line. To prove it wasn't an accident, Bummy repeated the stunt half a dozen times or so, before the referee disqualified him.

At that time," the State Athletic Commission suspended him indefinitely and said he would never be reinstated "as long as this commission is in office." Time, however, has a habit of marching on, even at the commission headquarters. So General John J. Phelan, Col. D. Walker Wear and Private Plain Bill Brown, the same three commissioners, lifted the suspension a few weeks ago to permit Tuesday's 12-round over-weight return go for the benefit of the United Service Organizations.

Both fighters wound up their strenuous boxing training sessions Saturday. Bummy had the benefit of some expert tutelage from a choice sparring partner named Lew Jenkins. Lew is only the lightweight champion of the world. He fought a draw with Fritzie last December, and he admits he doesn't like the welterweight boss.

In spite of this, however, the betting marts regard Fritzie as a cinch to take care of Davis. The commissioners have installed him a 1 to 3 favorite to do that thing.

RAINED OUT

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—The game between the Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds was called off because of wet grounds Saturday after a hard rain had forced suspension of play in the last half of the first inning.

Lake trout are captured commercially by means of gill nets, pound or trap nets, hook and line, and, in winter, by spearing through ice. In sport fishing they are usually taken by trolling either with the spoon or a live minnow.

Mrs. Ball Wins

WICHITA FALLS—(AP)—Mrs. J. H. Ball of Wichita Falls retained her West Texas Women's golf championship Saturday when she defeated Mrs. F. C. Rochon of Fort Worth, 8 and 6, in the 36-hole finals at the Wichita Falls Country Club.

The challenger's usual iron and putter wizardry virtually deserted her throughout the match.

Mrs. Ball, tournament medalist with a seven-over-par 84, was 8-up for the morning round.

Other flight finals: First flight championship—Mrs. Harry Stallcup, Big Spring, defeated Mrs. Ted Huestes, Abilene, 1 up, in 19 holes.

Second flight championship—Mrs. K. N. Greer, Cisco, defeated Mrs. C. C. Dillon, Odessa.

First flight consolation—Mrs. Cliff Widener, Lubbock, defeated Mrs. H. P. Ledford, Wichita Falls, 1-up in 24 holes.

Second flight consolation — Mrs. Dean Culp, Stamford, defeated Mrs. O. C. Dickson, Wichita Falls, 4 and 2.

Minor Notes

Catcher Herman Franks, who started the season with Montreal of the International League, but has since been called up to the Brooklyn Dodgers, believes in getting off to a smashing start.

Franks was with Columbus, O. of the American Association only a short while in 1939, but he banged out a home run on his first trip to the plate for the Red Birds.

Last year, with Brooklyn, Herman socked one for the round trip the first time he got to the plate for the Dodgers.

This year, with Montreal, made the third successive year in which Catcher Franks has bowed into new company with a homer. He socked one for the Royals at the start of the current season.

There is nothing like a home run to put yourself in solid with a new set of fans. Ask Mr. Franks. He knows.

The Cotton States League was having a bit of trouble the early part of this season with top-heavy scores. The boys were smashing the balls all over various counties, resulting in 24 to 20 games and slugfests that were breaking the hearts of pitchers.

The league president placed an order for some deader baseballs. You'll recall that two official scorers resigned at Hot Springs because of the overtime in trying to keep records of the games. Fans were fed up on them, too.

An experiment was cooked up in a double-header the other day. One of the livlier balls was used in the game. The score was 5 to 4. The new deader pellets were employed in the nightcap. The score ? ? ? It was 5 to 4. Proving what?

PESSIMIST OR OPTIMIST
Most people are one or the other. Some may be perfect enough to be in between. We doubt it. So which one are you? Which one do you want to be? We all know there are lots of pessimists, but you can't organize a pessimist club to compete with the optimists. Why? Cause it can't be did. You can't find the finers. Did you read in the Star the other day that fresh string beans were selling at 90c per pound, and tomatoes at $1.10 per pound in England? Two years ago the pessimists would have said that it couldn't be done. Watch farm prices climb.
10 acres with a nice 5-room stucco home. 9 acres in beautiful bearing orange and grapefruit grove, all for $4500.00. It's a steal.
5 acres with a good 5-room frame house and bearing grove all for $1750.00. It's too cheap.
20 acres all in cultivation with a good, large 5-room house, modern, for $2250.00.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO—(AP)—(U.S.D.A.)—Salable hogs 300; total 5,300; supply good and choice hogs too small to make a market; undertone steady, however, with quotable top around 11.00; shippers took none; estimated holdover 1,000; compared week ago: barrows, gilts and packing sows generally 35-50 higher.
Salable cattle 100; no calves; compared Friday last week: most medium weight and weighty steers 50 lower; general market closed very dull, with yearlings and light steers 15-40 off, kinds scaling 1050 lb downward showing least decline; strictly choice light heifers steady, but all others 25 lower; cows fully 25 off; lightweight sausage bulls 25 down, but heavy shipper kinds only weak; vealers 50-75 higher; predominantly fed steer run with excessive crop scaling 1200 lbs upward, sizable supply averaging 1350-1600 lbs; shipper demand narrowed by approaching fourth of July holiday, and sluggish dressed markets further weakened by heat wave; extreme top 12.75 for prime 1235 lb yearlings, practical top yearlings 12.00; best 1324 lb steers 12.35, very little selling above 11.75; very sizable supply heavy, long fed steers late at 10.25-11.00, medium grade 1520 lb averages 9.75; both 740 and 1023 lb strictly choice fed heifers reached 11.75; cutter cows closed 1.00 down, heavy sausage bulls at 8.00 down, and vealers 12.50 down.
Salable sheep 100; total 2,700; compared Friday last week: supplies largely native stock, spring lambs 50-75 lower, fat sheep and shorn lambs scarce, steady; small supply choice native springers mildly in the decline at 10.00 downward; best shorn lambs 8.75, most small lots 8.50-9.50; few lightweight shorn ewes 4.75, most medium to good grades and heavy weights 3.75-4.50; with common and cull grades downward from 2.75.

CHICAGO GRAINS

CHICAGO—(AP)—Heavy profit taking and liquidation battered grain, soybeans, lard and other commodities prices down sharply Saturday from the one to 15 year peak levels reached Friday.
Wheat lost almost 4 cents, corn more than a cent, soybeans as much as 8 cents and lard a cent a pound. The losses in soybeans and lard were the maximum permitted in one session.
Market traders attributed the liquidation partly to Friday's stern warning issued by Leon Henderson, price administrator, concerning "speculation in essential food commodities."
Although wheat rallied slightly at the end, the close was 3¼-3½ cents lower than Friday, July 1.03¼-1.03, September 1.04¾-¾. Corn finished 1¼-1½ down, July 73⅝, September 75¾-76; oats ¾-1 off; soybeans 8 lower; rye 2½-3 down and lard 1.00 lower.

MIDDLING COTTON

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—The average price of middling 15-16 inch cotton at 10 designated southern spot markets Saturday was 30 points lower at 14.32 cents a pound; average for the past 30 market days was 13.84. Middling ⅞ inch average was 14.10

NEW YORK—(AP)—The stock market finished a fairly successful week with considerable hesitancy Saturday as war worries combined with a slump in recently buoyant commodities to put brakes on buying sentiment.
The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 41.7 but up .3 of a point on the week. Transfers of 139,550 shares compared with 125,200 a week ago.
Business developments aided individual issues but most favorites were unable to get far out in front.
Emerging with moderate advances were Canada Dry, which edged into new high ground for the year; American Can, Pennsylvania, Douglas Aircraft, Sperry, Goodyear, General Motors, Bethlehem Steel, American Telephone and Johns Manville.
On the losing side fractionally were U. S. Steel, Western Union, Montgomery Ward, Glenn Martin, Phelps Dodge, Standard Oil (NJ), Texas Corp., Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Du Pont and Eastman Kodak.

U.S. Aid For Russia Would Mean Hiking Lease-Lend Funds, Solons Say

FD MAY SEEK MORE MONEY FOR BRITISH

Chiefs Lukewarm On Aiding Red Army

By WILLIAM B. ARDERY

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Several senators differing on general foreign policy agreed Saturday that any substantial American aid for Russia would necessitate a multi-billion-dollar increase in the present $7,000,000,000 lend-lease program and appropriation of large new sums for armament plants.

At the same time, there was speculation in congressional quarters that the administration might soon ask additional money for the lease-lend program. President Roosevelt has promised all possible aid for Russia in fighting Germany.

Ask More Money?

Senator Byrd (D-Va) told reporters he had heard rumors that more lease-lend money would be asked, but that he did not see how much aid could be given Russia. This country, he declared, "is not producing enough military equipment for its own needs and those of Great Britain."

Senator Pepper (D-Fla) said "Congress will give the president any reasonable sum" and added:

"If we don't spend $5,000,000,000 or so to stop Hitler in Europe now then it will cost us five to 20 times $5,000,000,000 to stop him later."

Expressions of other senators interviewed varied.

The veteran Senator Glass (D-Va) asked, "where would we get the money from?" if further appropriations were granted for aid to Russia.

No Russian Help?

Senator Adams (D-Colo), declared that the $7,000,000,000 outlay under the original lend-lease program was based on British estimates of that country's needs for American products. The total figure, he added, was considerably less than that suggested by Great Britain.

Senator Mead (D-Ny), saying that this country would always have to realize a fundamental conflict between American and Russian political philosophies, declared he saw nothing that could be done for Russia under the existing lend-lease program. While approving administration steps to give Russia help, Mead added that "there will have to be a new lend-lease bill" before the Soviet could be placed in the same category as Great Britain.

FUNERAL HELD FOR HOUSTON

Solon's Body To Lie In Capital Now

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A brief, simple funeral service was conducted Saturday for Senator Andrew Jackson Houston of Texas at Hysong's undertaking establishment.

Prayers for the dead were read by the Rev. T. B. Dade of St. Patrick's Church, Washington. Then the body was taken to Abbey Mausoleum in Arlington, Va., for placement in a receiving vault. It will be sent later to Houston's native Texas.

Earlier, it had been planned to have a requiem mass today for Senator Houston, with a special Senate committee and Texas House members attending.

These plans were cancelled, however, and a strictly private service arranged.

Because of the strain, the Senator's daughters, Misses Ariadne and Marguerite Houston, did not attend Saturday's services but planned for a requiem mass for the aged son of General Sam Houston, later at Laporte, Texas. They planned to leave Washington Monday for Texas, stopping enroute to rest for a few days.

20-30 CLUB TO SEEK MEETING

Edinburg Group Files Bid At Corpus

EDINBURG—Edinburg will file a major bid for the 1942 convention of the Lone Star district of 20-30 clubs at this year's conclave at Corpus Christi, which will close Sunday.

George Brown, president of the Edinburg club, carried the invitation to the Corpus Christi meeting along with several other delegates. The chamber of commerce joined in the project by sending the convention a formal invitation.

Brown, Miller Hammonds, Dave Smith, Jimmy Smith, Arthur Hatfield and Billy Crist were local delegates to the week-end meeting.

The Edinburg club elected Shelton Enochs its new president to succeed Brown at the last meeting. Other officers are Hatfield, first vice president; Bill Skinner, second vice president; Hammonds, sergeant-at-arms, and David Smith, Scott Toothaker, Jimmy Smith, Brown and Crist, directors.

A survey of playing card manufacturers shows 83 per cent of American families play card games.

U. S. DOUBLES RUBBER PLANS

Synthetic Plants To Get Federal Aid

NEW YORK—(AP)—Financial circles understood Saturday the government has doubled its plans for synthetic rubber production to around 80,000 tons annually but said such an output was several years away.

Some sources said synthetic plants would be making about 40,000 tons annually by the end of 1943 and would pass 30,000 tons late in 1942. Others expected a 30,000-ton rate by the end of this year but they were labeled "very optimistic."

Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce and federal loan administrator, has announced four major rubber companies would construct plants each capable of housing equipment for 10,000 tons annually, starting at 2,500 tons a year.

U. S. MARINES SENT BRITISH

Detachment To Aid Communications

WASHINGTON— (AP) —The Navy Department announced Saturday that a small detachment of marines had been sent to London "to facilitate communications between the various United States offices located there."

The navy said the detachment consisted of three officers and 60 men. It added that "due to the great expansion of work of the embassy and establishment of separate offices there this service has been greatly needed for some time."

The marines, it was said, also would assist as fire watchers, and thus "serve to relieve the already overburdened embassy staff."

MEXICO FINDS NAZI RADIOS

Propaganda Sent Out From Chiapas

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Nazi radio stations so powerful they "black out" local stations when on the air are broadcasting "fifth column propaganda" and messages from coffee and banana plantations in the state of Chiapas on the Guatemalan frontier, says Fidel Velazquez, secretary-general of the Confederation of Mexican Workers.

Velazquez, just returned from a trip through Chiapas, said Germans owned most of the plantations and were treating Mexican and imported Guatemalan employes like slaves.

The confederation will ask President Avila Camacho to nationalize Mexico's coffee and banana industry, thereby eliminating the Chiapas situation, Velazquez said.

The world supply of sugar for the 1941 season is estmated at 42,300,000 tons, the largest on record.

VALLEY SUNDAY

Judging from the sunny smiles on the faces of the two Valley visitors shown above, the visit in Brownsville and other Valley points of Miss Martha Ann Gordon, standing, and Miss Eleanor Leonard, seated, both of Jefferson City, Missouri, was a particularly enjoyable one. The two were guests of Miss Gordon's uncle, Martin Price, and Mrs. Price in Brownsville, and planned stays in other Valley cities and other Texas points before they returned to Missouri. Miss Gordon's mother is the former Miss Lil Price of Mission. (Photo by Garcia.)

Mission Graduates Are Prominent

Miss Wilma Thiele (center) graduated with the spring class of Mission high school with high honors. Class valedictorian, she received the Service Award presented by the Lions Club and was named to permanent membership in the National Honor Society. A talented musician, she composed the arrangement for one of the school songs used in the commencement program and received outstanding recognition for work in both vocal and instrumental music. She is the first student ever to receive at the same time the awards for being the most valuable member of both the high school band and chorus units. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Thiele of Mission. She plans to major in music when she enrolls in college next fall, probably at North Texas State Teachers College, Denton. (Kerr Studio.)

Miss Hattie Jean Sturgeon (left) was a popular member of the 1941 graduating class of the Mission high school. Elected to membership in Who's Who in Mission High School, she also represented the class as sweetheart at the Queen Valleyanna dance in McAllen and the Sweetheart dance in Edinburg. Next fall, Miss Sturgeon will enroll for college classes at the University of Texas. (Kerr Photo.)

Miss Doris Pearson (right) graduated with high scholastic honors from Mission high school this spring and was elected to membership in the National Honor Society. At present visiting in Birmingham, Ala., Miss Pearson will return to the Valley in late summer. Next fall, she will enroll at Mary Hardin-Baylor, Belton. (Photo by Kerr.)

Showers Fail To Hamper Girls Camp

Total Of 31 Girls Is Enrolled

RIO HONDO—The Y.W.C.A. summer camp at Rio Hondo had another successful week in spite of the bad weather, Miss Essie Roots, director, has reported. Swimming, rowing, and badminton were chief sports in which the girls received training.

Each day was highlighted by some special activity.

Monday night the campers enjoyed a game party in the auditorium.

Tuesday evening was amateur night, an event that was especially enjoyable for everyone.

The costume dance on Wednesday night proved to be a hilarious occasion.

Thursday afternoon the campers searched for a treasure which allegedly had been hidden on the arroyo banks by pirates of long ago. The girls found fun in a fishing party on Friday.

Open house climaxed and ended the weekend Saturday afternoon when parents and friends observed the girls taking part in the various activities.

There were 31 enrolled in the camp for the week and a larger number is expected during the coming week. Those that attended last week were:

Hilda Jean Davies, Ann Stiernberg, Carol Fox, Jean Head, Sally Colvin, Julie Gallaher, Peggy Jean Place, Paula Marie Carter, Eustacia Caul, Ann Brittain, Susie Phillips, and Bobbie Lee Vanderfoot of Harlingen; Betty Jean Russell, Dora Beth Stephens, Marjorie Fields, Mary Shear, and Camilla Shear of Alice; Charlene Goolsby, Emma Beth Hudson, Lucy Beth Hough, Dorothy Ann DeGuerrin, Nona Foster, and Mary Alice Bohner of San Benito; Mollie Gattling, Corinne Thomas, Mary Ann Starr, Judy Garcia, Trudie Elmore, and Irene Elmore of McAllen.

Leaders For Valley Women's Groups

Mrs. L. A. Barrier (shown left) has been prominent in musical circles in San Benito for several years and has often been presented as vocalist for programs in different towns in the Valley. Mrs. Barrier is the immediate past president of the Athenian Club, pioneer San Benito study group, and is a past president of the San Benito Music Club. (Holbrook Studio.) Mrs. E. E. Van Zandt, Pharr, (pictured right), recently assumed the post of president for the Pharr Garden Club, which is due much credit for Pharr's attractive appearance. Other officers who are serving with Mrs. Van Zandt are Mrs. Warren Baden, vice president; Mrs. Burton Benson, treasurer; Miss Evelyn Price, secretary; Mrs. Roy Barnes, parliamentarian; and Mrs. C. B. Vinsant, historian. (Kerr Studio.)

Cotrell of San Antonio, son of Mrs. L. J. Meyer, also of San Antonio. The ceremony will take place Friday, July 4, at Christ Episcopal Church in San Antonio. (Stauffer Photo.)

Pretty Church Wedding Performed In Mission Claims Wide Interest

MISSION — Friday evening Miss Edna Sandra Newbrough, daughter of Mrs. Mary Newbrough and Melvin George Rote, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rote of Houston, pledged marriage vows, the ceremony having taken place at the First Presbyterian Church of Mission, Rev. Dr. J. W. Newbrough of Harlingen, great-uncle of the bride, officiated.

White American beauty roses and pink gladioli filled the tall floor baskets to form the background for the altar space and to flank the tall eight-branched candelabra set at either side. Tall white tapers burning in the candelabra and soft blue lights in three white wedding bells suspended above the altar provided the only illumination for the scene.

Prior to the entrance of the wedding party, Mrs. R. R. Sheeler was at the organ to play a prelude of wedding music, choosing the selections, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "O Promise Me," and "Ave Maria." She played the accompaniment for the vocal trio, Misses Opal and Irene Bridges and Evelyn Eppright who sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." For the processional, Mrs. Sheeler played from Lohengrin and gave Mendelssohn's wedding march for processional.

The bride was married in a street length dress of white point d'esprit with a high neckline outlined in scallops of self-material. The long, full sleeves were trimmed with scalloped cuffs and the skirt was pleated. She wore a white leghorn picture hat. Her only ornament was a gold locket which was the gift of the groom. Her shower bouquet of white daisies cascaded from a white satin wedding ring looped over her wrist. She entered with her brother, Edward Newbrough of Mission.

Miss Ada Newbrough was her sister's maid of honor. Her white street length frock was worn with a turban of matching material and accessories of blue. On her shoulder was pinned a corsage fashioned of blue lily of the Nile flowerets. James Wood, Mission, served the groom as best man.

A reception for members of the families and additional friends of the couple was given at the Casa de Palmas Hotel in McAllen after the ceremony by Mrs. Newbrough and Mrs. Ray S. Slay, sister of the bride. The guests were received by the bridal party, Mrs. Newbrough, Mrs. Slay and Mrs. J. E. Rote, mother of the groom. Mrs. Newbrough wore navy blue sheer, trimmed with rose organdy while Mrs. Slay's frock was of black panorama net with a bolero of yellow. Mrs. Rote was gowned in blue printed sheer. Her corsage of pink asters and sweetheart roses matched that worn by Mrs. Newbrough. Mrs. Slay wore a corsage of white carnations.

The bride's cake, made in tiers, was embossed with spun sugar flowers and topped with a miniature bridal couple. White tulle fell in graceful folds from the center arrangement of white daisies on a mirror plaque to continue the bridal accent. Mrs. E. V. Sprowl, who served the wedding cake, was assisted by Mrs. James Wood.

Later in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Rote departed for a wedding trip to Monterrey and Saltillo, Mexico. For traveling, the bride wore a navy blue crepe ensemble. Upon their return July 1, they will be at home in Mission at 1319 St. Marie Avenue.

Mrs. Rote is a popular member of Upper Valley society. She is a graduate of Mission high school and attended business college in McAllen. Mr. Rote was educated in Houston and has lived in the Valley the past two years.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rote, Houston, parents of the groom; Miss Mary Lynn Rote, Houston, and Mrs. A. C. Ray, Lufkin, sister of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Ray S. Slay, Kingsville, sister and brother-in-law of the bride.

LA FERIA—Miss Ben Nally of Waco is a guest in the home of Miss Oliven Hamner and Charles Hamner.

Day Nursery Is Benefited By Cash Gift

HARLINGEN—Through a gift of $100 to the Harlingen Day Nursery, much needed equipment has been purchased and much better ventilation for the sleeping porch under construction has been assured, Mrs. Julia Knowles, matron in charge of the nursery, has expressed appreciation in behalf of the nursery and the executive board to the American Legion Community Service club for the money gift.

Purchases have included six windows which will afford much needed ventilation in the sleeping porch now under construction; two new children's beds; silver and glassware for table service for children receiving noonday lunches at the nursery; and medical and other supplies.

There is a sum remaining that will be used to meet other major needs at the nursery which is receiving steadily increasing requests for assistance in caring for children. Members of the committee delegated to transfer the gift to the nursery were W. J. Collver, Tom Vines, and Dr. D. C. Rose.

Combs-Hachenberg Nuptials Are Read

WESLACO — Of interest to a large number of Valley friends was the marriage of Mrs. Mabel Hachenberg of Weslaco and Rollie D. Combs of Edinburg.

The nuptial vows were read at five o'clock Thursday, June 26, at the home of the groom, by the Reverend R. E. Porterfield, Presbyterian minister.

The living room was attractive with summer flowers. The bride chose a pretty navy costume with white accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Combs are at home at 324 W. Kruttschnitt St. Edinbudg.

Izard Family Has Reunion

HARLINGEN—A family reunion that has brought together members of the S. B. Izard family for the first time in 36 years is to be climaxed Sunday with a large family dinner at the Izard home. Guests, who have been in Harlingen about a week, include:

MESQUITE TREES are having their second blooming period so it's reasonable to estimate that summer's half gone.

Somehow, July 1 is getting here a little quicker this summer than most; probably an impression due to the rainy season which has lessened hot weather.

The gentleman down the hall, who last week pointed out that heavy rains have been received for seven months in the period generally from the 20th to 25th, has stuck his neck out again.

July's regular rainy season will occur during the period of July 23-27.

Anything resembling weather predictions in this column are purely accidental and do not reflect the sentiments of the columtator.

VIRTUALLY THE entire personnel for the Star—and a whole lot of other folks—were saddened Thursday by the passing of three old friends—extra large mesquite trees and a beautiful retama loaded with bloom which were cut down from the property behind the Madison Hotel to make way for a de luxe service station.

Why gigantic trees on the very corner and near the sidewalk wouldn't be an asset to any filling station is more than an uninformed looker-on can figure out but probably the blueprints make it clear.

At any rate a passel of folks are going to miss the shade furnished by the big old tree older than Harlingen, that vanished after about two hours of chopping by thick muscled arms.

ABOUT MONDAY ought to be an ideal time to pull weeds, if another rainy spell doesn't make the ground too wet.

There are folks who really enjoy weed pulling when the soil is just damp enough and not too damp. And an added incentive is that they don't crop up again right away, as when chopped or mowed to the ground.

If chiggers make working in the yard a venture to be avoided or if they're the catch to successful picnics or fishing trips, perhaps a few wafers of sulphur will furnish immunity.

Apparently, a small quantity of sulphur eaten for three or four days will do the trick, but after a little the protection they've built up disappears and without additional dosage the energetic little pests are again busy with itching torment.

No one seems to know why there's been a letup in attacks by mosquitoes, unless the reprieve is due to renewal of mosquito control programs.

In any case, Valleyites are thankful for peaceful nights.

QUITE A LOT of health-minded citizens are taking typhoid shots.

Record rains, flood conditions in the river, prospective trips into the interior of Mexico or other out of the way places, all are good reasons for taking out a little health insurance by getting typhoid toxin.

As a matter of fact, folks are thinking more of health nowadays than for some time—a result of national defense programs.

Adding vitamins to breads, as a commercial project, methods of increasing important vitamin foods in the family's diet available to housewives, and vigilance on the part of every adult to achieve and maintain the maximum of health—all these are highly important units in the setup for national safety.

Everyone's going to hear a lot more about this, and almost everyone needs to learn and to do more.

Tips On Entertaining Soldiers Emphasize Good Food, Pretty Girls

By ADELAIDE KERR
Ap Feature Service Writer

WONDERING how to entertain that soldier in your life?

Base his fun on talk, food, and a pretty girl.

So advised an Army sergeant I consulted in the Second Corps Army Headquarters in New York. And he had a lot of interesting things to say, though he insisted on remaining nameless, the sergeant told me. "So let him talk—about his organization and his post and his feats in camp baseball or softball. Ask him about his medals, too.

"But don't talk to him about camp details—how many troops there are and where they are going and what kind of guns there are, and so on. He's supposed to keep still about things like that.

Don't ask him how he gets along with his captain, either. There is a distinction between officers and enlisted men which has to be maintained for sake of discipline. And don't talk to him about his family or home, or ask him what he's going to do when he leaves the army. If he gets to talking about how he was the only man in his neighborhood who was drafted, his gaiety is apt to switch to moodiness.

"If you're entertaining an officer, introduce him as Lieutenant or Captain or whatever he is. If he is a trainee, introduce him as 'Private Jones,' not 'Mr. Jones.' But don't insist on referring to his title all the time. Call him by his first name as soon as you can. It's more friendly."

Week-ends Are Long

Selectees have more leisure time than you might think. The sergeant told me that unless they have duties to perform, the selectees are generally free from five in the afternoon until reveille next morning, and they often have week-ends, after Saturday noon, to themselves.

Whether your soldier is a week-end or a dinner guest, it seems that you had better remember Napoleon's creed: An army travels on its stomach.

"Soldiers like hearty food," the sergeant said. "Steaks. Baked potatoes. Apple pie. Ice cream. Sure, I know they get those things in camp, but a soldier has a sweet tooth. He'll enjoy candies, cookies and cakes a lot more than cheese sandwiches, which he can buy himself. And it's a good idea to have plenty of soft drinks in the house. Lots of soldiers don't drink hard liquor.

"If a soldier is your guest for the week-end, he'll love a Saturday night dinner party or a dance—with a pretty girl as his partner. Sunday you had better ask him if he wants to go to church. In camp the chaplain can get as good a turnout as Ed Wynn. Some time during the week-end, you had better give your soldier a couple of hours of grace to read the magazines and loaf around. If there's writing paper handy, he may want to write a letter. You'll put a happy finish to the weekend, if you can drive him back to camp, or to the station."

Since most of the towns near camps lack adequate entertainment facilities for soldiers on leave, the United Service Organizations for National Defense is urging private families to invite soldiers and sailors into their homes occasionally. If you plan to entertain one of them, you had better keep in mind the kinds of amusement he has in camp, so that you can furnish movies, weekly camp dances, athletics and sports such as baseball and softball.

If you have invited a soldier whom you don't know well, it's a good idea to add two or three other people to the party, to give it zing. After that choose bridge, rummy, pinochle, dancing, roller skating or swimming for fun.

Guest Of Mother

BROWNSVILLE—Mrs. Louise C. Perkins has as her guest for several weeks her son, Carleton Perkins, who has just completed his first year of work at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. Carleton returns to Annapolis in two weeks.

Bride-Elect And Visitor Share Honors

HARLINGEN—Young girls home from college for the summer vacation formed the guest personnel for the smartly appointed dessert bridge given Thursday afternoon by Misses Freddie Jackson and Betty Burdette at the home of the former to honor Miss Barbara Ruth Green, bride-elect, and Miss Helen Hale, Greenville Ky.

Miss Greer's marriage to Lieut. Joe Williamson of Barksdale, La. is to take place the latter part of the summer. Miss Hale is the house guest of Miss Burdette, a classmate at Agnes Scott College in Georgia.

Summer garden blossoms in harmonizing tones made a pleasing setting for tables appointed for bridge.

The hostesses presented a gift of crystal to the bride-to-be in her chosen pattern and an attractive guest gift to Miss Hale. Mrs. J. M. Green received the trophy for high score at bridge.

Present were Misses LaDonna Polhemus, Billie Fae Trammell, Jane Bowman, Peggy Amidon, Charlene Amidon, Ferne Willingham, Jamie Lee Green, Rozanne Pile, Margie Harwood, Clementine Baker, Frances Huffman, Beatrice Johnston, Dorothy Lloyd, Dorothy Carlisle, Ann Collins, Mrs. Green, Mrs. G. I. Burdette, and the honor guests.

Home For Visit

LA FERIA—Charles Hamner has arrived home from Hartford, Conn. after a stay of nine months. He has been attending a school for insurance employes at the home office of the Connecticut Mutual Insurance Company.

He will be located in San Antonio with the branch office there as a service manager after visiting with his mother, Mrs. Lucile Hamner, and sister, Miss Oliven Hamner. He was graduated from Texas A. & M. in 1940.

McAllen Club Women Will Provide Food At Annual July Fourth Celebration

McALLEN—McAllen clubwomen this week are devoting their time to preparing for their participation in the annual July Fourth Celebration here.

Mainly their part will be providing concession stands serving refreshments for the hundreds of fun seekers who will throng the city for the 1941 patriotic fiesta. Brightly colored booths are being built over the city and they will be stacked with tasty morsels.

Eminent among plans for the day is the continuous cakewalk the City Federation of Women's Clubs will stage. Their first venture into an organized benefit, proceeds from this event will go toward the proposed Women's Building—the federation's foremost objective during the present two-year administration of Mrs. W. E. Crawford.

Arrangements for the benefit, to be staged across the street from the McAllen post office, are in charge of Mrs. John Beckenholdt.

Each member of a federated club is asked to donate a cake for the cakewalk to be managed by Mrs. John H. Gregory. Cakes are to be turned in at the Central Power and Light Company office either Thursday or early Friday morning. In addition to the cakewalk, the federation will stage a bingo game with Mrs. Joe LeBow, chairman of the committee.

Members of the Altar Society will operate two concession booths during the celebration. One will be located at the Anthony store, the other at the rear of the McAllen Chamber of Commerce building where benches will be installed. Soda pop, ice cream, home made apple pie, and chicken sandwiches will be available at the booths. The Altar Society will meet at 2:30 p. m. Monday to complete plans for the concession.

Members of the Valley Navy Mother's Club are sponsoring a stand at Archer Park where they will serve cold drinks and light refreshments.

Young Pianist Is Presented

LA FERIA—An event of much interest to musical groups and friends of the young pianist was the recital arranged by Mrs. L. M. Vigness this week to present Miss Frances Evelyn Hennessee. Her numbers were:

Rodeo by Mozart; Whims, Schumann; Scherzo, Mendelssohn

Intermezzo, Brahms; Polonaise in A, Chopin.

May Night, Palmgren; Chanson, Friml; Minuet, Pederewski

Assisting with a vocal duet, Kerry Dance, were Miss Mildred Tuma and Miss Frances Pennington with Miss Hennessee playing the accompaniment.

Miss Hennessee played with considerable poise and showed remarkable technique. Her interpretation of the second group of selections, which were difficult compositions, was nicely done.

She wore a formal dress of white chiffon and lace with a corsage of pink and blue flowers.

The church was attractively decorated with pink roses placed against a background of greenery.

Mrs. H. D. Seago, Daughter Return From Upstate Visit

BROWNSVILLE—Mrs. Herbert D. Seago and her daughter, Miss Mary Frances Seago, have returned from Kerrville where they spent a week. Miss Seago had been in Austin for the week previous as the guest of Miss Marguerite Yglesias, of Brownsville, who is attending summer sessions at the University of Texas.

Miss Seago joined her mother in Kerrville as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. C. W. Letzerich, and cousin, Mrs. L. R. Baker, both of Harlingen, who are spending the summer there.

Trio Of Hostesses Honor Mrs. Ray

WESLACO—Mesdames Carl Crawford and John Wessling of Pharr and Roy Haas of Weslaco honored Mrs. G. W. Ray with a pretty shower Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Crawford. The rooms were prettily decorated with pink and white roses.

Next month she will accompany her family on a vacation trip in the East.

Miss Virginia Clark, David Smith Married In Edinburg Ceremony

EDINBURG—Miss Virginia Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Clark, became the bride of David Smith, son of Mrs. Ed R. Smith, at an impressive ceremony at the First Presbyterian church Thursday evening.

Rev. E. P. Day read the single ring ceremony while Miss Marjorie Bonner played "Always."

Throughout the church huge bouquets of white daisies and pink gladioli were attractively arranged.

The bridal party entered the church to the "Wedding March" from Lohengrin. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a beautiful white organza gown fashioned on princess lines with a large ruffle from the neckline to the hem and long full sleeves tapering to a point at her wrist. She wore a finger-tip veil and white organza flowers in her hair. She carried a white Bible with tiny white streamers.

Miss Tiny Christianson, the maid of honor, wore a dainty yellow organdie gown with a ruffled yoke and a ruffled hat. The junior bridesmaid, Miss Shirley Barnum, wore a pink organdie dress fashioned on the same lines as the maid of honor's. Misses Ruthie Stephens, Harriette Hagedorn and Dorothy Eaves, the other bridesmaids, carried out the pastel note in their dresses of aqua blue, lavender, and green. All the bride's attendants carried colonial bouquets.

The groom was attended by Jimmie Smith and the other groomsman were Billy Crist and Billy Joe Clark, of Alpine, the twin brothers of the bride.

The bride's mother was lovely in a blue and white bemberg sheer street dress with blue and white accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Smith, for her son's wedding, chose a blue street dress with blue and white accessories. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Belrose Hotel. The guests were greeted by the bride's parents, the maid of honor, the best man, and the newly wedded couple.

The three-tiered wedding cake was presided over by Miss Sonora Bryan and Miss Bernice Douglass, and the punch bowl was presided over by Miss Helen Frances Ramsour, Miss Billie Kyle, and Mrs. Mickey Barnum. The centerpiece was a large bouquet of white daisies and pink gladioli.

After a short wedding trip the couple will be home Monday at 306 West Champion.

Wallace Beery And Marjorie Main Are Seen Together In "Barnacle Bill"

Leo Carrillo Plays Supporting Role

Wallace Beery's new starring picture, "Barnacle Bill," is his first waterfront adventure since "Min and Bill," and plunges him into the most hilarious romance of his screen career with Marjorie Main.

Beery plays a waterfront roustabout who suddenly finds himself in love with a domineering sweetheart who makes him go to work, and at the same time is faced with the care of a small daughter he hasn't seen since she was a baby.

Getting a job on a fishing boat, he gets into a dispute with the combine controlling the refrigerator boats, figures in a sensational fight and becomes a waterfront hero.

Marjorie Main, who appeared with him in "Wyoming," plays the sweetheart in the story. She and Beery figure in many hilarious episodes, such as their comical duet, and Miss Main and Connie Gilchrist stage a hair-pulling battle over him. There are tender moments with little Virginia Weidler, playing the daughter, and Beery and Leo Carillo figure in numerous comical scrapes and adventures along the waterfront.

"Barnacle Bill" is booked for showing Thursday, Friday and Saturday at both the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen and the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville.

'So Ends Our Night' Is Thrilling Drama

Frederic March, Margaret Sullavan, Glenn Ford and Frances Dee, are co-starred in the thrilling, romantic-drama, "So Ends Our Night," which is booked for showing Tuesday and Wednesday at both the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen and the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville.

Briefly, the action of "So Ends Our Night" is concerned with the moving and poignant love story between Ruth Holland, portrayed by Margaret Sullavan, and Ludwig Kern, played by Glenn Ford. The story is unfolded in several European capitals.

Bob Hope Stars In 'Caught In Draft'

Not since Charlie Chaplan's "Shoulder Arms," have the experiences of a rookie in military service equalled that of Bob Hope's comedy antics in "Caught In the Draft," in which Dorothy Lamour, Lynne Overman and Eddie Bracken are seen in supporting roles.

"Caught In the Draft" is booked for showing Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Palace Theatre in McAllen.

Current Films

THE PARALLEL between England's battle with the dictatorial ambitions of Napoleon and the present British war against the Nazi and Fascist dictators of Germany and Italy are revealed in the sceen presentation of "That Hamilton Woman." starring Vivien Leigh and Laurence Olivier.

However the story is primarily a romance, one of the great romances of all time, the love story of Lady Hamilton and Lord Nelson, the British naval hero of Trafalgar. As portrayed by Miss Leigh and Olivier, these two exciting characters come to life on the screen and reach a new high in dramatic interpretation.

Equally outstanding in the supporting cast are Alan Mowbray as Lord Hamilton, Gladys Cooper as Lady Nelson and Henry Wilcoxson as Captain Hardy. "That Hamilton Woman." is booked for current showing today and Monday at both the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville and the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen.

"ONE NIGHT IN LISBON" AT PALACE

THOSE popular screen lovers of "Honeymoon in Bali" and "Virginia," Fred MacMurray and Madeleine Carroll, meet again for a new and thrilling romantic adventure in "One Night in Lisbon," which is booked for current showing today and Monday at the Palace Theatre in McAllen.

MacMurray plays the role of a Yankee pilot who ferries bombers across the Atlantic to the R.A.F. In London he meets Miss Carroll and it's love at first sight. The two finally wind up in Lisbon where Miss Carroll is kidnaped by German agents. Through a series of melodramatic episodes, highlighted by gay comedy, MacMurray with the aid of a British Navy Officer, crashes an underground spy chamber to rescue Miss Carroll.

RIVOLI TO SHOW "I WANTED WINGS"

THE THRILLING romantic-drama of America's flying youth "I Wanted Wings," starring Ray Milland, William Holden, Brian Donlevy, Constance Moore and Veronica Lake, is to be seen today and Monday at the Rivoli Theatre in San Benito.

The story is that of the men who battle their way to graduation from the Army Air Corps's training schools, the picture shows them not only as future war birds for Uncle Sam but as flesh-and-blood young men who can get into more than their shares of perplexities. The aviation scenes, filmed at Randolph and Kelly Fields, in San Antonio, are some of the greatest action pictures ever screened.

NEW CAPRA HIT BOOKED AT STATE

FRANK CAPRA'S new film hit "Meet John Doe," starring Gary Cooper and Barbara Stanwyck is booked for current showing today and Monday at the State Theatre in Mercedes.

In the typical Capra style, "Meet John Doe" is the story of Americans doing everyday American things and being big about them. Barbara, a newspaper girl about to lose her job, fakes a story about a man, and then has to go out and hire Cooper to pose as the man. She works up a movement behind him that gets so big that her political-minded boss tries to use it to suit himself and gets told off by Doe and Company.

Edward Arnold is the boss, Walter Brennan the tramp friend in the cast with Spring Byington, James Gleason, Gene Lockhart, Rod La Rocque, Irving Bacon and Regis Toomey.

"BILLY THE KID" FILMED IN COLOR

FIMED in color "Billy the Kid," which is showing today and Monday at the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco, offers Robert Taylor in first Western role. Brian Donlevy, Ian Hunter, Mary Howard and Gene Lockhart are seen in featured supporting roles.

The story concerns the exploits and fate of a terror of the range during the cattle wars of the 1870's. Taylor enters the picture with a reputation as a "killer," but after first joining up with the Dan Hickey gang, he swings over to the more lawful forces of Eric Keating, an English rancher.

4,000 TANKS CLASH IN BATTLE

British Attack In France Urged

RUSSIA SAYS NAZI DRIVES ARE HALTED

Germans Say Little; Casualties High

By The Associated Press

A mighty battle between 4,000 German and Russian tanks raged early Sunday in the southern Polish sector, Moscow reported in claiming that Hitler's main drives had been halted along the Nazi-Soviet front.

The Germans themselves said little.

Specifically, this was the picture as Red communiques outlined it:

The heaviest fighting of all at Luck and in the district of Lwow, Poland, to the southwest; many Nazis taken prisoner in the northern Lithuanian sector; German columns still held up along the central Minsk front, the historic Napoleonic way to invasion of Moscow.

Casualties Heavy

The Russian command spoke of "fierce rearguard" actions by the Red army which took heavy casualties, but did not specify where these occurred.

In the Minsk battle area alone, Moscow said 300 German tanks had been destroyed up to Friday night—a far from complete figure.

The conflict threatened hourly to break in full fury on the northern, or Finnish, part of the 2,000-mile front through a German drive on the Soviets' Arctic port of Murmansk, through the onslaught of 1,000,000 Russians massed on Finland's border or, more probably, both at the same time.

The Finnish radio announced suspension today of traffic on the Inkoo-Pernioe section of the railway from Helsinki to Turku.

"Crusade" Lagging

That stretch is near the Hanko naval base which Finland lost to Russia in the 1939-40 war. Its closure indicated the possibility of a battle for possession of strategic Hanko.

FLOOD LEVEL STATIONARY

Mexican Breaks Stop Threat To Farms

BROWNSVILLE—Its flood threat almost spent, the Rio Grande Saturday midnight hung at 19 feet here, a foot above floodstage, but no damage to U. S. farm lands from breaks in levees had been reported, and a drop by daylight was anticipated up river.

The river level had remained at 19 feet since 4 p.m., and several breaks on the Mexican side, including the Cilebron flood way area, were thought to have ben holding the water stationary.

Farmers in the lowlands between the river bank and levees were said to have let water onto their farm for irrigation purposes Saturday, and this further halted the rise on the gauge. Reading at 7:30 a.m. here Saturday was 18.9 feet.

The river fell at Rio Grande City and Hidalgo Friday night, and was also stationary at Mercedes, 2.1 feet above flood level. The water was expected to fall slightly during the next 24 hours.

On the Mexican side at Las Ballitas, near Rio Rico, the river was reported out of its banks, but only a small amount of water had left the channel and this had gone into Culebron floodway without damage. A small break in the levee south of Matamoros also caused no damage.

Meanwhile the weather forecast for Sunday was fair to partly cloudy.

Rumanians Say Nazi Drives Successful

BUCHAREST —(AP)— A Rumanian communique said Saturday night that "German units have succeeded everywhere in accomplishing their missions," and that all enemy counter-attacks had been broken.

The Rumanians reported that 130 Soviet airplanes had been downed in the past few days, during which attacks were made on several Rumanian cities, including Bucharest.

One Soviet destroyer was sunk and another "probably damaged" before Constanta, Rumanian Black Sea port, Thursday, the communique said.

Widow Of Mate Aboard O-9 Says Submarine Had Leak

Officers And Men Of U. S. Naval Fleet Ready To Man Rest Of O-Class Subs Despite Tragedy

NEW LONDON, Conn. —(AP)— The pretty young widow of the first class machinist's mate aboard the submarine O-9 told a naval board of inquiry Saturday that she overheard her husband say that there was a hole in the vessel "as big as a man's hand."

Mrs. Angeline Tillery, whose husband, Thomas W. Tillery was among the 33 men trapped in the submersible when she failed to come up from a deep dive off Portsmouth, N. H., last week, testified that her husband also had a premonition of impending tragedy just before that boat sailed from here.

Tillery was quoted by his widow as saying that the submarine had been recommissioned before it was ready, that she had trouble submerging and that when she submerged there was vibration.

Rear Admiral Richard S. Edwards, commandant of submarines in the Atlantic fleet, told the board Friday the O-9, like all submarines, had leaks, but that they were of "no significance and they were corrected before she went out for her deep dive."

As far as he knew, he said, "there was nothing the matter" with the hull of the O-9 when she made her final dive.

The officers and ratings of the American submarine fleet are ready to a man to serve aboard the 20-odd year old O-boats despite the O-9 disaster which carried 33 men to their deaths off Portsmouth, N. H., a week ago.

Two officers of O-class submarines said that their crews, although offered transfers following the Portsmouth tragedy, had elected to remain on duty aboard the post-World War "pig boats." Submarine duty is voluntary in the navy.

Mannerheim Appeals To Finns To Follow In War With Russia

HELSINKI, Sunday—(AP)—Field Marshal Baron Carl Gustaf Mannerheim declared Saturday in his first order of the day that the soldiers of Finland must follow him in a holy war against the Russians.

"Follow me this last time—when Karelians rise again and a new day dawns for Finland," he appealed.

Nazis Say British Exaggerate Drives

NEW YORK—(AP)—Hans Fritsche, chief of the German radio propaganda service, in a radio talk possibly designed to reduce expectations for the awaited "victory communique" Sunday, charged Saturday night that the British were exaggerating German advances in order to be able to discount the real successes later. He was heard here by CBS.

BROWNSVILLE WAY OVER TOP

U.S.O. Drive Reaches $3200 Saturday

BROWNSVILLE—A last minute rush of contributions from Pan-American Airways employes Saturday night swelled Brownsville's United Service Organization drive total to nearly $3,200, passing the originally assigned quota by more than $500.

Chairman Harry Faulk of the Brownsville U.S.O. committee said Saturday night that contributions were still coming in at 9 p. m. when the down town headquarters of the drive were closed.

Brownsville's total contributions to the U.S.O. will probably pass the $4,000 mark, Mr. Faulk said, when the U.S.O. committee is credited with approximately $750 previously raised for the army Y.M.C.A. here. This previous campaign was conducted by the Junior Service League.

ARMY VOTED BIGGEST FUND IN HISTORY

10 Billions Exceeds World War Sums

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Congress gave final approval Saturday to the biggest cash appropriation bill in the nation's history, a gigantic $10,384,821,624 item for the Army. The total exceeded the largest previous appropriation, a 1919 Army bill, by about a billion dollars.

The Senate sent the measure to the White House as one of many actions taken in the course of a day devoted to clearing the calendars of legislation which had to be disposed of before the fiscal year closes at midnight on Monday.

FD Power Granted

In addition to the Army bill, the Senate passed and also sent to the White House a bill extending operations of the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund and the President's power to devalue the dollar for two years. Without the legislation they would have expired at the Monday midnight deadline.

The Senate also approved a bill promising the life of the Commodity Credit Corporation for two years and increasing its crop loan funds by $1,250,000,000 to a total of $2,650,000,000. This measure went back to the House for action on Senate amendments.

The Senate passed, as a defense measure, a House bill to give the Maritime Commission control over the movements and cargoes of all American ships. It goes to conference for the consideration of Senate amendments.

In the debate which preceded the action, Chairman George (D-Ga) warned against granting too extensive power to the administration and asserted it was not necessary to adopt "totalitarian methods" to provide national defense. Some, he said, feared that important decisions might be made before the people have an opportunity to make their views known.

Relief Bill Delayed

Caught in a jam of disagreement was a $935,905,000 bill to finance federal relief through the next fiscal year. Senate and House conferees met and ended their session at loggerheads over a $50,000,000 item for the disposal of surplus commodities which the Senate had inserted in the bill.

Senator Adams (D-Colo), chairman of the conference committee, said that he did not know when he would call the committee together again, but there seemed little doubt that some compromise would be worked out. Unless the bill is finally enacted by Monday night, the WPA will be left without funds until it is.

Catholics Opposed On Help For Russia

NEW YORK—(AP)—Opposite views on American aid to Russia in her war against Nazi Germany were announced Saturday by two catholic groups.

The Catholic War Veterans, Inc., said it had asked President Roosevelt to reconsider his intention to aid Russia, while 15 prominent Catholic clergymen and laymen said "Hitler's attack upon Russia must not be allowed to confuse us."

Superiority In Air Again Is With Yankees

661 M.P.H. Dive Paves Way For Fastest Ships

By PAUL B. MASON

DAYTON, O. —(AP)— A civilian test-pilot's screaming, verticle dive at a record 661 miles an hour in an army ship over Wright Field was viewed Saturday as accentuating the work of military and civil test fliers and the excellence and performance of America's expanding air force.

The pilot, Bob Fausel of Curtiss-Wright Corporation, Buffalo, N. Y., made the dive April 7, 1940, in a ship since vastly improved in type. Complete details were not disclosed but confirmation came from Curtiss-Wright officials in New York.

Fausel's speed—a mile every 5.44 seconds—was 41 miles faster than the accepted though unofficial record dive last year by Andy McDonough, air line pilot and air corps reservist. McDonough flew a Bell P-39 Airacobra; Fausel, a Curtiss P-40 which he ferried from Buffalo for delivery to Wright Field,

POPE TO AIR VIEW ON WAR

Expected To Attack Atheistic Reds

VATICAN CITY—(AP)—Pope Pius XII prayed at the tomb of St. Peter Saturday night on the eve of a radio address to the world in which he was expected to make known his views on the war the Axis is waging against Soviet Russia.

POPE PIUS XII

Nothing came from official circles to suggest what the Pope would say, but the Vatican's concern over atheistic communism and the danger of its spreading over Europe, if not the world, has been expressed many times.

The Osservatore indicated that the message would come within the Pope's practice of "spreading the light of salutary teaching and pointing out the way of salvation."

The Pope is expected to talk in Italian for 20 minutes at 12:30 p.m. (4:30 a.m. Central Standard Time) in his world broadcast by Vatican radio. Translations in English, Spanish, German, French, Polish, Dutch, Hungarian and Portuguese are to follow.

PUBLIC ASKS OFFENSIVE TO AID REDS

Hit-And-Run Raids By Tanks Stressed

By The Associated Press

LONDON—Agitation grew in Britain Saturday night for daring attacks by army and navy raiders on the German-held continental coasts, now that the Nazis' backs are turned, and one general suggested that amphibian tanks join them in a general offensive teamed up with the great, continuing RAF aerial assaults.

General J. F. C. Fuller, one of the first British generals to exploit the use of tanks in the World War, called in the "Sunday Pictorial" for "tip and run" raids by the army and navy on "the coasts of countries now occupied by Germany." Strong German forces would have to be diverted to protect these coasts, he declared.

Amphibian Tanks Urged

Long an exponent of amphibian tanks, General Fuller said that in 1931 Vickers-Armstrong put "an efficient amphibian light tank" on the market, and he added that "if we have such a tank our path is easy."

The public is growing restive now that there seems to be a special opportunity to strike at Germany while she is preoccupied with Russia on the east.

They want more than the heavy air raids, already of record proportions, that continued Saturday with a smashing attack on a huge power plant at Comines, near Lille, one of the key plants in heavily-industrialized northern France.

Raiders operating in skies almost cleared of German opposition knocked down five German planes, booting the British figures of German losses for the year to 2,088 in all theaters and bringing the tool of German aircraft claimed since last Saturday to 120.

May Be Last Chance

But the British now are clamoring for more than this.

"This chance may not recur," wrote one military correspondent. "Tens of thousands of raiders smashing up communications, airfields and factories would bring real relief to our Russian allies while doing a vital service to ourselves."

BIDS OPENED ON AIR BASES

Water Tanks First On Valley List

GALVESTON, Tex.—(AP)—Bids for water storage tanks for airports at Harlingen, Midland and Mission were opened Saturday at the office of Lieutenant Col. L. H. Hewett, district Army engineer.

The bids were referred for tabulation and report.

Bidders on the Harlingen water tank were: Chicago Bridge and Steel Co., Houston, $52,800 and Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co., Dallas, $54,000; on the Midland project, Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co., $52,520 and Chicago Bridge and Steel Co., $53,650; on the Mission project, Chicago Steel and Steel $53,800 and Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel, $54,650.

Denison Base Bids Are Opened By Army

DENISON, Tex.—(AP)—U. S. Engineers Saturday opened low bids totaling $5,148,186 for construction of an army air corps basic flying school between Denison and Sherman.

Engineers said contarcts would be awarded by June 30. They expect the work to require 75 days.

Returns Uncertain As O'Daniel Gains Fast On Johnson's Lead

Gerald Mann Runs Third, Dies A Lame 4th; Four-Fifths Of Counties Heard From

DALLAS — Still uncertain late Saturday night was the outcome of the hard fought Texas race for the seat of the late Senator Morris Sheppard, Representative Lyndon B. Johnson, who campaigned under the New Deal banner, was in the lead but was closely pressed by the dimpled Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, whose strength increased as late returns poured in from the rural sections.

Late tabulations of the Texas Election Bureau of its copyrighted figures showing incomplete returns from more than four fifths of the counties, showed Gerald C. Mann in third place, while Martin Dies trailed lamely in fourth. Of the other candidates, who received relatively few votes, the lead was taken by Sam Morris of Del Rio, Baptist minister and radio advocate of liquor prohibition.

Johnson and Dies each appeared to have carried his own congressional district. Mann's strength came largely from Northeast Texas. Johnson received a big vote in the larger cities but also ran ahead in many rural counties particularly in central and southwest Texas. O'Daniel was running strong in the high plains.

Returns at 11:30 p.m. from 241 counties with 70 complete, gave Bean 59, Calvin 24, Davis 46, Dies 71612, Fisher 64, Gilliland 33, Harding 29, Hatfield 31, Head 34, Heath 19, Hicks 35, Johnson 150871, King 81, Mann 125140, Morris 820, Newsome 27, O'Daniel 14,7761, Ryan 24, Schulz 37, Somerville 10, Thomason 54, Waller 7, Welch 14, Williams 30. Republican Elvins 113, Independent Jones 28, Communist Brooks 26.

DIES LEADING VALLEY VOTE

Area Gives O'Daniel Second Place

HARLINGEN—Valley voters 10,531 strong marched to the polls Saturday and backed the wrong horse, giving Martin Dies a majority with Lee O'Daniel second, Lyndon Johnson third and Gerald Mann fourth.

The Valley's own candidate, Pollite Elvins of Pharr, received only twenty votes, all from Hidalgo county. The state's lone Republican,

he got his biggest vote in Pharr, his home town. Four ballots were cast for him there.

As expected, Hidalgo county cast the heaviest vote, 5,516. Cameron cast 4,167 votes and Willacy 848.

Lyndon Johnson, leading the state race at midnight, received 2,673 ballots in the Valley's three counties. Martin Dies received 2,971, O'Daniel, trailing Johnson a close second in the state, was leading him by almost as close a margin in this area, his total being 2,776. Mann ran fourth down here with 2,060 votes.

The also-rans were hardly noticed by Valleyites. Leading candidate outside the Big Four was Sam Morris, who received 22 ballots, Cyclone Davis received 2, and Guy B. Fisher, W. E. Gilliland and O. F. Heath, Sr. each received one vote. The Independent candidate, W. R. Jones, received two votes. Morris received the majority of his votes in Hidalgo, while all the other unexpected ballots came from Cameron.

Vote totals for Cameron and Willacy counties are complete, although unofficial; Hidalgo county is complete with the exception of

Hillbilly Boys Play To Finish

Pappy, In High Good Humor, Entertains Crowd At Election Party

AUSTIN, Tex.—(AP)—The hillbilly boys played with zip and Governor W. Lee O'Daniel read election returns in wisecracking good humor to a big crowd gathered under multicolored lights on grounds of the executive mansion here Saturday night.

In his headquarters at a hotel several blocks from the mansion, Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson, like the governor a major candidate for the U. S. Senate, watched with a throng of friends the unfolding of the special election drama.

When early returns showed the governor trailing Johnson, he commented to the crowd that they were mostly from the cities and that later ones from the rural districts and small towns would be very different.

Not as large as that which attended the mansion party last year when O'Daniel was re-elected, the crowd stood and sat on the grass of the lawn and now and then overflowed into the flower beds along the walks.

Two huge water barrels were placed handily to slake the thirsty.

Inside the mansion members of the governor's official family milled about.

Among the officials were Reuben Williams, member of the state highway commission; Frank Davis, member of the state board of control; William Lawson, secretary of state, and Tom L. Beauchamp, associate justice of the state court of criminal appeals.

The governor's orchestra, just returned from a long campaign tour with him, started the evening's serenade with "Beautiful Texas." O'Daniel's own composition, drawing heavy applause from the crowd in front of the mansion porch.

BETTER DAYS SEEN FOR US COTTON CROP

Researchers Build Hopes At Parley

WACO, Tex.—(AP)—The second world cotton congress—a three-day clinic to probe the Lone Star's ailing king crop—ended Saturday with a prophetic discussion of cotton fibre research and related fields of chemistry and textile manufacturing.

Processors, research men, marketing specialists and retailers heard the promise that cotton may see better days if research, growing and processing methods continue their promising trends.

Dr. Simon Williams, research technologist of the Bureau of Industrial Engineering at the University of Texas, explained expanding cotton research at the university. Dr. E. P. Schoch, university director of industrial chemistry, led a group of nine chemists and textile manufacturers in discussing further research procedure.

Williams, co-worker with Schoch for 20 months in cotton fibre research, said Texas cottons could be made into many things now being made from other cottons.

Research Under Way

"Actual research under way involves a study of chemical treatment to impart to short-staple west Texas cottons the properties of imported Asiatic cottons," he said. "Such research has reached the pilot plant stage and commercial trials are being conducted in mills over the United States.

"It is a fact not to be overlooked," Williams admitted, "that unpredictable climatic influence and questionable harvesting practices in both east and west Texas have yielded so-called inferior grades and qualities of cotton for many years. It is this cotton, which, due to difficulty of handling on mill machinery, has created a widespread prejudice against Texas cottons.

"I would like to emphasize," he said, "that there is a great deal of pessimism concerning prospects of cotton in competition with synthetic fibres. There is no need for pessimism if those interested in cotton's future insure at least as much developmental research as is done on synthetic fibres."

Develop Lint Uses

"Objective of research at the university," he said, "is to develop new uses for cotton lint, help retain and expand present lint uses, stimulate the growth of Texas' cotton textile industry through developing necessary economic and technological information, and to develop an educational program for training cotton leaders and technologists of the future."

Dr. Schoch promised that "some helpful results may be obtained speedily" from the university's research program. He emphasized the need for a research laboratory to develop new manufacturng processes, furnish Texas mills a necessary research service, furnish economic and engineering data to potential investors, and to convince out-of-state mills that Texas cottons may readily be used.

Monday morning and was marked by a series of meetings in practically every store, office and shop in the city, with employes pledging 10 per cent of one week's wages or two and one-half per cent of one month's wages.

"Although we were confident of the outcome," Mr. Faulk said Saturday night, "the results so far were far beyond our most optimistic predictions. "The people of Brownsville have cause to be proud of this splendid showing. To say that we on the committee are elated is putting it mildly."

Pan-American Praised

Mr. Faulk had particular praise for the employes of Pan-American Airways.

"Despite difficulties of reaching the large number of men at the shops, because of the shift arrangements and with labor negotations under way, Pan-American Airways made a fine record and displayed a fine spirit of civic cooperation," Mr. Faulk declared.

The chairman said that up to 8 p. m. a total of 983 contributors had been listed in the drive. When the campaign opened, the committee declared that it would set a goal of at least 1,000 contributors in order to make participation as general as possible.

"I think we'll get more than 1,000 before the final tabulation is made," the chairman declared.

A number of additional contributions are believed to be in the mail. Approximately 35 contributions were received by mail Saturday.

4000 Tanks Clash In Battle; Reds Say Nazi Drive Halted

tory's battle lines—there stirred, still feebly, an ideological movement which Adolf Hitler hoped to nurture into a "crusade" by western Europe against the citadel of Communism.

Hitler, who invaded Poland Sept. 1, 1939, with his eastern front secured by non-aggression and economic collaboration pacts with Russia, one week ago today capped futile demands for further concessions with a blitzkrieg invasion and immediately set out to mobilize all Europe, Nazi-captured or influenced, for what he called a "holy war."

Yesterday the six Lutheran bishops of Finland asked churchgoers to rally to the "God-given cause" of defense of the Christian faith against "the barbaric enemy."

Pope To Speak

Saturday night Pope Pius XII prayed to the tomb of St. Peter on the eve of a radio address in which he was expected to make known to the world his views on the war Germany is waging against Russia—a war to which Italy already has offered support, in which Rumania has joined Germany and in which Finland and other German-dominated states stand as ready allies.

L'Osservatore Romano, a Vatican City newspaper, said the pope would "expound his views on the subject of Divine Providence in human events." Nothing came from official circles, but the Vatican concern over atheistic Communism has been oft-expressed.

To Tell All Sunday

On Sunday also, at long last, the German high command has promised that "our successes in the eastern theater of war will be made known in special announcements."

That was the sum of official statement Friday on the course of the seven-day-old campaign. DNB, which is an official news agency but does not speak with the official authority of Hitler headquarters, sought to content the German people in the interim with a declaration that the Red army's "97th Division" had been "broken up and destroyed."

DNB did not say what place the division had held on the 1,000-mile active front—the Baltic to Black Sea line—and the world at large got its only detailed accounts of the war from the more prolific communique writers of the Kremlin.

The Russian reports told of a steadfast resistance to German-Rumanian forces from Przemysl south and on the Prut river, dividing line between Bessarabia and Rumania, and of deadly action covering Russian withdrawal to "prepared positions"—presumably the fortifications of the old Russian frontier—from the Polish sector fronting Minsk in White Russia.

Panhers In Disorder

In the Minsk action, the Red army claimed, a blitzkrieg coalition of planes, tanks and artillery pounded a German panzer column into disordered route, in reverse along the path that Napoleon followed in 1812 en route to Moscow.

An "enemy"—that is German, Rumanian or German-Rumanian—attempt to cross the Prut river into Bessarabia was said to have been shattered with annihilation of an infantry regiment through use of a cavalry division. This illustrated use of one of Russia's trumps, numerical superiority.

South of Minsk, and separated from that battle sector by the labyrinth of the Minsk marshes, in the Luck-Lwow sector of occupied Poland, a great battle surged to and fro during Friday night and early Saturday.

The outcome of this battle was not known, but the Red army claimed that the German attempt to outflank Lwow was repulsed.

Minsk Heaviest Battle

It was in defense of Minsk, 20 miles inside the old Russian border with Poland, and 150 miles from the nearest point of east Prussia that the Russians loosed their own blitzkrieg—literally lightning war.

"In the Minsk direction (area) our troops, by a lightning onslaught of tank units, air force and artillery, routed enemy tank units and the headquarters of the 39th Tank Corps," a Russian communique said.

"In this battle our forces captured trophies, war prisoners and documents relating to operations."

Of the Baltic sector, the Red army reported air force operations "for the extermination of motorized and mechanized enemy units" in the Siauliai area. This town is in Lithuania, on the way to Riga, capital of Latvia.

West Front Active

On the western front, British pilots went on with their greatest aerial offensive. They heavily raided a big power plant at Comines, near Lille in industrialized northern France—this to cap an overnight assault which was said in London to have left incontrollable fires raging in the great German seaport and shipbuilding center of Bremen.

There were indications that the British public wanted even heavier blows struck.

"This chance," wrote a British military correspondent, "may not recur. Tens of thousands of raiders smashing up communications airfields and factories would bring real relief to our Russian allies while doing a vital service to ourselves."

YANKS GET AIR SUPERIORITY

Yankees Ahead Again

Conceding a "great difference" in strains imposed upon a ship in level flight and in a dive, airmen emphasized that Fausel's knifing power-thrust demonstrated Yankee engineering and production excellence to superlative degree.

Others agreed that any squadron able to dive upon an enemy formation, either aerial or ground, at 11 miles a minute would have tremendous advantage even though such lightning descent would subject personnel to considerable physical stress.

If You Were A Problem Child It May Have Been Jealousy Between Mother And Teacher, Psychologist Declares

CHICAGO —(AP)— A problem child is frequently handicapped by jealousy between his mother and his teacher, a child psychologist said Saturday.

"There is often resentment on the part of the mother toward the teacher, to whom she has turned over the child," Dr. Augusta T. Jameson, psychologist at the Institute of Juvenile research in Chicago, reported.

The chief causes of jealousy, she told the fourth annual conference of reading, were:

The teacher sees the child's faults and weaknesses, about which the mother is "sensitive . . . because they threaten her status as good mother."

The mother often feels inferior because of the teacher's good education, short working hours, and three-month vacation.

Up Oil Deadline

Industry To Select Supply Groups

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The deadline for the petroleum industry to file nominations for regional committees, which will help maintain oil supplies during the emergency, was extended Saturday by Secretary Ickes, defense petroleum coordinator, from June 26 to July 2, to allow time for additional filings.

Ickes requested the industry last week to submit nominations for four committees to be sent up in each of five regions.

The regions will be East Coast, South, Mid-Continent, Mountain, and Pacific Coast, with the four committees in each dealing separately with production, refinery, transportation and marketing. Ickes has not yet designated any committee member or indicated regional headquarters locations.

Arizona Freezes

Flagstaff Records 30, Nation's Low

PHOENIX, Ariz.—(AP)— The temperature dropped below freezing at Flagstaff Friday night as Arizona experienced what seemed like a cold wave in comparison with the normal hot weather of late June.

Flagstaff, at an elevation of 6,896 feet, recorded a minimum temperature of 31 degrees and a maximum of 68 in the last 24 hours. The U. S. weather bureau said it was the lowest reading in the nation. Ash Fork reported a minimum temperature of 33 degrees and Prescott 35.

Postmaster Amazed By Power Of Chief

SALT LAKE CITY — (AP)— Postmaster I. A. Smoot is fascinated by the accomplishments of these high ranking executives.

Smoot tried for seven years to get authorization from Washington for repairs for a leaky post office skylight.

Assistant Postmaster General Walter Myers came to town, heard of Smoot's plight and made a brief phone call to the capitol.

The skylight is fixed.

ing a large flotilla of submarines tied up at the submarine base here, the court recessed its inquiry until Saturday.

Personnel Failure Blamed

Opinions that personnel failure or an explosion might have sent the O-9 to the bottom in more than 400 feet of water were expressed by two officers.

Lieutenant Bernard F. McMahon, commander of the P-10 who witnessed the O-9's last test dive from the deck of his craft, said he believed the disaster might have been "caused by some person opening the wrong valve or giving a wrong order or some little thing wrong and some person lost his head."

"I think it was entirely personnel," he asserted.

The explosion theory, however, was advanced by Lieutenant Commander Robert M. Peacher, commander of submarine division 11 to which the O-9 was assigned.

FD To Speak To US July 4th At 3 P.M.

HYDE PARK, N. Y. —(AP)— President Roosevelt is expected to speak to his fellow Americans at 3 p.m (CST) on July 4, leading them in what he has termed a "grand rededication to liberty."

Mr. Roosevelt is expected to ask every American participating in a nationwide Independence Day celebration to join him in the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

SIX MEN DRAW PRISON TERMS

Thirteen Are Indicted By Hidalgo Jury

EDINBURG—Six defendants drew prison sentences totalling 36 years in criminal district court here Saturday when Judge Bryce Ferguson heard a number of guilty pleas and brought the court's work to a close for the summer recess. It will resume in September.

Several of the sentences were suspended.

Jimmy and Alvin Spaulding, brothers residing near San Juan, received three years each, suspended, for the thef of $100 belonging to their grandfather. The youths said they had intended going to Kansas with the money.

Henry Lloyd Hickman of Houston, who had served previously in the penitentiary, was assessed five years each on two burglary indictments, the sentences to run concurrently. Hickman was charged with stealing two radios, one near Pharr and one near Alamo.

Merced Tobias drew a 12-year sentence for burglary. Arrested while attempting to cross the Rio Grande, the Mexican citizen was held by Constable John Bales of McAllen, who filed charges against him in connection with Sharyland and McAllen burglaries.

Guadalupe Hernandez of Weslaco, received a five-year suspension for theft of $50 from a creamery firm there.

Eugenio Saldana was sentenced to three years, suspended, for breaking into the Spencer-Sauer Lumber company at Mercedes.

The criminal district grand jury, meanwhile, had returned a total of 13 indictments to the court. The list included all of the foregoing cases except that against Saldana, in addition to the following: Howard (Curly) Harrison, McAllen, theft, burglary, and receiving and concealing stolen property, 16 counts; Manuel Cervantes, of Mexico, murder, in connection with the June 5 death of Tomas Magena of near La Villa; Nicolasa Longoria, La Grulla, theft; Alfredo Alvarez, Donna, failure to stop and render aid, in connection with the death at Donna of Tom Dawson several weeks ago; Juan Muro, McAllen, theft from person; and Roy Telford of McAllen, failure to stop and render aid in connection with a recent non-fatal auto accident.

Shipping Control

Maritime Commission Merchantman Boss

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Senate passed Saturday House approved legislation giving the Maritime Commission control over American-flag merchant shipping.

The measure now goes back to the House for consideration of Senate amendments.

Under terms of the measure, the Maritime Commission would issue warrants to all ships documented in this country, owned by its citizens, or foreign ships which owners wished included.

Senator Bailey (D-NC) said the bill would give the Maritime Commission "aboslute control" over cargoes, routes, harbor privileges and maximum rates of ships operating under the warrants.

Cadets Tripled

$900,000 Contract For Cuero OK'd

CUERO, Tex. —(AP)— Clyde E Brayton, president of the Brayton Flying Service, said Saturday a contract totaling $900,000 had been signed tripling the U. S. army air cadet classes receiving elementary training at the Brayton Flying Cervice School at Cuero Municipal Airport.

He made no other statement regarding schools at any other Texas fields.

The new program will be in full swing by December, Brayton said. The program calls for a maximum class of 145 cadets every five weeks, with a total of 290 students to be in training at all times under the maximum operation. The students will receive a 10 weeks course at the school.

Worries Of Refugee Family Now At End

DALLAS—(AP)—Driven from their humble home by the rising Trinity river several days ago, a Dallas family worried principally about a new mattress.

But the family was happy Saturday.

They found their mattress had been left on a feather bed. As the flood rose, the feather bed rose with it and the new mattress was kept high and dry.

Flash Floods Come From Friday Rains

DALLAS — (AP) — Heavy Friday rains in Dallas county swept into flash floods Saturday, washed out bridges, damaged crops and closed highways in north and northwest parts of the county.

County Commissioner Buck Frank said the rain totaled five inches near Garland and flooded bridges never before touched by high water.

ILLNESS HITS 300 AT FETE

Cops To Probe All Foods Served

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa.—(AP)—Perplexed authorities Saturday sought the cause of a mystery ailment which suddenly struck down 300 men and women as it swept through a throng of 5,000 adults at the heighth of a picnic outing.

Commander-in-Chief George Lamade of the Williamsport Masonic Consistory which sponsored the fete, said some medical leaders attributed the wave of illness to food poisoning. Detective Chief Joseph M. Schumucker, however, declared this uncertain and ordered an analysis of food, ice cream and soft drinks served.

The picnickers were sprawled over the lawn of former State Senator Charles W. Sones' nearby 200-acre estate when stricken Friday during the principal address of the occasion. The program halted immediately and the gala scene within a matter of minutes turned into what resembled an emergency hospital.

Doctors and nurses among the crowd volunteered to attend the sick which overflowed the three-story Sones' mansion. Many men sought refuge from 95-degree heat in nearby woods where they collapsed. Ambulances in the area were not sufficient to rush the stricken to medical aid and fire trucks stripped of hose and ladders and hearses were pressed into service.

Congratulations

To Mr. and Mrs. A. Leal, San Benito, on the birth of a son, weighing eight pounds 13 and one-fourth ounces, Saturday at 9 p.m. at Valley Baptist Hospital.

To Mr. and Mrs. Fred Phillips Jr., of Alice on the birth of a son weighing eight pounds, five ounces at the McAllen Municipal hospital Saturday morning.

Interpreting The War News

Goebbels' Hands Full

His Task Is To Make Europe Believe War Is Crusade Against Russian Bear

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

The great task Hitler assigned to Nazi armies launched against Russia a week ago pales into insignificance beside that he simultaneously entrusted to Dr Goebbels and his Nazi propagandist specialists.

Goebbel's experts were commanded to set about proving overnight to a stunned world that the two-year appearance of the Nazi lion and the Communist lamb lying down together was mere camouflage. The lamb, the world is now told, was the real objective of the lion all the time.

That the Russian lamb happened to be a tempting morsel, rich in such vital war juices as oil and grain, is a mere happenstance in the Hitler-Von Ribbentrop-Goebbels white-book. It develops as they state the case that it wasn't a lamb at all with which they had so trustfully consorted, but a wolf in sheep's clothing, sharpening its fangs to eat up the lion in due course.

Seven days of furious Red-Nazi fighting on a front nearly 1,500 miles long have failed to disclose conclusively just what kind of a fighting animal Soviet Russia is. The bear is the favorite symbol for Russia and always has been. It looks from this distance as though Hitler might yet find it was a bear and neither a lamb nor a wolf he had by the tail.

This much certainly is true: Hitler is urgently seeking help now as never before from small continental neighbors as well as big. There are even hints that an actual Nazi proffer of alliance with England against Russia has been transmitted diplomatically.

If so, it was a futile gesture. Nor is there yet warrant from Tokyo for the predictions made in Rome that Japan will strike at the Siberian flank of the Russian bear as an Axis ally and to balk American aid for Russia.

Din Of Capitol Is Stilled As People Choose Senator

Flags Fly At Half Staff For Late Senator; State Employes Worrying About Shake-Up In Jobs

AUSTIN — (AP) — While Texas voted for a new United States Senator, flags on state buildings here floated Saturday at half staff in tribute to one who had died.

The huge statehouse showed plainly that it was a day of unusual importance for many state departments were closed and the din of legislative activity which had endured for six months was stilled.

The Senate and House of Representatives had adjourned until Monday. And many members had gone home to vote. Others, including Speaker Homer Leonard of McAllen, had voted absentee and remained in Austin.

Lieut.-Gov. Coke Stevenson of Junction, who would be the next governor of Texas should Governor W. Lee O'Daniel win the election, also had cast an absentee ballot and was in his office early in the day. Mrs. Stevenson was seriously ill in a hospital.

For the capital the election had the added interest that if either of two men won an important change in the state government which would bear heavily on department policies and employes would result.

If the governor was victor, the governorship would shift, how soon none knew although there was much speculation on the subject. Should Attorney General Gerald C. Mann emerge the election champion, a new head of his important department would be appointed by the governor.

Defeat Aftermath

If either Rep. Lyndon Johnson or Rep. Martin Dies was elected, the effect on the state government would not be felt so strongly, although the political repercussions of defeats for O'Daniel and Mann might be heavy.

Governor O'Daniel and Johnson planned to vote at their homes in Fort Worth and Johnson City during the day and return to Austin to receive the returns Saturday night. Mann was in Dallas and Dies in Orange.

Two former governors of Texas voted early and made no bones as to how they had voted. Former Governors James E. and Miriam A. Ferguson cast their ballots for O'Daniel.

A third former governor, Dan Moody, said he would vote later in the day and also made no secret of his preference in the race. He said he would vote for Mann.

Pappy's 'Party'

The usual election "party" at the governor's mansion Saturday night was announced and one and all were invited. On the two occasions when O'Daniel was elected governor, lights were strung over the lawn and his hilibilly orchestra played for big crowds.

With the election out of the way, the legislature was expected, after reconvening Monday, to move swiftly toward terminating the long session, which began in January and has broken all records for longevity.

Wednesday was the deadline for the governor to act on major appropriation bills sent to his office last week. By that day he had to sign or veto them.

U.S.-Made Planes In Syrian Air Duels

JERUSALEM — (AP) — Australian airmen flying new American made Tomahawk fighter planes Saturday shot down six American-made Glenn Martin bombers piloted by Vichy French fliers in one of the hottest air engagements of the Syrian campaign.

The Australians were escorting RAF bombers in an attack on the French military depot at Palmyra when they sighted two Martin bombers raiding British and Free-French troops.

The Tomahawks (Curtisses) closed in as the Martins dived. Both bombers crashed in flames.

Soon afterward, four more bombers were spotted and shot down despite desperate efforts at escape, the Australians said.

"The heavy guns of these Tomahawks are terrific," said one of the Australians after the squadron landed unscathed.

Meanwhile, the British and Free French pursuing Vichy troops north from Damascus reported they had reached nearly halfway to Homs, important transportation center for north Syria.

A military spokesman said another column, moving toward Homs through the desert 60 miles southwest of Palmyra, had captured Saba Biyar.

Vichy troops stubbornly held Palmyra and subjected the British to heavy mortar and machine gun fire and air bombings. The spokesman said the allies hoped to capture the historic caravan city with minimum damage.

US FURNITURE TO BE PROBED

Price Boosts Lead Henderson To Act

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Price Administrator Leon Henderson said Saturday that the Federal Trade Commisison, at his request, would undertake an immediate investigation of the prices, costs, and profits of furniture makers throughout the country.

The action was prompted, Henderson said, by a five per cent price boost by "certain groups" in the industry. The price increase came shortly after the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply, headed by Henderson, asked that they "make no further changes in their prices without prior consultation" with that office.

At the same time OPACS fixed a ceiling price schedule for six leading types of cotton cloth, known as grey goods, at levels about 15 per cent below current quotations.

The price administration also announced that he was studying the price situation for rayon fabrics "and if necessary will take action in that field."

Even the dragons are getting a Ferdinand complex. Walt Disney's latest picture, "The Reluctant Dragon," tells how a blood-thirsty little boy engineered a battle between a rather timid knight and a rather peaceable dragon. Neither wanted to fight, so they agreed for the knight to "chase" the dragon into his lair, where they would have a cup of tea and nobody know the difference.

Junkin Furniture Co.,
Harlingen, Texas.

There is enclosed herewith, a new price list which is now effective on the Foster line of Bed Springs, Metal Beds, Cots, Roller Beds and Day Beds. All prices in effect heretofore are withdrawn and the new list will apply on all future shipments.

How long before additional price changes may be necessary we cannot predict. All orders placed with steel mills carry no price guarantee, and are subject to price in effect at time of shipment. This condition might cause sudden and drastic changes in our costs, making it necessary for us to quickly adjust the prices of our products.

We assure you, however, that we will do everything possible to maintain our usual prompt service, and again wish to express our appreciation for the business you have given us in the past.

Yours very truly,

Gentlemen:

Att'n: Mr. Sig Gilbert

We thank you for your order of June 9th and will be pleased to give it prompt attention, together with back orders on file.

Due to present market conditions prices are due to revision without notice.

Respectfully, yours,
CALIF-ASIA CO., LTD.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

For months we have been urging our customers to select new furniture before certain price rises came into effect. Although many, many retailers have already made radical price hikes on their stock, due to the tremendous stock we carry in our warehouses, we have been able to thus far absorb all price advances. How long we will continue to operate before we will be forced to raise our prices depends entirely on how long our present stocks last. If you are contemplating the purchase of new furniture of any description we cannot urge you too strongly to BUY NOW!

Signed.
JOS. K. JUNKIN.

ELECTION ON CAUSEWAY IS NOT NEEDED

Commission Can Set Bond Issue, Said

BROWNSVILLE — The Cameron County commissioners court itself may determine whether bonds are to be issued for the construction of a toll bridge across Laguna Madre to Padre Island, and an election for this purpose is not necessary, according to an opinion delivered Saturday by County Attorney Jack Wiech.

Wiech advised County Judge Oscar C. Dancy to this effect after making a study of the bill passed recently by the legislature which would permit the county to issue bonds for the project provided it is to be self-liquidating.

It was first believed that the decision on the bonds would have to be made by the people through an election, and toward this end, the Mayors Association of the Valley was granted a hearing for Monday before the commissioners court.

The mayors went on record this week as favoring the project. They are expected to have a delegation representative of the whole Valley at the Monday hearing.

The bill demands that the project be self-liquidating, Wiech said. This means, he continued, that absolutely no county funds could be used to discharge the obligations of the bonds.

Judge Dancy explained that the bond obligations would be discharged by revenue taken in at the bridge. He also said that the highway department has pledged itself to see to the upkeep of the beach in the event the bridge is built.

ANDERSON TO HEAD LEGION

Only One Nominated By McAllen Post

McALLEN—George L. Anderson, present adjutant, was the only nominee for commander when members of Loyal Service post No. 37 of the American Legion nominated officers at Legion hall Friday night.

All except three of the offices had only one nominee each, although nominations may be filed until the election, July 24, Commander C. D. Martin announced.

Also nominated were Leo Mathes, for adjutant; Harley Jackson, service officer; Rev. Fred Hamner, chaplain; Dr. W. H. Duncan, post surgeon; Gus Maurer and Ray Losh, sergeant at arms; T. W. Kelly, mess officer; J. Fred Swanson and C. D. Martin, historian; and Bolton Hyde, George Chapapas, Kelly, Robert Paul, O. C. Emery, Hal Ramsey, and Ray Losh, executive committee, five to be elected.

Delegates to the third division convention at San Antonio July 12 were also chosen. They will be Hyde, chairman; Losh, Emery, Paul, Ramsey, Terry Keifer, and Lee Rowe.

The post's award to the high school's most outstanding girl graduate from McAllen High school was presented to Miss Katherine O'Neall, who was unable to be present at her graduation in May. Knox Kyler, Jr., the post's representative to "Boy's State" at Austin recently, described his experience there.

H. H. Damme turned in three building bonds for the hall to the post, and J. V. Carpenter gave back two.

Board To Register In Court Room

EDINBURG — Selective service registration July 1 will be conducted in the county court room, Phayne Glover, chief clerk of the local draft board, announced Saturday.

Assisting the local board will be Mrs. Celia Meek, Mrs. Camilla Bader, Santos Gorena, and Amado Vela.

Three selectees left last week for induction at Fort Sam Houston. They were Sherman Allen of Edcouch, Manuel Diaz of Linn and Felipe Espino of Pharr. L. D. Pate has been inducted for the local board by the Lynn county board.

Charge Is Filed After Collision

WESLACO — Santiago de Bosque of Weslaco was cited Saturday to appear in court here Monday on charges arising from a collision between his car and one driven by Miss Doris Vines of McAllen Saturday at 10 a.m. between Donna and Weslaco. Neither driver was injured. Hidalgo County Patrolman Walter Lysinger said the crash occurred when de Bosque's car turned left to a side road just as the Vines car war preparing to pass it. The latter was caved in on one side by the impact.

Found: A Benefit From The River Rise

Residents of the Old Point Isabel road north of Brownsville found gar-gigging good in the resaca due to the vast amounts of water coming down the stream. The gars, believed to originate from the Olmito lake, float down the resaca on top of the water and this group, standing on a bridge, gigged them as they came along.

ROTARY MEET TO BE STAGED

Plans Already Under Way In McAllen

McALLEN — Entertainment for the district Rotary assembly here July 13 and 14 was planned at a meeting Saturday afternoon.

Homer W. Rowe, president-elect of the McAllen club, and P. H. Graning, met with McAllen Chamber of Commerce officials to plan the entertainment for an estimated 300 Rotarians and their wives who are expected to come here for the assembly.

Foremost among the preliminary plans is a barbecue to be held at noon July 14. There will be an entertainment program on the opening day of the assembly at the Casa de Palmas Hotel.

Special programs are being arranged for the women visitors here during the assembly.

Go West, Young Lady Go West To College

NORMAN, Okla. —(AP)— More men graduates of western colleges marry than from any other section of the United States. They also marry sooner after graduation.

The statistics are from the Department of the Interior, which are studied as part of the course in home economics at the University of Oklahoma.

Blood And Sand Hold No Delight For 69-Year-Old Valley Native; Manuel Serra Sticks To This Side Of River

MERCEDES—Most Latin-Americans in the Valley enjoy occasional jaunts across the border, but 69-year-old Manuel Serra of Mercedes has stuck to Valley soil for the past 34 years. In fact, he has not been out of the Valley in any direction since then and only a few times prior to that time in Reynosa. He attended a bull fight in Matamoros in 1907 but the "blood and sand" spectacle did not stir up any ancestral enthusiasm for this sport in his veins. Since then he has stayed on this side of the Rio Grande.

This grizzled veteran of the Valley, who was born in Santa Maria, is a walking encyclopedia of historical information of this section. The early border days, when all commercial transactions in the Valley were carried on with Mexican money as the medium of exchange, are still a detailed part of his memory. He knows the names, and also the reputations, of practically all the early settlers. His father was a clerk for L. J. Hynes, pioneer merchant of Santa Maria, and Manuel worked for the same employer for quite a number of years. Then he worked for Dr. G. S. Smith, a pioneer ranchman south of Mercedes. He was the first Mexican placed on the payroll of the American Rio Grande Land and Irrigation Company when this company started its historic development in 1905. Now he is doing odd jobs and looking after his property which he acquired during the days when "going was good." He made good money as a grubbing contractor during the development days.

Economic conditions in the Valley may have given him a headache and other aches now and then, but never a toothache. After 69 years of chawing hot tamales and tortillas he still has a full set of ivories as sound as the day when he lost his last baby tooth.

Abandons Dynamite

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. —(AP)—In a room vacated by a college student, Mrs. Cecil Githens found two long sticks and a note advising caution in handling. Police agreed, for the sticks were dynamite.

About 50 per cent of all American farmer folk live in 13 Southern states.

19 FINISH CAA COURSES HERE

Licenses Given Many New Fliers

BROWNSVILLE — Nine students have completed secondary CAA training at Mauldin Aircraft here, and 10 have completed primary CAA work in the final spring classes at the local field, according to Les Mauldin, flight instructor.

Completing the secondary course were William Francis McVey of Aransas Pass, David Davila of Edinburg, Burley Davis Richmond of San Benito, and Thomas Hamilton Hughston, Morgan Ross, Luther Scott Curs, Marvin Nathaniel Brown, John Joseph McLaughlin and Robert Rene Martindale, all of Brownsville.

These students went through 40 hours of aerobatics in the secondary classes, and may obtain commercial licenses and instructors' ratings by taking a 120-hour cross-country course.

All have applied for the cross-country course, and so far two have been accepted, according to Mr. Mauldin.

Morgan Irwin will take the course at Fort Worth, and William McVey will train at Big Spring, he said.

One feminine flier completed the primary course recently. She is Miss Elizabeth May Chaudoin of Port Isabel, a technician.

Others receiving private pilots' licenses from the primary class include Glenn Harold Tussing and Herbert Boris Day, both of San Benito; Leonard I. Wilson, Jr., of Harlingen, Henry George Chaffin of Los Fresnos, Vance Carll Wilson of Harlingen, and Ocie Carl Allen, Ben Weir Risinger, Maurice Manning Chastain and Ben Lee Leftwich, all of Brownsville.

Iowan College Group To See Valley

McALLEN — Twenty representatives from Iowa State College are due to arrive in McAllen Monday afternoon on their fourth annual trip to the Valley as part of a middle western and southern tour of agricultural areas.

In the party will be 16 students, three professors and a cook.

Accompanied by Hidalgo County Agent J. C. Oswalt, the party will tour the Edinburg area and Engelman Gardens. They will stay in McAllen overnight where guide service has been secured from the McAllen Chamber of Commerce.

Spider Bests Snake

McPHERSON, Kas. —(AP)— Employes at the Santa Fe railway depot came to work one morning to find that a spider had entangled a small snake in its web. The snake had been half lifted into the air and couldn't get enough traction to break the web.

HONEYMOON COUPLE HOME

McALLEN — Mr. and Mrs. Jack Eiler of St. Louis, Mo., left for their home Sunday after spending their honeymoon here with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Eiler. The St. Louis couple were married there June 15. While in the Valley the group spent several days in Monterrey.

ARMY SERVICE RULING CITED

Defense Need Might Call Men Out

McALLEN—Employers engaged in the production and distribution of national defense items may request release from military service of former civilian employes who hold key positions prior to induction or enlistment, General J. Watt Page, State selective service director, announced in a letter received in McAllen Saturday.

He said: "The civilian employe who held a key spot and whose services are now required by his former employer by reason of the expansion of industrial activities or the shortage of skilled employes in his classification, may be relieved from military service in order that he may return to his civilian position."

General Page stressed that employers' request for the release of key men should be addressed directly to the Undersecretary of War, and that a separate request must be submitted in triplicate in affidavit form, executed before a notary public by the responsible head of the firm or agency by which the soldier was employed at the time of his entry into military service.

Full details on how to make applications for release of employes are filed by the government at the McAllen Chamber of Commerce office and will be furnished on request, officials said Saturday

USO 'Incident'

Youth's $5 Donation Out Of Proportion

BROWNSVILLE—Mayor Royce Russell told a meeting of the city commissioners Friday night that he believed he knew of the "finest incident" in connection with the current U.S.O. drive here.

George Loya, who works at the Den-Russ Pharmacy, of which Mayor Russell is part owner, voluntarily gave $5.

"I told the boy that amount was all out of proportion to what he made."

"Just the same, I want to give it," the boy said.

CEILING FOR COTTON ACTS AS TOBOGGAN

Avalanche Of Sales Follows US Order

NEW YORK—(AP)—Government-fixed price ceilings 15 per cent below current levels on some cotton goods and an announcement similar control would be put on cottonseed oil brought an avalanche of selling to the cotton market Saturday and sent values down $2.35 to $2.70 a bale.

Stop-loss orders uncovered by the decline added momentum to the fall. There was some hedging against commitments in cottonseed oil, the market for which is closed on Saturday.

Trade buying lent a minimum of support to the market after its opening drop but the cotton goods ceiling knocked out most of those props.

The maximums clip about a cent a yard from current cloth prices, trade circles said, by setting a top of 39 cents a pound on prints.

Worth Street has been relatively inactive awaiting price administrator Leon Henderson's action and the mills were almost completely withdrawn.

No exports Friday. Season so far 1,020,248 bales; port receipts 7,407; port stocks 3,285,296.

OIL COMPANY SEEKS CRUDE

Davis, Continental To Pool Acreage

SAN JUAN — The W. R. Davis Company and the Continental Oil Company, now engaged in widespread oil drilling activity in the Valley, have pooled several pieces of acreage for a 40-acre crude oil drilling block and a 363-acre gas and distillate block south of San Juan.

The agreement was filed Saturday in the Hidalgo county clerk's office at Edinburg.

The oil drilling block will include 21.81 acres leased from the C. W. Dawley estate and 18.4 acres of the A. C. Jefferson property, directly south of the city.

The gas-distillate acreage includes leases obtained from W. U. Coughran, Mrs. Dora Van Nordstrand, the Dawley estate and Jefferson.

The Davis and Continental firms are operating in the big Rincon field of Starr county and Davis is drilling a wildcat test southeast of McAllen on the Texas-Arizona Citrus company tract.

Location for the Davis No. 1 Dawley estate has already been made south of San Juan, the second test to be drilled by the firm in southeastern Hidalgo county. Spudding of the new test is scheduled during the week-end.

Grass-Green Rookie Learns About Army From Base Colonel

ORLANDO, Fla. — He was a grass-green recruit and fresh off the farm. He sauntered up to Col. Thomas S. Voss, commandant of the Orlando air base, as the colonel stepped out of his car.

"Mister," he began, "you look to me like you might be an officer or somehting and I reckon there's something I'm supposed to do, but I'll be doggoned if I know what it is. I've been in this here man's army exactly one day. Just got my uniform this morning. How do you like it?"

The colonel assured him it looked fine, then asked, "Has anybody told you what you are supposed to do when you meet an officer?"

"Nope."

The colonel spent the next 20 minutes telling him how to salute, how he should stand at attention until dismissed, and how to salute, about face and march away when he left.

"Mister," the recruit said, "I'm sure much obliged."

Then he stuck out his hand. Before he realized what he was doing, the colonel shook it. The recruit shambled away.

Not-So-Shocking Stockings Of 1926 Vintage May Give Way To Darker Shades This Fall, And Men Get A Break

By AMY PORTER
AP Fashion Editor

LEGS will be good for an argument this autumn.

For the first time since 1926, we are due for a return to dark stockings.

Will men like them? Will sheer black flatter legs more than our current pinky beiges? Will dark green and wine-colored legs look enchanting or revolting? To get back to the crux of the matter, will men like them?

You'll Like Them, Or Else

We'll have a chance to find out, for important designers will sponsor the new colored hose for fall, and you'll find yourself following their lead, willy nilly. You'll buy dark hosiery, whether you like it or not.

Fashion is suposed to make a complete cycle every seven years, but it has taken 15 years to make a dent in the popularity of "nude" hosiery, the shocker fashion of the post-war era.

When nude stockings were launched, reformers raged. They blamed flaming youth, the flapper and post-war hysteria for a break-down in moral fiber which seemed to be epitomized in naked-appearing legs.

So Tiresome, Really

Now, nobody is shocked by naked-looking or even naked legs. Only bored.

Vera Scott, hosiery stylist, decided boredom wouldn't do. She and other stylists evolved the colored hosiery idea. For summer, they sent out fashion feelers in the form of brilliant red, green and yellow hose, suggesting these for wear with sports and play clothes. The colors caught on.

Now Miss Scott is staking her reputation on the fate of the dozen or more new dusky hosiery colors she has worked out for fall.

Remember Gunmetal?

Dress designers welcome the novelty of black, gunmetal, wine, green, amythest, and amber hose. Some of them are matching dresses to stockings. Others prefer linking up stockings to other assessories—brown dress with green hat, bag, gloves and hose, for instance.

Gunmetal, fashion leader in the Twenties, will be even more popular this fall, Miss Scott believes, especially in nylon, which takes to black and off-black dye better than silk.

The new dark hosiery fashion should please Marlene Dietrich, she of the famous legs, who never has given up wearing sheer blacks. Or, when all the rest of us switch to black, will she perversely choose old-fashioned "nudes"?

Grab A Grapefruit If You Feel The Flu Coming On: Letter From School Head In Ozarks Praises The Effect Of Citrus

MERCEDES — "Flu epidemics could be materially lessened if the people of this nation would eat more grapefruit and oranges, particularly those grown in the Rio Grande Valley."

This testimonial concerning the value of Texas grapefruit was received by W. E. Tillery, Mercedes shipper, from President R. M. Good of the School of the Ozarks at Point Lookout, Missouri. President Good is sincere in this statement because health conditions among the boys and girls at his school have been much better when his proteges ate grapefruit than during the winters when they were without this citrus diet.

"Our experience has been that when we have an abundance of grapefruit from down there (the Valley), we have very little sickness," the Missouri educator declares. " Year before last, when we had this fruit constantly from Christmas until early in April, we were practically devoid of sickness in spite of the fact that influenza raged around us. Last year, due to the freeze, we had no grapefruit at all and our youngsters . . . had a very severe epidemic of the flu, which we believe was partly due to the lack of fruit," he relates in pointing out that eating grapefruit keeps the body toned up and assists in preventing illness.

He prefaced his declaration with the suggestion that "there should be a national campaign on the subject of the value of grapefruit, grapefruit juice and oranges in assisting materiallly to prevent flu epidemics."

The School of the Ozarks, headed by Good, provides hundreds of poor boys and girls, without means for attending another school, with the opportunity to train themselves for a useful occupation. The carload of grapefruit, which evoked this voluntary testimonial from the educator of the Ozarks, was shipped to the school by Lee Kidder of Mercedes who has assisted this school with shipments of citrus fruits on a number of previous occasions.

Bill Tillery points out that "Valley people should appreciate what we have and eat more grapefruit ourselves. Maybe there should not be any flu epidemics in the Valley.

SOLON SEEKS SENATE POST

J. E. Taylor To Run For Cotten's Job

AUSTIN —(AP)— Lieutenant James E. Taylor of Kerens, officer in the national guard and member of the House of Representatives, announced Saturday he would be a candidate for the state Senate from the sixth district, a post now held by Senator Clay Cotten of Palestine.

Thirty-five year old Taylor, publisher of the Corsicana Democrat and former editor of the Kerens Tribune, was chairman of the sub-committee which drafted the $22,000,000 omnibus tax bill to finance expanded old age pensions, aid to the blind; aid to dependent children and teachers retirement.

The soldier-lawmaker sponsored bills creating the Texas defense guard and the anti-violence in labor disputes statutes.

U.S.O. DRIVE PASSES $1,000

McAllen Employes Join '100 Per Cent'

McALLEN — McAllen's United Service Organizations fund campaign has passed the $1,000 mark, and the remainder of the $1,600 quota will be raised next week, Chairman Lee D. Rowe announced Saturday.

A total of $1,030 has been collected.

Rowe said a large portion of the McAllen fund was made possible by the contributions of employes of several business firms, who joined "100 per cent" by making donations of $1 or more each.

He proposed that employes of other firms follow the example, for 'by doing so the remaining $570 can be raised without trouble."

A meeting of all campaign workers will be held at 10 a. m. Monday at the chamber of commerce building to outline plans for the drive's wind-up, Rowe said. Efforts will be made to complete the work in two or three days.

The Saturday report lacked figures on two or three committees which have been working for the past week, the chairman declared.

$12,000 Is Paid For Mercedes Property

EDINBURG — The sale of several pieces of property in and near Mercedes to the Del Tex Investment Company of that city by the Hidalgo County Bank and Trust Company, also of Mercedes, was disclosed Saturday when papers on the sale were filed here.

Included in the purchase at a price of about $12,000 were block No. 1 of the Mercedes townsite; the east half of lot 13, block 1, of the townsite; several lots in the La Villa townsite; 18.24 acres in the Campacuas addition to Mercedes and 30 acres in the Llano Grande grant near here.

The transfer was effective June 26. O. E. VanBerg signed the documents as president of the bank.

Actor To Landlord Via The Racetrack

NEW YORK— (AP) —Actor Victor Moore had this explanation for turning up in Jackson Heights at the controls of a steam shovel:

"Some years ago a former actor turned real estate broker and tried to sell me a piece of land. I wasn't much interested, but he told me he had a real tip on a race horse. He said he'd let me in if I'd promise that if I won I'd use the money for a down payment on the lot. I did. He did. The horse did. So I did, and now we're building a bus terminal on it."

Moore kept his gloves on just long enough to move one shovelful of dirt.

New Mexico's State Travel Office Puts Texas Tourism In The Shade

McALLEN—Making no effort to deny that Texas is envious of the attraction of New Mexico as a tourist attraction, the McAllen Chamber of Commerce looked at the records Saturday.

The chamber found that New Mexico's active state travel promotion bureau attracted nearly 15 times more out-of-state visitors than the total permanent population of the state. Texas paled in comparison on that basis. Texas has fewer visitors than the total population of the state. But our population is much greater than that of New Mexico.

The chamber will point out that fact to the State Highway Commission in suggesting that an effort be made to bring in a group of editors of travel pages of some of the nation's largest newspapers.

The McAllen chamber is suggesting that the publicity men be taken to the piny woods of East Texas, to the plains of West Texas, to the Alamo, the San Jacinto Battle field, and the Lower Rio Grande Valley, besides other points of interest. While on the tour they would be free, of course, to gather whatever data they wished for travel articles. The suggestion also points out that travelers spent more than $300,000,000 in Texas during 1940.

Chamber officials stated that while New Mexico's travelers outnumbered local residents by 1,500 per cent, travelers to the Valley totaled only about 25 per cent of the section's population.

FARM BUREAU WORK GROWS

Fifteen Mission Men Join Chapter

MISSION—Fifteen members were added to the Hidalgo county chapter of the Texas Farm Bureau federation at a meeting of about 30 farmers of the Mission community Friday night at the chamber of commerce building.

J. C. Looney of Edinburg and Jack Drake, Loren V. Williams, Ray D. Goodwin, Arnold Shary and Harry Thompson of Mission addressed the meeting, pointing out advantages of the organized farm program.

Judge Looney, chairman of the county-wide farm bureau membership drive, said Saturday that indications now point to a heavy enlistment of members in the group within the next few months.

"Bit by bit we are adding more members," he declared. "The Mission meeting was highly successful, in my opinion."

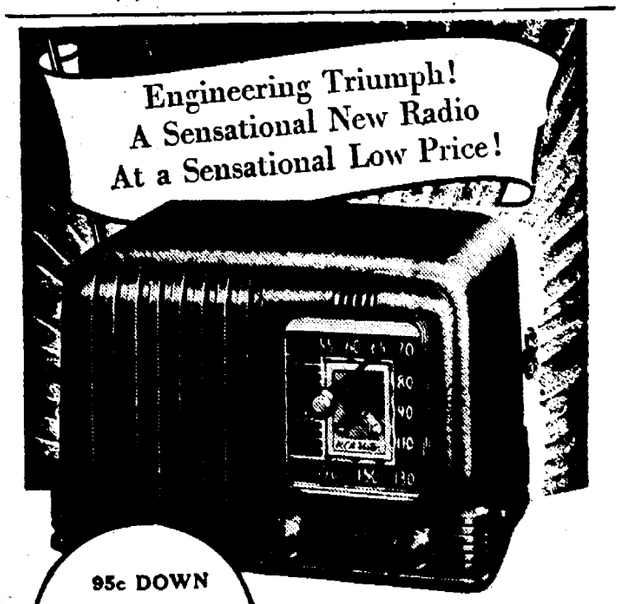

Another local meeting will be held July 11 at Edinburg, if present plans are completed. The date is still tentative.

TEXAS READY TO REGISTER MEN TUESDAY

21-Year-Olds To Be Taken By Draft

AUSTIN — (AP) — Local boards throughout Texas are ready for the selective service registration on July 1, 1941, General J. Watt Page, state director, announced Saturday.

To be registered were citizens and aliens who reached their 21st birthday on or before July 1, 1941, and subsequent to October 16, 1940, provided they had not previously registered.

The men were required to regitser with the local board at their place of residence or wherever they happened to be on July 1 between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m.

Answer All Questions

"The registrant must answer all questions asked by the registrar for notation on the registration card," the announcement said. It added:

"He must give his full name, include middle name, if any, and should have with him papers of identification showing it to be his true name.

"It is particularly important that the registrant describe his place of residence in detail as well as to give full particulars as to the address at which he would most readily receive mail sent to him."

Major Requirements

Pointing out that these major requirements applied to registrants who were physically able to present themselves to proper registration places, General Page said that special provisions had been made to register the sick in hospitals, persons confined to asylums, jails and similar institutions and persons sick but not in hospitals.

Persons in the latter group should have a competent person get authority from the proper local board to register them, General Page said.

If any young man was in doubt as to whether he should register, he should consult the proper registration officials and follow their advice, the director declared.

POLICE CLAIM PROBE MEAGER

No Search Made For Joss Assailant?

BATH, Me.—(AP)—A Richmond constable testified Saturday under cross examination at Dr. Merrill E. Joss' wife-murder trial that state police made no real search for the assailant the physician claims fatally beat Dr. Luverne Harris Joss last March 27.

Frank C. Bishop, 49, police officer in the little town of Richmond, said state police had been ordered to patrol the vicinity of the Joss office-home but that a "dozen or 13" were gathered around the house.

"I made the remark that it was funny that the state of Maine would send cops out and not have them stay wherever they were supposed to stay," he said under questioning by Defense Counsel Ernest L. Goodspeed.

He replied "No," when asked by Goodspeed if "in your opinion was any real search made by the state police?"

"In your opinion, would it have been possible for an assailant of Mrs. Joss to escape as far as the state police search was concerned," he was asked.

"Knowing the place as I do—it would," he answered.

The state claims the physician, a Portland, Ore., native, killed his Alabama-born wife by beating her head against the floor, walls and stairs in the cellar of their home because of his love for Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman Mayo, 32, attractive tea-room proprietor.

New Classes

Red Cross Instructors Due At McAllen

McALLEN—Misses Edna Herbert and Ruth Evans of Austin will arrive in McAllen Monday, July 7, to conduct Red Cross classes in home hygiene and care of the sick.

The first class will open a week from Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the junior high auditorium in McAllen. The two women who will conduct the classes are from Austin.

No tuition charge will be made for sessions. Until fall they will be held at night, according to Mrs. Frank Suttle, county organizer. She said women who wished to register for day classes, which will start in the fall, would be free to attend the night sessions. Those who have not registered may do so at the opening session.

McALLEN TRAFFIC FINES

McALLEN—Traffic fines levied in McAllen courts Saturday morning included: Justice of the Peace T. J. Powell's Domingo Martinez, $10 and costs ($25.40), violation of the law of the road, and remanded to county jail in lieu of payment; Justice of the Peace Kent Manning's, Alberto Hernandez, $1 and costs ($14), simple assault.

MRS. YOUNG ILL

McALLEN—Mrs. S. J. Young is confined to her home seriously ill.

ALL DRUGGISTS

Leon Henderson—America's Professional 'No Man'

By SIGRID ARNE
AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON — Leon Henderson, the new "price czar," is stocky, 45-ish, looks more like an amateur golf champion than a brilliant economist. He's been in and out of New Deal agencies for more than eight years, has a sense of humor along with a casual vocabulary of slang. He's thought by many to be the liveliest idea man in the whole Roosevelt entourage.

Henderson established himself as an idea man back in the winter of 36-37 when he predicted the slump in the market that came the following autumn. But he grins about prophecies now. He says, "I'm the guy who made a hole-in-one the first time out. So I'm retiring from the prophecy field."

An Old Hand

He's Tackled the subject of prices from many angles in the past 20 years. The President's recent order gave him the job of Director of the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply but already it's shortened to "OPACS."

The title covers a great many duties but they all boil down to this: Henderson is supposed to keep prices down. It's a ticklish business.

There's talk now of a new law to give him the precise power that's needed. But while the talk goes on Henderson has announced maximum prices for a few materials necessary to the defense program. Like steel, aluminum, zinc scrap, second hand machine tools, and coal.

So far, no producer has contested the prices set. If they do, Henderson is thinking of asking them to come to Washington to defend higher prices in an open hearing.

He insists that keeping prices down is not just freezing them. It's much more important to be sure that we have enough of everything—both for the defense program and for civilian needs.

Henderson explains, "You don't build ships out of frozen prices."

Recently copper prices began to spiral upward. He talked with other defense chiefs, and the government began to buy South American copper. That brought the prices down.

Zinc is beginning to look scarce. That could send prices sky-rocketing. So Henderson talked around until now a new, big smelter is under construction.

Started Early

Henderson began in the first World War to study prices. In the war department's ordinance accounting department then, he still shivers when he thinks of that period's inflation, and says with irritation that the prices cost this government 15 billion dollars more than necessary.

After the war, he went to teach economics at the University of Pennsylvania but kept right on worrying about those World War prices. He went on to Carnegie Institute to work on consumer credit problems, and then to Russell Sage for more work on prices. When the NRA came along he became research director (more about prices). Now he's the price czar of these United States.

INCOMES FOR FARMS HIKED

$3,544,000,000 Total First Five Months

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Farmers received a total cash income, including government benefit payments, of $3,544,000,000 during the first five months of 1941, or $307,000,000, more than in the corresponding period last year, the agricultural department reported Saturday.

Income from farm marketings was placed at $3,240,000,000, or $388,000,000 more than a year ago. Government payments totalled $304,000,000 compared with $385,000,000 for the period last year.

The department predicted that the farm cash income for the full year would amount to about $10,700,000,000 compared with $9,123,000,000 last year if the present favorable production, price and market prospects continue. Such an income would be the largest since 1929.

The sharpest income gains were reported for cotton and cottonseed and livestock and livestock products.

The department said that farm income by major classes of products for the five-month period of 1940 and 1941, respectively, was as follows:

Grains $376,000,000 and $253,000,000, cotton and cotton seed $64,000,000 and $118,000,000, fruits $98,000,000 and $119,000,000, vegetables $223,000,000 and $230,000,000, tobacco $76,000,000 and $63,000,000, meat animals $907,000,000 and $1,168,000,000, dairy products $615,000,000 and $711,000,000, and poultry and eggs $255,000,000 and $311,000,000.

Edinburg Men To Greet Group

EDINBURG—Business men of Edinburg will turn out Wednesday to greet a group of good-will trippers from McAllen advertising that city's Fourth of July celebration.

Chamber of commerce officials were completing plans Saturday for the event, which will take place in the downtown district. The McAllen group will be accompanied by a hill-billy band.

Meeting Planned For School Band

McALLEN—All members of the McAllen High school band should meet at the junior high school auditorium at 7:30 Monday night, Fletcher Glendenning, acting as director in the absence of Hermann Wren, announced.

The band will march in the parade for the Fourth of July celebration and will present a concert in Archer Park at noon July 4.

McALLEN—Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cook are leaving Monday for a vacation visit in South Bend, Ind.

Ratings Of 32 Texas Post Offices Readjusted By U.S.

Changes Involve Advancement And Reduction For Four Classes Of Offices; Names Are Listed

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Postoffice Department has announced that in the annual readjustment of postmasters' salaries effective July 1, several changes in the ratings of postoffices were being made in Texas.

The changes involve advancement of second class offices to first class, of third class offices to second class, and fourth class to third, as well as reductions in classification in some instances.

The first-class office must have annual receipts of at least $50,000. The minimum salary for the postmaster is $3,200, with higher salaries for higher-receipt offices.

A second-class office must have receipts of at least $8,000 annually. The minimum salary for the postmaster is $2,400 for offices with $8,000 to $10,000 receipts, and the maximum is $3,000 for receipts of $33,000 to $40,000.

A third-class office must have receipts of $1,500 annually. The postmaster's salary starts at $1,100 and goes as high as $1,600.

Fourth class offices have receipts of less than $1,500. Postmasters receive no salary. Their compensation is based entirely on receipts.

Readjustments in Texas are as follows:

Second to first class—Alice, Borger, Brenham, Yoakum.

First to second class—none.

Third to second class—La Porte, Sanatorium, Santa Anna, Seminole, Sonora, South San Antonio, Burnet, Dayton, Denver City.

Second to third class—Azle, Bellmead, Bessmay, Desdemona, Joshua, Keller, Matagorda, Medina, Portland, Selman City, Springtown, Thompsons, Warren, Weimert.

Third to fourth class—Caddo, Idalou, Valentine, De Berry.

Farmers, Too

They'll Join McAllen Celebration

McALLEN — As many farmers will be in McAllen July 3 as there will be for the annual July Fourth celebration.

As a pre-fiesta event, a special program has been arranged to stress McAllen's agricultural prominence in the Valley's greatest enterprise.

There will be a free implement show all day. Merchants will feature wares calculated as of particular interest to farmers.

The day's program will be climaxed with the bathing beauty style show and revue at Cascade Swimming pool that night.

ARMY RECRUIT DRIVE SLATED

Mobile Unit Will Be At McAllen Soon

McALLEN—The army's mobile recruiting unit will arrive in McAllen July 2 to stay here during the duration of the annual July Fourth patriotic celebration.

The large auto trailer which forms the unit's headquarters will be centrall, located so that visitors here for the celebration may inspect it, Sergeant Edward J. Volkmann, in charge of the recruiting unit here, has especially invited all young men between the ages of 18 and 35 years who are interested in joining the army air corps to visit the station. Enlistment forms will be on hand there for those desiring to enter the air corps service. The unit is also qualified to receive enlistments for flying cadets.

Requirements for enlistment into the air corps are men between the ages of 18 and 35 years, single, with no dependents and an eighth grade or better education.

The unit is coming to McAllen from San Antonio. Sergeant Jack Wilkinson and Sergeant L. N. Gunn will accompany the trailer here.

Sometime during the middle of July, Serg. Volkmann said, a flying cadet examining board will come to McAllen to accept applications from young men seeking service in the flying corps.

ARRIVES FOR VISIT

SAN JUAN—Mrs. Luke Thornton arrived Monday morning from a visit with relatives and friends at her home town at Mt. Pleasant.

BURIAL GROUP IS CHARTERED

Martin-Nelson Firm Active In Valley

McALLEN — The Martin-Nelson Burial association was granted a permanent charter by the state Saturday, Scott Martin, manager, announced.

The charter was secured three weeks and two days after the firm began its operation in the Upper Valley.

Fifteen salesmen are operating for the association in McAllen, Pharr, San Juan, Alamo and Weslaco, Martin said. Anyone living within 75 miles of McAllen is eligible for membership in the company.

A minimum of 500 policies are necessary before a permanent charter for operation is granted by the state.

BACK FROM MEXICO

MISSION — Mrs. W. A. Wolverton has returned from a two-weeks motor trip to Mexico City and scenic points in that section. She was one of a party of six Upper Valley women to make the trip.

TO MONTERREY

RIO GRANDE CITY — Amado Gutierrez, Jr., left Monday for Monterrey to join Mrs. Gutierrez and their daughters. He was accompanied by Rogerio Lopez. The party will return early next week.

Pioneer Family Of Valley Raffles Off One Of Largest And Oldest Ranches On Border; Guerra Heirs Split Land

McALLEN—A family "raffle" Saturday had disposed of the vast holdings of one of the oldest and largest ranch organizations along the lower border between seven heirs of the late Deodoro Guerra, pioneer border business man, cattleman and rancher, who died in 1932.

The division separated for the first time in more than 100 years the properties that had been accumulated by the Guerra family, whose early forbears came to Texas while the present state was still a part of Mexico. Origin of the family is lost in the lusty century before Texas became a republic, but Felipe Guerra, grandfather of the present businessmen-ranchers, was known to have been a rancher in what is now Starr county, as was his father before him. Dedoro was one of his sons and was one of the few members of the family ever to move away from Starr county, where another branch of the family has long been the leading family of that portion of the border.

Deodoro moved to McAllen in 1906 with his wife, Mrs. Matilde G. de Guerra, who died in 1939, and six sons and two daughters were born to that union. Three of the sons have died within the past few years. Modesto and E. S. (Henry) Guerra, both of McAllen, had served as McAllen city commissioners, and the third, Joe, died in Edinburg, his home. Three other sons, Ramon, Guillermo (Billy) and Dario, and the two sisters, Mrs. Virginia Garza of San Antonio and Mrs. Aurora Solis of McAllen, survive.

Partitioning of the vast properties—including D. Guerra and Sons, a general merchandise and wholesale goods firm in McAllen, the 28,000-acre Nogales Ranch in northern Hidalgo county, the Nogales Ranch store and farm, about 3,000 head of livestock and city property in McAllen—has been under way for the past nine months. Its details were revealed by Ramon Guerra of McAllen.

The five surviving sons and daughters of Deodoro Guerra, the children of the late E. E. (Henry) Guerra and the children of the late Joe Guerra, are the beneficiaries of the partitioning. "We took all of the properties," Ramon Guerra explained, "and placed a value on each. Then we divided the total into seven different parts. The seven heirs or their representatives gathered for the drawing, and each accepted the portion drawn by him or her."

In the drawing, the D. Guerra estate represented two-thirds of all the properties and the E. E. (Henry) Guerra estate one-third. D. Guerra and Sons, Inc., one of the oldest McAllen business firms still in existence, was dissolved as a corporation on January 1, 1941, and Ramon and Dario Guerra, with their two sisters, Mrs. Garza and Mrs. Solis, formed a partnership to continue its operation. They are operating the store, the Nogales Ranch stores and farm and the mercantile business. The D. Guerra and Sons farm is the second largest in the county, its 3,500 acres being exceeded only by that of Arcadio Guerra, which covers 5,000 acres. Modesto Guerra left no children, and the late Deodoro Guerra purchased his widow's interests in D. Guerra and Sons before the latter's death. Mrs. Modesto Guerra still lives in McAllen and operates a furniture store.

Operations of the great properties are already under way by the respective groups under terms of the family "raffle," according to Ramon Guerra. "I am sure that's how my father would have wanted it," he concluded, "and in that way, everything was shared equally and all the heirs are satisfied."

As far as the family is concerned, everything is settled. But the law firm of Strickland, Ewers and Wilkins of Mission, the auditing firm of Harper and Hays of Houston and the surveying firm of E. M. Card of McAllen, are still trying to complete myriad details so that the novel family settlement can be put into words and be made duly legal.

DEPENDABILITY

DEPENDABLE IS A WORD that we always connect with continuous ability and personal achievement throughout a number of years.

DEPENDABLE mortuary service in the Rio Grande Valley begins at Brownsville, where the Hinkley Mortuary has been in existence for over - - 40 years and where the name Darling has been over an establishment for - - - - - - 20 years. At San Benito we have Clay Hull who has served there for over - - - - - - 10 years while at Harlingen the Stotler-Burdette Mortuary existed for - - - - - - 10 years Then at Raymondville we have the Karl Duddleston Funeral Home - - - - 18 years and the Howard Mortuary - - - 10 years Coming up the Valley to Mercedes we find the reliable Stotler Mortuary giving continuous attention for over - - 30 years with the same fine service extended to nearby Donna. At Edinburg we have the well established Skinner family operating the Skinner Mortuary - - - - - - - 18 years and at Mission, Edinburg and McAllen the Kreidler's have given - - - - - - 29 years of Thotfulness, which is a by-word in the Rio Grande Valley.

THEREFORE it is reasonable to believe, that with these experienced firms behind the VALLEYWIDE BURIAL ASSOCIATION you can purchase this policy and secure your share of DEPENDABLE PROTECTION. And further—it will operate directly under the supervision of the State Insurance Department.

A few dependable ladies and gentlemen may apply for positions to sell these policies. See any funeral home mentioned in the margin.

F. D. SPENDS DAY PUTTING OK ON BILLS

Keeps Eye On Texas' Special Election

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

HYDE PARK, N. Y.—(AP)— President Roosevelt spent a quiet, diversified Saturday at his country home disposing of business that always stacks up near the end of the government's fiscal year, consulting Washington officials by telephone on the international situation, and keeping an interested eye on the special senatorial election in Texas.

Several bills which had to be signed before the end of the fiscal year at midnight Monday were approved by the President. More were expected to arrive by airplane from Washington, including a $10,384,821,624 war department appropriation, as soon as Congress finished action on them.

Signed Saturday were measures which:

Measures Signed

Extend the life of the Federal Housing Administration from July 1, 1941, to July 1, 1944 and increase the limits of its insured loans from $4,000,000,000 to $5,000,000,000 for new construction and from $100,000,000 to $165,000,000 for modernization and repair.

Appropriate, for expenses in the year beginning Tuesday, $21,822,467 for the state department, $179,009,100 for the commerce department, $66,307,300 for the justice department and federal judiciary and $188,325,923 for the interior department. In addition, interior received authority to make contracts up to $16,675,000.

Presidential secretary William D. Hassett did say that he had asked Mr. Roosevelt about reports that Frank Murphy, associate justice of the supreme court, would replace Henry L. Stimson as secretary of war. He said the President told him stories like that were "solely to be attributed to the heat wave."

Employes Not Excused

Deeming it inadvisable to close down the government plant because of the urgency of the defense program, Mr. Roosevelt declined to excuse federal employes from working their regular four hours next Saturday, the day after the Fourth of July.

In the field of domestic affairs, the race for the Senate seat of the late Morris Sheppard of Texas caught the President's attention because of his desire that Representative Lyndon Johnson be elected. Johnson, a staunch New Dealer, is one of 25 candidates.

Mr. Roosevelt sent Johnson a telegram Friday in which he termed preposterous a proposal of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, another candidate, that Texas set up her own defense force.

VALLEY CAFE GROUP FORMS

Akin And Harrison Address Meeting

WESLACO—Harry Akin, president of the Texas Restaurant Association, spoke on "What Is An Association" at the organization meeting of the Lower Rio Grande Valley Restaurant Association here Friday night.

Akin, who operates food shops at Austin and San Antonio, described the history of associations and their advantages.

V. A. Harrison, first president of the state organization, operator of cafeterias at San Antonio, Austin and Fort Worth, conducted a question and answer program on the operation of restaurants.

Officers elected for the Valley group included Dan Heslop of Harlingen, president; J. D. McDonald, Mercedes, vice president; Gaston Wiley, McAllen, secretary-treasurer and W. C. Anderson and Bob McBride, Harlingen; W. W. Simons, McAllen, and Mark Bailey, Weslaco, directors.

O. G. Halliburton of Mercedes was named chairman of the membership committee. About 45 Valley operators were present at the meeting held at the Cortez Hotel.

Main objective of the organization, said Wiley, recently elected a state director, who acted as temporary chairman, is to raise the standard of restaurant operation. Immediate goal will be to see that every restaurant will carry citrus foods and drinks during season.

Chuck Wagon, magazine of the state organization, will devote an entire issue to the Valley this year, it was announced.

Aircraft Industry Gets Sharpest Rise

NEW YORK—(AP)—Aircraft industry backlogs had the sharpest rise in June since the defense program started, Aviation Magazine reported Saturday, estimating the total at $4,630,000,000, an all-time record.

The magazine credited the monthly increase of nearly $700,000,000, chiefly to enlarge demand for costly four-engined bombers.

Nazis Sink 6 Ships

BERLIN—(AP)— Six merchantmen —21,500 tons—fell victim to German night bombers off the English southeast coast Friday night, informed sources said Saturday, and a 3,000-ton craft, was reported damaged badly.

If these college boys hitchin' rides home from college could spend a couple of days with King Jeff, professor of the College of Hard Knocks, they'd learn (Jeff says) that the best way to get a ride is a simple, appealing gesture of the hand and a frank, honest look right in the eyes of a motorist—same executed at the right location to catch rides.

Colorful Adoption Ceremonies For Matamoros Masonic Order To Take Place Sunday In Public Services

MATAMOROS—Adoption ceremonies for several sons and daughters of Masonic members of the Matamoros "Aurora Boreal No. 14" lodge will take place Sunday morning at ten o'clock at the lodge hall, Herrera and 8th Sts. Mariano B. Marin, Worshipful Master, will preside at the public ceremonies.

The imposing and colorful ceremony consists in the placing of a silver medal with a chosen name, usually that of a mythological deity inscribed on it, as well as the date and the name of the recipient and the mother lodge, on the neck of the adoptee. The medal is tied with a blue ribbon. A special committee, presided by the Worshipful Master will have charge of the ceremony.

The recipient of the medal is accompanied by his chosen godfather, a Master Mason.

The lodge band will play several selections and will have charge of the accompaniments.

Carmen A. Gutierrez, the lodge orator, will make a talk on the subject.

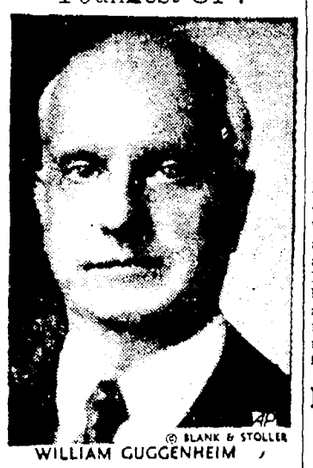

Refreshments will be served after the ceremony.

Brownsville and Valley Masons have been invited to attend.

The adoption ceremony is usually held yearly, although in some cases it is scheduled twice during a year.

COPPER KING PASSES AWAY

William Guggenheim Youngest Of 7

WILLIAM GUGGENHEIM

NEW YORK—(AP)—William Guggenheim, 72, youngest of seven brothers who pyramided a supposedly worthless mine into an industrial empire, died Friday night after an illness of several weeks.

Although he retired from the family firm 40 years ago to devote himself to philanthropic and patriottic enterprises, and wrote many booklets with patriotism his theme, Guggenheim remained best known as one of America's copper kings.

Of the seven sons of Meyer Guggenheim, who made the name famous as founder of the vast mining dynasty, William was the best known with the possible exception of Simon, once a United States senator, and Daniel, donor of the fund for promotion of aeronautics.

VICHY TO GET MORE US OIL

3-Way Agreement Is Said Reached

WASHINGTON—(AP)— American shipments of oil and other vitally needed supplies to French North African colonies—interrupted by Vichy's "collaboration" with Germany in Syria—are to be resumed as a result of a new understanding between the United States, Great Britain and France.

After prolonged diplomatic discussions revolving around the future status of the colonies—strategically located on Africa's Mediterranean shores and possessing several naval bases—the British naval authorities at Bermuda Friday permitted the French oil tanker Scheherazade to resume its voyage from the United States to Casablanca.

A British warship seized the tanker at sea, despite an American-British-French agreement designed to restore normal trade between the United States and Morocco, Tunisia and Algiers, when German warplanes were discovered to be utilizing airbases in French mandated Syria for attacks on the British forces in Iraq.

While no official statement was issued in Washington or London it was said in informed quarters here that the shipments would not have been resumed unless Great Britain and the United States had received adequate assurances that General Maxime Weygand's army would not become involved in major military action against the British, and that the North African colonies would not be turned over to the Nazis for military uses.

Nazis Put British Plane Losses At 36 For Past 24 Hours

BERLIN—(AP)—Informed German sources Saturday placed total British air losses in the preceding 24 hours at 36 planes, against one German, and reported the sinking of six merchantmen totaling 21,300 tons off the English southeast coast by Nazi airmen overnight.

British raids on both western Germany and occupied territory were acknowledged. Day and night chaser planes were credited with downing 24 British craft, anti-aircraft bateries six, naval artillery five and infantrymen one.

SAN JUAN—Mrs. B. L. Miller, Banks, Jr., Mrs. S. L. Miller, Barbara Lynn and Jane Ellen Mellenbruch, returned Wednesday night after spending three weeks in Iowa and other points. Jane Ellen visited in San Antonio and also with her uncle, Glenn Mellenbruch and family in New Braunfels.

FATE'S AGAINST BOY WHO TRIED TO GET IN ARMY

RICHMOND, Va.—(AP)—A Negro volunteer for selective service, rejected for flat feet, carried his case to the medical advisory board and was passed.

The order to report for service found him ill of pneumonia. A second order came but he was laid up with a broken arm.

Out at last, he reported to the induction station but was rejected—for defective vision.

VISITING MOTHER

EDINBURG—R. H. Klossner of San Antonio is visiting his mother, Mrs. Henry Klossner.

Car Dealers Return From State Meeting

BROWNSVILLE — John Pipkin of Pipkin-Manske, Brownsville, and Lewis Boggus, of Boggus Motor Company, Harlingen, returned to the Valley by plane late this week after attending the Texas Auto Dealers convention at Fort Worth. Approximately ten Valley dealers were present at the convention Thursday and Friday, they stated.

CALLED BY ILLNESS

COMBES—Mr. and Mrs. J. I. McCormick and two children, Billy Ray and Evelyn, left Thursday morning for Bonham where they were called by the serious illness of Mrs. McCormick's father, Mr. Gravelly. Mr. Gravelly has spent several winters here with his daughter and has many friends in this community.

TO TEACH COURSE

MISSION—Rev. E. R. McWilliams, pastor of the First Christian Church of Mission, will leave Saturday night for Center Point, Texas, where he will teach two courses at the Adult Conference to be sponsored by the Southwest Texas Christian Churches from June 29 to July 4. His subjects will be "Christian Opportunities for Parent Education" and "Messages of the Prophets." After the conference, Rev. McWilliams will go to Lufkin to attend a traditional re-union of his family, held at the same time each year.

HOUSE GUESTS

PHARR — Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Evans have had as their house guests three children, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Evans and small daughter Ann Cathryne of Robstown, and Mrs. James Barry and baby son of Brownsville. All returned to their respective homes this week.

New Relief Slogan 'Bundle For Bomb'

BROWNSVILLE — "A Bundle for Every Bomb," is the slogan adopted by the Brownsville branch of Bundles for Britain, according to Mrs. George Walker, chairman of the group.

Warm clothing for the British is arriving at the headquarters daily and interest in the work is mounting, Mrs. Walker states.

In regard to tinfoil, she states that the unit would rather have it in sheet form. It can be handled better this way than it can in balls, she says.

RIO GRANDE CITY—Mrs. Matilde Izaguirre and daughter, Miss Tilly Izaguirre left Tuesday for San Antonio where they were to be the guests until Saturday of Miss Helen Froboese.

McAllen Ready For Gala Two-Day Fourth Of July Celebration

ANNUAL SHOW DUE TO DRAW LARGE CROWD

Contests To Highlight Patriotic Event

McALLEN—All details for the annual July Fourth celebration here Friday when McAllen will become the mecca of Valley funseekers, will be completed Monday night at a committeemen's meeting at 8 p. m. at Legion hall.

Declaring everything is in fine shape for the huge patriotic festival, General Chairman George Chapapas said "loose ends will be gathered up at the committeemen's session."

A floor show of Valley talent has been secured for the two official celebration dances, Dance Chairman O. P. Martin said. There will be several acts, he said. The dances are at 10 p. m. the nights of July 3 and 4, with music by Lee Kohlenberg and his orchestra.

Air Show Planned

There will be a sky parade as well as an air show the morning of the Fourth, according to Walter Fullwood, chairman of the air committee. Fliers from numerous Valley cities will participate. In addition, 10 U. S. Army officers in five army planes will be present.

The army fliers will act as judges of the bathing beauty revue, to be held at 8:30 p. m. at Cascade Swimming pool. Thirteen Valley organizations and firms have entered contestants. They are:

Valley Mercantile (Jeannette Rucker); Palace Theatre, McAllen Lions Club (Sue Peavey); Mission Chamber of Commerce, Anthony's, Advance Shop (Betty Lohr); Steak House (Margaret Ostrander); McAllen American Legion, Hidalgo 40 and 8 (Gwendolyn Crawford); Weslaco Lions club, Clark Mellenbruck Lumber Company, Edinburg American Legion (Annette Closner); Edinburg Kiwanis club, Harlingen Chamber of Commerce (Flo Wilson); Edinburg Lions club (Dorothy Eaves).

Some 200 Valley beauties have entered the slacks and shorts parade to be held at the McAllen Junior High school athletic field at 8 p. m. July 2.

Eleven Firms Assist

Eleven Valley firms have entered several models each. They are Rosales Sports Wear, the Advance shop, Bo-Peep, Penny's, Eggum's, Anthony's, the Fair store, Rio Grande Children's shop, the Valley Mercantile, and Ladies' Supply, all of McAllen, and Penney's of Weslaco.

There will be a vaudeville show in connection with the sports wear parade, which will be under direction of Jimmie Miller.

Arrangements have been made to have President Roosevelt's Fourth broadcast over the public address system in Archer park at 3 p. m., immediately following the speech by Congressman Martin Dies.

Congressman Dies, chairman of the House committee investigating un-American activities, will be principal speaker of the celebration. His address will begin at 2 p. m. at the bandstand in Archer park.

McAllen will assume a gala appearance Monday, when bunting will go on all streets and stores, rain or no rain. Decorations were supposed to have gone up last Monday, but weather conditions prevented it.

Trippers Out Tuesday

A goodwill tour of McAllen business men will leave there Tuesday at 8 a. m. for a Valley-wide sweep, according to Paul Vickers, chairman of the event. The trippers will travel in a Missouri Pacific bus, and make a 20-minute stop at each city between Mission and Brownsville. At each halt, trippers will hand out official programs of the celebration and a hill-billy band under direction of A. D. Dean will give a brief performance.

Some 20 Indians from the Alabama-Coushatta reservation near Livingston, will arrive in McAllen early next week preparatory to giving nightly performances of tribal dances here the nights of July 3 and 4, and the afternoon of the Fourth. These 20 are part of the unassimilated Indians remaining in Texas.

Prizes to be awarded in the old fiddlers' and dance callers' contest to be held during the McAllen July 4 celebration were announced Saturday by Mrs. Paul Vickers.

In the fiddlers' contest, first prize will be $8; second prize, $6; third, $4; fourth, $2; fifth, $1, and sixth, 50 cents. In the callers' contest, first, $7.50; second, $5; third, $3; fourth, 1, and fifth, 50 cents.

Mrs. Vickers said Steve Green of McAllen was the first to enter the fiddlers' contest. He will be costumed as a cowhand, and his wife will accompany him on the guitar.

San Benito Honors Old Timers

DEPENDENT TO FREE DRAFTEE

Order To Apply To All Registrants

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Selective service headquarters instructed local boards Saturday to exempt from the draft men with dependents to whose support they make "any substantial contribution."

The order applies to men already in Class 1-A as well as to those not yet classified.

Men who married after registering will be required to show that they were married "in the ordinary course of human affairs" and not to evade army training.

In a memorandum to state directors, Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, deputy selective service director, said that the administrative machinery was being "unduly burdened" by the growing number of married men seeking discharge from the army on dependency grounds.

The memorandum added:

"Local boards should remember that every husband is under legal obligation to support his wife and children and that obligation is not removed because his wife has chosen to aid in the family maintenance. . . . The newly married registrant has the same general right to deferment as any other married registrant."

Sweden's iron and steel industry is now concentrating on commercial iron, according to the Department of Commerce.

East Texas Field Conference Called

TYLER, Tex.—(AP)—East Texas Oil Association officials said Saturday that East Texas independent oil operators will meet at the district court room here at 10 a.m. Monday in one of a series of regional conferences called at the request of Harold L. Ickes, petroleum coordinator for national defense.

Producers, royalty owners, refiners, distributors and other oil men will attend.

Laredo WPA District Aids In Bond Sales

LAREDO—WPA District Manager B. H. Tate stated Saturday that the 174 administrative and supervisory employees in the seventeen counties comprising WPA District No. 11, had cooperated one hundred per cent in the National Defense Program by purchasing defense bonds or stamps.

WORKERS FLY TO PANAMA

Third Flight Leaves Brownsville

BROWNSVILLE—A special Pan American Airways plane, carrying 19 government employes, left Brownsville airport Saturday morning for the Panama Canal Zone.

This is the third special PAA flight to leave here during the past week in an effort to rush workers to United States defense projects at the Canal.

Sixty workers have been flown to the Zone in this manner, and approximately 250 more are expected to leave Brownsville for Panama on other "specials" during the next few months.

AIRPORT FUND DRIVE PUSHED

Mexican C-C Helps Edinburg Effort

EDINBURG—Mexican Chamber of Commerce members in Edinburg will join in the campaign to clean up the community's drive for $8,000 to be used in acquiring property for a proposed government air base near Edinburg, Mission and McAllen.

A meeting at which A. Trevino, Edinburg business man, will preside has been called at the chamber of commerce building here Wednesday night, at which plans for the fund-raising work will be discussed.

Harry Cook, manager of the chamber, said the Mexican organization was volunteered to aid in the campaign. Cook and several directors of the chamber will attend the Wednesday night session with Latin American business men.

The $8,000 goal is now in sight, but additonal pledges are needed to make it a certainty, Cook commented. Those who have made pledges to the fund were again asked to make payments on them so the cash could be on hand in time for use when the government calls for the land.

British And Dutch Expect To Battle Japan For Control Of South Pacific

By EDWIN E. HARTRICK

MANILA, P. I.—(NANA)—The British and Dutch expect to face a fight in the next few months for their rich colonial possessions in the South Pacific.

This painful prospect has become more of a reality in the last few weeks. Allied intelligence services have learned that Japan is preparing to move southward. Singapore and the Dutch Indies are working night and day on defenses to meet this threat.

I have just completed a tour of Netherlands East Indies, Singapore, Malaya and Indo-China. There is ample evidence to be found of Japanese plans both for military and economic exploitation of the rich oil, rubber and mineral reserves of the South Pacific.

While censorship now hides many aspects of this crisis, these allied colonies have been placed on a virtual war footing. The Japanese army and navy are completing final phases of their plan to smash the British at Singapore. The British and Dutch realize that Japan is not an isolated Axis power operating independently of Berlin. Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka is expected to push the button at the proper moment, translating the South Pacific program into action shortly.

Meanwhile, Japanese nationals are evacuating Singapore, Hongkong and the Dutch Indies. Those remaining behind are acting as agents, working with native nationalist groups in the Indies, the Malaya States and Indo-China to build up a fifth column. The Japanese fleet is maintaining a coastal patrol of Indo-China in the Gulf of Siam and the South China sea.

A suspiciously large number of young Japanese have been sent to Nipponese-owned iron and tin mines in the Malaya peninsula. The Japanese navy is working with German raiders, numbering 12 ships, based in the Caroline and Marshall islands northeast of the Dutch Indies.

However, most serious bit of information picked up by the British is the fact that the Japanese have been concentrating large numbers of troops, probably over 10,000, on Hainan and Spratly island in the South China sea. Tokyo has also been sending planes and munitions to the Thailand air force. These are ostensibly "loaned" or "sold."

Secret Bases Built

In Indo-China, Japanese military and aviation experts have been building new secret air bases designed for use only in one direction —southward. With co-operation from Thailand and with the power to take over all of Indo-China, the Japanese soon will be in a position to launch air, naval or land attacks against the Malay peninsula and Singapore in their planned conquest of the oil, tin and rubber reserves.

I have visited both the RAF and Australian air force bases in Malaya. Every day, the personnel is engaged in practicing tropical air warfare. They are equipped with modern Brewster Buffalos, Lockheed-Hudson and Bristol-Blenheim bombers, and other new fighting types.

In the Malaya jungles thousands of Australians are digging out fortifications to meet any land attack of the Japanese from Siam or Indo-China. The Australians have established a record of advancing a mile a day through the densest jungle underbrush.

Neutral military observers estimate that British defenses of the Singapore area are now adequate against any Pacific blitzkrieg. However, because of the battle of the Atlantic and tremendous demands on the British navy in the Mediterranean, Singapore suffers from a noticeable and disturbing lack of warships, cruisers and destroyers.

South of Singapore, the defense situation in the Indies is the grimmest picture for the Allies. The Dutch are clamoring for more American light bombers and fighter planes, which they can't get because of the priority demanded by Washington and London. The Dutch navy is rushing construction of a fleet of "mosquito boats" as a defense against Japanese troop convoys. The straits of Makashar and the approaches to Java through Banda are partially mined and can be easily shut tight by the Dutch naval force.

At strategic points along the coast, secret and heavy fortifications have been built in the dense jungle. Key bridges and roads in Java are mined. The colonial government has made its preparations to move to Bandoeing, a mountain resort, if and when an invasion occurs.

An oversize secret police force is watching all aliens, particularly the Japanese, to nip any fifth column movement in the bud.

Poker is the most popular game with 22 per cent of American card-playing men.

2 TRANSPORT STRIKES ARE SETTLED NOW

Teamsters, Transit Men Are On Job

By The Associated Press

Peaceful settlements of labor disputes involving transportation workers in the great defense production areas of New York and Pittsburgh were reached Saturday.

Mayor F. H. LaGuardia announced an agreement averting a threatened strike in Gotham's city-owned transit system on which thousands travel daily to scores of factories and shipping centers concerned with defense goods.

Cancel Walkout

The Transport Workers Union (CIO) and the city agreed, LaGuardia said, to continue an existing contract until the courts could decide whether the city can legally contract with the union in the future. That meant cancellation of a union order for a walkout of 32,000 workers at midnight Monday the time at which the present contract expires.

The union demands a $1 a day increase for all employes. Rates now range from the minimum of $24.96 a week for car cleaners to the maximum figure for motormen of $33.

Teamsters Back

At Pittsburgh, AFL teamsters agreed to return to work, ending a walkout of about 1,200 men which began 28 days ago and which interfered with the shipment and handling of defense materials in Pittsburgh's munitions mills.

The strikers agreed to go back to their jobs under a proposal of the Defense Mediation Board for increases of six cents an hour for some classifications and 10 cents for others. The union originally demanded a flat 10-cent boost over the basis rate of 85 cents an hour. Final determination on the dispute will be made by the board at a series of meetings to begin Monday.

SOLONS SLAP LATIN MEATS

Hull, Wickard Notes Read In Senate

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Correspondence between Secretary of State Hull and Secretary of Agriculture Wickard was presented to the Senate Saturday by Senator O'Mahoney pointed out that Hull with his protest against imports of Argentine meats.

O'Mahoney and other senators from western livestock producing areas joined Friday in criticizing an announcement by the Argentine minister of agriculture that the United States had agreed to permit meat imports from Tierra del Fuego, southernmost tip of South America and under control of Argentina.

O'Mahoney charged this agreement was arranged without knowledge of Congress and in violation of an understanding among officials and livestock interests here that no fresh, chilled or frozen meats would be imported if United States military forces were allowed to purchase up to 20,000,000 of canned meats from South American countries.

No Hoof And Mouth?

O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) in connection had written the Agriculture Department April 10 requesting it to obtain an interpretation of the present law, banning imports of fresh meats from countries where the hoof and mouth disease existed, that might allow imports from Tierra del Fuego.

The Hull letter included a memorandum from the Argentine ambassador which pointed out that Tierra del Fuego was separated by water from both Argentina and Chile and so might be considered as a separate "country" under the prohibitory law and so allowed to export meat and livestock to the United States.

Finns In Aalands

Demilitarized Zone Is Re-Occupied

STOCKHOLM, Sweden—(AP)—Dagens Nsheter, People's Party newspaper, reported Saturday that Finnish forces have landed on the Aaland Islands off the southern tip of Finland, which were demilitarized last year by agreement with Soviet Russia.

The newspaper said eight Soviet consuls and 30 staff members stationed on the islands probably have left.

(Finnish authorities denied Friday night that German activities in Finland menace the Soviet Union and officially branded as "a malicious lie" a Moscow declaration that Russian attacks in Finland were aimed against German objectives. The Finns charged devastating raids were made against civilian centers, vessels and coastal bases.)

Pat Harrison Rites Are Slated Sunday

CRYSTAL SPRINGS, Miss.—(AP)—Memorial services for the late Senator Pat Harrison are scheduled at 6 p.m. Sunday at the old Methodist camp meeting and Chataque grounds here, where Harrison lived as a boy and where he first became a member of the Methodist Church.

Tributes to the distinguished solon include a telegram from President Roosevelt suggesting that the meeting grounds, now a 30-acre park on which the WPA recently erected a latticed pavilion, be named for Harrison "as a lasting tribute to his memory."

Government Girls Pray For A Prince Charming But There Just Aren't Enough To Go Around

By SIGRID ARNE
AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON — This town definitely is not the answer to a maiden's prayer. That is, if maidens still are praying for a Prince Charming.

Washington has too few Prince Charmings to go around. The last census reports that there are only 91.1 men here for every 100 women. That's the greatest disproportion registered anywhere in the country.

So the stories of lonesomeness are legion.

Here's one from a 35-year-old secretary who's earning $3,200. She's a trim brunette frim the Mississippi valley.

* * *

"Dates? Sure, I have plenty. But you know why? They figure I'll put in a good word to the boss. They're gallant. We eat at good places. They send me flowers. And they wouldn't recognize me on the street, if they met me a second time.

"I LIVE in a one-room apartment. Gave up living with other girls. You know what happened when four of us lived together? We had a big apartment and a housekeeper. We made an agreement we wouldn't ever fight. We agreed that if we felt ourselves getting angry we'd go to our rooms and close the door. Do you know, there was always at least one door closed. So I live alone.

"I don't think I've been out with a man in a year who took me out because he thought I was attractive. It doesn't mean a thing. Why don't I go back home? Huh! I can't. I'm supporting part of the family. The future? I'll get pensioned at 65."

The disproportion has a subtle, creeping influence that adds insult to injury. The Prince Charmings soon find there is a premium on their company, so they lose their right to the title of "charming."

THIS was told me by a pretty redhead from upper New York state. She's so hungry for a home of her own (she's 32) that last year she took $1,000 from her savings and furnished her apartment as she would have were she a bride. She has a date, usually, on Saturday night. After all, red hair is red hair. But it always winds up in disillusion.

Her last man was a divorcee, manager of an auto compnay. He talked marriage. The last two Saturday nights he arrived at 11 p. m. for dates set at 7 p. m. The second time the red-head asked why. He blew up, went to the phone, called another girl for a date, and left.

THE end of the road was described to me by a charming gray-haired woman of 55 who lives next to me. Night after night, around 9:30, I hear her piano begin to roll out Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata." Then she works on through Chopin. She plays superbly. She has a tired stoop, a gentle smile, and she wears feminine, frilly things, mostly in soft blue. I wondered.

She finally told me she had meant to be a concert pianist. But her father died, and she grabbed a $1,440 stenographer's job in the Department of Agriculture, leaving her home in Dallas, and all her friends. That was 25 years ago.

Now she lives alone in a good apartment. She makes $4,200. She never entertains. She goes to occasional concerts with another gray-haired woman. Once a month an elderly beau takes her to dinner. He's been doing it for 10 years. But he's never talked of marriage.

She says: "I get so hungry for men's talk—it's different—that I just go on seeing him. Of course, we're too old to marry. A woman is old at 27 here, you know. The young ones—18 and 20—get dates. But you marry before 27, or else."

* * *

SO I talked to an 18-year-old. She's from Wyoming, and she's a handsome, brisk person. She has one beau. At home she had six, usually. So she's sensitive. The other night she turned down a date. She's afraid he'll find out he's the only one. Then she flung herself on her bed for a good cry. At 9 she went down to the corner drug-store for a chocolate soda. Then she came home, washed her stockings, pressed her dress, and read a love story.

* * *

SIGNS of social maladjustment here astound out-of-towners. They're in the restaurants, on the streets, at movies, in the parks. Everywhere are groups of women —from four to twelve of them—out seeking diversion.

Five o'clock on Saturday is the girls' witching hour. They save their pennies all week for a good dinner "with the gang." They reserve a table some place where they can get a cocktail for 25 cents and dinner for 75 cents. The tip is a dime.

They dress up to impress each other. The older ones often take two or three cocktails. Their voices get a little shrill. They get up and dance together. Then they trot off to a movie and that's a big evening.

OF COURSE plenty Washington women marry. But "guv'ment clerks" marry "guv'ment clerks." Even the combined salaries don't make for too-good living here. The wife goes on working. They can't afford a comfortable eight-room house like Dad and Mother have back home. They live in a little apartment. Their friends live in little apartments. It's different.

It's different like this: I dropped in to get the other side of the story from a good-looking bachelor with a good salary. Sure, he could date every night in the week if he wanted to. How long ahead does he make appointment? What did I mean? He just phones at the end of the day, if he feels like going out.

"Marry any of them?" he chuckled. "I should say not. I'm marrying the girl from back home.

When? When I get around to it. There's no hurry."

You Can't Even Depend On Words; They Also Become Corrupt And Dishonest; They've Changed A Lot

By FRANK COLBY

Words, like persons, sometimes become degenerated, corrupted, and, accordingly, completely dishonest.

The English language (which actually is not "English," but is a polyglot of Teutonic and Romance dialects spiced with borrowings from almost every other known tongue), contains hundreds of turncoat words that, by centuries of misuse, have completely lost or entirely reversed their original meanings.

Call a man an IDIOT and you have insulted him. But the word has not always meant a dullard, a simpleton, an imbecile. The original Greek word, IDIOTES, merely designated a private citizen not engaged in any public office, as contrasted with priests and public officials.

A PAGAN, to begin with, was not one that worshipped false gods or was an irreligious person. The word derives from the Latin pagus, village, and meant simply a villager, a peasant.

Likewise, HEATHEN once was a most respectable term. It was an honest, bucolic word from the Anglo-Saxon haeth (heath), and meant a dweller in the country, or "on the heath."

If you had lived in the Middle Ages, you would not have resented being spoken of as SILLY. The word did not mean foolish, simple, fatuous. No: A silly person was good, kind, cheerful, fortunate, happy. The original word was spelled SEELY. Its correct meaning survives today in the German SELIG, blessed, happy, blissful.

Are you a BLACKGUARD? Not today, fortunately. But, in the time of the Tudors when the word was coined, you, as a member of the royal GUARD, would have worn your BLACK uniform with pride.

Shakespeare wrote: "What a brazenfaced VARLET art thou!" And there is no mistaking his meaning: knave; low fellow; scoundrel. But, during the Crusades, varlets were young noblemen apprenticed to knights for instruction in chivalry and the bearing of arms.

When Junior's naughtiness has given us an especially trying day, we threaten to spank the little IMP; and we thus use a quite proper word, for its literal meaning is a bud or shoot of a tree, hence, by extension, an offspring, a child. In the Beauchamp Chapel at Warwick, England, is an epitaph, dated 1584, that reads: "Here resteth the body of the noble Impe Robert of Dudley, sonne of Robert Erle of Lycester."

Our highest title of respect for a woman is the word LADY. But the word has a very humble, indeed menial, origin. It has evolved from the Anglo-Saxon HLAEFDIGE, which meant "loaf maid," or the kneader and baker of bread.

A LORD originally was not a nobleman nor a deity. Lord is the modern form of the Anglo-Saxon HLAFWEARD, the keeper of the loaf, hence, the guardian of the household food supply.

In Methodism, a STEWARD is one of the officers that are in charge of the finances and temporal interests of the church. Imagine the shocked surprise of a dignified steward who learns that the word has grown out of the Middle English STIWARD: The warden of the sty, or the keeper of the pigs!

The modern term for one that seeks office is CANDIDATE. But the Latin word from which it sprang, candidus, means "glittering white." What possible connection can there be? An aspirant to office in ancient Rome went about in public with his robes made spotlessly white with chalk. The glittering whiteness of his garments symbolized the purity of his purpose in seeking election to public office. CANDID and CANDOR have the same origin.

CHURCH ASKS DEFENSE AID

Special Offering To Be Taken Sunday

MISSION — Valley Presbyterian churches have been called upon to cooperate in a national plan outlined by the Southern Presbyterian Assembly as a defense measure which is a part of the Defense Service Council organized by the denomination. Special offerings will be taken Sunday to raise a goal of $100,000 set by the assembly to carry on a planned program of ministering to the men in service and their families.

Funds received in the offering will be used for securing spiritual literature to be distributed to men of the denomination who are in service, aiding Presbyterian chaplains, carrying on service programs in the camps and cooperating with other denominations and agencies. Churches within reach of army camps and naval bases will carry on an activity program to provide worship, religious activities, recreation and social life and personal help to the men in training, according to the plan developed. The funds received in the special offering will enable the church to meet the challenge and provide for giving spiritual ministry without delegating it to other agencies, according to the plan developed by the church assembly.

Since it is certain that one army camp will be located at Harlingen and strong possibility that a second one will be located near Mission, Valley Presbyterian ministers have pointed out the need for development of a local program as outlined by the assembly. Services at the Valley churches of the denomination Sunday will stress the objectives of the fund.

Dallas Cops Probing Imitation Nazi Flag

DALLAS — (AP) — Highland Park police Saturday were investigating the finding of a crudely-made imitation Nazi flag at the Armstrong School, site of an election box in Saturday's special senatorial election.

The flag was found by the school janitor waving on the school's flag staff. It had apparently been cut from a white bed sheet. On it a blue circle had been drawn with an orange Swastika in the center in colored crayon. At the lower right corner, "Heil Hitler," had been lettered.

Russia Goes Calmly About Celebrating Memory Of Writer

MOSCOW —(AP)— While furious, large-scale warfare rages on a wide front to the west, Russia's millions of civilians go calmly about their daily life far behind the lines.

Elaborate plans were announced Friday for the celebration of the 10th anniversary, July 27, of the death of the Russian poet Mikhail Lermontov. New editions of his works are being published and daily radio programs are devoted to acquainting the public with his life and literary significance.

Arkansas Now Faces Motor Coach Strike

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—(AP)—More than a score of drivers and mechanics of the Arkansas Motor Coaches walked out Saturday, tying up the company's operations between Memphis and Texarkana.

Otto DeBate of Detroit, organizer of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Eelectric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America (AFL), charged that the company had violated a recent contract fixing a salary schedule for the drivers and mechanics.

There are 35 summer open air theaters operating in Germany this summer, the German Press service reports.

MICA EXPORT BAN ORDERED

Get License Form Now, Appeal

BROWNSVILLE — All products containing mica, a mineral, will require a license for their export from this country, beginning July 2, according to a recent ruling of the State Department in Washington, copies of which have been received at the Brownsville custom office.

Also, on or after July 1, there are new forms required for consumption entry, and according to custom house officials, all importers should obtain these new forms, as the forms in their possession now are no longer valid and will not be accepted.

Effective June 20 past, a license was required for the export of all petroleum products, including crude oil, gasoline, naptha, kerosene (which includes all burning oils), lubricating greases, parafin wax, liquified petroleum gases, petroleum asphalt and petroleum coke, customs officers said.

Among the products containing mica are radios and primarily all electrical equipment.

One out of every 20 trucks operating on United States highways is owned by federal, state, or local governments.

Recipe for getting Extra Action out of thin air

IT'S a cinch to build an automobile engine that's either one thing or another.

You can go in for power – if you don't mind the gas consumption – or you can shoot for economy if stirring action doesn't matter.

What's tough is building a car with two good ideas under its bonnet – like this Buick FIREBALL eight with Compound Carburetion.†

One idea is that it doesn't make sense to use a big, gas-gulping carburetor for easy going when you need only a little one.

The other is that you might as well have plenty-power on call when you can get it out of thin air!

So this Buick has two smaller carburetors instead of a single middling-size to big one.

One of them frugally handles all your low-power, easy-going travel.

The other swings in any time you press down the gas treadle – and gives more lift and wallop – by increasing the supply of air!

Results include: More horsepower – and gas economy running as high as 10% to 15% above previous Buicks, according to owners.

Interesting? Then better get prices and see how little it costs to get this extra action – plus extra room, extra size, extra comfort and extra style.

$930 for the Business Coupe (illustrated above) including Compound Carburetion, delivered at Flint, Mich. State tax, optional equipment and accessories – extra. Prices and specifications subject to change without notice.

†Available at slight extra cost on Buick SPECIAL models, standard on all other Series.

ARMY WOULD DECLARE US EMERGENCY?

Want To Keep Troops In Service, Said

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Word circulated at the capitol Saturday that the War Department wanted a congressional declaration of a national emergency and brought out immediate manifestations of opposition.

Such a declaration would permit national guardsmen and selective service trainees to be kept in active service indefinitely, and would also lift the present restriction on the president's powers to send troops out of the western hemisphere.

'Storm of Protest'

Representative Woodrum (D-Va) expressed his views in the House by declaring that such a proposal would bring a "little storm of protest by one member of Congress who has gone 100 per cent with the administration's foreign policy."

And Representative Starnes (D-Ala) said Congress and the people were ready to spend any amount and exert whatever effort was required to safeguard the western hemisphere, but that there was no plan or intention of this country's going to war.

In executive departments, meantime, the defense program itself was pushed ahead and there were new moves to ease its impact on civilians.

Radio Detector

The War Department disclosed development of a radio device capable of detecting approach of enemy aircraft miles away and announced a recruiting program for technicians to man a series of listening posts along the coasts and at island outposts.

The Office of Production Management announced the defense housing projects would be given first call over civilian housing on available supplies of building materials.

The federal power commission formally declared an emergency to exist in southeastern states where there is a power shortage and asked for reduced consumption for non-defense purposes.

Buy Coal Early

From the bituminous coal division came an official acknowledgement that the nation may face a coal shortage this winter due, in part, to over-taxed transportation facilities. The government already is urging householders to buy coal this summer.

The maritime commission reported that work was 60 to 90 days ahead of schedule on most of the 312 "Ugly Duckling" cargo ships ordered in its emergency program. Although the original schedule called for completion of only one ship this year, the commission said 10 might be placed in operation.

PLANE OUTPUT IN DOLDRUMS?

Materials Shortage Is Termed Cause

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Production of military aircraft for the United States and Britain was described authoritatively Saturday as "In the doldrums" and destined to stay there through July and August primarily because of shortages of essential materials.

The low level of output of all types of combat craft, a defense official said, will be reflected in production figures for June which should be made public in about two weeks. A report issued early this month showed the May output was down to 1,334 planes of all types, including trainers, as compared with April production of 1,389.

Several contributing causes were given by an authority in close touch with the program. Among them was the fact that various new models recently were turned out and these had to undergo tests and have various weaknesses remedied before quantity production could be started.

But the principal cause of the slump, it was said, was a shortage of aluminum, magnesium and, to some extent, machine tools. New facilities for increasing the supply of these materials are scheduled to go into production in September and a substantial increase in plane output is due soon thereafter, probably in October.

Month's Mock War Reveals Weak 'Chain Of Command'

General Ben Lear Hits Hard At Army Officers Responsible For Training U. S. Soldiers

By RICE YAHNER

WITH THE ARMY IN TENNESSEE —(AP)— Summing up a month of simulated warfare by 77,000 soldiers under his command, Lieutenant General Ben Lear declared Saturday "our chain of command (from the officers down to the ranks) is weak—weak to the extent that if this condition is allowed to continue, the chain, at its weak links, will break whenever an emergency imposes a heavy load."

A soldier of 43 65-4' years experience, General Lear, commander of the second field army, struck out at a meeting of about 300 staff and field officers assembled to hear his opinion of the maneuvering of the 5th, 27th, and 30th infantry divisions and the second armored division in the field in Tennessee since June 2.

Of the first field test of one of America's new armored divisions, General Lear said "offensive action by armored forces can be restricted and denied freedom of movement by trained and adequately armed troops."

He added:

"The lack of sufficient anti-tank weapons had handicapped all units in providing an effective defense against the armored division. In view of the present importance of the development of an anti-tank defense and as a stimulus to training, this deficiency needs prompt correction."

Much of the General's remarks concerning the month's training were pointedly directed to faults in command which, he said, he had observed personally.

"Cases were found where sergeants, corporals and privates in great numbers did not know the nature and details of the exercises being conducted," the tall, hard-hitting general declared.

"This state of affairs is not the fault of the soldier. It is the fault of the officers above him and it must be corrected. . .

"Dissemination of information, regulations and orders from the division commander to the private should and must be immediate, automatic and of second-nature."

Case Solves Itself For Racket Buster

NEW YORK—(AP)—A thief nicked radio actor Jay Jostyn for his hat, while he was lunching; his briefcase, from his parked car, and his wallet, from his hip pocket.

Then he returned them all with a note explaining he was a great admirer of Jostyn's acting as "Mr. District Attorney," the racket buster.

LIFE SAVING COURSE SET

Roger Plaisted Will Conduct Classes

ROGER PLAISTED

BROWNSVILLE — The Valley schedule for the American Red Cross school for instructors in life saving and water safety was announced Saturday by V. Lee Mitchell, chairman of the Brownsville chapter's life saving service. The schedule follows:

June 30, Brownsville Country club pool; July 1, San Benito Rotary club pool; July 2, Harlingen, pool to be selected; July 3, 4, and 5, Brownsville Country club pool. All classes will be from 7 to 10 p.m.

Roger Plaisted, representative for the life saving service of the National unit, will be in charge and conduct the instruction. The school will be only for instructors in life saving and water safety work. It is open to both men and women.

Applicants must be at least 19 years of age and in good physical condition. Graduates will be given Red Cross instructors certificates and be expected to teach the work.

Plaisted has been associated with the Red Cross since 1927, and later was director of the Red Cross national aquatic school at Camp Mystic Hunt, Texas.

Additional details of the course can be had by calling Mr. Mitchell at telephone 100 or Mr. Stegman at 737.

US LAUNCHES WELDED SHIP

Land Asks 'Loyalty' Of Shipbuilders

PASCAGOULA, Miss. —(AP)— An appeal to all American shipbuilding workers "to do your jobs and build ships as fast as you can" was made here Saturday by Emory S. Land, chairman of the United States Maritime Commission, on the occasion of launching the "African Comet," first all-welded passenger carrying ship ever built.

In his address called "loyalty," to which he had asked shipbuilding workers everywhere to pause and listen by radio, Land said "this is an appeal for loyalty, for loyalty of the greatest kind, loyalty to the British shipyard workers, loyalty which will preserve their freedom as well as their lives; loyalty to the United States."

The African Comet, of 17,000 tons, is the first of three such ships to be launched this month, in August and September for the American South African Line's service to South and East Africa. They are being built by the Ingalls shipbuilding corporation, in whose yards Land spoke today.

Gen. Hugh A. Drum is the only general now in active service in the U. S. Army who served in the World War as such.

Crime's 15 Billion Cost, If Eliminated, Would Pay For U. S. Defense Program Without Tax, Babson Says

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass. — This week I am writing on probably the most important subject I have ever covered in my column during its 21 years of continuous publication. After a thorough statistical study of the cost of crime, carefully checked with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other government authorities, I make this statement. If crime committed in this country could be eliminated and government peace-time appropriations cut to what they were ten years ago, we could pay for our entire defense program with no increase in taxes and without the issuance of any additional government bonds. Naturally, this terrific annual crime expense of over $15,000,000,000 could not be cut immediately; but enough of it could now be eliminated to go a long way in accomplishing the desired purpose.

Billions Spent For Insurance

Crime places a tremendous economic burden upon every community in which it strikes. There are both direct and indirect losses incurred from crime committed which must be considered in estimating any cost of crime.

The most tangible cost is the private losses in income due to annual burglary, robbery, forgeries, auto thefts, and all other types of theft insurance. There would also be fidelity insurance which would include premiums paid on fidelity policies insuring banks, commercial firms, and private individuals against embezzlements, forgeries, and other defalcations by employees. Riot insurance would also come under this heading.

In the case of losses not covered by insurance, we must consider the direct losses suffered by private citizens from crimes against property which would include arson, malicious mischief, theft and robberies from railroads, express, and similar companies, which carry their own insurance.

Loss In Human Values

Losses due to crimes against the person, such as homicides and wounding and sex offenses, form a large item in any tabulated cost of crime. In homicides, there is a direct loss to the community of the victim's family there is a loss of income. In wounding and maihem, there is a resultant economic loss to the victim and cost of hospitalization, together with the loss of earning power to his family and to the community at large.

Under sex offenses would come prostitutes. Although it is quite possible to estimate the actual loss that might be incurred, still there is bound to be an economic loss to the family of the prostitute as the earning power of the family is decreased thereby. Commercialized fraud, organized extortion, and racketeering losses due to the use of mails to defraud cover a tremendous amount of the tribute paid by society annually in these phases of criminal activity.

35 Per Cent Of Administration Taxes

The cost of administration of criminal justice is a large item in the cost of crime. This, of course, would include Federal, State, county, and city courts. The salaries of officials, guards, and other employees of penal institutions, plus the upkeep of the prisons, correctional institutions, reformatories, certain auditors, bookkeepers, and overhead.

Private citizens suffer heavy losses as victims of gambling or other illegal enterprises, through the bribery of public officials and police officers. These crimes cause alliances to grow up between crooked politicians and organized racketeers and it is the citizen who must pay through taxes for any graft practiced by unethical officeholders and public servants. Another large loss is suffered by honest commercial firms when they are forced to pay tribute to one racketeering organization for "protection" from other racketeering organizations.

and asylums must also be taken course, would include Federal, State, county, city and private. All of these costs are paid by citizens and amounts to about 35 per cent of our state taxes.

Private expenditures for protection against crime, such as most commercial companies have found necessary, must be considered in the cost of crime. This would include their own investigators, detectives and guards, armored car service for the transportation of money and valuables to and from banks and commercial houses, also

Also in the category of indirect losses must be considered the earning power of criminals at large and the earning power of prisoners who are already incarcerated in the penal institutions. When we consider that all these have, to some degree, an earning power which has been diverted from the potential productive class to the "burden" class to be taken care of through taxation, the cost of crime becomes stupendous.

On June 24, 1931, a report prepared under the direction of the National Commission on Law Observance and Enforcement entitled, "Report on the Cost of Crime" was published and copies of this report can be obtained from the United States Government Printing Office. The footnote contained on page 70 of this report reflects an estimated cost of crime and mention is made of an article which appeared in the New York Herald-Tribune of March 21, 1931, which estimated the cost of crime at $18,000,000,000 per year.

This is my solution for the tax problem, the government debt problem, and many other problems.

Hollywood Dog Travels Road From Rags To Riches In One Day, Just Because He Can Bay In Key Of A

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Saturday's version of Hollywood's rags to riches story:

Friday, he was just a sad-eyed brown beagle in an S.C.P.A. shelter.

Saturday, christened Caruso, he's a person of note in the world of dogdom—all because he can bay in the key of A.

None of pictures' high priced poodles, it seems, could bay in the key of A. Some of them couldn't even bay. Most of the others were definitely in the key of G.

So Caruso was plucked from the pound to the set of Warner Bros. "Sergeant York."

GIANT BOMBER TO TEST HOP

Strato-Plane May Be First Of Fleet

MARCH FIELD, Calif.—(AP)—Its maiden flight completed, the Douglas B-19, described by the Army Air Corps as the world's biggest bomber, was groomed Saturday for a long series of test hops which probably will determine whether this country will build a fleet of super-dreadnoughts of the air.

Such a fleet, based on the experimental work which went into the $3,500,000 monster, with a fully loaded weight of 82 tons, is more than a mere possibility.

Responsible military opinion has held ever since the start of the European war that with air power's coming of age, larger, faster and more heavily armed battleplanes inevitably will follow.

For comparison with the big bomber which Friday was flown from the factory at Santa Monica to March field, a distance of 75 miles, the standard American "heavy" bomber in production Saturday weighs about 22 tons.

Stewart Posts Sub-Par Round To Beat Brownell In College Golf Finals

COLUMBUS, O.—(AP)—Earl Stewart, Louisiana State's red-haired 150-pound junior, climbed to the National Intercollegiate golf throne Saturday, firmly grasping as a scepter the magic putter with which he won the right to rule.

Ripping two strokes off par, the straight-shooting kid from Dallas turned in a 3 and 1 victory over Ray Brownell, six-foot three-inch Stanford sophomore, in the 36-hole championship match to succeed F. Dixon Brooke of Virginia, eliminated Friday.

Saturday's finals developed into a ding-dong battle after Stewart had taken a three-up edge at the end of nine holes. The Stanford ace cracked through for three birdies on the back nine, holing putts of 10, 12 and 35 feet, to draw even at the end of 16. They halved 17, and then came the match's big break.

On the 18th, Stewart hooked into a grove of trees while Brownell was in the middle of the dog-leg fairway. Stewart's caddy dropped his bag hitting and moving the L.S.U. youth's ball about two feet.

Referee Ted Payseur of Northwestern University immediately awarded the hole to Brownell, who said "I don't want it that way. Let's play it out."

They played and Stewart won with a par four, going on up at the halfway mark instead of being one down but for Brownell's top-flight sportsmanship.

Consistency

You may have noticed it but if not, the three games played in the National League yesterday were all decided by the same score—3 to 2.

This may have happened many times in baseball but we never noticed it before.

Odd Figures

We ran across some figures on commercial fishing in the tide waters of Texas in Friday's Corpus Christi Caller and found them quite puzzling to say the least.

According to story in connection with the figures on the commercial catch for May, 1941, the figures were released by J. B. Arnold, coastal division director and were reports that were filed with the coastal division of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission by commercial fish dealers.

It seems that the gist of the story and figures would indicate that commercial fishing in the above mentioned Texas waters showed there was a decided drop in the catch from that of May a year ago.

Yet we added the list of figures that appeared under the May, 1941 column and got a total of 1,800,468 pounds. Then we added the May, 1940 column and reached a total of 1,004,512 pounds. Unless there is a mistake somewhere along the line, this would indicate that the May, 1941 catch was much greater than during May, 1940. And according to the article, the total pounds for May, 1941 were 1,006,370 and for May, 1940, it was 1,810,379. At least these were the figures we are looking at as this is being written.

You must admit that the figures are a bit confusing to say the least.

And to make this more difficult, one paragraph of the story in connection with the figures states "The largest single increase for May of 1941, was in the taking of shrimp. A total of 1,516,373 pounds of shrimp was taken last month as compared to 329,181 pounds in April. In May, 1940, only 774,748 pounds were taken."

All the while we were reading this most interesting article concerning commercial fishing in Texas tide waters, we could not help but wonder what proportion of this catch was made in the vicinity of Corpus Christi. And what proportion of the catch came from the coastal waters near Port Isabel. For one, we would like to see some figures on this. And we do not know whether the coastal division of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission has such a breakdown of figures. Yet it might be obtained from the reports as turned in by each individual commercial fish dealer.

Maybe all this is just because we are not so good at figures or had some idle time on our hands. But it did leave us all confused.

If someone will straighten us out, we will appreciate it very much. And if there were any errors in the story and the figures, we will be glad to help correct them. Or if we are all wrong we will apologize and admit the fact.

An Invitation

The other day we mentioned the fact that when it rained, there was always a bunch of disgruntled golfers standing around Harlingen.

They wanted to play golf but it seemed the Valley courses were closed—or at least they thought so.

The mail brings a note from S. E. Tilton of the Edinburg Country Club containing the information that the Edinburg course is never closed on account of wet weather. All of which should be good news to the shotmakers who want to play regardless of the weatherman's bad moods.

The Edinburg course is in excellent condition according to all reports. In fact the greens and fairways are near perfect and will be kept that way.

Manager Tilton issues an invitation to all Valley golfers to play the course before, during and after a rain.

Hard Luck Hurler

There is much more behind the pitching record of Bucky Walters this season than is disclosed on the surface. Bucky has done about as well this year as he did in 1939 and 1940, during which two years he won a total of 49 games for the Reds. The breaks have been against him this spring, whereas in the other two seasons he received a normal amount of good fortune.

Only once this season has Bucky allowed more than four runs in a single game. That one occasion was against Brooklyn. One off day certainly was due this great pitcher, who has done such a magnificent job since he came to the Reds from the Phillies in June of 1938.

There is no greater competitor in baseball than Bucky Walters. He's a fellow who is at his best when the going is toughest. He's a fellow who takes the breaks, good or bad, in stride and he is not one to get "down" over things over which he has no control.

Greatest example of Bucky's perfect temperament came in New York, on the Reds' first trip there, when Bucky was winning a brilliant hurling duel from Hal Schumacher. Came the ninth inning, with the score 1 to 0 for the Reds. Mel Ott, the league's leading home run hitter, was the batter. It was a dangerous position, particularly at the Polo Grounds, where the right field fence is made to order for a hitter of Ott's type. Bucky fooled the slugger and forced him to lift a puny foul fly, between third and home, that dropped to the ground without being caught. Many pitchers would have shown great emotion at such a bad break, but not Bucky. He didn't even change his expression out there on the mound, but went right back at the business of retiring Ott again, which he did on the next pitch. That was a true example of great sportsmanship, temperament and competitive spirit.

Brower Returns To Texas Loop

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — Lou Brower came back home to the Texas League Saturday.

Recently released as manager of the Waterloo, Ia., Three-Eye team, the 35-year-old veteran was signed as a player by Owner John Holland of the Oklahoma City Indians.

"We're going to use him in one of the Dallas games here Sunday," said Holland, after he watched old "Lou-Lu" in a one-man workout on an off-day here which found the Indians in Fort Worth.

So Brower, regular shortstop with the Tribe for four years, bounces home again along the comeback trail, trying to make the grade again at a new position. His old short-stop post is being handled adeptly by Herman "Flea" Clifton, newcomer from Syracuse, N. Y., so he'll probably try for second base.

Lou was a bench manager at Waterloo and hasn't done any consistent playing since 1939, when he played 76 games with Tulsa. He divided time in 1938 between here and Tulsa, hitting .237 in 126 games and batting in 30 runs.

RACING

NEW YORK —(AP)— William Woodward's Fenelon won the 53rd running of the historic Brooklyn Handicap at Aqueduct Saturday, finishing nearly three lengths in front of his nearest rival.

Arnold Hanger's Dit was second and Mrs. George D. Widener's Your Chance was third in the field of six.

The four-year old son of Sir Galahad III, just rounding into the form which made him one of the leading three-year olds of last year, ran the mile and a quarter in 2:03-3-5, just three-fifths of a second off the track record. Jimmy Stout was the jockey.

He returned $6.40 for each $2 win ticket.

The victory was worth $19,250 to the winner.

In the secondary feature on the card, B. . Whitaker's Requested won the Great American Stakes, six-furlong dash for two year olds, in 1:12-2-5. Under Eddie Arcaro's riding, he finished a length and a half in front of Jock Whitney's Buster, with R. B. Strassburger's Louisville II third.

Two Records Fall In AAU Meet

Stars Seek Senior Titles Today

By BILL BONI

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— The 53rd National A.A.U. Track and Field Championships opened Saturday at Franklin Field with two records broken, one tied—and veteran Joe McCluskey the center of attention because for once in his long running career he was unable to finish a race.

McCluskey was leading the field in the 10,000 meter run, which is 376 yards and 4 inches longer than six miles, and looked to be in good shape as he finished the 20th of his 24 laps. But as he passed the checking station the next time he was tying up badly.

McCluskey struggled on, gamely in quest of his 24th National championship in 12 years of running, but he was almost out on his feet when Pau' Pilgrim, New York A. C. athletic director, finally pulled him off the track. He collapsed and had to be carried to the center of the field, where he finally recovered sufficiently to be taken to a hospital.

Dr. Joseph Levy, who attended McCluskey, diagnosed his condition as cardiac and heat collapse and stiffening of the muscles. And it definitely ruled him out of Sunday's 5,000 meter steeplechase, in which he was the favorite.

Don Lash, winner of the 10,000 a year ago, dropped out after only six laps.

The race was run for both senior and junior titles and Lou Gregory of New York's Millrose A.A., picked up where McCluskey left off to take the senior championship in 33 minutes 11 seconds. Ted Volmer of the San Francisco Olympic Club, the runner-up, became junior champion and was caught in 33:23.7.

With the exception of this race and the 3,000 meter walk, also run for both, Saturday's competition was for the junior champions, open to athletes who never have won National, N.C.A.A., of I.C. 4-A. titles in their specialties.

The record breakers were Edward Culp of Xavier College in New Orleans, a slim Negro lad who clipped a full second off the meet mark for 1,500 meters, and Bill Stewart, University of Southern California freshman who pushed the meet's high jump "ceiling" to 6 feet 8 3-8 inches.

Culp won by 15 yards over Theodore Nebrich of Buffalo. His time was 3:55.1, compared to the 3:56.1 turned in two years ago at Lincoln, Neb., by John Munski of Missouri.

The one record equalled was in the 100 meter dash, in which Peyton Jordan of the Southern California A.A. streaked into the tape a good 10 feet in front in 10.4 seconds.

Two men were double winners. Bill Cummins of Houston, a Rice Institute hurdler, scored decisively both at 110 and 200 meters. Clarence Lewis of the Rankin C.C. in Pittsburgh, first won the broad jump and then added to it the hop, step and jump.

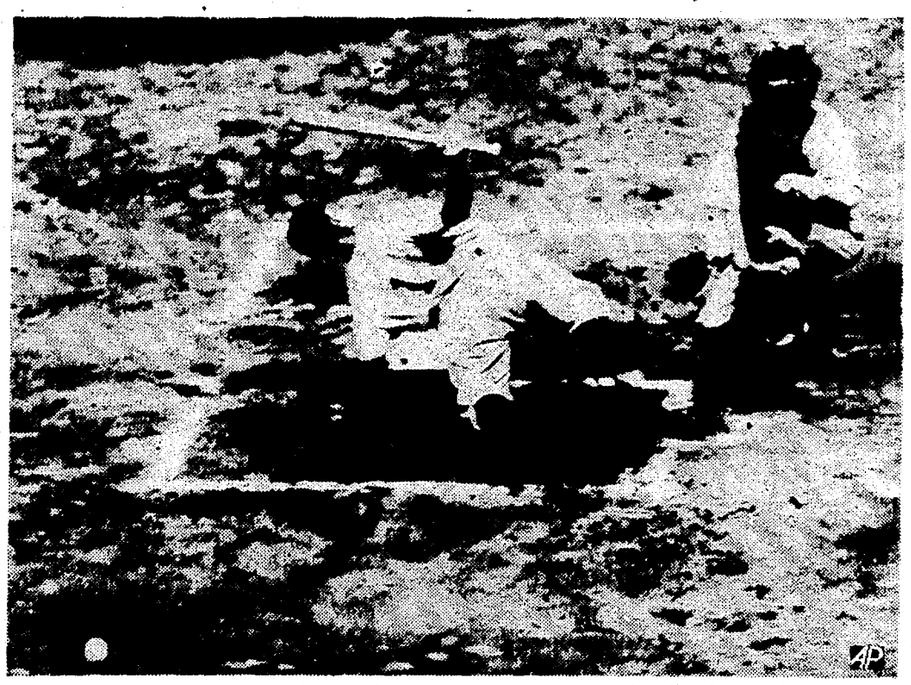

The crowd hit a peak of 15,000. At least double that number are expected Sunday, when the senior titles will bring into action runners like Les MacMitchell, Walter Mehh, Greg Rice, Harold Davis and Grover Klemmer; hurlers like Joe Batiste and Fred Wolcott, and field event men such as Al Blozis, Les Steers, Cornelius Warmerdam and Earle Meadows.

Final team standings:

University of Southern California A.A. 53 points; Penn A.C., Philadelphia, 39; University of New Hampshire, 33; Michigan Normal 31; Xavier, New Orleans, 26; Asbury Park, N. J. A.C. and New York A.C. tied at 21; Olympic Club, San Francisco, and Rankin C.C., Pittsburgh, tied at 20.

Pee Wee Reese Gets Hit By Ball

Harold Pee Wee Reese (1), Brooklyn Dodger shortstop, cuts capes at the plate in an effort to evade a ball hurled by Alva Javery, Boston Braves' hugler, at the start of a game in Brooklyn. But the ball (lower left) hit Reese in the ribs and bounded toward the Boston dugout. Catcher Ray Berres of the Braves looks to his bench in alarm.

Bullfight

Is Set At Matamoros This Afternoon

MATAMOROS—All is set for the big bullfight scheduled to start promptly at 4 p.m. Sunday at the local bullring with Jose Gonzalez "Carnicerito" and Carlos Arruza fighting to death six Zacatepec fighting stock bulls in a fight that will probably be a memorable one in the annals of bullfighting in the Valley.

"Carnicerito," who is rated as a "master" of the art of sticking the darts in the bull's back, is also an elegant cape artist and has been known to perform such daring tricks as the one pictured above. Another of his specialties is breaking the long (24 inch banderillas) darts in half or less and going to the very edge of the ring, incites the bull to charge and with a deft and swift motion sticks the darts in the enraged animal's back and eludes death by inches. "Carnicerito" has been gored several times while performing this feat, but he is said to consider a thrill for the public that sees him fight of more importance than getting gored. He is also a good cape artist and a past hand at the rapier with which he kills the bulls.

Carlos Arruza is an up-and-coming bullfighter who is young and daring. He performed in the Matamoros ring while still in the early stages of his career and is said to be developing into a first class fighter. He was very good at cape work during the early stages of his rise to an enviable position among the younger bullfighters of Mexico.

Tickets were selling fast Saturday and a large crowd is expected.

The street to the ring has been graded and fans will have no difficulty in getting to the bullring.

The fight starts promptly at 4 p.m.

Illinois OK's Bill For Conserving Oil

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(AP)—An oil conservation law was enacted by the Illinois legislature Saturday, but amendments that would have given Federal Oil Coordinator Ickes and state officials authority to regulate production "to prevent waste" were stricken from the bill.

Hughes Making Bid For Rookie-Of-Year Honors

By BILL BRANDT

A 3-hit shutout of the Cincinnati Reds, followed by a one-hitter against the Chicago Cubs, makes Tommy Hughes, 21-year-old freshman pitcher of the Phillies, a red-hot candidate for the 1941 major league Rookie-of-the-Year laurel wreath.

Young Toom's budding big league fireworks bid fair to make him THE Tom Hughes before he's finished. It's a great pitching name, Tom Hughes, and there were no less than TWO oldtime pitchers whose hill heroics gilded the name with glamour. Yet today Tom Hughes, 3rd (no relation to the first two) mayy turn out to be most famous of all.

Tom, 1st, known as "Long Tom," pitched a no-hitter for the New York Highlanders over Cleveland in the American League in 1910. In 1916 he no-hitted the Pittsburgh Pirates while working for the Boston Braves.

Tom, 3rd, is just starting out. Only five years ago he was a high school first-baseman who made the team on the strength of his hitting. Hanover Township High, on the outskirts of Wilkesbarre, Pa., made the Lehigh Valley finals. The pitching staff cracked in the crisis. The coach in desperation lined up all the strong arms on the squad. After trying two other fellows, it came Tommy's turn. Our hero proceeded to unfurl a 2-hit victory. P. S.—He got the job.

It's Horatio Alger from then on Having previously been content just to sock spheres instead of spending his time trying to foil sphere-sockers, life had been rather free and easy for young Tom. But when the coach appointed him pitcher, he decided to buckle down and get to be a real ace of the mound.

He hung up an old tire on the back fence and practiced control. The tire became too big a target, so he switched to a peach basket. He really felt he was getting some place when a 6-inch hole in the garage door clicked as his daily warm-up partner.

College beckoned. Duke was too far. Tommy decided on Washington College, Chestertown, Md., alma mater of Bill (Cubs) Nicholson, in the fall of '38. But before spring, he was signed by the Baltimore Orioles and by summer he was pitching for Dover, Del., on option.

Tom, 3rd's pitching success in his brief professional career has been nothing less than super-sensational. At Dover he never did get beat, winning 9 Eastern Shore League decisions. His ERA was 1.83. He had 85 strikeouts in 80 innings pitched. His eighth win was a 2-1 10-inning job. He fanned 13, three of them in the seventh after Pocomoke City loaded the bases.

At the tender age of 20 last year he won 14 International League games for the Orioles against 9 defeats. He was real hot in August. On the 11th, relieving in the seventh inning, he pitched 9 1-3 shutout innings against Newark, allowing 2 hits, winning out in the 16th. On August 26 he had a 2-hitter against Syracuse.

Even when they get to first base on Tom, 3rd, he's not through with them. At 21 he's master of an art a lot of pretty fair pitchers never learn their whole life long, namely, picking the runner off the bag. Tom's a terror at that trick, especially at second base. The next best thing to seeing the second base pickoff portrayed in Ethan Allen's National League movie, "Winning Baseball," is to watch Tom, 3rd, perform it some day when the Phils are playing and some opponent gets as far as second.

Boxers Prep For Golden Gloves

McALLEN—Practicing for their Golden Gloves matches to be held this summer, 12 Weslaco amateur mittmen worked out at George Chapapas' arena here Friday night.

Trained by Ben Hoepfner and E. Harruon, the boxers include Donald Anderson, Dick Carpenter, Jack Sloan, Bob Curbo, Carson Hoge, Red O'Leary, Charles Lackey, Joe Loredo, Manuel Cirilo, Ruben Harmon, Jesus Hernandez, and John Singleton.

They are sponsored by the Weslaco Lions Club. They are to meet a similar group from McAllen at Weslaco July 9.

Players Take Over As Major Cmpires

BOSTON—(AP)—Freddy Fitzsimmons, Brooklyn pitcher, and Johnny Cooney, Boston outfielder, were pressed into service as umpires in the Dodgers-Braves game Saturday when the assigned officials were delayed in arriving.

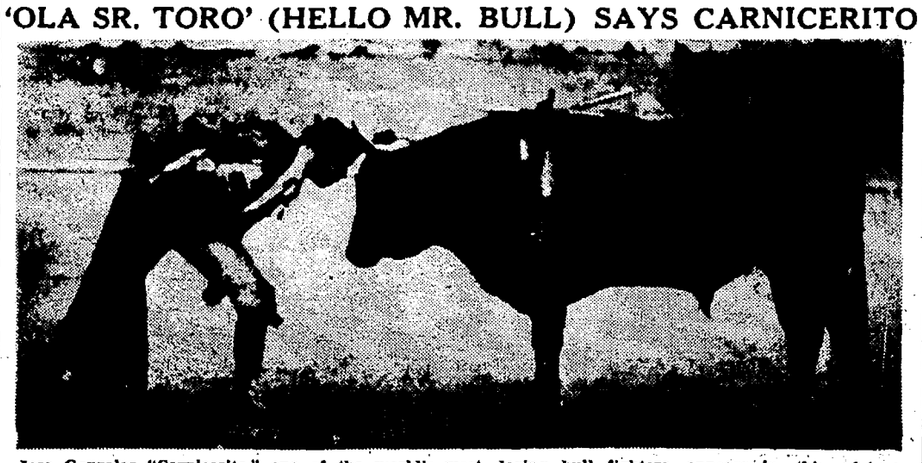

The three umpires made the trip from New York via boat, which was delayed by a heavy fog.

Fitzsimmons consented to umpire after a moment's hesitation. Cooney was called in after Coach George Keelly of the Braves turned down the job.

"The umpires don't like me and I don't want to give any of them the chance to say I'm looking for one of their jobs," wise-cracked Kelly.

'OLA SR. TORO' (HELLO MR. BULL) SAYS CARNICERITO

Jose Gonzales "Carnicerito," one of the world's most daring bull fighters, appears in this picture almost touching the bull's head with his, after fighting the animal with the "muleta" (red cloth) and prior to killing him. The bull fighter has gained so much control over the bull's charges that he takes this, one of the greatest chances of the ring. A sudden jerk of the bull's head and "Carnicerito" would probably be gored. He fights today at 4 p. m. at the Matamoros Bienvenida ring.

Joe Hunt In Rare Form As He Gives Navy First College Tennis Trophy

HAVERFORD, Pa. — (AP) — Joe Hunt of the Naval Academy, took less than an hour—54 minutes to be exact—to defeat Ted Olewine 6-3, 6-0, 6-1 Saturday to win the National Intercollegiate tennis championship at Merion Cricket Club Saturday.

The Annapolis star gave a perfect demonstration of how the nation's No. 4 ranked men's player hits them in defeating the University of Southern California sophomore. In one streak Hunt won ten straight games.

Hunt, seeded favorite, lost the championship last year on the same courts to Don McNeill, of Kenyon College. But Saturday it was a different story. The Navy player took an early 3-0 lead in the first set and continued to pile up placements and deadly chop shots to carry him to an easy victory.

The University of Southern California player, second seeded in the tourney, came back to team with Charlie Mattmann and win the doubles championship from Bill Canning and Bob Hippenstiel, of the University of Califarnia, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4.

The 22?year-old midshipman's victory gave the Navy its first championship in the 57-year history of the tournament and the East its fourth champ since Julius Seligson, of Lehigh, won in 1928.

McAllen Cards 'Top' Softball Games For Fete

Contests Scheduled July 3 And 4

McALLEN — Headlined by four choice games during the Fourth of July celebration, this week's softball schedule here offers fans their best menu of the season.

Houston's well-known Southern Pacific team, who travel in their own special coach, will be seen the night of July 4 in a doubleheader, tangling with Sharyland T. C. X. and McAllen. They appeared here two months ago, trimming two teams picked from the county's outstanding players 7-4 and 4-3.

Ronald Romo is scheduled to bring down his unedefated Grand Rapids girls of San Antonio for a night game July 3 and a 5 p. m. encounter July 4. Romo rates his present squad much stronger than the one that split a pair of games with local teams last year.

Delayed by rain, an outside tournament, and schedule misunderstandings, the McAllen City League will resume its regular play Monday night, when Pharr and Sharryland play. The winner will be in first place, since the Pharr Garagemen, current leaders, are only a half-game ahead of Sharyland. A loss for the T. C. X. ten would put them in a tie for second with McAllen's Lions, who are a half-game behind them at present.

McAllen's girls finally swing into action again by tangling with the Center Grocery ten of Brownsville here at 8 p. m. Monday.

In Tuesday night's games, Pharr plays McAllen and Sharyland meets Mission.

Long-heralded, the church league will get under way Wednesday night. The Pharr Baptists are to meet the McAllen Christian team. Other league members are the McAllen Baptist and Methodist churches. League officials pointed out there was still time for another team to enter.

The recently completed fence was baptized under fire Friday night in two practice games. Although Elmer Nelson, McAllen first baseman, bounced one over, no balls were knocked over on the fly. The fence, eight feet high, ranges from 260 feet distant in left field to 230 in right field from home plate. Nelson's blow went over the right center.

After allowing Sharylaand seven runs the first inning, Clyde Salter gave up only two more hits, but the damage was done and T. C. X. took a practice encounter 7 to 1 Friday night. In the second game, McAllen took a nip-and-tuck affair from Mission, 7 to 6.

GRAPHIC GOLF

WHAT PRACTICE CAN DO

Ellsworth Vines' triumph in the Bobby Jones Trophy tournament in which he scored a 67-61 for two rounds over a par 66 course, affords an object lesson to the average player of just what determination and a lot of practice will do. Perhaps it was Vines' great spirit of competition which led him to take up golf seriously. A tennis champion, one of the greatest of all, used to consistency in play he was intrigued and challenged by the inconsistency of his play in golf. Schooled in achieving perfection in tennis strokes he could be satisfied with no less a degree of perfection in golf.

Naturally every player does not possess Vine's competitive temperament nor do they have the time to practice the game in the same measure he devoted to it. Yet even in fewer and briefer practice sessions there lies a chance for potential improvement. It only remains for the player to make up his mind to develop a better game.

Left-Hand Golfers Select Fort Worth

MINERAL WELLS, Tex.—(AP)—The Glen Garden Country Club of Fort Worth Saturday was selected as the site for the 1942 tourney of the Texas Left-Handers Golf Association.

Logan Creager of Mineral Wells was named president of the association. Other officials named included P. S. Presley, of Tyler, vice president and Judge William H. Gillmartin, Fort Worth, secretary-treasurer.

Valley Semi-Pro League Teams In Three Double-Headers Today

30-30 Rifles Play Selects At Mission

Edelsteins Battle McAllen Nine

MISSION—With the McAllen Merchants going down to Mexico to play the Comales nine, the Mission-Harlingen doubleheader at Mission will be the only semi-pro baseball played in the Upper Valley Sunday.

Only place in the Valley Semi-Pro League at stake is second. A pair of wins for Harlingen coupled with two losses for McAllen would send the Selectmen ahead of the Merchants, with whom they are currently tied for the runner-up spot.

Two Harlingen victories would narrow Mission's first place margin to one game. On the other hand, a sweep by Mission would just about sew up the flag for the 30-30 Rifles.

In the 3 p. m. game at Mission, Bill Miles of Harlingen is expected to face Ed Tonn, Mission hurler, on the mound. In the second game, the veteran George Strohmeyer, undefeated this season, will go into the box for Mission against Guerrarro.

An interesting sidelight of the games will be the presence of Ernesto and Erasmo Flores in the Harlingen lineup against their former teammates.

Salvador Califa, McAllen manager, has scheduled the All-Stars of Monterrey to meet his team here July 3 and 4. The All-Stars will be composed of the best players of the nine Monterrey teams, Jesus M. Garza, Monterrey, manager, has informed Califa.

The third-place Brownsville Edelsteins and the cellar - dwelling Brownsville Merchants will tangle in a double bill at Charro Park at Brownsville Sunday, beginning at 3:30 p. m.

Betty Chalks Up Another Tourney

SPOKANE, Wash.—(AP)—Betty Jameson of San Antonio, won the Pacific Northwest Women's golf championship Saturday with a 6 and 5 victory over Sissy Green, 16, of Portland.

Miss Jameson, National Amateur champion, broke the Spokane Country Club course women's record by one stroke with a sparkling 75 on the morning round.

AMERICAN

YANKS 7; ATHLETICS 4

PHILADELPHIA— (AP) —As has been their habit recently, the New York Yankees won a ball game Saturday, and this is what happened:

Joe DiMaggio clouted a double and a single, marking the 40th straight game in which he has hit safely and leaving him just one away from the modern major league mark George Sisler set back in 1922.

The Yankees climbed into first place in the American League by a margin of six percentage points as the Cleveland Indians lost to the Chicago White Sox.

Charley Keller hit his 15th homer of the year, boosting to 23 games in a row the major league record in which one and, or, another Yank has walloped at least one four bagger.

WHITE SOX 6; INDIANS 4

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Two homers from the bat of the normally light-hitting Don Kolloway gave Chicago a 6 to 4 triumph Saturday and dropped the Cleveland Indians back into second place behind the victorious New York Yankees. Kolloway's second drive off Al Smith in the eighth inning tied the score at four runs and the White Sox went on to win and even the series.

BRAVES 3; DODGERS 2

BOSTON — (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers and their high-priced pitching specialist, Kirby Higbe, ran out of gas at the same time Saturday, dropped a ball game to the Braves and sank a full game out of the National League lead.

'Bama Rowell caught hold of one of Higbe's slants with a mate on base in the sixth inning, knocked it out of the park and enabled the Braves to come from behind to take a 3-2 decision, ending both Brooklyn's six-game winning streak and Higbe's four-game victory run.

Since the league leading Cardinals' tussle with the Reds was rained out, the Dodgers lost half a game in the standings. After Friday night's proceedings they had been half a game back.

Zivic To Face Davis Tuesday

NEW YORK — (AP) — The chief drum-beaters for Tuesday night's Fritzie Zivic-Bummy Davis brawl in the Polo Grounds must be trying to prove that the average fan's imagination really is a two-way stretch.

That is the apparent No. 1 object for the way they've been telling you in a few thousand well chosen words that seven months' suspension from ring work and a few months in Uncle Sam's army have changed Bummy from that endearing little character from Brooklyn to a perfect gentleman.

The last time the folks looked upon Bummy in action around these parts, he was tossed out of the ring in the second round of a non-title go with welterweight boss Zivic in November. This was because he happened to bounce a punch off a portion of Fritzie's hide, considerably south of the belt-line. To prove it wasn't an accident, Bummy repeated the stunt half a dozen times or so, before the referee disqualified him.

At that time, the State Athletic Commission suspended him indefinitely and said he would never be reinstated "as long as this commission is in office." Time, however, has a habit of marching on, even at the commission headquarters. So General John J. Phelan, Col. D. Walker Wear and Private Plain Bill Brown, the same three commissioners, lifted the suspension a few weeks ago to permit Tuesday's 12-round over-weight return go for the benefit of the United Service Organizations.

Both fighters wound up their strenuous boxing training sessions Saturday. Bummy had the benefit of some expert tutelage from a choice sparring partner named Lew Jenkins. Lew is only the lightweight champion of the world. He fought a draw with Fritzie last December, and he admits he doesn't like the welterweight boss.

In spite of this, however, the betting marts regard Fritzie as a cinch to take care of Davis. The commissioners have installed him a 1 to 3 favorite to do that thing.

RAINED OUT

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—The game between the Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds was called off because of wet grounds Saturday after a hard rain had forced suspension of play in the last half of the first inning.

Lake trout are captured commercially by means of gill nets, pound or trap nets, hook and line, and, in winter, by spearing through ice. In sport fishing they are usually taken by trolling either with the spoon or a live minnow.

Mrs. Ball Wins

WICHITA FALLS—(AP)—Mrs. J. H. Ball of Wichita Falls retained her West Texas Women's golf championship Saturday when she defeated Mrs. F. C. Rochon of Fort Worth, 8 and 6, in the 36-hole finals at the Wichita Falls Country Club.

The challenger's usual iron and putter wizardry virtually deserted her throughout the match.

Mrs. Ball, tournament medalist with a seven-over-par 84, was 8-up for the morning round.

Other flight finals: First flight championship—Mrs. Harry Stallcup, Big Spring, defeated Mrs. Ted Huestes, Abilene, 1 up, in 19 holes.

Second flight championship—Mrs. K. N. Greer, Cisco, defeated Mrs. C. C. Dillon, Odessa.

First flight consolation—Mrs. Cliff Widener, Lubbock, defeated Mrs. H. P. Ledford, Wichita Falls, 1-up in 24 holes.

Second flight consolation — Mrs. Dean Culp, Stamford, defeated Mrs. O. C. Dickson, Wichita Falls, 4 and 2.

Minor Notes

Catcher Herman Franks, who started the season with Montreal of the International League, but has since been called up to the Brooklyn Dodgers, believes in getting off to a smashing start.

Franks was with Columbus, O. of the American Association only a short while in 1939, but he banged out a home run on his first trip to the plate for the Red Birds.

Last year, with Brooklyn, Herman socked one for the round trip the first time he got to the plate for the Dodgers.

This year, with Montreal, made the third successive year in which Catcher Franks has bowed into new company with a homer. He socked one for the Royals at the start of the current season.

There is nothing like a home run to put yourself in solid with a new set of fans. Ask Mr. Franks. He knows.

The Cotton States League was having a bit of trouble the early part of this season with top-heavy scores. The boys were smashing the balls all over various counties, resulting in 24 to 20 games and slugfests that were breaking the hearts of pitchers.

The league president placed an order for some deader baseballs. You'll recall that two official scorers resigned at Hot Springs because of the overtime in trying to keep records of the games. Fans were fed up on them, too.

An experiment was cooked up in a double-header the other day. One of the livlier balls was used in the game. The score was 5 to 4. The new deader pellets were employed in the nightcap. The score ? ? ? It was 5 to 4. Proving what?

PESSIMIST OR OPTIMIST
Most people are one or the other. Some may be perfect enough to be in between. We doubt it. So which one are you? Which one do you want to be? We all know there are lots of pessimists, but you can't organize a pessimist club to compete with the optimists. Why? Cause it can't be did. You can't find the j'iners. Did you read in the Star the other day that fresh string beans were selling at 90c per pound, and tomatoes at $1.10 per pound in England? Two years ago the pessimists would have said that it couldn't be done. Watch farm prices climb.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE
OF INTENTION TO AMEND SECTION 3 OF ARTICLE 1 OF THE CHARTER OF THE CITY OF HARLINGEN, TEXAS.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City Commission of the City of Harlingen, Texas, intends on the 28 day of July, 1941, to pass an ordinance amending Section 3 of Article I of the Charter of the City of Harlingen, Texas, by repealing said Section 3 of Article I of the Charter of the City of Harlingen, Texas, and enacting an ordinance by the City of Harlingen, Texas, in lieu thereof as follows: "THE BOUNDARIES AND LIMITS OF THE CITY OF HARLINGEN, AS NOW OR HEREAFTER EXISTING MAY BE EXTENDED, SO AS TO INCLUDE WITHIN THE CORPORATE LIMITS OF SAID CITY ANY TERRITORY OR SEVERAL AREAS ADJOINING SUCH LIMITS AS THEN EXISTING, BY ORDINANCE PASSED BY THE CITY COMMISSION, SPECIFICALLY DEFINING THE LIMITS OF THE CITY AFTER SUCH INCLUSION." Said election to be in accordance with the provisions of the City Charter of the City of Harlingen, Texas, and in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 13, Title 28, Revised Statutes of 1925 of the State of Texas and Acts Amendatory thereof.

This notice is given in accordance with an ordinance duly adopted by the City Commission of the City of Harlingen, Texas, on the 26th day of June, 1941 calling an election to be held on the 28th day of July, 1941, for the purpose of voting on said amendment.

HUGH RAMSEY
Mayor, City Of Harlingen, Texas

C. F. STOVALL
City Secretary, City Of Harlingen, Texas
Dated this 26th day of June, 1941.

By BERNARD K. O'HARA

NEW YORK—(AP)—The stock market finished a fairly successful week with considerable hesitancy Saturday as war worries combined with a slump in recently buoyant commodities to put brakes on buying sentiment.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 41.7 but up .3 of a point on the week. Transfers of 139,550 shares compared with 125,200 a week ago.

Business developments aided individual issues but most favorites were unable to get far out in front.

Emerging with moderate advances were Canada Dry, which edged into new high ground for the year; American Can, Pennsylvania, Douglas Aircraft, Sperry, Goodyear, General Motors, Bethlehem Steel, American Telephone and Johns Manville.

On the losing side fractionally were U. S. Steel, Western Union, Montgomery Ward, Glenn Martin, Phelps Dodge, Standard Oil (NJ), Texas Corp., Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Du Pont and Eastman Kodak.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK—(AP)—
Stocks—irregular; price changes small.
Bonds—quiet; fractional losses balance advances.

Wool tops—inactive.
CHICAGO—
Wheat—sharply lower; liquidation and profit taking.
Corn—lower with other commodities.
Cattle—steady.
Hogs—steady; quotable top $11.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Hongkong dollar was down slightly in terms of the U. S. dollar in narrow foreign exchange dealings Saturday.

Trading during the week showed a slight decline for the Canadian dollar, which started at 88.43⅜ U. S. cents on Monday and ended Saturday at 88.25. The British free pound was inactive at 84.03⅛.

The Hongkong dollar and Argentine free peso displayed slight gains while the Shanghai dollar was off a shade.

Other major monies generally were unchanged.

Rates (Great Britain in dollars, others in cents)

Canada

Official Canadian Control Board rates for U. S. dollars: buying 10 per cent premium, selling 11 per cent premium; equivalent to discounts on Canadian dollars in New York of buying 9.91 per cent, selling 9.09 per cent.

BOSTON WOOL

BOSTON—(AP)—(U.S.D.A.)—Anticipation of awards of new government orders for wool goods stimulated an increased interest in a few grades of territory wools during the past week. Options were granted on sizeable quantities of fine and three eighths blood territory wools at steady to firm quotations. Texas wools were active at firm to slightly stronger prices. Bright combing fleece wools were very slow but quotations were mostly unchanged and steady at grease basis prices ranging 42-44 cents for fine Delaine, including Ohio, 42-45 cents for half bloods and 46-48 cents for three eighths and quarter blood grades.

U.S. Aid For Russia Would Mean Hiking Lease-Lend Funds, Solons Say

FD MAY SEEK MORE MONEY FOR BRITISH

Chiefs Lukewarm On Aiding Red Army

By WILLIAM B. ARDERY

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Several senators differing on general foreign policy agreed Saturday that any substantial American aid for Russia would necessitate a multi-billion-dollar increase in the present $7,000,000,000 lend-lease program and appropriation of large new sums for armament plants.

At the same time, there was speculation in congressional quarters that the administration might soon ask additional money for the lease-lend program. President Roosevelt has promised all possible aid for Russia in fighting Germany.

Ask More Money?

Senator Byrd (D-Va) told reporters he had heard rumors that more lease-lend money would be asked, but that he did not see how much aid could be given Russia. This country, he declared, "is not producing enough military equipment for its own needs and those of Great Britain."

Senator Pepper (D-Fla) said "Congress will give the president any reasonable sum" and added:

"If we don't spend $5,000,000,000 or so to stop Hitler in Europe now then it will cost us five to 20 times $5,000,000,000 to stop him later."

Expressions of other senators interviewed varied.

The veteran Senator Glass (D-Va) asked, "where would we get the money from?" if further appropriations were granted for aid to Russia.

No Russian Help?

Senator Adams (D-Colo), declared that the $7,000,000,000 outlay under the original lend-lease program was based on British estimates of that country's needs for American products. The total figure, he added, was considerably less than that suggested by Great Britain.

Senator Mead (D-Ny), saying that this country would always have to realize a fundamental conflict between American and Russian political philosophies, declared he saw nothing that could be done for Russia under the existing lend-lease program. While approving administration steps to give Russia help, Mead added that "there will have to be a new lend-lease bill" before the Soviet could be placed in the same category as Great Britain.

FUNERAL HELD FOR HOUSTON

Solon's Body To Lie In Capital Now

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A brief, simple funeral service was conducted Saturday for Senator Andrew Jackson Houston of Texas at Hysong's undertaking establishment.

Prayers for the dead were read by the Rev. T. B. Dade of St. Patrick's Church, Washington. Then the body was taken to Abbey Mausoleum in Arlington, Va., for placement in a receiving vault. It will be sent later to Houston's native Texas.

Earlier, it had been planned to have a requiem mass today for Senator Houston, with a special Senate committee and Texas House members attending.

These plans were cancelled, however, and a strictly private service arranged.

Because of the strain, the Senator's daughters, Misses Ariadne and Marguerite Houston, did not attend Saturday's services but planned for a requiem mass for the aged son of General Sam Houston, later at Laporte, Texas. They planned to leave Washington Monday for Texas, stopping enroute to rest for a few days.

Air Base Dedicated To Rogers' Memory

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — The army's air base here was dedicated Saturday to the memory of Will Rogers, beloved son of the Sooner state.

More than 10,000 persons gathered at the giant concrete apron fronting the flag decked reviewing stand as a telegram from General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, was read.

Air Corps Contracts Announced Saturday

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The War Department announced Saturday award of air corps contracts approximating $217,000,000.

An order for aircraft engines and spare parts to cost $88,000,000 went to General Motors Corporation, Buick Motor Division, Detroit, Mich.

The River's Going Down, But It Broke Out First

The United States appears to be "all wet" from the top of the water tank at the Harlingen pumping plant. In the far background to the left appears the swollen Rio Grande. In the right and foreground are lowlands along the river that have been flooded by rising river water caused by rains over the entire southwest. Not shown is the Mexican side of the river which presents the same flooded appearance. (Photo by Purnell.)

The swiftly moving current of the swollen Rio Grande is shown as it passes at express train speed only a few feet beneath the Gateway Bridge to Mexico at Brownsville. A gauge on the near cement bridge support reads "37." (Photo by Purnell.)

20-30 CLUB TO SEEK MEETING

Edinburg Group Files Bid At Corpus

EDINBURG—Edinburg will file a major bid for the 1942 convention of the Lone Star district of 20-30 clubs at this year's conclave at Corpus Christi, which will close Sunday.

George Brown, president of the Edinburg club, carried the invitation to the Corpus Christi meeting along with several other delegates. The chamber of commerce joined in the project by sending the convention a formal invitation.

Brown, Miller Hammonds, Dave Smith, Jimmy Smith, Arthur Hatfield and Billy Crist were local delegates to the week-end meeting.

The Edinburg club elected Shelton Enochs its new president to succeed Brown at the last meeting. Other officers are Hatfield, first vice president; Bill Skinner, second vice president; Hammonds, sergeant-at-arms, and David Smith, Scott Toothaker, Jimmy Smith, Brown and Crist, directors.

U. S. DOUBLES RUBBER PLANS

Synthetic Plants To Get Federal Aid

NEW YORK—(AP)—Financial circles understood Saturday the government has doubled its plans for synthetic rubber production to around 80,000 tons annually but said such an output was several years away.

Some sources said synthetic plants would be making about 40,000 tons annually by the end of 1943 and would pass 30,000 tons late in 1942. Others expected a 30,000-ton rate by the end of this year but they were labeled "very optimistic."

Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce and federal loan administrator, has announced four major rubber companies would construct plants each capable of housing equipment for 10,000 tons annually, starting at 2,500 tons a year.

U. S. MARINES SENT BRITISH

Detachment To Aid Communications

WASHINGTON— (AP) —The Navy Department announced Saturday that a small detachment of marines had been sent to London "to facilitate communications between the various United States offices located there."

The navy said the detachment consisted of three officers and 60 men. It added that "due to the great expansion of work of the embassy and establishment of separate offices there this service has been greatly needed for some time."

The marines, it was said, also would assist as fire watchers, and thus "serve to relieve the already overburdened embassy staff."

MEXICO FINDS NAZI RADIOS

Propaganda Sent Out From Chiapas

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Nazi radio stations so powerful they "black out" local stations when on the air are broadcasting "fifth column propaganda" and messages from coffee and banana plantations in the state of Chiapas on the Guatemalan frontier, says Fidel Velazquez, secretary-general of the Confederation of Mexican Workers.

Velazquez, just returned from a trip through Chiapas, said Germans owned most of the plantations and were treating Mexican and imported Guatemalan employes like slaves.

The confederation will ask President Avila Camacho to nationalize Mexico's coffee and banana industry, thereby eliminating the Chiapas situation, Velazquez said.

The world supply of sugar for the 1941 season is estimated at 42,300,000 tons, the largest on record.
